Have you ever noticed the charm and distinctive appearance that beautiful venetian blinds lend to the charm and dignity of a home? Did you know that these "newest of the new" custom-built venetian blinds and window shades are now available at 636 Kerr St., phone MA. 6593. Columbus Venetian Blind Manufacturing Co. handles both aluminum and flexible steel venetian blinds, the aluminum and steel with baked-on enamel finish. It handles only venetian blinds that are practical, smart and new. It features the most modern—those which are washable, will not rain-spot, crack or pin-hole. You do not pay as much as you do at shops where venetian blinds are just a side line. Cords and tape of various colors have been stocked so that the color scheme of a room can be blended. Windows that are supposed to be mates will vary in size from one to three-quarters of an inch, therefore company employees measure all installations before blinds are custom built.

Many of the bowlers are new to the game and each team is handicapped to even up the play.

The Monday night loop is made up of the following teams: Hilltop No. 1, St. Peter's No. 2, St. John No. 2, St. Peter's No. 1, St. John No. 3, Hilltop No. 2 and St. John No. 1.

The Thursday nighters are St. Mathews No. 3, Bethlehem No. 1, Bethlehem No. 3, Bethlehem No. 2, St. Mathews No. 6, Bethlehem No. 5, Hilltop Bethlehem No. 4.

Parents Group Holds Meeting

The Hilltop Parents' Association held its monthly meeting Thursday, June 12, at the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church. The aim of the association is to help supply the physical, recreational, mental, spiritual and social needs of the youth of the Hilltop.

Reports were made by the corresponding secretary, recording secretary, treasurer financial secretary, sunshine committee and the association's historian.

Mrs. Amelia Prillerman, librarian, reported that a lending library has been established.

Mrs. Charles Shaw, director of activities, outlined plans for a pre-school kindergarten and a program for teen-age boys.

At this meeting the association adopted its by-laws and constitution which were drawn up by a committee headed by Delbert Prillerman.

The association now has a membership of 56.

Mrs. Jessie Mann and Rev. M. E. Nelson gave the association many helpful suggestions to be considered at the next meeting.

A committee composed of Mrs. Jessie Mann, Mrs. Georgia Burton and Mrs. Virginia Harris was appointed to serve refreshments at the close of Daily Vacation Bible School.

The next meeting of the association will be held July 17 at the church. All the parents and residents of the Hilltop are invited to become members.

SUNDAY LESSON

Kingdom of Judah Provides a Lesson For Nations Today

The International Sunday School Lesson for June 22
Scripture: II Kings 25:1-12; Jeremiah 39

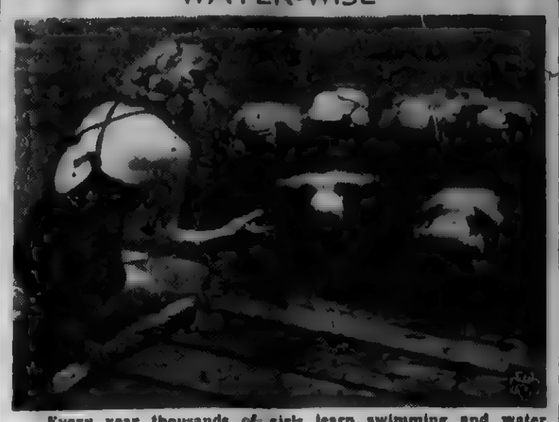
THE Kingdom of Judah was a small kingdom set between the great empires of the ancient world. It was always in some danger from its powerful enemies and especially from their ambition for conquest and world domination. The life of the people and the policy of their rulers were affected by factors over which they had no control.

It would seem that our great North American democracies have little in common with that small country. But our domestic life and our policies and actions are in large measure determined by conditions in the rest of the world.

It was not always so. The oceans once kept us comparatively isolated and we used our isolation so well that, instead of having our borders bristling with guns, as in Europe, we established and have kept the peace for over 130 years, along an unfortified border of over 3000 miles between Canada and the U. S.

Despite the peaceful attitude and achievement of our two North American countries, we have within this 20th century been involved in wars that were not of our own making. We know that we are not, and cannot be, isolated.



What, then, should be our course? We can learn from the lesson of Israel and the fall of the Kingdom of Judah.

Whatever safety there was for that kingdom lay in the preservation of her own integrity, and in honest dealing with neighboring nations.

It was this that prophets like Jeremiah proclaimed as the only right course. But neither King nor people would listen. They turned their own life into corruption.

If we would heed the lesson of Israel, we would correct the evils in our internal life. Nothing would make us stronger for the inevitable part that we shall have to play in world affairs.

Every year thousands of girls learn swimming and water safety at Girl Scout camps. It's an important part of the Girl Scout program of fun, health and self-reliance.

TWO-MILL LEVY UP FOR VOTE TUESDAY

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

The Pressing Need In Our City Government

For a number of years The Hilltop Record has advocated a change in the Columbus city government to make it possible to attract better candidates for municipal office.

Recently the city of Springfield, Ohio, much smaller than Columbus, hired a new city manager at a salary of $8500 per year. This is more than $2000 per year over the salary Columbus pays to the head of its city government, the mayor.

Today the very large task of operating the city government is undertaken by a board of directors, the members of city council, who receive the astounding salary of $1000 per year.

One evening this past week we had occasion to talk with a member of the city fire department who has been with the city for about 17 years. He reports that in recent months firemen bought their own pencils to make their daily reports, have in many instances had to furnish their own toilet paper and soap.

This is a reflection on a city government that does not have a working board of directors. But it is little wonder since we pay our councilmen but $1000 per year. They cannot afford to give the time to acquainting themselves with the operations of the various departments of city government.

The coming campaign for mayor promises to be a heated one with records of mayors past and present being built up and torn down. But not much will be settled regardless of the outcome of this election. We will continue to have deficits, poor management and reduced city services if we continue to offer no higher salaries to our public officials. We need men in city offices who must not of necessity depend upon an outside business or enterprise for their livelihood.

WANTED

Hilltop Rat Derby To Get Under Way Week of July 14

The week of July 14 has been set as the opening date of the Hilltop Rat Derby. A well organized campaign to get Mr. Rat, dead or alive (no one wants him alive) will be launched at that time and it is hoped that several thousands of the rodents will be eliminated.

Sponsored by The Hilltop Business Association, the entire cost is being taken care of by the association and other interested individuals who are making contributions to purchase all necessary equipment and poisons for the rats.

A dead rat, regardless of how he is killed, will count in the campaign but members of the committee, after a careful investigation, have concluded that the use of guns and certain types of poisons should be discouraged because of the dangers attached.

Playground Openings Attract Hundreds of Boys and Girls

The three recreation department and two board of education playgrounds on the Hilltop were officially opened Monday afternoon with simultaneous programs planned by the Hilltop Community Council.

Similar awards were made at each playground for the many events, prizes having been furnished by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Business Association. Charles Reichelderfer was the general chairman, assisted by members of the five PTA groups.

At Westgate Park (Mack Pemberton supervising again this year) several hundred youngsters gathered to witness the flag raising at 1:30 p. m. Bugler Lewis Proper, Scout Troop 172, of 57 S. Phillips May Become Sheriff

The name of a Hilltopper, Lee Phillips, was being prominently discussed as a possible successor to the office of Franklin County sheriff following the sudden death of Jacob E. Sandusky. Phillips is a sergeant in the detective bureau of the Columbus Police Department.

At press time (late Wednesday afternoon) William Schneider, chairman of the Franklin County Republican Executive Committee, could not be reached for a statement concerning the possible appointment of Phillips. Since the county commissioners are all Republicans, it is a foregone conclusion that the man named to succeed Sandusky will be a Republican.

Sgt. Phillips, a popular figure in police circles for many years, served as chief of the detective bureau during the Floyd F. Green administration. He has never been a candidate for public office in Columbus.

He resides at 617 S. Ogden-av.

Hilltop May Have Two Candidates For Mayor

The Hilltop may well consider that it has a personal interest in two of the three candidates for mayor of Columbus in the Aug. 12 primary election.

It was learned this week that Herb Dailey, former councilman and now the Democratic candidate for mayor, has purchased six lots in the vicinity of 615 Belvidere-av (at Safford) and will start work soon on a one-floor plan home there.

Thus in the event that Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, and Dailey should survive the non-partisian primary election in August, the race could simmer down to two Hilltoppers.

Dailey, now a resident of the South side, served in council 13 years and three months. He claims to be well versed in the water works and fire protection needs of the city. At present he supervises maintenance work in 28 state institutions particularly checking fire protection.

Kirk's Open House Runs Through Sat.

Special open house festivities will continue through Saturday of this week at Kirk's, 2345 W. Broad-st, the Hilltop's newest appliance center.

Three radios will be given as prizes during the remaining three days in addition to daily attendance prizes. Various organizations are scheduled for visitation each day.

More than 2000 persons had visited the home center by midweek since the open house started on June 20. Demonstrations are put on daily by experts in cooking and in the use of the latest home appliances. Demonstrations are continuous from 1 to 9 p. m.

Schulze Food Mkt. Opening Fri.

H. H. Schulze, Sr., 1967 W. Mound-st, is announcing the grand opening tomorrow of Schulze Food Market at 1971 W. Mound-st. Associated with him are Carl F. Schulze, 75 S. Terrace-av, in charge of meat and produce, and Herman, Jr., manager of the store.

The family has operated vegetable gardens on Mound-st for 40 years and since 1928 have sold their fresh vegetables at their stand where the modern store is now located.

Carl, a butcher with 20 years' experience, has been employed on the Hilltop 11 years. Herman, Jr., a veteran with four years' service, literally grew up in the vegetable business, having worked with his dad since he was big enough to swing a hoe.

During the years they operated the gardens and stand, the Schulze family has seen the rapid growth of the neighborhood, particularly during the past few years. Realizing the need for a complete modern market to serve the families of the community, it was decided to build the new building and enlarge the service.

INJURED BY CAR

Charles Cross, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cross, 322 S. Princeton-av, was treated in Children's Hospital for injuries he suffered when he was struck by a car in an alley at the rear of the 300 block of Dana-av, police reported.

Notice To Subscribers

Like every newspaper in the country, The Hilltop Record is experiencing great difficulty in getting sufficient newsprint paper to be able to meet our needs.

This means that we can have no waste papers and must of necessity take your name off our mailing list when your subscription expires if you have not indicated you want the paper continued.

Therefore, effective immediately, each subscriber will be notified when his subscription is due, either by collector or by mail, and if you have not indicated you want it continued within 10 days of the time of your notice your name will be taken off the mailing list.

$789 Made On Boosters' Paper Drive

A total of $789.11 was realized from the sale of waste paper collected by the West High Boosters Club in its Sunday paper drive, M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, 335 Guernsey-av, chairman of the drive, reported this week.

The Sunday collection netted 72,040 pounds of paper valued at $507.36, while 37,842 pounds of paper worth $281.75 was picked up on May 25, the original date of the drive that ended in a steady downpour of rain. Only a shortage of help and trucks kept the drive from equaling or exceeding the $1025 realized from the paper collection in March.

The entire Village of Valleyview was missed and Richard (Dick) Francis, president of the Boosters, reported that he was unable to obtain a truck to cover that territory during the early part of the week.

Sensenbrenner expressed the thanks of the entire Boosters organization to all who helped with the affair. He reported several young kids helped with the drive in addition to high school students and that without their help the drive could not have been put across. Proceeds will be used to make improvements to Magly Field, where lights will be installed this summer.

Refreshments were served to all who worked on the trucks throughout the afternoon.

The following firms and individuals donated trucks for the Sunday pickup: Jones Lumber and Coal Co., Indianapolis Paper Company (4), Ohio Cartage, truck and driver, Hilltop Delivery, truck and driver, John E. Hill, 2955 Fremont-st, truck and driver, Burns Coal Company (3), and a pickup truck from George Tyler of Goodwin's Pharmacy.

The Shell Service Station, Sullivant and Hague-avs, donated 10 gallons of gasoline.

Crawford Heads Masonic Group

A new illustrious master of West Gate Council, Royal and Select Masters, Masonic Lodge, has been elected.

Mr. Crawford

He is Everet Crawford, 86 S. Burgess-av.

Other officers chosen are C. Milo Alford, deputy master; John Herron, principal conductor of work; John T. More, treasurer; Kenneth W. Sharadin, recorder; Arnold Durbin, captain of guard; Fletcher Wright, conductor of council; Merle Glass, steward; Harry Albright, sentinel; Albert B. Torr, trustee for three years. Lewis I. Rowe, a sentinel for several years, was made honorary life sentinel.

Hardy Market To Be Enlarged

John Hardy, owner of Hardy's Market, 2461 Sullivant-av, this week anounced the leasing of the entire building now occupied by his store preparatory to expanding his food market.

When the store is remodeled it will more than double the present floor space. It is hoped to have the work done for a big opening in early August, the time the store would celebrate its second anniversary.

Hardy lives at 843 S. Eureka-av.

Squirrel On Rampage Bites Two More Men

Squirrels were back in the news on the Hilltop this week.

William Charldon, 23, of 59 N. Ogden-av, was bitten twice on the left arm by a "bushy tail" Saturday when it climbed on his shoulder while he was in the rear of his home.

His brother, Jack, 30, grabbed the animal and was bitten through the thumb before he succeeded in killing the animal. The Columbus Board of health examined the carcass but found no evidence of rabies.

Last week three persons were attacked by a squirrel in virtually the same neighborhood.

CROSSING IS REPAIRED

North Hague-av was closed to traffic the early part of the week while the crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad was being prepared. Cars were being routed down via N. Eureka-av.

Vote "Yes" On The Levy

An Editorial

Hilltop voters have an opportunity to "do something about" the inadequate salaries of teachers and other school employees by going to the polls and voting "yes" on the two-mill tax levy on July 1.

The salary increases of approximately $500 per year, per teacher, are long overdue and it is time for the public to express in no uncertain terms its desire to keep and get capable teachers for the education of their children. It doesn't take a financial expert to figure out why the better type of teacher-trained college graduate is not attracted to Columbus schools by today's starting salary of $1425. Most high school graduates (and some who haven't graduated) can make as much or more. The more capable teacher prospects are going to school systems where starting salaries are $2400 and above. They would be foolish to do otherwise.

Furthermore, anyone who buys the family groceries will readily agree that the $3050 top salary (paid for 13 years of teaching experience plus a master's degree) doesn't begin to compare with professional services of a similar nature in industry today. Many unskilled factory workers can equal that figure without the costly college training required of a teacher.

The teachers of our city have been patient in the face of living costs that have risen as much as 50 percent in many cases. Many of them say that they cannot (and they should not be asked to) continue in the teaching profession unless salary adjustments are made.

As Hilltoppers we are proud of our schools. We want them to employ the best the teaching profession has to offer today and continue to hold the more capable members now constituting the present faculty. We can expect this caliber of teaching only if we act now.

VOTE YES on the two-mill school levy next Tuesday.

Hilltop Is Home For Many Of Columbus' Newspaper Folks

The Hilltop is rapidly becoming home for more and more of the city's newspaper men and women. A score or more of Columbus' better-known news writers and executives now head for the Hilltop when their day's work is completed.

A comparative newcomer to the community is James G. Crossley, managing editor of the Columbus Citizen. Mr. Crossley bought a home at 263 S. Westgate-av and moved to the Hilltop last Thanksgiving.

With the Scripps-Howard organization since 1929, he came to Columbus four years ago from the Cincinnati Post. Prior to that he served on the staffs of the Akron Times-Press, Buffalo Times, Buffalo News, Newark Star Eagle, Wayne County Press, Logansport Press, Indianapolis Star and other Indiana papers.

A native of Homesvale, Pa., he graduated from Northwestern University without taking a course in the school of journalism there. His first contact with newspaper work followed his graduation when he took a job as office boy on the Indianapolis Star.

Liked News Work

Crossley liked the atmosphere of the news room and was soon "breaking in" as a cub reporter on that paper. From that time on his rise has been steady, working on other Indiana papers before going east, where his writing career included a year in the United Press New York office.

J. G. Crossley

He likes his present administrative position on the Citizen but admits he would enjoy doing actual news writing, something he seldom has time to do any longer.

He likes his new home on the Death Of West High School Grid Star Was "Big Copy" In Columbus 29 Years Ago

Publication of a story three weeks ago of the discovery of an old newspaper clipping of one of the early backfields to represent West High School has resulted in score or more of calls from interested persons in the community.

The clipping pictured Miller, Kurtzhalz, Wheeler and Gray who made up the backfield of the West grid machine that played during the eventful season of 1918. It was apparently only a short time after the clipping had appeared in the Dispatch that Miller died, the result of injuries received in the East-West football game that year.

The death of Allan Miller made front page copy for local papers for almost two weeks. Several Hilltoppers were present at the game and recall seeing him make the flying tackle that resulted in a broken neck from which he died 11 days later.

A sister, Mrs. Floyd E. Raymond, 438 S. Richardson-av, brought in the picture appearing with this story. It is believed to have been the last photograph taken of the local grid star. Mrs. Raymond took the badly faded news clipping to the parents of the boy who is believed to have been the only high school athlete in Columbus to die as the result of game injuries. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Miller, live at 749 Cheridan-av, in Bexley.

"Gus" Gray, quarterback of the ill-fated team, is also dead, informants tell us, passing away some two years after the gridiron

The accident occurred on the old Ohio Field on Thanksgiving Day as West was meeting East in a crucial game that resulted in a 6 to 6 tie. Miles (Cap) Hoover, now a member of the Columbus School Board, a close friend of Miller's, took his place in the lineup and finished the game. West had defeated all comers that season downing Aquinas, 33 to 0, Commerce (later Central High) 23 to 6, and South, 20 to 0.

The North game would have decided the championship that year but that game was never played and North was awarded the city championship that season. As Allan Miller lingered at the point of death all interest in football on the West Side was lost and his death on Dec. 1 climaxed the saddest experience of any West High team.

Had Good Team

That Coach Lee Leahy did have a good team that year is borne out by the fact that 10 members of that team were given "all hi" rating by Columbus sports writers, according to The Occident of 1919. The men so-honored were Gray, QB; Mack, G; Palmer, E; Lindsay, T; Kurtzhalz, FB; Moorman, C; Beck, G; Wheeler, HB; Miller, HB; and Van Meter, T.

It seems that the fatal accident to Miller was not the only bad luck of the season. The Occident reviewed the results of the '18 season in the following words:

"In-flu-enza and out-flew-football. With most of our out-of-

Kroger Official Kiwanis Speaker

L. L. Rummell

L. L. Rummell, director of public relations for the Kroger Company, will be the speaker at today's luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. His subject will have some bearing on the observance of National Dairy Month.

A graduate of Ohio State University, he served for several years as editor of the Ohio Farmer, the largest farm publication in the state. Leaving this position, he became director of public relations for the Kroger Company, a position he has filled for 10 years.

In September Mr. Rummell will become dean of the College of Agriculture at OSU, where he has been a trustee for a number of years. He is one of the best known agricultural leaders in Ohio and adjacent states.

Mr. Rummell is listed in Who's Who In America. In his new position he will serve as dean and director of all agricultural research, instruction and extension, including county agents throughout the state.

C. H. (Doc) Campbell is in charge of the program.

Last Thursday morning Kiwanians enjoyed their annual breakfast at Griggs Dam. A good attendance was on hand.

Occident Will Be Ready Monday

The Occident, West High School's yearbook, will be ready for distribution at the senior high office, starting Monday at 1 p. m., H. L. Zulauf, faculty manager, announced this week.

The books may be obtained at the school office between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. during week days for the next three weeks. Extra copies are available at $1.75 per copy.

Mr. Zulauf said that 1150 of the 136-page books had already been ordered. This year's book features a new cover design and a new arrangement of subject matter.

Hilltop voters are expected to go to the polls Tuesday in considerable force to voice their preference on the two-mill school tax levy. The levy, if approved by 60 per cent of the votes cast, will provide salary increases of $500 per year for teaching and non-teaching school employees.

A light vote is expected in view of the fact that a single issue is at stake and that special elections normally fall far below general elections in the number of votes cast.

However, 1507 persons had registered at the Franklin County Board of Elections during the final week the books were open. This pointed to an increase in interest on the part of those who had not voted during the last two years.

Superintendent of Schools George Roudebush last week predicted a city-wide vote of 30,000 to 35,000 but Frank Marsh, clerk of the elections board, was less optimistic. He expects approximately 20,000 voters to cast their ballots.

In the 1946 general election approximately 4400 votes were cast in the 10th Ward with almost 7000 in the 11th Ward.

Feel Encouraged

"We feel more encouraged about the prospects of passage of the two-mill levy now than at any time," Mr. Roudebush told The Hilltop Record this week.

Locally the tax levy has been endorsed by several leading organizations on the Hilltop in addition to many of a city-wide nature.

The latest endorsement came from the Hilltop Ministerial Association, made up of most of the churches in the community. Included in the groups that have gone on record as favoring the two-mill levy are the Hilltop Business Association, Hilltop Community Council, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, West High Boosters Club, Southwest District Scouters, Westway Post, VFW, and the West High PTA.

Realtors Endorse

One of the most significant endorsements was made public last week when the Columbus Real Estate Board went on record as favoring the new two-mill tax levy.

The resolution read as follows:

"Despite the fact that real estate is unfairly taxed, the board of trustees of the Columbus Real Estate Board endorses the principle of providing adequate salaries for school teachers, and therefore goes on record in support of the two-mill levy on real estate to be voted upon July 1."

The Hilltop Ministerial Association endorsement contained the following statement, released by Rev. Chester Stanley, president of the group:

"Our public schools are the bulwark of our democracy and the American way of life. Our free public schools provide the essential melting pot where children are free to associate together and learn to live together according to the American way and spirit. As citizens we must do our part to undergird our schools with moral and financial support. We must assure that our system will

Bishop Ready Adds Endorsement

Bishop Michael J. Ready, of the Columbus Catholic diocese, this week urged Catholics to support the proposed two-mill levy.

In a letter to Columbus pastors, the bishop said in part:

"The present proposal of the two-mill levy to adjust the salaries of teachers in our public schools deserves the support of this community.

"We are conscious of the heavy financial burden of maintaining our own religious schools. Nevertheless, we have an obligation in justice to support the public system of education. . . .

"Our first interest should be in fair salaries to the men and women staffing the public schools."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Pfc. Robert M. Tresenrider, who was killed in New Guinea June 26, 1944.

The face I had loved is now laid low
His loving voice is still.
The hand so often clasped in mine
Lies now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him
When I am all alone.
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.

Sadly missed by Mother and Brothers.

Park System To Be Changed

A move to correct overlapping responsibilities in the care of city parks and park buildings was made by Columbus City Council Monday when that group voted to turn over all improvements to the recreation department. Previously this had been the responsibility of the division of parks.

Locally, Glenwood and Sunshine Parks will be affected by the measure that becomes effective in 30 days.

Badly needed improvements to Westgate and Glenwood Parks were pointed out graphically this week by the Columbus Citizen in its series of articles entitled "Look Ahead Columbus."

Unsanitary drinking facilities and stagnant water at Westgate Park were cited as detrimental to the health of persons using this park.

Persons responsible for planning opening ceremonies at that park this week reported to The Hilltop Record that poison ivy is allowed to grow profusely in the vicinity of the swings and slides, thus exposing hundreds of children to this summertime menace.

Supervisors of local parks and playgrounds point out unusually heavy demand on play facilities since the parks opened more than a week ago. Forman Slager at the Westgate Park estimated that an average of 500 children had been visiting that park daily during the first week it was open.

Two Brothers Held After Robbery Here

Two brothers are being held, pending action by the grand jury, after an unsuccessful attempt to burglarize the office of Columbus Plastics Corp, 1625 W. Mound-st, at approximately 2 a. m. Saturday.

Jack Chambers, Clime-rd, confessed soon after being picked up by sheriff's deputies as he was about to drive away with the plastic company's safe.

Occupants of a sheriff's cruiser saw the safe in the truck at the corner of Clime and Demorest-rds and became suspicious. Chambers, seated in the truck, said he had pulled over to nap and that someone had evidently put the safe in while he was sleeping. After lengthy questioning, he confessed that his story was not true.

Chambers' brother was seized later at home as a second participant in the robbery, and police are working on the theory that a third person might have taken part. Nothing has been proved along these lines as yet.

The brothers have been bound over to the grand jury to await further action.

The committee will provide a sufficient supply of "ANTU" rat poison to meet the needs of all sections of the Hilltop. This drug is a selective poison for use in particular on the Norwegian rat, the one most common to this section.

"ANTU" is approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for use in food processing plants. It is very bitter tasting to humans and animals other than rats and it would take an extreme dosage to harm pets or humans.

The recent episode of poisoning in Circleville has been called to the attention of the committee and upon investigation it has been found that a poison known as "1080" was used there. This poison is one that should be used only by licensed exterminators.

Any family on the Hilltop having rats in its community or knowing of such sections is asked to call The Hilltop Record, Ra. 1125, and make such a report so that the committee may be aware of localities that need attention.

Any individual willing to volunteer a small amount of his time during a few evenings that week is also asked to call this number and he will be notified of a meeting to be held at which time all workers will be properly instructed in the program and given their supplies.

A native of Pegstown, O., he had lived here nine years. He formerly had owned a grocery at Gilbert-st and McAllister-av, for five years.

Mr. Lisle is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katherine Lisle; two sons, Douglas and Robert Lisle, both of Columbus; and two grandsons, Larry and Gary Lisle, both of Columbus.

Miss McConnell and the Misses Harriet Cinconi, 26, and Pearlie Mitchell, 30, both of 175 E. Town-st, were hitch-hiking to Dayton when the accident occurred. Miss McConnell suffered a possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Driver of the truck was Charles Bageret, 40, of Newark. He was not held.

John W. Evans, 18, of 214 S. Sylvan-av, and Harold DeRolph, 18, of 327 S. Sylvan-av, were cut and bruised Sunday when their auto struck a utility pole in the 3000 block of W. Broad-st. They were treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

George Huffman, Jr., 24, of 1091 Gantz-rd, his wife, Thelma, 22, and their two children, Vivian, 2, and George, age 1, were treated for cuts and bruises in Grove City Hospital Monday following an auto collision at Hoover and Holme-rds.

Treated for injuries sustained in the same crash was Mrs. Alice Pierce, 27, of 369 Clarendon-av. She was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Neal Acord, 52, of 375 S. Hague-av, is recuperating at his home from injuries received when he was struck by an auto as he walked west on Town-st Monday evening.

Acord was approaching Front-st on Town when an automobile driven by Alva J. Dysart, 58, of 2752 Johnstown-rd, ran onto the sidewalk, striking Acord and another pedestrian, Miss Laura Penzone, 23, of 326 Tappan-st.

Acord suffered arm, shoulder, knee and hip bruises, and was taken to St. Francis Hospital. He was later removed to his home, where he is awaiting results of X-rays taken Tuesday.

Grown-up Mickey Mouse Is Ingenious As Well As Prolific

Busy W. Broad-st has no more appeal for Brother Rat than it has for some of the more cautious pedestrians.

When this plundering rodent friend gets near a busy thoroughfare, or any lane where there is traffic, it just plain gives him the "willies," and he turns "scaredy-cat."

That's one valuable fact which has been learned by scientists after much research on the problem of these disease-carrying creatures. Knowing this dislike of the grown-up Mickey Mouse makes it easier to combat him. Being aware that he dislikes streets and hardly ever crosses one, block after block of the characters can be wiped out by use of various effective "raticides."

There are dozens of puzzling and extremely interesting characteristics about the rat, which never cease to make the modern scientists marvel at his ingenuity. He is an especially good subject for scientific research on foods because his taste reactions are almost identical with our own.

Seeks Balanced Diet

Unlike cats and dogs, rats cannot regurgitate. Once they have eaten something they must digest it. To balance this element of character, nature has given them an inborn instinct to eat what is good for them. For this reason, their diets are not confined to a few enjoyable sweet things, but rather are inclusive of such foodstuffs as cantaloupe and bananas, both white and sweet potatoes, raisins, corn meal, and rye or whole wheat bread. It appears as if Mr. Rat can read his vitamin chart before eating.

Contrary to a common storybook belief that he cares particularly for cheese, it is not accepted that he cares for this food any more than the others. If the rat has a choice, it is thought he would choose cheese last.

Several tales of the ingenuity with which Mr. Rat gains access to his food are told by a Hilltop grocer, who believes the rat is as smart as—and sometimes smarter than—a man.

With his paws and stubby arms serving as a basket, he can go for yards without getting so much as a scratch on the surface of a fresh egg. When there are stairs, he usually enlists the aid of a buddy. There are two known rat methods for transporting eggs down stairways. One rat may snuggle the egg in his arms while lying on his back, feet up, and his friend will pull him by the tail, down the stairs. In other cases, the two of them will play "catch", descending the stairs together, each taking a turn at throwing the egg to the fellow below, then racing down to catch it himself the next time. In case the egg is broken—it happens in the best of rat families—it is devoured immediately at the scene of its "demise".

In an eastern packing house it was discovered that rats made pyramids not unlike those on exhibition by playground children. "Top man on the totem pole" was elected to chew the beef tendons through until the side of the beef went crashing to the floor where they all feasted.

Tale Of A Rat's Tail

Similarly, in southern Ohio a farmer set out to find why his jug of sorghum molasses was nearly empty each morning. His findings were hard to believe. Not being able to get into the neck of the jug, rats had taken turns dangling their tails in the gluey sweetness, allowing their partners in crime to lick the mixture off. After so many "dips", the molasses was gone, leaving no trace of the culprits.

In groceries, rats will oftentimes burrow completely through packages placed against a wall so that they can have a runway from one end of the store to the other without detection.

The most common rat is the brown or Norway rat, with an average length of 10 inches excluding his unappetizing-appearing tail. A second variety, the black rat, has almost become extinct because of the over-bearing nature of his Norwegian brother.

It is known that if a pair of rats were left unmolested for one year, from the two, 1,000,000 rats would be born. Considering this and the rat's natural intelligence, it is indeed imperative that someone begin to rid the Hilltop alleyways of them soon.

Rea-Bow Picnic Was On Sunday

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc., held its second annual picnic Sunday, June 22, at Clifton Gorge. Mrs. Marcella Hoffman was in charge. There were games for young and old, and little Mary Baker of 945 Whitethorne-av won the bathing beauty contest and was crowned "Miss Rea-Bow of 1947."

A capacity crowd attended the Saturday night social at Rea-Bow Hall. William Mook was M. C. and Leslie Walters was his assistant.

Ruth Platt Goes To Girls' State

Ruth Platt, 223 S. Roys-av, is attending the Girls' State at Capital University this week as a representative of the Auxiliary to Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion.

A senior at West High School, she is a member of the Latin Club, Y Teens and Thespian Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Platt and is an active member of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Two-Mill Levy

encourage intelligent young people to train and prepare themselves for the teaching profession. We must provide adequate salaries for the teachers in order to maintain and keep high the standard of the teaching profession.

"We, the undersigned ministers of the Hilltop churches, urge all our citizens to vote for the school levy on July 1. We do this as our patriotic duty to our children and to our country. Don't let your children down.

"VOTE FOR THE SCHOOL LEVY ON JULY 1."

Property Owners Oppose

The only organized group in the city to voice opposition openly to the two-mill levy as the Record goes to press this week is the Property Owners' Association of Franklin County. In a letter to the Record this week, George F. Ketterer made the following charges:

1. Had the vote been taken at the August primary, thousands of dollars could have been saved for the taxpayers.

2. The General Assembly appropriated 48 million dollars more for schools in 1947 and 1948 than was spent in 1945 and 1946.

3. Soldiers' bonus of 300 million is to be voted on at the November election.

4. The Metropolitan Committee, which sponsored the 25 million dollar bond issues in 1945, promised no more new taxes or levies for at least five years.

5. One reason for the scarcity of teachers is that one of the requirements is that they must teach in rural or country schools for two years before they are qualified to teach in city schools.

Concerning the first statement, Supt. Roudebush pointed out that teacher contracts are renewed July 1. They then have 30 days in which to resign if they choose. Unless substantial increases in salary are forthcoming, many of the teachers have indicated they will not return to the class room next fall.

Statement No. 4 is said to be in error in that the promise to the voters at that time was to the effect that the 20-mill ceiling would not be exceeded during the five-year period. The addition of the proposed two-mill levy will still keep the tax rate under the 20-mill ceiling — approximately 18.80 as near as can be figured.

The school official likewise branded No. 5 as "a misstatement." Columbus schools do not require two years of rural teaching experience. That was a requirement prior to 1940. A four-year college course is a requirement at the present time, he said. For that preparation a starting salary of $1425 is currently being paid.

Death Of

town dates cancelled because of the epidemic, the pikskin season settled into a race for local honors. While the final decision goes to North High, the Brown and Buff (West High) squad remains undefeated. The sad accident to Allan Miller in the East game and his subsequent death, made the playing of the North game impossible and it was upon that game that the title depended.

"From the very first the West team looked good. In spite of the fact that only Captain Van Meter, Lindsay, Mack and Moorman were the only vets to return, much good material developed."

Other members on that team, pictured in the Occident, included Hoover, Glen Diller, Elsworth Charles, Bob Jackson, Keller, White, Varner, Krause, Mooney and Nichols. (Our informant was not able to identify all members of the squad.)

In Memoriam

Two pages in the Occident that year were devoted to a photograph and In Memoriam to young Miller. It read as follows:

"Love for our school is natural to us, like our love for our country and our home. Allan Miller died from accident that befell him while fighting for the name of West High School. Great honor is due to him who bravely faced the "Great Adventure." Allan will ever be remembered as the shining example of manhood, who dared to give his all for the honor of his school."

Miller, who would have graduated in June, 1919, made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Kaiser, who lived at 1250 W. Broad-st, where the Davis Department Store now stands. Funeral services, attended by hundreds of West Siders, were held in the Dakota Presbyterian Church which then stood at the corner of Dakota-av and W. Broad-st.

Thomas Higgins, 151 S. Terrace-av, attended Chicago Avenue School as a classmate of Miller and had previously gone to St. Aloysius with Gray. He recalls that the fatal tackle made by Miller was on Wilmer Isabell of East.

Red Mason, 361 N. Algonquin-av, who attended West in '14, '15 and '16, believes that Chick Harley was a member of the East team that year.

Others who contributed bits of information concerning this early team were Ray L. Rhoads, a meat cutter at Chubby's Market, and Chester Wagner, an insurance man who carries a small snapshot of West's first city championship team in his billfold. A large photograph of this team (contributed by Rhoads) will be used in next week's Hilltop Record along with further information on the first champs.

Further information on the early West football or other athletic teems will be welcomed at the Record.

Playground Opens In Rea-Bow Area

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc., officially opened its playground June 21. The ceremonies began at 2 p. m.

Those children who were winners in the various contests were Jeanette Ventola, Nellie Underhill, Ronnie Jackson and Shirley Ventola, best decorated bicycles, in the pets contest, Leo Walters and Nancy Lou Jackson, the doll contest, Mary Lou Kasper and Janet Thomas.

Free pop was given each child present.

Most of the equipment has been donated. George Wolfe, president of the association, constructed the slide boards and sand boxes.

The playground has been constructed on the grounds of the hall at Clarendon-av and Whitehead-rd in Rainbow Addition.

Local Family Enters Rabbit Business "Without Planning"; Now Profitable

By Elisabeth Downing

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emrich and daughters, 144 S. Westgate-av, became the proprietors of their business, "The Westgate Rabbitry," without any planning on their parts.

The younger daughter, Geneva Ann, received a mother rabbit and her litter as a birthday present three years ago. Well, one thing led to another and today they have 15 hutches full of rabbits, discounting a mother and her new litter.

When the pets first became a part of the family scheme, an elaborate and expensive rabbit hutch was built to accommodate them. However it didn't hold up under the strain, so a trip to Lima was in order where they bought an eight-pen hutch.

The family has since bought better grades of rabbits to sell for food or to other breeders, which they show at the Ohio State Fair and the Franklin County Show, which is owned and operated by rabbit raisers' organizations. The Emrichs' checkered giants have received first through fifth prizes in the various contests.

Mrs. Emrich explained how she and her husband, who were coached in the venture by a friend, learned that to have better stock you must kill any extra bunnies at birth. It is best if the mother rabbit has no more than eight but an average litter will run from four to 12. The checkered giant originated in Germany and is identified by decided black and blue markings on the hips.

The neighbors like to visit the rabbits and the children in the neighborhood learn how to handle the pets by watching the Emrichs.

The hides are used in fur mittens and white fur jackets and also in 90% of the cheaper fur coats, according to Mrs. Emrich.

The family is in the rabbit business as a hobby mostly, although the hides they sell help in paying the feed bills.

Geneva Ann and her sister, Ida Mae, both students at West High School, have acted as secretaries in the judging at the Franklin County shows and are looking forward to the showings this fall.

Americanism Is Contest Theme

Photographs of window displays depicting some phase of the American way of life may be entered in a special contest, slated as part of the activities of Independence Week, June 30 to July 4.

The contest, sponsored by the Americanism Committee of the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be open to any store in Columbus and either amateur or professional photos of the window display may be entered.

First prize will be a $25.00 war bond; second, $10 cash; and third prize, $5. The photos must be postmarked not later than midnight, July 3, and entries must be addressed to the Americanism Committee, Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce, 30 E. Broad-st, Columbus 15. Awards for the prizes will be made during the week following the contest.

Further information may be had by contacting Robert R. Zellers, chairman, 215 Haldy-av, RA. 3452.

SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Fred Wagner, 38, of 569 Binns-blvd, received a broken right leg when he was struck by a car as he crossed Sullivant-av at Richardson-av over the week-end. Police said the driver of the car was Earl A. Brownlee, 524 Nashoba-av.

All Dogged Out

Burgess In League Lead

Two free-scoring games featured the Tuesday night play in the Evangelical United Brethren Softball League at Westgate Park. Burgess Avenue emerged a 12-11 winner over previously undefeated Eighth Avenue in a game that went to nine innings, while Hilltonia outscored Avondale to win 16 to 12.

The win put Burgess on top of the league with four victories and no defeats. Como Avenue is likewise undefeated but has played one less game at this time. It was the first setback for Eighth Avenue in four starts.

On Friday night Como will meet South High on Franklin No. 3 diamond while Miller Avenue tangles with North Linden on Tuttle No. 1.

Burgess and Hilltonia will meet on Westgate No. 1 Tuesday night while Avondale plays Eighth Avenue on No. 2.

In games played Friday night Burgess came from behind to take an 11 to 9 decision from North Linden while Eighth Avenue swamped Miller Avenue 12 to 4.

Burgess started a rally with two out in the sixth after trailing 9 to 3. Home runs by Maurice Embleton and Pat Reardon, doing a relief pitching assignment, contributed materially to the turn of events.

The standings of the league to date are as follows:

	W.	L.
Burgess	4	0
Como	3	0
Eighth Avenue	3	1
North Linden	2	1
Hilltonia	2	2
South High	1	2
Avondale	1	3
Miller	0	3

Salvation Army Drive To Close Here On July 2

Volunteer workers in every community in Franklin, Delaware and Madison Counties are working to put the Salvation Army expansion and development fund drive for $200,000 for additional facilities over the top before July 2, 82nd birthday of the "army."

Miss Jean McKee, 582 S. Roys-av, will solicit contributions south of Sullivant-av. Other persons interested in helping in home solicitation are requested to contact Mrs. Jesse Shaver, 274 Nashoba-av, RA. 1630.

Mrs. Willard Merry, chairman, who will continue contacts with organizations, church groups and clubs, suggests that church groups interested in home mission work for the year consider the Salvation Army a project.

Lt. Governor Paul M. Herbert, chairman of the drive, said the Women's Division was particularly handicapped by rainy weather 20 out of 24 days in May, which made it necessary to extend the time so that all the calls could be made.

Six objectives in the drive include additional building at Greenwood Lake Camp, near Delaware, to care for 500 more youngsters; bleachers and more showers at Pontiac Corps, 2551 Pontiac-st; a gymnasium and clubroom quarters for 200 boys at Goodale Corps, 28 E. Goodale-st; a new Women's Lodge at 266 Oak-st; putting a basement under Salvation Army headquarters, 138 E. State-st, for youth program activities; and $27,000 of the $120,000 total for national and international services, including work with the armed forces overseas and prison and parole work.

Mrs. S. B. Henderson, 1435 Ashland-av, chairman of the residential division, says "we are trying to see every one, but if for some reason you haven't been contacted or received a pledge card by now, please send your contribution in to the Salvation Army Fund, 138 E. State-st."

How Teachers Make Both Ends Meet

By Paul Wichterman

How does a teacher with a family to support make ends meet on the salaries paid in the Columbus school system?

We asked that question of some of the teachers at West High School and as we had already known, it isn't an easy matter.

Two of the teachers willingly told how they attempt to maintain their families at today's high living costs. In order to spare personal embarrassment to the teachers and their families, the names are withheld.

One of the teachers came to Columbus three years ago after seven years of previous teaching experience. He now draws $2300 for the 10-month teaching assignment. That's a little over $190 per month over a 12-month period.

He and his wife live in a home they were forced to buy in order to have a place to live when they moved to Columbus. Monthly payments on the house run $55, not counting taxes, insurance and other upkeep. They have two small children.

Teaches Night School

In order to supplement this salary, he teaches night school three nights each week. During the summer months he teaches until noon each day and then holds down another full-time position in the afternoon and evenings. During the school year extra school activities claim two nights out of each week. Added to the three nights he teaches, he has only the week-end to spend with his family.

The second teacher interviewed is newer to the local school system and is consequently on a lower salary level. He draws $2050 per year at the present level. That is less than $170 per month on a year-round basis.

He and his wife bought their home after he returned from serving three years in the service. He admits that they were forced to borrow money for the down payment on the home. He is badly in need of a new car but cannot afford to buy one at today's prices.

Rent Part Of Home

Although they can scarcely spare the space, they rent two of the rooms of their home to supplement the inadequate family income. They have two small children.

He admits that he could make more money teaching in some other city but both he and his wife are natives of Columbus and would like to continue living here if they can make ends meet on what the school system offers. He holds BA and BS degrees in school administration from Ohio State University and has completed all of the required work on his master's degree except the thesis.

These two cases are typical of salaries now being paid in the Columbus school system. The present starting salary is $1425, for which four years of college training is the requirement. Several of the seniors in this year's graduating class have already accepted jobs that pay more than that amount with no specialized training other than that given at West.

We talked recently with a June graduate of a central Ohio college who has accepted a teaching position with a starting salary of $2600. That was in another state, of course.

A young man who did practice teaching in the field of music at West High this spring has accepted a position in another school at a salary considerably higher than that being received by one of the local music instructors who has more than six years of specialized training and several years of experience in his field.

Voters of the Hilltop have an opportunity to remedy this situation to a certain degree by supporting the 2-mill tax levy that is to be voted on in a special election on July 1. If favored by 60 per cent of the voters it will provide salary increases of approximately $500 per year for each teacher and other school employe.

Red Cross Needs Volunteers

The Franklin County Red Cross is making an urgent appeal for volunteers to train for motor corps, nurse's aides, and staff assistants. Classes will start soon, for which application may be made by calling Red Cross headquarters, MA. 6841.

Both men and women, who have their own cars, are needed to drive for all Red Cross services. Men are especially wanted to help transport workers and entertainers to the Veterans' Hospital at Chillicothe, as much of the volunteer entertainment is presented there in the evenings.

Columbus hospital officials at a recent meeting held at the Red Cross have requested many more nurse's aides. Training classes will start soon. Application for this corps should be made in person at the Red Cross.

Looking forward to increased activities this fall and winter, many more staff assistants are needed, especially typists. One class was recently held, another will be given in the near future.

Women, and men, are asked to contact the Red Cross now to make their applications for one of the above corps.

Vote FOR The School Levy
On July 1st

Our public schools are the bulwark of our democracy and the American way of life. Our free public schools provide the essential melting pot where children are free to associate together and learn to live together according to the American way and spirit. As citizens we must do our part to undergird our schools with moral and financial support. We must assure that our system will encourage intelligent young people to train and prepare themselves for the teaching profession. We must provide adequate salaries for the teachers in order to maintain and keep high the standard of the teaching profession.

We, the undersigned ministers of the Hilltop churches, urge all our citizens to vote for the school levy on July 1st. We do this as our patriotic duty to our children and to our country. Don't let your children down!

The Hilltop Ministerial Assn.

West Park Suffers 1st Defeat In West Church League Mon.

West Park Methodist met with defeat in the West Church Softball League Monday when Bill Burwell, pitching for Burgess, allowed only three hits while his team took the game 3 to 2. George Olds homered for Burgess in the fourth inning of the game that opened the second round of play. McDonald was the losing pitcher.

In the nightcap the Methodists jumped on Gail Linson, who pitched for Burgess, to chalk up four runs in the first inning that went on to win 4 to 2. Everhart was the winning pitcher.

Glenwood defeated St. Aloysius 9 to 0 in the first part of the twin bill and then suffered a 7 to 0 shutout in the night cap. "Doc" Cross received credit for two wins as Westgate defeated Hoge twice by scores of 9-6 and 7-3.

Split Twin Bill

Hillcrest and Hilltop Church of God divided their twin bill, the first going to Hillcrest 12 to 9, while Church of God won the second 10 to 5.

Hilltop Merchants To Play For First Place

The Hilltop Merchants softball team, playing in the Reynoldsburg Night League, is tied for first place with the Ann Tons Rest. team, and will meet this team Thursday night, the winner taking undisputed possession of first place.

Joe Galloway of the Hilltop team is second in hitting, with an even .500. John Devlin of the same team is third with a .440 average.

The Reynoldsburg field is probably the best lighted field in this part of the country and Hilltop fans are invited to see the Hilltop team in action. Al Dildine is managing the Merchants.

Phil Young Hurls No-hitter But Loses Game 2-1

Hilltopper Phil Young, with the 40 et 8 American Legion baseball team, pitched a no-hitter, striking out 14 batters, but dropped the game to Franklin Post 2 to 1.

No-hiters are not exactly new to Young. Pitching for West Junior High this spring he faced only 16 batters in one six-inning contest that ended up without a safety for the opposition. Last summer he was credited with two or three such performances.

Franklin Post also won the first game of the twin bill 12 to 0. In other games Sunday Tri-Village won two from Camp Chase Post, 12-5 and 11-9; Northway Cubs came back to win, 2 to 1, after losing the first game, 10-3, to Columbus Post 82.

Paul Theisen allowed one hit and struck out 10 to win 12 to 2 from Green Cabs in the North-West Legion League in the second part of a scheduled twin bill. Cabs also took the first game 7 to 0 (forfeit) to take the lead in that loop with eight wins and one loss.

Dick Kirk had a single, double and a triple while Starling Hutt hit two homers for the Cabs.

Hunting Season To Be Reduced

The Ohio Conservation and Resources Commission last week made drastic cuts in the 1947 rabbit and pheasant hunting season by setting tentative regulations which reduced the season on pheasants to seven hunting days and on rabbits to 25 hunting days. This action, to halt the rapid decline in Ohio's popular small game population, followed intensive game kill surveys and population estimates from all parts of the state which have indicated that three consecutive years of cold and wet nesting and breeding seasons, increased hunting pressure and disappearing cover and habitat brought on by heavy wartime agricultural demands, have lowered the game population to a point of danger. The season last year on pheasant included 14 hunting days and on rabbit, 41 days.

Tentatively the 1947 season dates are November 15 to November 22 on pheasant and November 15 to December 13 for rabbit, all dates inclusive. The daily bag limit of four rabbits and two pheasants were not changed. Daily hunting hours were changed to 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., including the opening day.

The sentiment expressed by the Conservation Advisory Committee, consisting of one farmer and one sportsmen representative from each of the seven conservation districts in the state, at the annual public game hearing last week in Columbus, together with comments from the general public at the hearing, indicated that hunters generally would favor stringent restfictions that will help get Ohio's game population out of its present slump.

Crossley Fans 16 For Cabs

Tommy Crossley turned in another excellent hurling exhibition in the Amateur Baseball League Saturday when he struck out 16 Arlington batters while giving up three hits. Crossley is now pitching for Green Cabs, winner over Upper Arlington 7 to 1.

Dick Braun pitched two-hit ball for the Columbus Indians as they set down Columbus State School 12 to 3.

In other games Saturday Dublin defeated Gabels Dairy 19 to 10; Sarver Auto Sales took Reynoldsburg by an 11 to 1 count, while St. Charles downed Sheet Metal 12 to 4.

Hilltop Merchants Defeat Fairfield

Hilltop Merchants softball team kept its record clean this past week by defeating Fairfield Poultry 16 to 0 in the Reynoldsburg Nite League.

Louis Smith pitched a 3-hit shutout game, while his batterymate, John Devlin, hit two home runs.

Joe Galloway, outfielder, is hitting .500 and four other members have over .350 average for their efforts.

Local Golfer Aces Beacon Light No. 6 Hole

Dick Bull, 110 S. Sylvan-av, joined the select group of "hole-in-oners" Thursday when he aced the No. 6 hole at the Beacon Light Course.

Playing with Record columnist, Kel Fuller, Dick lifted the 120-yard shot for a perfect drive with his No. 7 iron. The hole is a par three.

Kel admits that such superb shooting threw him "off stride" for the remainder of the game.

Mrs. Jack Kidwell, wife of the operator of the course, says it is the first hole-in-one reported this

Red Birds Return Home Friday

Eight games in six days face the Columbus Red Birds in their coming pre-Fourth of July holiday home stay which opens Friday night at Red Bird Stadium. Indianapolis will be the opposing club as the Birds return to home surroundings from their longest road trip of the season. Louisville will follow the Indians into the stadium.

Pitcher Otey Clark and Infielder Merrill Combs, recently obtained by the Flock in a player deal with the Louisville Colonels, will make their first stadium appearances as Red Birds during the home stay which features double headers with the Indians and the Colonels and the second annual Foremen's Club Night.

The Foremen's Club program is scheduled for 8 p. m. Friday, June 27, preceding the Red Bird-Indianapolis game at 8:30. The Indianapolis series continues with a single game Saturday night, June 28, at 8 o'clock. It will be Knot Hole Gang Night. The Indians conclude their series with the Flock with a double header Sunday, June 29, at 1:30 p. m.

Following the Indians, the Louisville Colonels will invade Columbus for a night game Monday, June 30, at 8:30, a twilight-night double header Tuesday, July 1, at 7 o'clock, and a single game Wednesday night, July 2, at 8:30, which will conclude the abbreviated home stay.

Ladies' Night is scheduled for Monday night, June 30.

Rome And St. Paul Top Ball League

Rome and St. Paul continued in the undefeated class in the South-West Lutheran League after six rounds of play on the Westgate diamonds. Three sets of games were rained out and remain to be played to date. Rome has a slight edge by virtue of the fact that they have played one more than St. Paul.

On Friday night St. Paul swamped Martin Luther 14 to 4 while Rome was taking a close one from St. John by a 7 to 6 score.

Other games saw Hilltop in a win over Grove City 7 to 4 while Emmanuel defeated Bethlehem 9 to 6.

Rome	6	0
St. Paul	5	0

Let's Cut The Brush

It seems that almost every year about this time it becomes necessary to remind city officials that the wooded area to the south of W. Broad-st at the foot of Hospital Hill is a part of Glenwood Park and that as such it should be deserving of some attention.

As usual, and even worse this year, the weeds and underbrush have grown vigorously until it is now a veritable jungle—certainly not representative of and anything but good advertising for the Hilltop. Persons traveling west on Broad-st cannot miss seeing this unsightly wooded area that could be made into a beautiful wood lot with a minimum of labor and expense to the city.

A small crew of men with mowing scythes and axes could do much in one day's time toward cleaning up this eyesore to everyone who takes pride in his own community.

There are many other things that could be done toward beautification of local parks and toward increasing their utility but we won't go into them at this time. We realize that the overall improvement of recreational facilities will eventually affect Hilltop parks and playgrounds but right now—let's mow the weeds and cut the brush.

Vote "No" On The School Levy

The Property Owners' Association of Franklin County resolved unanimously to oppose the proposed additional levy to be placed against real estate, for an increase in teachers' salaries, to be voted on at a Special Election July 1st:

The State Legislature tried for six months to provide relief for the schools, and did so provide as follows: The Legislature appropriated 46 million dollars MORE for 1947 and 1948 than for 1945 and 1946, making a total of one hundred and fifty-nine million dollars for 1947 and 1948.

The Metropolitan Committee promised the voters of Columbus, there would be no more new levies voted on the people for at least five years, if their sixteen (16) bond issues were voted in, and these bond issues were voted in by the people on that promise. This is a breach of that promise:

More money will not provide better teachers in our schools, but it may increase the number of applicants:

More money for teachers will strengthen the strongest political lobby in these United States, viz the teachers' lobby:

The Soldiers Bonus will place an additional burden on real estate, which will soon be voted upon, and will run for many years. Our citizens are now heavily taxed, many living on the depression dollar, with the high cost of living staring them in the face:

The Ten Mill Limitation Law should be respected;

We especially oppose this two mill levy, for the reason it is to be submitted at a Special Election July 1st, at a very great expense to the taxpayers, when it could have been submitted at the regular August Primary Election, at no extra cost. Voters, this special election will cost you thousands of dollars:

Citizens and voters, protect your property, aweinst MORE real estate taxes. Work and vote against the two mill levy for school teachers' salaries, July 1st.

The Property Owners' Association of Franklin County.

Hello Again!

Rummaging through some old cut files the other day we ran across the engraving that heads this column. Idle since Dec. 23, 1941, we thought it would be fun to try our hand at again pounding out some of the odd and interesting items that come to our attention from week to week as we round up the news for The Hilltop Record each week.

We promise nothing too serious and will be governed only by the bounds of subject matter we feel will be of interest to Hilltoppers. We make no pretense at contributing anything to the wealth of information already known to man but hope that our readers will occasionally get a chuckle out of some of the "little things" that happen every day in our midst. Someone has said: "You don't have to be crazy to be in the newspaper business, but it sure helps." After some 10 years of writing stuff for newspapers we've learned to appreciate that sage advice.

The sketch from which the above cut was made, incidentally, was drawn by our good friend and college classmate, Jerry Fortney, now publisher of a weekly paper down at Batavia, Ohio.

Vacation Notes

Having just returned from a trip down through the heart of Kentucky, we heartily recommend that part of the country for a "close-at-home" vacation. The state presents an interesting study in contrasts as you drive across its rolling countryside. Within a radius of only a few miles you can see the expensive farm lands of the Blue Grass region surrounding Lexington; the rolling hill lands with their tobacco, corn and barley fields, quite reminiscent of our own southern Ohio hills; and the almost totally waste lands of the low mountain ranges with the small cabin, minus screen door and many of the other usual conveniences.

There's a wealth of interesting spots to visit in Ohio's neighbor to the south. We saw only a few of them—Mammoth Cave, My Old Kentucky Home, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln and old Fort Harrod at Harrodsburg.

Principal highways are in excellent shape in the areas where we traveled. We even tried out some of the inter-connecting secondary roads cross-country and came out surprisingly close to our destination each time. We especially liked the sections where honeysuckle was in bloom on both sides of the road, scenting the countryside during the early evening. Although highways are good—take our advice—don't get in a hurry. Kentucky roads are laid out with the idea of seeing the country; they never bothered to take out most of the curves.

Things We Learned About Ky.

The last battle of the Revolutionary War was fought at Blue Licks, Ky. . . . Food prices are generally lower than in Ohio restaurants . . . Stephen Foster, author of "My Old Kentucky Home," was a native of Pittsburgh. He only visited the Judge Rowan plantation at Bardstown, the inspiration for his song . . . New areas of Mammoth Cave are now being fixed up and will be open to the public in another two or three years . . . The cave itself was discovered in 1799 by a hunter who was trailing a bear he had wounded . . . Old Fort Harrod, the scene of many bloody fights with the Indians, was the headquarters for George Rogers Clark when he planned his conquest of the Northwest Territory . . . Grillwork over a small open ditch is widely used instead of gates by the fancy horse farms of the Blue Grass country. A farm animal won't cross a bridge where it can see down through.

If you'al want to learn more about Kentucky, call Esther Weakley. She's vacationing down there this week.

Service Acquired

Sweating It Out

A small river runs through Hagenau in Northern Alsace. This river was bridged by an old durable concrete structure. The full weight of American military traffic passed over it both going and coming from the front which was a scant ten miles north of the city. German planes dropped occasional bombs from high altitudes in an attempt to disrupt the flow of traffic. More often they dove down and strafed. The bridge was located only a few hundred yards from the little brick building where we three men had set up our quarters to await the arrival of trucks which were to take us back to the company with the equipment which had been left in the hurried evacuation that went on outside our door. The amazing thing was that Jerry, rarely hit anything. The damage done by these sporadic hit and run affairs was infinitesimal in proportion to the number of attempts made. However, the raids were none the less terrifying and each time one was over we had to swallow our hearts.

Fuller

The night the company pulled out we were told that trucks would pick us up the next day. The following evening after a day of watchful waiting, a colonel drove up and told us that he was responsible for getting us out but he had only one truck company and a lot of stuff to move so we would have to wait for a day or two. He left us some "K" rations and said he would keep in touch with us. Then the "sweating out" really began. We knew of the approaching German drive and of Hagenau's precarious position. In the uppermost tip of the American salient in Alsace, the city would be overrun immediately in the event of a breakthrough. This was the reason for the evacuation. The news of the fate of prisoners in the Belgian Bulge didn't serve to steady us any.

Keep Vigil

The following day and night passed so slowly that it seemed that time was standing still. We had long ago exhausted all conversational possibilities and there was nothing to do but watch. We took turns keeping a two-hour vigil through the little glass window which afforded an open view of the approaching street and the old German archway which led out into the country beyond. That road went straight as a string toward Germany.

What was happening a few miles on the other side of that arch was what concerned us more than anything else. Our colonel came again that night with more "K" rations but with no definite information on when we would get out. His directness and sincerity impressed the three of us profoundly. When he said he would do all in his power to see that some kind of a vehicle would take us out in time, we were greatly relieved. Until that time, we had been melting icicles for drinking water. The buildings around there had long sticks of ice hanging from the eaves. We gathered enough that night to shave and wash up, and felt much better.

Guard Gives Alarm

The nights were brightly lighted by a full moon and it was possible to keep watch through the window and see as much as in the daytime. That night one of those tremendous formations of Lancasters went over. The din smothered all other sounds for more than two hours. When finally quiet reigned and we could again discern the sounds of artillery, the blasts seemed much closer than before and were coming from behind. Some of our heavy pieces were firing over us.

At three in the morning the fellow on watch woke us. He was near hysterics. As we listened, we could make out the clank of something heavy on the cobbles alones only a few streets away. The thought occurred to us at once that the German Tigers had entered the town and at any minute would be nosing up our street. We could envision the long muzzle of the "88" swinging around to bear on our little building. That would be "all" she wrote."

For an hour the sounds continued but didn't get any closer. The artillery had died down and we could make out the clanking clearly. We fashioned a white flag from a pair of shorts and continued to wait. Then, just before dawn, like an angel from heaven, the colonel arrived in his command car. He hadn't slept for some 50 hours and wanted to doze for a few minutes before our stove. The clanking didn't disturb him.

He told us that what we thought were tanks was merely a group of men destroying a multitude of gasoline cans. He smiled a little but didn't laugh. Nothing seemed very funny at that time. He slept only a few minutes. When he awakened, he assured us that trucks would be there before noon. They came at about 5 that evening. We pulled out just before dark with every bit of equipment. The colonel was there to see us off. He had done a magnificent job. He departed when we did. Our truck developed engine trouble that night at Saverne, 10 miles out of Hagenau. We spent the night there. Although the city was precariously situated itself, and was taking a regular pasting from the big field piece across the Rhine, after Hagenau we felt as safe as if we were in New York City.

Boy: "I guess it's all right. But I still prefer golf."

Police Chief Appeals For Traffic Safety

Police Chief Lester W. Merica of Columbus announced today that the Fourth of July holiday week-end will again be the occasion for a seasonal traffic enforcement program. The program is being held, he said, in cooperation with the nationwide effort being made by the National Safety Council to reduce the high death toll which occurs each year at this time.

"The police department is asking each citizen to take special precautions in an effort to save lives and property over the Fourth," Chief Merica said.

He predicted that traffic will be unusually heavy during this year's celebration, for thousands are still catching up on the pleasure driving they had to forego because of restrictions on travel during the war years.

"The long week-end, the festive spirit of the holiday and more motorists on the road will make the Fourth this year a time of real hazard," Chief Merica said. "Let's all work together to make Columbus one place where the Fourth of July does not mean death and disaster to any of our people! Instead, let us make it a day of joyful and safe celebration of the independence which it commemorates."

To Be Released from Reformatory

Adalaide Hampton, 33, of an E. Town-st address, will be paroled from the Marysville Reformatory on July 17, the State Pardon and Parole Board announced last week.

She was sentenced to the reformatory on two charges of robbery after her companion shot and killed Carl Hoover, 38, of 510 Hilltonia-av, in a Kroger Store at 1260 Oak-st in 1939.

My morale is very low,

Church Plans First Anniversary July 6

Sunday, July 6, marks the first anniversary of the dedication of the church of the United Brethren in Christ, Old Constitution, at 496 Wheatland-av, and the group is planning suitable services in observance of the day, with Bishop W. E. Musgrave, of the south district, Huntington, Ind., as guest speaker. Sunday School, Rev. Olen Gould, superintendent, will convene at 9:30 a. m. with preaching at 10:45 a. m.

Rev. Harwood

Basket dinner at the noon hour will afford a social time. The bishop will preach again at 2 p. m.

The church was purchased by the present group from the Church of the Latter Day Saints, and is known as the Edgewood Chapel. Rev. H. E. Harwood, former district superintendent of the Scioto Conference of the U. B. Church, is serving as pastor. A cordial invitation is extended to all who do not worship elsewhere to attend this anniversary. Regular services include Sunday School at 9:30 a. m., preaching at 10:45 a. m. and Sunday evening at 7:30. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, followed by a half hour Bible study.

Concordia Will Observe 20th Anniversary Sunday

Rev. Werling

Concordia Lutheran Church, 45 S. Brinker-av, will observe its 20th anniversary Sunday, June 29, in the regular morning service at 10:45.

On June 27, 1927, the present congregation began as a vacation Bible School in a storeroom at 3105 W. Broad-st. This effort was begun under the sponsorship of St. James Lutheran Church, Camp Chase, Ohio, the mother church of the present congregation. Later, services were conducted at 3115 W. Broad-st and, since Dec. 9, 1928, at the present location.

During the past year a further step in the growth of this congregation was the opening of a parish school with grades one to six and the addition of the kindergarten the second semester.

The services next Sunday will include special prayer and song and a sermon fitting the occasion delivered by the present pastor, Rev. W. H. Werling. A special thank offering will be brought by the membership. All interested friends are invited to worship with the church on this special occasion.

YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW

DEATH OF A PIONEER MOTHER

She had lived for a long time; she had known
Waiting and pain before.
Death was slow . . . not to be overthrown
Quickly were secret reserves of strength,
Not to be shaken.
Such faith! She still thought more
Of others than of herself, and would awaken
To ask of simple things. But that last night
She lingered with us for a little while,
She said she was very tired. The shaded light
Touched softly the weary and yet tranquil face.
The mind groped back; the eyes looked ahead so far.
Then, tussling the benediction of her smile,
She climbed hushed stairs to her resting place,
In her hand, the lamp of a star.

Wildlife Makes Big Business

The annual business turnover in the United States in the use of our wildlife resources amounts to between one and two billions of dollars, according to recent estimates of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and Ohio's share of this business on the basis of hunting and fishing license sales amounts to 50 to 100 million dollars per year. This figure is said to equal about 10 per cent of the total cash income received by Ohio farmers in 1942.

This is big business for a state which normally does not attempt to attract out-of-state hunters and fisherman in the same fashion as neighboring states, the streams and woodlands of which lend themselves more readily to hunting and fishing than to general agricultural uses. Michigan, as an example, rightly considers outdoor recreation as a business that is second only to the automobile industry. This does not necessarily mean that Ohio does not cater to out-of-state hunters and fisherman but because Ohio is so geographically located that the traveling hunting and fishing public from the east to reach Michigan travel through Ohio and those from the west to reach Pennsylvania travel also through the state of Ohio.

To the fisherman in Ohio who has but to amble to a nearby creek or lake, fishing would seem to create very little stir in the business world, but to the hotel keeper, the restaurant owner, the sporting goods store and others serving the traveling sportsmen, it is not surprising that wildlife resources create big business.

SUNDAY LESSON

The Story of Israel Contains Elements That Make, Break

The International Sunday School Lesson for June 29
Scriptures: Psalm 119:105; Isaiah 2:2-4; Micah 6:1-8

ONE great heritage from the story of ancient Israel is the lessons its story contains regarding the things that make for the welfare, or the downfall, of nations and peoples.

In the history of the Jewish people from the time of their return from the bondage in Egypt to the establishment and downfall of their kingdom in Palestine, we can see the laws and forces that wreck mighty nations.

But our heritage from ancient Israel is very much more than is found in example and warning. Out of the life of Israel, despite wars, peril, suffering, waste, and destruction, has come the richest literature that the world has known—the Scriptures upon which Our Lord was nourished, and which, He said, He had come to fulfill.

It is the spiritual miracle of history that out of times of ruthless war should have come the magnificent dreams of peace, recorded in such passages as Isaiah 2 and 35. The times were crude and full of danger. The perverse and evil-minded set up altars of idolatry. There were false prophets as well as the patient, suffering, irrepressible prophets of the Lord.

Some kings themselves were false leaders, doing evil in the sight of the Lord. But there were gentle souls, being led through green pastures and beside still waters, singing the songs of hope and faith.

In days of darkness there were not wanting those who found the word of God a light unto their path (Psalms 119:105). And in evil days there were courageous rebukers of iniquity, and prophets, like Micah, who defined in clear, simple terms the eternal realities of true religion.

And in these days of the 20th century, when millions have been destroyed and other millions have been suffering from ruthlessness, let us not forget that it is to Jews that we owe that heritage. What return is the world making to them for all they have given to the world?

Comforting Memories Are Made Here

Evening Services Are Discontinued For Summer Months

The evening services at the Hillcrest Baptist Church will be discontinued during the months of July and August. This decision was reached recently at a meeting of the church upon recommendation of the board of deacons. The pastor of the church, Rev. J. Herbert Goewey, announced that the evening services will be resumed in September.

For the final service this Sunday evening Mr. Goewey will close his series on the theme, "Spelling Christ In Three Languages," using as his special theme, "Christ In The Language of Affection."

The Spectator By C.C. Hartley

This Is Way They Once Killed Rats

Our rat campaign has brought some interesting stories and we like this one especialy well:

A few years ago the old Home Store was plagued with rats just as the alleys on the Hilltop are today. The livery stable behind the store seemed to be the root of the trouble, however, some of the impetuous rodents made their way into the millinery department and ate the feathers off all the hats.

When the rats became brave enough to eat the goods off the counters an employe of the store went to the manager and asked him to try her method of extermination. They bought a pound of red pepper and dropped a small quantity in each rat hole around the stable and the outside of the building. In a short time the rats came out for water and were promptly knocked in the head with clubs. When an hour had passed there was a bushel basket piled high with dead rats.

This lady is sure her method will work and says that it would save much time and money on the part of the exterminators.

The local lady explained that the rodents will not die in the holes but will come out for water, then because of the pepper they won't go back inside. This offers an opportunity to "get them cornered."

Get out the pepper, follow with the ball bats and have a bushel basket handy!

Incidentally, if you have rats and want them eliminated, send in your name and address, or call the Record, Ra. 1125, and the Rat Derby committee will help you get rid of the pests, at no charge!

Photography Course Will Start July 9

The Hilltop Teen Club will conduct an eight week course in basic photography, to meet each Wednesday night beginning July 9 and lasting through the month of August. Due to the cooperative system practiced by this teen-age institution, the cost of the training, film used, printing paper, chemicals, etc., will be only 75c per student for the complete course. No textbooks will be used as only three meetings will consist of theory, the remaining five weeks to be spent in practice in the club's dark room and studio.

Class will be held each Wednesday night starting promptly at 7:30 and will be conducted by the club supervisor, Mel Griggs, and Bob Creager, both amateur photographers.

The Teen Club board of directors will hold its first summer meeting this Friday night to discuss the program for the summer season. The paramount problem to be discussed is the possibility of holding more dances on Saturday nights. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock. Teen-age visitors are welcome.

In addition to the photography school the Teen Club offers to the youth of the Hilltop: dancing every night to the music of records, pocket billiards, table tennis, chess, checkers, reading room, a camera club and journalism club. Cost of membership to this community project is 25c dues per month. Hours are 3:30 to 10, Fridays and Saturdays 1 to 11 p. m.

Five Local Kiwanians Attend Convention

Five members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and their wives are attending the Kiwanis International convention in Chicago this week.

Attending from the Hilltop are Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Miles, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Planck, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Miles.

Kiwanians To Observe 4th Of July

Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will do well to dust off the old history book before attending today's luncheon meeting.

George Tarbutton, in charge of the program for today, promises a quiz on historical and, particularly, Independence Day, facts. Members of the club will be invited to participate in the special program being arranged in observance of July 4th.

Plans are being completed for the big second anniversary party of the Hilltop club to be held at the Ft. Hayes Hotel on the evening of July 24.

Fay Le Meadows, whose radio program, "The Art of Living," has been a regular feature of Station WHIO for more than 10 years, is scheduled to bring the anniversary address.

He has a national reputation as a speaker and has been minister of the Shiloh Congregational Church, Dayton, for 15 years. During that time he has increased the membership from 100 to more than 1000.

Rev. Meadows was organizer and is director of the Youth Traveling University, a project designed to contribute to the character growth of high school young people. This group travels to some point of interest each summer, such as New York, Chicago or Washington. He has long been active in the civic life of Dayton.

Tickets for the dinner are now on sale.

Income from the farms of Ohio totals close to $3,000,000 per day, L. L. Rummell, newly appointed dean of the college of agriculture at Ohio State University, told members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last week. The dairy industry in the state is responsible for almost 30 per cent of that income, he said in his address that was scheduled as part of the observance of National Dairy Week.

"Agriculture is the state's largest single industry," the speaker told local Kiwanians.

He reviewed the strategic location of the state in relation to the important urban markets that readily buy most of the food products.

"The world in general owes a great debt to the farmer of America," Mr. Rummell remarked in stressing the importance of agriculture in winning the war. He showed how farm production was increased approximately 35 per cent from 1940 to 1946.

The problem today is in creating a market for this increased production, he pointed out. During the war the consumption of fluid milk increased about 20 per cent while the per capita consumption of butter dropped from 18 to 10 pounds per year—the result of shortages of butterfat.

He pointed out how an improved quality in butter and "eye" appeal in the packaging of dairy products is being used to increase sales of dairy foods.

Popularizing the bulk sale of ice cream in food stores is expected to result in greatly increased demand for that product, the speaker said in predicting a big increase in the use of ice cream in the home.

Conservation Club To Picnic

The first annual family picnic of the Hilltop Conservation Club will be held July 13 at Valley Ranch, located on Big Darby Creek just north of Broad-st. The grounds will be open at 2 p. m. and a full afternoon's program of exhibitions and contests for the sportsman is promised. Activities for the children have also been planned, and the ladies will be in for their share of fun as well.

Following a basket supper with the club furnishing coffee, the drawing for the prizes will be held. The first prize is a 3½ h. p. single cylinder Scott-Atwater outboard motor; second prize, a five-man rubber boat; and the third prize the winner's choice of a South Bend fly rod or a True Temper bait casting rod. All prizes are on exhibition in the window of the Hilltop Sporting Goods Store, 2461 W. Broad-st.

Call RA. 1125 before 9 a. m. on Wednesday to place your want ad copy.

West Occidents Are Now Available Daily

Approximately one-half of the West High School students had obtained their copies of the Occident, school yearbook, by the middle of last week.

Mrs. Perry will be at the principal's office each day through July 10 so that those students may get their copies. The office will be open from 8 a. m. until 3:30 p. m.

Extra copies of the annual are still available at $1.75 per copy for those who did not previously order one.

Robert E. Wynn Recovers From Boat Accident

Former police chief, Robert E. Wynn, 57, of 148 N. Warren-av, is recovering in Lancaster Hospital from severe leg injuries suffered last week when he was run down by a speed boat as he was swimming in Buckeye Lake.

The efficient work of rescuers and the surgery of a Lancaster physician are credited with saving Mr. Wynn's life and also saving the badly mangled limb.

"The leg will be all right," a member of the family told The Hilltop Record this week, "and under the circumstances he is doing very good."

It is expected that he will remain in the hospital for about six weeks.

The former police chief (now retired) was swimming in Buckeye Lake near Summerland Beach Wednesday evening when he was run down by a speedboat. C. D. Disbennett, owner of the Crab-Baker Boat Line, who was fishing nearby, heard Mr. Wynn's call for help. After pulling him into the boat, he and his father-in-law, Mr. Wylie, took him to the landing at Summerland Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris quickly summoned a physician and made arrangements for transporting the accident victim to the Lancaster Hospital. A. A. Cornell and H. Boystel rode to the hospital in the ambulance with Mr. Wynn, applying a tourniquet to the injured right leg to control the bleeding.

"We owe the life of our dad to the quick action and splendid cooperation of these people," Mr. Wynn's son said.

The occupants of the speedboat have not been identified. Mr. Wynn could give only a general description of the boat and the number of occupants and Mr. Disbennett had not paid any particular attention to the boat or its occupants.

A member of the Columbus Police Department from July, 1922, until June, 1944, Wynn was appointed provisionally as police chief on Dec. 26, 1943. He served in that capacity until the appointment of Chief Lester W. Merica in May, 1944. He retired from the department at that time with the rank of captain.

Injured In Motorcycle Collision

Carroll Tope, 29, and his wife, Wilma, 23, of 244 Dakota-av, were cut and bruised Tuesday afternoon when their motorcycle was in a collision with an auto driven by John Ferguson, 2273 Astor-av, at Morrison-av and Main-st, police said.

West Won First Grid Title By Upsetting North In '15

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles dealing with some of the early athletic happenings in the history of West High School.

West High School's first football championship came in the fall of 1915, seven years after the school was started in 1908. Coach Lee Leahy and several members of that championship squad are still in Columbus, some of them on the Hilltop.

Ray L. Rhoads, meat cutter at Chubby's Market, furnished the photograph of the team from which the above engraving was made. Red Mason, 361 N. Algonquin-av, provided a newspaper clipping from which much of the following information was taken.

Rhoads was cheerleader at West in '17 and '18 and recalls seeing all of the important games during the championship year. Home games were played on Young's Field on Sullivant-av in the vicinity of Highland av. Mason, a plasterer, attended West in '14, '15 and '16.

West Scores Upset

According to Bill McKinnon's account of the West-North game of that year, "Yip" Owen and "Ducky" Swain were two of the big guns in the West backfield. West won that crucial game by a 19 to 0 score in a surprise upset. Touchdowns were made by Swain and Owens, with Owens making two conversions. Rife made safety and Owens added a field goal.

In the lineup that day were Densor, LE; Rohr, LT; Hamilton, LG; Garrett, C; Watt-Hohr, RG; Purdrum, RT; Cohagen, RE; Cott, QB and captain; Swain, LH; Owens, RH; Matheny, FB.

The account of the game read in part:

West's attack was a mystery to North. Coach Leahy used a split formation and a fake buck that dazzled North's line. This play was more effective than any other in West's repertoire. Late in the final quarter it was used to good advantage by 'Ducky' Swain for a 60-yard dash which was primarily responsible for West's final score.

"The final West score was brought about in the fag end of the period when, after the kickoff, Swain dodged and squirmed through most of the North team for a 60-yard dash to North's six-yard line. West was penalized 15 yards for holding and on the next play Captain Cott hurled a nicely directed pass to Owens, who scampered across the line for a touchdown. He made the score stand 19 to 0 by kicking goal.

"The entire West team played magnificently with Swain, Owens and Cott appearing to be the foremost performers."

The game was considered a personal triumph for Coach Leahy, who had brought his team to a high state of efficiency from the start of the season. It was Coach Leahy who gave Swain the nickname of "Ducky," a name that still sticks with him.

Owens' "nasty" punts and the "velocity and fierceness" of the West line were credited with helping materially the cause of the Coach Leahy grid team.

NEXT WEEK: More about the 1915 West championship team.

Playgrounds Are Popular Hot Weather Centers

Children and adults have been flocking to the Hilltop's parks and playgrounds in increased numbers this summer, a check with the recreation office revealed this week. While figures were not available at this time for comparison with other years, N. J. Barack, the director said he was sure that there would be an increase in attendance at most of the recreation centers.

A new drinking faucet was installed at Westgate Park last week and another fountain put in near the tennis court. Glenwood and Holton Parks likewise had new drinking facilities installed.

Mrs. Margaret Edwards reported for work at Westgate Park Monday on a part-time basis. She will devote full time to the work as soon as she completes classes at Capital University.

Weed killer was sprayed on the two unused tennis courts, adjacent to the four courts now in use at Westgate preparatory to putting them in condition for play. The work will be done as soon as the weeds are killed.

To Fix Up Court

Some of the kids who frequent the park, under the direction of Forman Slager, are working to put one of the two old tennis courts in shape for play for the younger boys and girls. Dick Slager, one of the supervisors, plans to organize a club for beginners as soon as the court is in shape. This would be open to all boys and girls without charge in a move to stimulate interest in tennis.

Basketball and badminton courts have been lined and put into use at Westgate.

Barack explained that although bids for repairing wading pools had been advertised in March of this year, not a single bid had been received for the work. Efforts to get contractors to estimate the work resulted in estimates twice the amount of the value of the repair work, he said.

New wage scales of 86c per hour, effective July 20, are expected to ease the task of getting workers to take care of much needed work, Barack believes.

To Repair Diamonds

The recreation director said that council approved advertising for bids for filling in the infields of many city softball and hardball diamonds. Several years of wear without work has resulted in the diamonds becoming lower in the infield than the outfield. The result has been that when it rains, water runs to infield and accumulates instead of draining away from it.

This work would not be undertaken until the close of the current

Teachers Will Get Pay Raise In September

Columbus public school teachers will get a long-awaited pay raise.

Provision for increasing teacher salaries by approximately $500 per year was approved by a strong majority of 31,741 persons who voted on the special two-mill school levy Tuesday. The "across the board" pay hikes will apply to non-teaching school personnel as well.

Slightly more than 80 per cent of the voters cast their ballots in favor of the special school levy. A 60 per cent majority was needed for passage.

The unofficial vote showed 25,446 votes for the levy and only 6226 against.

The levy, which will take the city's tax rate to 18.8 mills, is expected to solve many of the personnel problems facing school officials. Many teachers and maintenance employees had threatened to leave their jobs if increases were not forthcoming.

Pay raises go into effect with the opening of the school term in September. The starting salary for new teachers will be raised from $1425 to $1925 annually. Maximum salaries will be raised from $3050 to $3550.

Lucille Kirchner Receives High Honors At OSU

Lucille Kirchner, a member of the graduating class at Ohio State University in June, received her diploma with summa cum laude honors and was one of five seniors receiving special awards.

Her name had not appeared in the list of graduates carried in The Hilltop Records due to the fact that an old South Charleston, Ohio, address was used in the press release from the university. She now resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kirchner, at 566 Columbian-av.

Miss Kirchner had all A's for eight quarters of her university work and was elected into Phi Beta Kappa as one of two juniors selected last year. Upon her graduation she was awarded the Chi Omega prize given to the woman student who ranks highest in social sciences each year.

Other honors included membership in Ti Sigma Alpha, honorary political science group, and Scholaris, freshman honorary society. She majored in economics and is now on the business research staff at Ohio State University. In the fall she plans to resume work there toward her master's degree.

Gladys Sahr Is Col. Air Queen

Miss Gladys Sahr, 99 S. Terrace-av, has been selected by the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce as the Columbus Jaycees Air Queen.

As Columbus' Air Queen, Miss Sahr will receive a free airplane ride over Columbus and central Ohio. She will compete with similarly selected girls from all over central Ohio for the title of Ohio's Air Queen, who will reign over the activities of the Ohio Air Tour July 25-27.

The Air Tour is being sponsored by the Cleveland Jaycees with indications that more than 300 airplanes will participate in this tour, which will stop at several Ohio cities. An overnight stop is scheduled for Columbus on July 26 with the local Jaycees arranging the entertainment for the Ohio Air Queen and her flying escorts.

Record Office To Be Closed Saturday

Because of the Independence Day holiday on Friday of this week, the office of The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, will not be open Friday or Saturday. This will give employees of the paper a double holiday.

The office will be open for business as usual Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

Double Holiday In Store For Many Hilltoppers

With the second of 1947's three "double" holidays just around the corner, residents of the Hilltop will be interested to learn that there has been no community-wide celebration of Independence Day planned.

Instead Hilltoppers will amuse themselves by picnicking, fishing and swimming. Many families, some boasting 1947 automobiles, will enjoy their first long drives since before the war. Dozens of persons will motor to other parts of the state over the holiday, while a few will find time to visit other parts of the country.

To baseball enthusiasts, the Red Birds will not see local action on the Fourth, but will entertain home fans Saturday with a single game against the Toledo Mudhens. A double-header with Toledo will be played Sunday afternoon at Red Bird Stadium.

In softball, the Columbus Nationals will play games both Friday and Saturday at the State Hospital Field against South Bend, followed by a twin bill at 8 p. m. Sunday against the Hoosiers.

The Hilltop Swimming Pool will no doubt be a popular spot if King Sol smiles on the Hilltop over the holiday. More than 2600 persons swam at the pool this past week-end, it was announced by pool officials.

The Fourth will be the second so-called "double" holiday this year, Memorial Day having been the first. Labor Day will be another such "short vacation."

Robert M. Draper, 75 N. Roys-av, president of the Columbus School Board, will be the Democratic speaker at the annual Buckeye Republican Club rally at Franklin Park.

The program gets under way at 10:30 a. m. and ends up with a giant fireworks display late in the evening. A championship baseball game, games and races for children, a wrestling match, band concert and movies are also on the program.

Don't Sit Under That Tree To Fish

This is not a fish story but it is a story about a fisherman and a most unusual one to say the least.

Orlie W. Cray, 58, of 385 Midland-av, was sitting under a tree on the bank of the Scioto River Sunday afternoon, fishing. Suddenly a large limb, more than six inches in diameter, came crashing to the ground. Before his wife and son, John, could yell a warning he was struck and pinned to the earth.

The limb was so heavy that two state patrolmen could not lift it off the injured man without help.

At Mercy Hospital later on it was discovered that he was not seriously injured. He suffered mostly from bruises and shock.

Monday afternoon he was home again, convinced that his "time" had not yet come. Doubtless he will have as much difficulty convincing people of the truth of that incident as he may have had with some of his fish stories.

Father Of Attorney Here Died Tuesday

Ralph L. Stout, 58, father of Phillip Stout, attorney, 2532 W. Broad-st, died in University Hospital Tuesday afternoon following a kidney operation several days ago. A resident of West Mansfield, Ohio, Mr. Stout had been a patient in the hospital for more than a month.

Mr. Stout was a wholesale egg dealer at West Mansfield and was formerly county commissioner of Logan County.

He is survived by his wife, Edna D., formerly a member of the State Board of Cosmetology; son, Phillip Stout; a daughter, Mary Ann Davidson, West Englewood, N. J.; and two grandchildren, Roland Stout and Susan Davidson.

Knight Templar services will be conducted in the Methodist Church in West Mansfield Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will follow at North Lawisburg, Ohio.

Hoge Memorial Church is showing the first of a series of four educational films for children this morning at 10:30. The pictures will be presented in the church basement and are open to all children.

Nominations Are Being Received

A Hilltop or West Side girl will reign as queen of the National Outboard Races Sunday, Aug. 17, as the result of a contest to be sponsored jointly by Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion and The Hilltop Record.

A suitable capital prize for the queen as well as prizes for the four members of her court will be awarded by the Legion post and The Hilltop Record. These will be announced at a later date.

Any girl 16 years old, or over, living west of the Scioto River and in Franklin County is eligible for nomination. Nominations will be received at The Hilltop Record office until Friday, July 18. Each girl wishing to compete should submit her name, address, telephone number and a photograph, if possible, to the Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st.

A committee of two men from each of the sponsoring organizations will have charge of festivities at the races, including crowning of the queen. Representing the Legion post will be Jim Hamilton, 489 Nashoba-av, and Noble Allen, Jr., 2456 W. Broad-st. Two Record representatives will be decided upon later. A committee of three judges, to be picked later, will decide the queen and her court from ballots cast at various stations over the Hilltop. Voting will be done on a ballot printed in the Record July 31.

The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be named queen, the four runners-up to serve as members of her court.

Further details of the contest will be published later in the Record.

Committee Named

A committee of eight has been named by Camp Chase Post No. 98 to direct the National Outboard and Speedboat Races to be held Aug. 17 at Griggs Dam.

Chairman of the committee will be Sgt. Robert Cooke of the Columbus Police Department. Other members are Vernon Fiscus, post commander; William Bright, chaplain; Edgar Planck, Larry Scales, George Ward, Sr., Bob Hitchcock, William Booth, Bob Jones, Horace Swain and Dewey Stout.

Proceeds from the races will be added to a fund already started by the post for the construction of Veterans' Memorial Building on the West Side. A lot has been purchased by the post.

The post commander is urging families to make the day a picnic outing. Mayor James A. Rhodes said that picnic tables, and fireplaces along the Scioto River will be released for the day and that the facilities will be made available to families attending the races.

Green To Launch Campaign July 14

The opening blast of the campaign will be fired by Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, at a big rally to be held in the Southern Hotel on July 14, designated as official opening of the campaign. Ruth Platt Gives Report On Girl State

Ruth Platt, 223 S. Roys-av, delegate to Girl State held at Capital University June 22-29, gives an account of her activities during the week in the following letter. She was sponsored by the Camp Chase Auxiliary of the American Legion.

June 30, 1947

"I have been asked to tell you some of the happenings of Buckeye Girl State. Believe me, I shall write with much enthusiasm for Girl State has been a thrilling experience for me and 304 other girls, I believe!

"I shall tell you a few of the everyday things that went on at the Capital University campus and try to sketch the schedule of the days.

"We arrived Sunday, June 22, and registered with the secretary and nurse. If we arrived before 12:00 we might look over our rooms, unpack or become acquainted with our neighbors. At 12:00 dinner was served in Troutman Hall. (Incidentally, the food was very good!) Afternoon found us attending a vesper service at Christ Lutheran Church. Supper every evening was at 5:30. Throughout the week the time from 7:00 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. was devoted to lectures and government. Lights were to be out at 10:00, but since there was much getting acquainted to be done, hair to be put up and parties going on, it was not rigidly enforced.

"Up at 7:00 a. m. for flag raising and breakfast. The time from 8:15 to 9:00 a. m. was devoted to housekeeping and as we attended meals according to the appearance of our rooms, the beds had square corners and the tables were dusted.

"Much of the campaigning was done Monday and Tuesday with signs, parades and speeches very much in evidence. Since I was clerk of the Hobart County Board of Elections I was kept busy both of these days.

"Elections were held Tuesday and a wonderful group of state and county officials was elected and inaugurated Tuesday evening.

"Governor Herbert, Lt. Governor Paul Herbert, Chief Justice Weygandt, Mrs. Christine Conaway, dean of women at Ohio State University, and many others prominent in Ohio government and education, addressed our groups.

"Friday we were taken on a tour of Columbus (I saw some things I'd never seen in spite of my living here for 16 years) and we had a picnic at the zoo. On Saturday evening we were given a farewell party and I'm afraid everyone was just a little sad.

"Sunday morning all 305 girls who had been gathered together in this week of fellowship and learning went their separate ways.

"I sincerely believe the American Legion Auxiliary should be commended for I'm sure each of those girls who left Capital University Sunday morning left with a better understanding of the privileges and obligations insured by a democracy and I believe, too, they left more able and more willing to take an active part in community life."

Sincerely,
Ruth Platt

rent ball season. With the winter months to allow the new dirt to pack, it should put the diamonds in good playing condition next spring.

City council Monday night authorized appropriation of $1000 to hire an architect to work out needed improvements to Glenwood, Schiller and Sunshine Parks.

Invitation for bids for repairing the wading pool was approved this week.

A checker tournament is in progress this week at the West Broad Street playground. A handball tourney will get under way next Wednesday, R. C. (Rufe) Glass, playground supervisor, said.

Horseshoe and badminton tournaments will be started as soon as more practice has been held. Relay and running races are held daily. A junior softball team is now in the process of organization.

Swim Classes Attract 125 At Local Pool

Swimming classes at the Hilltop Pool have been attracting an average of 125 per day with 150 already registered. Youngsters 5 to 15 years, inclusive, are taking advantage of the instruction that is offered for 15c per lesson.

The classes are put on by the Red Cross and Station WBNS in cooperation with the local pool. James Seagle, 661 S. Ogden-av, an accredited instructor, is in charge. He is assisted by Jody Gram and Jack Dale, lifeguards at the pool.

The instruction is given every other day with the days varying every week. This week, for instance, the lessons are on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 9 to 10:45 a. m. Next week they will be held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Seagle said that a class of instruction for adults would be given in the afternoons if there was sufficient interest indicated. Lessons would be free to any person purchasing a regular ticket to the pool. Any person interested in such a class can contact Mr. Seagle or the management of the pool.

Work in life-saving has been given to some students during the evenings by Gram and Dale.

Seagle, a member of the Columbus Fire Department, has been giving swimming lessons for six or seven years. During the war he served aboard a carrier in the South Atlantic and the Caribbean area.

Holton Park To Have Pet Show Tonight

The first pet show of the summer season will be held at Holton Park this evening (Thursday), beginning at 7 o'clock. Paul McClain, park supervisor, will be in charge of this affair, sponsored by the recreation department.

Awards include prizes for winners in the following categories: cutest pet, largest pet, smallest pet, most unusual pet and best-trained pet.

Despite the fact that Holton has no regular softball field, attempts are being made to organize a softball team in time to enter the City Parks League. Boys 12 to 18 years of age, who are interested, should see the acting captain, John Hallam, or the park supervisor, immediately. Practice is held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6:30 p. m.

McClain has issued an appeal to the people of the Hilltop to donate any unused recreation or athletic equipment for use by the children at Holton Park.

"The recreation equipment furnished us by the city is very limited and replacement is extremely difficult. Many of you perhaps have used athletic equipment, games, art and craft materials, etc., stored in your basements, attics and garages. If you have no further use for such items, they would be greatly appreciated here at Holton.

"Bring them down to the park between 12 noon and 8 p. m., or call RA. 5967 between 9 a. m. and 11:30 a. m. Monday through Friday. We need softball gloves, a croquet set and a badminton set especially."

Several inches of water stood in the basement, causing $100 worth of damage to merchandise on the Erlenbach Hardware Company side and $40 damage to the Robinson Electric side of the building.

Looking Ahead

with Jean Worrel

Knowledge is Power

Are Schooldays nearly over for your boy or girl? Have you realized how fast the children are growing up?

For children do grow up . . . which leads me to ask if you've given much thought to your children's future lately? I mean, whether they'll go to college to prepare themselves adequately for what life has in store for them. Almost every boy and girl would like a college education, of course, but wishing is not enough. There are fees to consider, tuition costs, maintenance allowances, incidental expenses and such-like. Fortunately these items, large though they may seem if not foreseen and provided for, can be budgeted with ease by planning proper arrangements in time. I wonder how many of you know that the Educational Policy issued by the Sun Life of Canada has been developed to take care of just such a job. By small, regular payments during a portion of their school years, your boy or girl may be assured an arranged amount for the definite purpose of meeting college fees. This amount would be paid by the Sun Life of Canada each year during the period of collegiate training. At the same time there would also be a monthly income available to cover miscellaneous expenses incidental to education. The plan includes, too, an interesting insurance feature safeguarding both parent and child in the event of the death of either before the primary objective of the contract is accomplished. Successful men and women today will tell you there is no better investment than higher education . . . why not make sure of it?

Let me Help You to Help Your Children.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The HILL Realty Company
BULLETIN

Mr. George
Would like to show you this well constructed home in Eureka, near Broad. All this home needs is a coat of outside paint. The inside is in perfect condition, with new decorations. You will like the venetian blinds, the corner cupboards in the dining room, the full insulation, the carpet that goes with the house and the new stoker. We can give immediate possession too. Phone MA. 5831 or WA. 3432 eves.

Mr. Shoaf
knows that you will like the appearance of this quite suburban atmosphere, with the Cape Cod style house resting at the top of the knoll. It is only a few miles from the city and with a small expense could be made completely modern. Phone MA. 5831 or RA. 8022 evenings.

Mr. Shoaf and Mr. George agree that this year 'round cottage along the Scioto River will sell quickly, as the price is reduced for a quick sale. It is near O'Shaughnessy Dam, where there is plenty of fresh air, good stores, and recreational facilities. It is modern, with a wood-burning fireplace, and is completely carpeted. It has a two-car garage, with a side drive, and can be handled on terms. Phone MA. 5831 or RA. 8022, WA. 3432 eves.

Mr. Richardson
has several nice building lots in New Rome. He will convince you that they are priced very reasonably. He has sold several in this vicinity, and if you want to build your future home in a nice quiet suburban neighborhood, he knows that he can show you the spot you will like. Phone MA. 5831 or FR. 8-5789 evenings.

U. S. Congress
now says "you can build a home to suit yourself." Building restrictions have been removed so far as residential homes are concerned. We tell you this because we have an excellently located building site in the heart of the Westgate section you will like. All surrounding lots are improved with well kept homes, and you need not be afraid of someone building a low priced home beside you. Phone MA. 5831.

Mr. Richardson
would like to talk to you about this brick duplex close to Broad on the Hilltop. It has 4 rooms and bath up and 4 rooms and bath down, plus a cottage on the rear of the lot. The owner lives on the second floor and will give possession immediately. The downstairs apt. rents for $55.00 per month and the cottage in the rear brings in $40.00 per month. You can surely have a nice place to live and a nice income at the same time. Phone MA. 5831 or FR. 8-5789 evenings.

Mr. George
believes this double on Dana Ave., which he can sell for $2000 down, will make someone a good home and investment. It could even be sold to two families, so that each would need only $1000 down. It is a 12-rm. mod. double, in a very good neighborhood, near stores, schools and transportation. Phone MA. 5831 or WA. 3432 evenings.

Mr. Shoaf
says "Somebody is going to get a bargain" on this vacant Hilltop 8-room home on Midland Ave. You need only $2500 cash to handle it, and it is in excellent condition, with new paper and new paint. Don't wait, phone MA. 5831 or RA. 8022 evenings.

Mr. George
can recommend this strictly modern semi-suburban with plenty of play room for children. It is near schools, churches and transportation, with immediate possession. Phone him at MA. 5831 or WA. 3432 evenings for information.

Mr. Shoaf
has two new listings for Colored on the Hilltop. Both are strictly modern and both are in good neighborhoods close to Broad St. If you want one of the better homes for Colored on the Hilltop, phone MA. 5831 or RA. 8022 evenings.

Mr. George
calls this home on S. Central Ave. a "honeymooner's paradise." It has four rooms, all newly decorated inside and out. It is attractive and well located, close to stores, schools and transportation. A $5000 loan can be assumed. Phone, MA. 5831 or WA. 3432 evenings says "We are now in fine shape to give very personal attention to a few more Hilltop and Westgate listings." Notice the SOLD BY HILL signs on homes throughout the Hilltop and West Side. Fine, hustling salesmen will make a quick sale for you. Call us today, MA. 5831.

Mr. Hill

This time the age of a truck was worth money. W. A. Mowery (center), 1656 McKinley-av, is shown in the above Citizen photo receiving a check for $100. John L. Rodenfels of Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., left, is shown making the award, while J. L. Matsch, district representative of Chevrolet, looks on.

The check was given as part of the prize money offered for the person having the oldest Chevrolet truck. Mr. Mowery's truck was a 1926 model.

Summer Hikes Are Planned For Col. Boys

Summer hikes and trips are one of the big features of the summer program for boys at the YMCA. Three chartered trips are scheduled which will take the boys to the Columbus Zoo, Mound City (Indian burial ground), and Old Man's Cave and environs. Two overnights are planned—one for boys only, at the "Y" and one for fathers and sons at the South Side "Y" Park. A bicycle hike to Maple Shades is another popular spot to be visited.

Local points of interest are also included in the schedule. The boys will visit the Ohio Penitentiary, the Ohio State Observatory, and several of the Columbus Parks. Hiking awards are presented at the end of the summer to all the boys who participate, based on the number of hikes taken.

In addition to this extensive hike and trip schedule, members of the "Y" have 3 gym and swimming classes each week. A craft shop is open for the convenience of all members on four days a week. An opportunity for fathers and sons to make things together is provided for in a Lad-Dad Craft period every Thursday night.

A first aid class is available for older boys and an archery class meets once a week for all of those interested.

Boys who are interested in taking advantage of these opportunities may still enroll in the summer program. The membership fee for the whole program is three dollars.

Tarbutton Headed Criminal Investigation Work For Army

George Tarbutton

A newcomer to Columbus politics is George Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, a candidate for city council on the Democratic ticket. He is an attorney with offices at 17 S. High-st, where he is associated with the law firm of Adams, Rapp and McCann. He came to the Hilltop in 1940 after having attended Ohio Wesleyan University. He took his law degree from Ohio State University in 1941 and then served four years in the armed services.

During World War II he was prosecuting attorney for the U. S. Army in Italy with headquarters in Leghorn. He was in charge of 30 lawyers and was responsible for prosecuting "crimes against the army" in the part of Italy north of Rome. Officially his title was chief agent in the Criminal Investigations Division, although he served as judge advocate many times.

Under his jurisdiction were many Italian-speaking Americans who assembled evidence and built up cases against Italians engaged in black market activities.

"They stole everything from bulldozers down to PX supplies," Tarbutton recalls. "It was not unusual for them to hijack whole convoys of supplies and divert them into the thriving black markets."

The criminal investigations work also included cases against some of the American soldiers who got themselves into trouble of one kind or another. The local council candidate considers the Swiss police the "most efficient in the world." They kept careful check of the whereabouts of every visiting American and were careful to see that they did not overstay their leaves.

Three Objectives

Tarbutton has three main objectives in mind for the city and if elected pledges himself to work toward their accomplishment. They are:

1. Adequate housing for veterans.
2. Improvement of street and traffic conditions. He favors immediate improvement of W. Mound-st to provide a thoroughfare from the Hilltop to the down-town area.
3. Development of an adequate recreation program for both children and adults.

He realizes that the financial condition of the city is one that needs first attention. He favors increases in pay for city employees as increases in city revenue become available.

He is Kiwanian

Mr. and Mrs. Tarbutton have a daughter, Ann, age four months. Mr. Tarbutton is a member of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, several Masonic bodies, past president of the Barristers' Club, member of the Ohio State, Columbus and American Bar Associations, vice-president of the Reserve Officers Association. He is on reserve status, being connected with the judge advocate's office.

He is a member of the Hope Memorial Church where he teaches a class of high school boys. He plays some golf but devotes more of his time to military reserve affairs.

Mrs. Tarbutton is the former Margaret Michel, daughter of Christy Michel, well known West High School teacher.

Joseph J. Van Heyde will serve as campaign manager for Mr. Tarbutton. Official opening of the campaign by Democrats will be July 9.

Columbus Man Heads Pioneer 'Phone Workers

NELSON W. CORNER

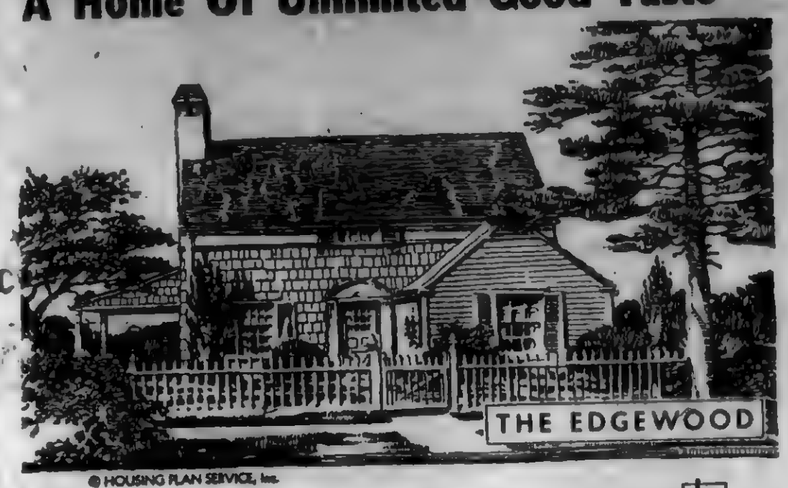
For the first time since 1939, veteran Ohio telephone workers who are members of N. C. Kingsbury Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, held a convention at Cedar Point June 27, 28 and 29.

As a vice-president of the state organization, N. W. Corner of Columbus has headed the activities of the chapter's Columbus council for the past year.

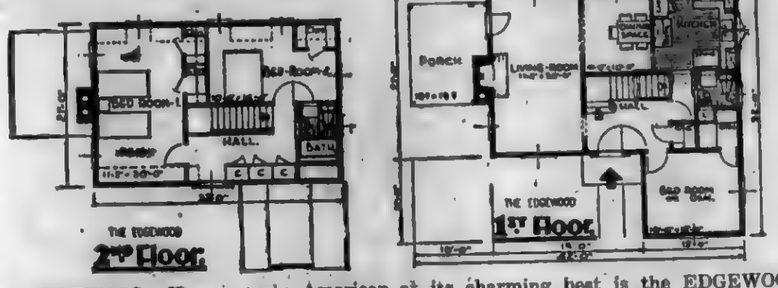
The necessary requirement for membership in the pioneer organization is 21 or more years' service in the telephone business. At present there are more than 112,000 members in the nationwide organization, including a chapter from the Bell Telephone company of Canada, with 3,700 of these located in Ohio in the N. C. Kingsbury chapter and 600 in the Columbus council. Another Ohio group, Kilgore Chapter with nearly 1,000 members, is located in the Cincinnati area, making a total Ohio pioneer membership of 4,700.

One Veteran Gets Home On Hilltop

William Root, an overseas veteran with two years' service in the European Theater, has been awarded a home as a result of the "Speed Homes For Veterans" campaign. The home, which was made available by Tod Tibbals, is located at 281 S. Powell-av. Mr. Tibbals is a member of the Columbus Home Builders Association, which is supporting the campaign.



The theme song of the drive is "I Had A Wonderful Time In Columbus," which is being used on radio broadcasts throughout the nation.



Bob Killen Purchases Marathon Station

Bob Killen of 194 N. Harris-av, this week announced the purchase of the Hilltop Marathon Service, corner Wheatland-av and Broad-st, from Robert F. Strope, 676 S. Wayne-av. Strope has operated the station for about a year.

Killen recently moved to the Hilltop address from West Jefferson. For the past six months he has been employed at the Rodenfels Chevrolet Co. He formerly operated a service station in London before entering the armed services.

A Home Of Unlimited Good Taste

THE EDGEWOOD—Homey early American at its charming best is the EDGEWOOD, from the drawing board of a distinguished Washington, D. C., architect. American families of limited budgets but unlimited good taste may safely build this rugged residence anywhere from Maine to California. One and a half stories high it is an ideal house for newlyweds or for the older couple whose children have grown up and left the paternal roof tree. The first story provides the comfort of a four-room apartment, a grand living room with fireplace and three-way light, dining space, a joy of a kitchen, and a bedroom and bath. The upper story, with two bedrooms, bath and an abundance of closets, may be finished later if the need for more sleeping space arises. Although not large, the architect has utilized his space so well that each room is larger than usually found in such houses. It conforms to all requirements of FHA, and its electrical layouts to standards of National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Blueprints and specifications available from Housing Plan Service, 140 Nassau St., New York 7, N. Y., for $7.50.

Rat Is Carrier Of Many Dreaded Disease Germs

When Rover brings home a rat corpse, don't touch it! Get some old gloves, and handle brother rodent with care. He's likely to be harboring fleas, polio virus or other disease germs.

A sharp rise in rat-spread diseases became noteworthy during the war years, dread sicknesses such as bubonic plague, rat-bite fever, amoebic dysentery, ptomaine poisoning and tularemia. Even the polio virus has been found in rats. It is hoped that some day the answer to this horrible affliction will be found through research with the long-nosed bewhiskered inhabitants of the alleyways.

Rat bites are extremely dangerous, but luckily not common. The reason for rodents biting humans is obvious. Curt P. Richter of Johns Hopkins' proved in a recent experiment that rats like human blood. Placing three rats in a cage, he gave each of them 139 grams, or 4½ ounces, of operating-room blood and serum. In less than 24 hours two of the rats had eaten all of the mixture and one had devoured 47 grams of it. A normal rat's average daily intake of food is only 45 to 47 grams.

Rat bites sometimes heal normally. More often they develop into rat-bite fever, in which the original wound heals temporarily, later opens again and develops into a rash. The temperature rises to 103 or 104 degrees and then falls to normal once more. This occurs again and again and will continue to happen for months. The patient grows thin, meanwhile, and muscle pains, arthritis and delirium result.

Likes Human Blood

Once having bitten a human, the craving for blood is more pronounced to the rat and he will bite again. Fortunately, he can bite only sleeping persons, and the victim, after the first nibble, usually awakens to frighten the scavenger away. In the skin is often chewed away before the youngster can sufficiently scare the animal into leaving.

Rats are natural beachcombers and will jump ship whenever the pickings look good. This accounts for the carrying of many plant and human diseases from continent to continent. It is the reason, as well, for their presence in this country. They came here on ships from Europe, and multiplied, often at the rate of two litters every 42 days, to their present huge proportions.

Their fleas are vital carriers of the dreaded bubonic plague, which has caused the death of thousands in Europe. Even the dead pest should be handled with caution, for the fleas and germs he hides in his furry coat are not affected by the passing away of their temporary home.

One good thing has been found in the rat. Three years of rat life are equivalent to 75 to 90 years of human life. For this reason he has been used extensively in cancer research, and will continue to be of value in this field.

Hilltop Library Gets 75 New Books

Local book-lovers will be interested to learn that the Hilltop Branch Library has added more than 76 books to its shelves during the month of June.

Included in this group are the following fiction novels: Blood Brother, Elliott Arnold; Banner By the Wayside, Samuel H. Adams; Clever Sister, Margaret Banning; Light Heart, E. T. Beebe; Lady With a Parasol, Elizabeth Corbett; and One Basket, Edna Ferber.

Several of the 15 new non-fiction books include James Cox's Journey Through My Years, Paul Angle's Lincoln Reader, and a new volume entitled Operas and Musical Comedies, compiled by Walker McSpadden.

CHILD INJURED

Jerry Keller, 19 months, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital Sunday night for removal of an oil can spout from his nose, emergency squadmen reported. The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keller, 561 Butler-av, stuck the spout into his nose while playing at his home.

Don Howard Moves Optical Offices

Don Howard, 132 S. Powell-av, optician for years, with offices at 217 E. State-st, has secured a long term lease on the ground floor building at 273 E. State-st. Extensive improvements were made to the new offices.

Dr. Howard has been in the wholesale and retail optical business for more than 20 years.

The building leased is owned by Myron Hull. All parties to the lease were represented by Julius C. Feipel.

HILL TOPICS —By P.W.—

What's In A Name?

Names of business concerns on the Hilltop have always been an interesting item. Many firms adopt the name or names of the owners partly to flatter their own ego and occasionally because of popularity of the name.

Several concerns in recent years have gone to the high-sounding handles in keeping with the "smart" places in large metropolitan centers. Consider such monikers as Biltmore, Esquire, Ritz, Broadway, Rivoli, and last week the new Cotillion.

Some firms have adopted unusual names, or names suggesting the type of business engaged in, as for example Kirk's, Farm Mart, White Chef, Beehive, Hilltopper, Rosebud, Chatterbox and Key's. There are several that tend toward more artistic-sounding handles, such as Sunset, Westmont, Glorinne, and Broadmoor (Dairy and Beauty Salon).

Close to a score of firms have used the name "Hilltop" in connection with the name of the business, others have used the name of the particular section in which they happen to be located.

Kirk's have one of the easiest street addresses to remember, 2345 W. Broad-st. Dr. George Mathews' RA. 1616 and Tanner Figure Control's RA. 8500 are two of the easiest telephone numbers to remember. Several of the older business firms have phone numbers starting with "11." Five-digit numbers are becoming more frequent on the RAndolph exchange.

Carry Your Own Shade

If you're planning a picnic up along the Scioto River on a Sunday or holiday, better take along a beach umbrella or something to provide your own shade just in case you're not lucky enough to find a tree for that purpose. Hardly a bush is without at least one group of picnickers any Sunday p. m.

"Bossy" Did Her Part

This is not a military secret, but "Old Bossy" played an important part in winning the war. Just how important this role proved to be was explained by L. L. Rummell, head of the public relations department, in an address last week before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. In fact, "Old Bossy" literally "gave till it hurts," turning out the biggest volume of milk in her history. This made possible a better fed American Army and more calories for our allies.

The month of June was dedicated to the observance of National Dairy Month. This was done for a two-fold purpose. To emphasize the importance of the dairy industry in the economy of Ohio and the nation and to increase the consumption of dairy products in your daily diet. "The dairy cow is the foster mother of the human race," Groceryman Rummell endearingly said in eulogizing the "cow with the crumpled horn."

What is the concern of members of the dairy industry today? Get more people to eat more dairy products, especially ice cream, Mr. Rummell said. There was a time when the ice cream manufacturers were content to let you lick a cone or sip a soda in a drug store. But not any longer. Ice cream is going into grocery stores where bulk sales are being emphasized. In some self-serve markets the sale of ice cream equals the sales of all other frozen food products put together.

Cheese is being taken out of the meat case and put on display in table-level display cases all wrapped up in pretty cellophane. That will probably seal in all the delicious aroma of the limburger until you get it home to the kitchen. Butter, too, will be more attractively packaged.

Who knows? With all this high pressure sales campaign I may even learn to like cottage cheese.

Smart Pussy

Down at the Wichterman domicile Jimmie and Janice came home with a kitten a few days ago. Not content with a nice bed fixed for it in the garage, the kitten climbed a small tree nearby and spent the night sleeping in an abandoned robin's nest. Could it have known that it was sleeping in a Pussy Willow tree?

Briggsdale and Brown Road

By Mrs. Harry C. Downing

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Anderson, 1045 Harrisburg-pk, returned home last Sunday a week ago, after an eight-day motor trip through several eastern states. They visited Niagara Falls and drove through Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Maryland, and while in Washington, D. C., they visited the Capitol building, the White House and the United States mint. The Andersons drove 1947 miles in all.

Last Thursday evening Rev. and Mrs. Shirer were honor guests at a reception held at the Briggsdale Church. A pot luck dinner was enjoyed by those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Karnes, 1769 Richmond-rd, announce the birth of a daughter, June 25, at White Cross Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenbach, Big Run-rd, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alkire, Harrisburg-pk, accompanied by Pauline Eisenbach of Gould City, Mich., left Wednesday morning on a motor trip. Pauline will return to her home and the Eisenbachs and Alkires will spend about three weeks on a northern trip.

Mrs. Clarence Ely, 1977 Harrisburg-pk, is in California where she attended the Blue Star Mothers' national convention. Her daughter, Mary Ann, spent last week with friends at Buckeye Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. David Crishbaum, 1593 Withers-rd, had as their guests during the past week their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Massie of Tamaqua, Pa.

"Serving the Nation"

"Help Save A Life — —"

Attention is called to the box in the lower right hand corner of Page 1A of today's issue of The Hilltop Record where a weekly summary of traffic deaths in Franklin County is recorded. This service is made possible through cooperation of the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and is supplied by D. K. Finley, manager of the council, and an ardent Hilltopper.

As this is written, the death toll for the county stands at 30 as against 43 deaths for the same period of time in 1946. That represents a decrease in fatal accidents in the county of approximately 30 percent.

Looking at it another way, 13 persons are alive today in Franklin County who might not be living were it not for a little extra caution on the part of some one. The reduction in the traffic accident figures has resulted, we believe, from a county-wide educational program without which the death toll might be even higher than at the same time last year.

Nationally, too, there is considerable emphasis at this time on traffic safety. The national highway safety program was launched officially by President Truman a few days ago and is receiving much publicity via newspapers and radio. Much can be done in this way but basically the result will reflect the degree of interest shown by the walking and motoring public.

This "long week-end" there will be more cars on the streets and highways than usual. There need not be wholesale slaughter of pleasure-bent vacationers but this can easily be the case if caution is not practiced by all. The slogan—"Help save a life. It might be yours." - - - is more than just a catchy phrase.

Let's all continue to help Franklin County and the nation reduce the useless slaughter on the highways and on the streets. Drive and/or walk carefully.

The End Product Of War

As we left Hagenau that bleak January day to return to Epinal, the trucks passed the American military cemetery, a barren Alsatian field where the numerous white crosses marked the resting place of those who died to take that territory.

Fuller

The graves registration men were preparing to close the site and withdraw with the rest. I remembered well the practically empty field I had seen there when we went into Hagenau a mere two weeks before. Now, it was full and crews of prisoners were working rapidly to keep a sufficient number of graves dug to bury the mounting number of bodies that were being hauled into the canvas enclosed field. The screen was there so that passing troops would be spared the pain of seeing the most unpleasant operation the army has to perform.

Passing it, while withdrawing, filled me with a peculiar sort of a dread. Knowing of those fresh graves and the countless more that would be needed made me more aware of the tremendous cost we were paying to win. I wondered then, as thousands, or more probably, millions, of others have wondered, why we have such a beastly thing as war. Why can't we live together in peace? The problem is easily recognized but there seems to be no solution. History has proved that. Since the beginning of time we have had cyclical wars of increasing destruction. Everybody hates them, but we have them.

I thought then, when I passed that cold, windswept field filled with American dead, that it might be a good thing if every person in the world could have a seat in one of the trees nearby which afforded a perfect view of the proceedings. Perched there or at some similar cemetery (there were many of them) they could count each single burial. They could see and feel the waste and they could get into their being, so that they could never forget, the chill and gnawing dread that is so common to every man familiar with this sight. There, they could see the end product. In those cemeteries, in those formless brown mounds of freshly spaded earth, they could total up the score.

We could spare them the hospitals and the wounded. They would be sick at heart and soul.

It would not be humane to show them those who have been permanently marked.

Whether this experience would be unforgettable, I cannot predict. Probably some would forget it in a year or two, but possibly enough of the people of the world would remember clearly the end product, the only possible end product—that which they saw in that grim Alsatian field — and really have a keen desire to end wars.

I have heard many times in the last few months that we must not have another war. "If we do all of mankind will perish." All of mankind takes in everybody. The great majority who ordinarily would never hear a shot fired will be in danger. Therefore, they say, we must not have another war.

I am thinking of that percentage of human beings who suffered and died and are lying in some strange field. Nobody is quite sure why they fought. If they could be polled, they would give different answers. They might tell you they fought for mankind or for a way of life or they might say more truthfully that they don't know why. They fought and would preferably have been somewhere else doing something else and really they weren't mad at anybody. But they died. I knew some of those men. Others knew more. I saw some of them die and saw where they were buried. I am interested to know why they fought. I am in a position to observe the events of the near future and so are some of my buddies. Maybe we will see an era of peace—a world without the threat of war. Maybe men will cease to hate. The boys under those crosses would like to know that. They might like to know that nobody else will have to live in muddy holes, eat cold rations and cringe under artillery fire. They might like to know that no poor devil has to die like they did, cold and alone and scared. I am interested in mankind. But I am more interested in what mankind does to at least justify possibly a little the spending of so many fine lives.

NEWS OF YESTERYEAR— From The Record Files

40 Years Ago

Patrolman Samuel Earnest, 193 S. Warren-av, and his brother, Vance Earnest, 330 S. Hague-av, were injured seriously in an accident at Broad-st and S. Parkav. An automobile driven by W. E. Marsh, 72 Eldon-av, crashed into the Earnest car, turning it over twice and catching Vance Earnest beneath it. Vance suffered a fractured skull, while his brother received broken ribs and lacerations.

John Fippin's automobile was stolen from the garage behind his home, 69 S. Warren-av, but with the aid of the police it was located unharmed between Alum Creek and Gahanna several hours later.

The Hilltop Chautauqua will be held July 15 on the north side of W. Broad-st, one-half square west of Hague-av.

Miss Estella Burnside, 78 S. Richardson-av, and nephew, Master John Churton, Huntington, W. Va., spent the Fourth with relatives in Cleveland.

M. Hachman has opened a tailor shop at 2344 W. Broad-st, advertising a special offer, suits hand-tailored and made in his own shop, at $35.

John Adair, 39 Whitethorne-av, has an animal which is part cat and part rabbit. The creature has long hind legs, the head of a cat, is colored like a rabbit and runs and hops. This bunny-cat is playful and tame, and especially likes kittens.

The Annual Hilltop Picnic will be held Aug. 3. All families are urged to prepare picnic baskets and attend.

Hilltop residents appeared before the meeting of the Columbus Board of Education asking that the board transfer the territory west of N. Hague-av to the Columbus School District. Del Ong and Ezra Hill were spokesmen for those asking the change. The petition was brought before the board last week but was turned down, Ray Hauntz being the only person to vote for it.

For the third time within a few weeks, thieves entered the garage of Mrs. Carl Stinger, 219 S. Warren-av. Eight gallons of gasoline were siphoned from an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Deems and son, Ralph, 62 New-av, will leave this week for a vacation at Minnawanda, Lake Erie.

Otto H. Magly, at his own request, this week resigned from active duty as principal of West High School, a position he has held for the past 29 years.

Enlargement of the Hilltop home of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, 2369 W. Broad-st, will get under way next week. Improvements include a new marble front and enlargement of business quarters to more than double the present floor space.

H. C. Shetrone, director of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Museum, is now in England making studies among old flint knappers preparatory to establishment of the country's first little laboratory at Ohio State.

Miss Gracebelle Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, is touring Europe and England with Jack Hilton's band. Two of Miss Day's special numbers on the tour are her Eleanor Powell act and a Ginger Rogers-Fred Astaire number which she does with one of the members of Hilton's band.

The Hilltop public has responded favorably to the new Wednesday afternoon closing of Hilltop stores.

LITTLE MAN WHAT NEXT?

It's normal for little boys to fight
And to balk at going to bed at night
To leave smudged imprints everywhere,
To abhor clean faces and brushed hair
To be self-centered as a kitten
And to listen with rebellion written
In every line of a twisting torso—
And our boy is normal, only more so!

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Stuck

When 15 or 20 young folks leave for summer camp, the same week, it certainly makes a hole in the atmosphere of Rome. Such was the case last week, when the combined 4-H Clubs spent the week at Camp Ohio. Mrs. Earl Foresman has charge of the Nimble Fingers 4-H and Mrs. Oscar Baker has charge of the Good Little Cooks 4-H. The girls who represented these two clubs at camp were, Patti Cox, Reva Nichols, Clarice Schneiderer, Betty Stormont, Ruth Breckenridge, Doris Brown and Marion Krieger.

The Alton Advancers Four-H Club, under the leadership of Harold Hart, who "trucked" his boys back and forth, report a very happy and profitable week, when it comes to class instruction received from the teachers. The boys who attended this group were Ned Turby, Phillip Wright, Charles Spring, Louis Schneiderer, Bob Stormont, Eddie Detrick, Tim O'Harra, Donald Hackbarth, Richard Fisher and Charles Williams.

In St. James Lutheran Church, on Rome-Hilliards Road, Lois Dewig of Hilliards was married Sunday evening, June 22, to Harold Rausch, Lennox-Av, Rome. It was a candlelight service read by the pastor of the church, Rev. Guegle. Mr. Lester Rausch was best man for his brother and the bride's sister, Mrs. Doris Goldstien, was matron of honor. Robert Geihl and Douglas Neiderlander were ushers. The couple has gone to housekeeping on Belvidere-av. Mr. Rausch is connected with the Cusaihs & Fearn store on the Hilltop.

Mrs. Elton Kaderly and Mrs W. G. Lamb attended the musical arranged by Miss Edith Pedrick, who is Mrs. Lamb's teacher. It was held in the Gallery of Fine Arts.

Mrs. Hayes, of Columbus on her way to Springfield stopped off for a visit with Mrs. T. M. Patterson, Maple-dr. The visit was doubly pleasant for she found that Mrs. Patterson's health had improved to the extent that Mr. Patterson and daughter, Mary, were attending a "potluck dinner" in Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Burns of Pasadena-av, and children, Robert and Carol, with Mrs. Burns sister, Miss Leigh McCloud, spent a very pleasant vacation on a trip in the Smoky Mountains. They came home by the way of the Natural Bridge in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs W. K. Richey of Pasadena-av had as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry Southerland and daughter, Nancy, whose home location is in Missouri. They are now stationed in Tacoma, Wash., where Mr Southerland is with the Medical Corps.

Mrs. Arthur Mossman of Dayton spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Baker. They both attended the wedding of Mrs. Mossman's nephew, James Halv, Lockbourne.

There were six families represented at the Young Married Folks Sunday School class picnic which was held at the Valley Ranch Sunday afternoon. Albert Caris is teacher of the class and he and Mrs. Caris were both present.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Pennel of Maple-dr announce the arrival of a baby daughter.

A goodly number answered present at the Women's Sunday School Class meeting held last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Cox, Norton-rd. After the usual business was disposed of and the "song fest" quieted down, games and delightful refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs Browning of Columbus. The next meeting will be an outdoor affair at the home of Mrs. W. G. Lamb, Buena Vista.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families and close friends. Hostesses were Miss Suzanne Walker, Miss Marjorie Lawless and Jacquelyne Reed.

17th District OES Has Tea Friday As Close of Season

Mrs. Bernice Knight, director of the 17th District OES Choral Club was hostess at a tea in her home at 202 Piedmont-rd Friday afternoon, to the members of the Choral Club, and especially honoring two of these members whose 50th wedding anniversaries fell in the month of June, 1947.

The guests arrived at 2 p. m. and were greeted by the hostess who was lovely in a blue flowered hostess gown. The rooms were tastefully and beautifully decorated with a profusion of garden flowers, and the entire air of the tea was one of pleasure and a feeling of satisfaction of plans well laid and well done. The tea brought to a close for the summer the activities of the Choral Club, socially and fraternally.

The two members who were being honored, Mrs. Gussie Rhodes and Mrs. Myrtle Widner, were given seats of honor together. A short program followed.

Mrs. Phebe Jerman, president of the Choral Club, sang the ever lovely "At Dawning," for Mrs. Gussie Rhodes, and followed this with "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" for Mrs. Myrtle Widner, while the entire chorus sang the second verse of the latter song. Mrs. Jerman then sang "Our Memory Garden" for both members. Mrs. Knight accompanied her at the piano.

Mrs. Bernice Knight then sang "Fifty Years Ago" accompanying herself. She then directed the entire Choral Club in singing a clever parody to a popular song which had been written for the occasion by Mrs. Beatrice Moore, with Mrs. Josephine Nowell, official accompanist, at the piano.

In an informal manner, the two brides of 50 years told a little of their weddings and some of the interesting and entertaining events in connection with them.

At this point, a beautifully wrapped gift was presented to each of the honored members, from the Choral Club, and thanks were given for the gifts which were appropriate to the occasion and appropriate to the ties of fraternalism which exists among the members of the OES.

A committee composed of Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Beatrice Moore and Mrs. Cora DeWolfe announced that tea was ready to be served, and the group then attended the beautifully appointed tea table which was presided over by Mrs. Beatrice Knight.

Invited guests were Past Grand Matron Fairy Gingery, PGM. Bessie Bolte and Mrs. Golda Edmonston.

Mrs. Florence Bratt was honored as a bride of 35 years.

The past season has been a successful one for the 17th District OES Choral Club, and since the installation of the new corps of officers, appearances have been made on the evening of April 7, for Anthens Court No. 8, Order of the Amaranth; a luncheon of the Clintonville Women's Club; the Inspection Day Luncheon of Community Chapter; and on June 3, on Friendship Night at Bexley Chapter, at which time Rickly Chapter was entertained.

At each appearance of the Choral Club, members were graciously greeted, royally entertained and the music was appreciated and roundly applauded.

One of the most outstanding appearances for this season was that at the Ohio Masonic Home on Friday, May 16. The 17th District OES Choral Club will resume practice in September.

St. Paul Only Undefeated 9 In Local Loop

Columbus St. Paul knocked Rome St. Paul out of the undefeated class in the West Lutheran Softball League to remain the only team in the loop with an unblemished record. The game, played Friday night, resulted in an 8 to 6 decision for the Columbus nine.

In other games that evening Hilltop outscored Bethlehem 16 to 9 while Emmanuel was taking a close 7 to 6 decision from Martin Luther. Grove City and St. John did not play.

The standing for the season of all games played is as follows:

	Won	Lost
St. Paul	6	0
Rome	6	1
Emmanuel	5	2
Hilltop	3	4
Bethlehem	2	4
Martin Luther	2	4
Grove City	2	4

Columbus' first postwar tennis champ will be determined during the Independence Day week-end.

Suspended during the war years, the city championship tennis tourney is scheduled for revival at the OSU varsity courts July 4, 5 and 6. All events are under the sponsorship of the Central Ohio Tennis Association. Men's singles, men's doubles and women's singles are included.

Entries from all the neighborhood playgrounds are expected, according to Walter Becker, tournament manager. Entries are limited to residents of Franklin County and registered students of Ohio State and Capital Universities.

All interested players should write or phone Mr. Becker at 2951 Neil-av, phone JE. 14381. Entry fees are men's singles $1.75, women's singles $1.75, men's doubles $2.00 per team.

Duck Stamps On Sale July 1

The 1947 Federal Migratory Waterfowl shooting permits (Duck Stamps) went on sale July 1 at local post offices, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. The stamp is required of all persons over 16 years of age who hunt waterfowl, and this permit does not exempt the hunter from having a state license.

This year's Duck Stamp, which costs $1.00, features two snow geese in flight, designed by artist John K. Murray of Outdoors magazine of Boston.

Glenwood, Westgate Only Undefeated WCL Teams

Glenwood and Westgate remain the only undefeated teams in the West Church League in the second round of play. All games Monday night resulted in rather lopsided scores.

Westgate defeated Burgess 10 to 2; St. Aloysius shut out Hillcrest by a top-heavy 18 to 0 count; West Park downed Hoge 7 to 0; and Glenwood bested Hilltop Church of God 5 to 1 in the closest game of the evening.

Next week will see a couple of double headers on the schedule as four of the teams have games to make up from the first round.

The schedule for Monday is as follows:

Hoge vs. Hilltop C. of G., No. 1
Westgate vs. Glenwood, No. 2.
Burgess vs. Hillcrest, No. 3 (2 games)
West Park vs. St. Aloysius, No. 4 (2 games)

The West Park-St. Aloysius tilt promises to be an important game, since the Methodists are undefeated in the first round and St. Aloysius has lost but a single game while winning four.

The winner of the first round may not be known until July 21 when a full schedule of games will be played. The entire slate was washed out on June 2.

The standings of the teams in the second round of play are as follows:

	W.	L.
Glenwood	2	0
Westgate	2	0
Hillcrest	1	1
West Park	1	1
St. Aloysius	1	1
Hoge	0	2
Hilltop C of G	0	2

Pitching, Hitting Both Good In Amateur Loop

An unusual combination—excellent pitching and long distance hitting—characterized play in the Saturday Amateur Baseball League games last week.

In the hurling department, Dick Braun, of the Indians, fanned 13 batters and Mark Stephens, of Green Cabs, breezed past 11 while Bob Elliot of Upper Arlington didn't permit a hit after the sixth frame. Circuit clouts were credited to Barrett and Yovan of Columbus Indians, Ray Lang of Sheet Metal, Bob Cline of Green Cabs and Al Pinney of Dublin.

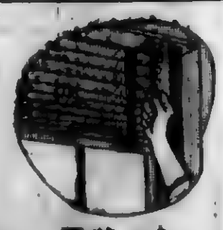
During the Saturday afternoon Green Cabs nosed out Dublin, 5 to 4; Upper Arlington defeated Milo Merchants, 7 to 5 in 13 innings; Sheet Metal No. 98 downed Columbus State School, 9 to 3; Columbus Indians scored a 9 to 3 triumph over Reynoldsburg and St. Charles whitewashed Sarver's, 2 to 0.

Jack Pickens' triple and Stan Deitchle's single in the last of the ninth put the game on ice for Green Cabs at Dublin.

Gardner Tops Bowlers In Lutheran Loop

Don Gardner, with 215 and 560 tallies, carried off individual single and three-game honors in the Monday Night Lutheran Bowling League at the Hilltop Recreation Alleys. He bowls with Hilltop No. 1.

In the Wednesday night loop the high single was Harry Osborn, Jr., rolling with St. Paul's No. 1 with a 195. H. Sunker accumulated 546 pins for the three-game high. He bowls with St. Paul's No. 2.



Jim Matheny, bowling with Bethlehem No. 1, took both honors with 208 and 551 in the Thursday night league.

Bert Truex annexed both the single and three-game individual highs in the Hilltop Summer League with scores of 236 and 600. He bowls with the Truex Bunts.

Bobcat Pins Are Received By Cub Scouts

The regular monthly meeting of Cub Pack 214 of St. Mary Magdalene's Church was held at Westgate Park Wednesday evening, June 25.

This Cub Pack was organized about 60 days ago with a charter membership of 35 boys, made up into five Dens.

Jack Sensenbrenner, a Boy Scouts of America official, gave a very interesting talk on Cubbing and the functions of Cub Packs in general.

Bobcat pins were presented to all Cubs present, after which the Cub Scouts and their parents enjoyed a wiener roast.

His first string at present is made up of Russel Reckling, p; Ronald Eifert, c; Bill Montorey, 1b; Bill Lanze, 2b; Ed King, 3b; Robert Thornton, ss; Jerry Jones, lf; Kenneth Garber, cf; and Dick De Shettler, rf.

Others on the squad include John Bolg, Johnny Schulz, Dan Burner, Carl Cline, John Morrison, Dick Jones, Carl Battinger and Francis Fletcher.

Post 82 Downs Cabs Sunday

Green Cabs lost its first game of the season to Post 82 Sunday in the North-West American Legion loop. The 7 to 5 defeat followed a series of eight consecutive wins.

The defeat broke an 18-game winning streak for Paul Theisen, Cab hurler. He had chalked up 11 wins last season and seven thus far this season before tasting defeat.

Other Legion games Sunday afternoon saw Northway Cabs go on a rampage to defeat Arlington Motors 24 to 0; Franklin outclassed Camp Chase 15 to 5 and Arlington Motors No. 2 team took a 9 to 0 forfeit game from Aquinas.

Tommy Crossley pitched the Green Cab senior knothole entry to an 11-2 victory over St. Charles on Friday. Dick Kirk hit a home run with two on in the first inning.

SUNDAY LESSON

Trusting in God Was Job's Solution To His Suffering

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 6
Scripture: Job 1:1; 27:1-5; 31-19-24

ARE there problems that are "modern" in the sense that men have never encountered them before our time?

Such a thing is neither impossible nor improbable. New occasions and environments must surely bring new problems.

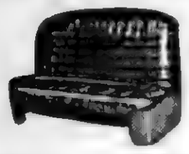
We are all living in a world that has become smaller by reason of new discoveries and means of transportation. But that world has become an immensely enlarged environment by reason of that very fact.

Nevertheless, some problems are as old as man himself, and one thing that is unchanged is the fact that man himself has to be the problem solver. So ancient experience and wisdom may have much to offer.

Deep and unchanged in human life is the problem of suffering and especially the suffering of the apparently morally guiltless.

It is this problem with which the Book of Job deals. The Book has been called "a sublime drama of God's providence and man's suffering." Its central character, Job, a man of apparently blameless life, is stricken with dire calamity in himself, his family, and his affairs.

The situation is made acutely dramatic to bring out the full reality of the problem. Yet it is no more extreme than that which many men and women have experienced today, especially the thousands of innocent people who suffered war's ruthlessness.



Three of Job's friends sought to comfort him with plausible or conventional notions. These notions centered around the idea that suffering is a sure sign of sin and that Job must be guilty of some secret fault.

This easy view Job refuses to accept. His faith is tried, and he is tempted to "curse God and die." But while he finds no solution to the problem of suffering, he finds a solution to his personal problem in the conviction that the Judge of the earth will do right and in the determination to trust Him no matter what may happen.

"Y" BRANCH SUGGESTED FOR HILLTOP

The Spectator
By C.C. Hartley

Hilltop Needs A YMCA

Announcement this week that steps may be taken soon toward the establishment of a Hilltop Branch YMCA should be welcome news to youngsters and mothers and fathers of this community.

For a long time it has been realized that the Hilltop needs a well supervised play and recreation program of this type. Anything less than the kind of a program the Y is capable of providing is not satisfactory.

Certainly with the establishment of a branch Y here it should be possible to get the proper financial support for the erection of a fine community center for the Hilltop, one that will serve the needs of all groups in the community.

Too many times it appears easy enough to raise funds for a project that involves a building but generally the future maintenance and operation of the program is not carefully thought out. Putting the cooperative effort of the entire community behind the Y plan will make all these things possible.

It should be pointed out that the activities and facilities of the branch Y organization are open to both boys and girls and men and women alike.

Members of the committee investigating this need of the Hilltop ask for your comment and advice. Why not take time now to write these men a note or give them a phone call expressing your opinions on the matter.

The growth of the Hilltop requires the vision of men and women who will make plans today for the realization of those things the community will need tomorrow.

Talk Ourselves Right Into It

One of our customers sends us the following, which illustrates only too well how easily some people are talked into a depression.

Once upon a time there was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had some trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. This little man sold very good hot dogs. He was a firm believer in advertising so he put up signs along the highway advertising the merits of his hot dogs, and he stood by the side of the road and cried, "Buya hot dog, Mister!" People bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. Finally, when business was very good, he brought his son from the city to help him.

Then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the papers? There is a big depression on. Everything is going to pot." The little man listened to this bit of wisdom from his son and thought, "My son has been to college. He has lived in the city with the big business men. He reads the papers and listens to the radio. He should know." So—the little man cut down on his meat and bun orders, CURTAILED HIS ADVERTISING, and watched his sales fall off almost overnight.

He said to his boy, "You are right, son, we certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Well??—

Local Woman Was Queen

A Hilltopper was chosen queen of the VFW encampment held in Columbus last week.

Mrs. Lee is an active member of the Westway Post Auxiliary to the VFW Post 3441.

"Calliope Of West" Is New Feature In Occident Yearbook For 1947

Calliope has come to West!

Calliope, of cowboy garb, complete with crystal ball, took over West High students this week, and amused them for many an hour.

Calliope, for those who haven't seen the '47 Occident, is the clothed-in-chaps gal representing the "muse of poetry" who rambles through the pages of the latest West High School yearbook.

And what a yearbook! Any attempt on the part of a Record writer to review it would only prove futile, it's sure. Most of its 136 pages are packed with pictures, factual information and clever rhymes about the goings-on of West students during the past school year.

Under the capable editorship of Jo Fondaw, staff members "strutted their stuff" in putting out this latest masterpiece of literature. Annabelle Crawford came forth with her usual refreshing pieces of poetry, one especially amusing, entitled "Ghost Guess-Work," containing many names of this year's graduates.

The annual was a fond farewell to those many seniors who have distinguished themselves in the halls of their Alma Mater, Kitty Cline, Bradley Richardson, Elizabeth Barfield, Jan Baker, Don Borror, Bob Glasgow, Judy Jones, Ken Dickerson, Jr., Bob Kimes, George Lohr, Margery Mitchell, and many others who have given generously of their time and efforts to West High School.

Many Snapshots

Snapshots of drum majorettes, football players and cheering basketball fans will no doubt bring forth the same guffaws 20 years from now as modern lads and lassies get when looking through an Occident of several decades back.

"Shots" of Joy Bliss and Phil Smith checking attendance in study hall, Albert Argenbright "banging" away in typing class and Beverly Thurell in the homecoming procession will bring back fond memories many years from now.

Copies of this latest West High School yearbook are still available at the school office daily from 9 to 3:30.

Mrs. Lee Honored At Encampment

Veterans of Foreign Wars held their 27th annual encampment this year in Columbus. One of the highlights was the choosing of a king and queen from the various districts. Martha Lee of Westway Auxiliary 3441, who lives at 259 Columbian-av, was chosen for District 11. In the final drawing she was chosen queen of the encampment. Along with the honor went a beautiful gold watch engraved "1947 Encampment Queen." Her auxiliary presented her with a corsage of red roses, and she received many more gifts. She is a past department officer as well as past county council president and past auxiliary president.

Other Westway auxiliary members who helped make the encampment a success included color registration, president of Westway auxiliary, Madge Z. Weimer, 442 S. Powell-av, assisted by Emma Russell, 57 Sylvan-av; distinguished guest, Margaret Phelps, 86 S. Harris-av, assisted by Rose Thompson, 68 S. Harris-av; junior hostess, Martha Lee, 259 Columbian-av; greeting bearer, Bertha Kachley, 604 Salisbury-rd, and page, Vergie Ballanger, 431 Norwich-av.

Voters to Pass On 40-Hour Week For City Firemen

Columbus voters will have an opportunity to pass judgment on a 40-hour week for its firemen at the Nov. 4 election.

Decision to refer the matter to the voters was reached by Columbus City Council Monday night. The proposal would give firemen an eight-hour day such as that of the policemen and other city workers. Under the present law firemen are required to work 144 hours every 15 days.

The Franklin County Board of Elections will be asked to prepare a special ballot for the proposal.

City council also voted to authorize the advertising of bids for standard street name signs for erection throughout the city. The signs are to be a metal base, having a white background with black letters baked into a porcelain type finish, in conformance with a standard set by the highway department.

Approximately 4000 intersections in the city are to be marked and the cost is expected to be near $100,000. Gasoline tax funds will be used for the purchase of the street markers.

Hoge Memorial To Demobilize Service Flags

The demobilization of the two service flags will take place at Hoge Memorial Church, 29 S. Eureka-av, July 13, at 10:30 a. m. An appropriate service is being planned to recognize all who served their country.

There is a total of 155 service stars on the flags, three of which are gold stars.

A special invitation is extended by the church to the men represented by the flags, their families, wives, or sweethearts, to be present at the service. Plans are being made to preserve the service flags and the honor roll, which will be given some place of honor in the new church building.

Jimmy Hughes emerged the winner of the checker tournament held last week at the West Broad Street School playground.

Boat Races Queen Will Be Selected

Nominations for the honor of serving as queen of the National Outboard Races are being received at The Hilltop Record preparatory to an election starting July 31. Nominations will be accepted through Friday, July 18.

Any girl 16 years of age or over, living west of the Scioto River in Franklin County, is eligible for nomination. Each girl wishing to compete for this honor should submit her name, address, age, telephone number and a recent photograph if possible. Address all nominations to The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

From this group of nominees, a queen and four members of her court will be selected by popular ballot. The ballot will be published in the July 31 issue of the Record.

A suitable capital prize for the queen and members of her court will be awarded by Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, and the Record. This prize list will be announced later.

The boat races are to be held at Griggs Dam on Aug. 17. They are being put on this year by Camp Chase Post.

Cook Is Chairman

Chairman of the committee in charge of the races is Sgt. Robert Cooke of the Columbus Police Department. Other members are Vernon Fiscus, post commander; William Bright, chaplain; Larry Scales, Edgar Planck, George Ward, Sr., Bob Jones, Horace Swain and Dewey Stout.

Proceeds from the races will be added to a fund already started by the post for the construction of a Veterans' Memorial Building on the Hilltop.

War Declared On Local Rats

Modern Pied Pipers will start to work Monday to rid the Hilltop of its rat menace.

But instead of haunting melodies played by the legendary Pied Piper of Hamlin the local rat vigilantes will use an approved rat poison, said to be just as effective. Boys and girls can have a part in the first Hilltop Rat Derby too.

A last-minute meeting of the committee working on the project for the Hilltop Business Association has been called for The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W Broad-st, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Every person who has noted the work of rats in his neighborhood is invited to report to the Record by calling RA. 1125. Several volunteer workers are needed to help the committee distribute the "ANTU" rat poison to be used.

The HBA is providing the poison free of charge to be placed where rats are known to inhabit. It will be placed only by responsible persons selected by the committee for various sections of the Hilltop.

"ANTU" is approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for use in food processing plants. It is a selective poison for use in eradicating the Norwegian rat, the most common in this section. It is very bitter tasting to humans and animals other than rats and will not harm pets or humans unless taken in extreme dosage.

Health authorities advise against handling the dead rodents without using gloves since the rats are notorious germ carriers.

How The Hilltop Voted!

Voters of the Hilltop voted overwhelmingly in support of a pay raise for public school teachers, results of the special two-mill school levy election reveal.

In the Tenth and Eleventh wards and two voting precincts in Franklin Township the vote was: 3305 for the levy and 750 against. This showed better than an 81 percent approval of those casting their votes on July 1.

The Village of Valleyview and Precinct F in Franklin Township cast the strongest majority of votes in favor of the levy that made possible pay increases of $500 per year for teachers and other school employees. Both of these voting areas are a part of the Columbus school district although they are outside of the city itself.

Valleyview voted 57 to 2 in favor of the levy while Precinct F cast 17 votes in favor without a single dissenting vote.

Majorities as high as 13 to 1 favored the levy in some precincts in the Tenth and Eleventh wards. In the Tenth Ward a total of 1388 votes were cast with 1105 favoring passage of the special levy. In the Eleventh Ward 2612 voters cast their ballots with 2126 voting to increase teachers' pay.

Parade To Open Sesquicentennial Celebration Here On Aug. 22-23

A colorful pioneer parade in W. Broad-st will be the first feature of the two day celebration of the sesquicentennial of the founding of Franklinton on Aug. 22 and 23, according to the tentative schedule of events as disclosed Monday by Mayor James Rhodes' special committee planning for the affair.

The committee, which met in the mayor's office at City Hall, voted to concentrate the activities of the celebration to the two days rather than extend them throughout a week as previously considered.

Following the parade a formal program will be held marking the sites of original buildings as well as permanently marking buildings of the old village still standing.

A historical banquet will be the main event during the evening of the first day.

A pioneer picnic will be held, probably in Sunshine Park, during the afternoon of the second day (Saturday, Aug. 23).

A street dance and large fireworks display will end the festivities that night.

Specially honored during the two-day affair will be Miss Madge Sullivant, great-granddaughter of Lucas Sullivant, founder of Franklinton, and the only Sullivant descendant bearing the name. Miss Sullivant was named honorary chairman of the committee at the meeting.

Hilltoppers present at the Monday meeting were, C. Carlton Hartley, George W. Matson, Clyde D. Moore, and Myron T. Seifert.

Mr. Seifert will edit the special Franklinton supplement which will be published by the Hilltop Record.

Recreation Committee Favors Branch YMCA For Community

The Hilltop needs a YMCA.

This is the recommendation of the Hilltop Community Recreation Center Committee following a meeting Monday evening.

The committee made up of Dr. C. O. Cramer, chairman, H. G. Deems, Rev. A. J. Wold, Jerry Spears and C. C. Hartley, has spent considerable time during the past three months gathering data and information on similar recreation centers throughout the country and concluded that the best possible service can be rendered to the Hilltop and West Side with the establishment of a branch Hilltop YMCA.

While it had previously been determined that there was need of some such project here and that the cost of a building to house such a program would be in excess of $200,000, the committee did not feel that any such fund raising campaign should be undertaken until definite plans for the future operation and maintenance of the project had been determined.

Placing the project in the hands of the YMCA would solve the problem of future maintenance and would provide an excellent recreation program for both young and old alike, the committee determined.

Impressed By "Y" Work

The committee was very favorably impressed with the fine work done over many years by the South Side Branch of the "Y" and believes the establishment of a Hilltop "Y" would be one of the finest contributions made to the welfare of the community in many years.

Present plans call for another meeting of the committee to be held about July 23. In the meantime residents of the Hilltop are urged to contact members of the committee and express their interest in the matter.

Soon after July 23 another meeting will be called, at which time representatives of the various civic and recreation groups of the Hilltop will be invited to hear a report and proposal of the committee.

If the necessary enthusiasm is expressed by the public the committee will petition the YMCA for the establishment of a Hilltop Branch "Y."

Should the Metropolitan YMCA board look with favor on the establishment of a branch here some type of "Y" activities would be started soon after the organization of a Hilltop Y Board.

It is believed the "Y" organization will be interested in such a proposal and that it may be the beginning of a city-wide expension of the "Y" services.

Livestock Center Will Open Here

A livestock concentration yard is being completed on Fisher-rd at the New York Central Railroad tracks, just west of McKinley-av.

When completed it will be used as a daily market center for livestock handled by the Teegarden Stockyards Co., with offices at 669 W. Broad-st. It will not be an auction market.

More than 10,000 square feet of space is being provided in three principal buildings of 40 by 100, 65 by 70 and 26 by 48-foot dimension. The buildings are estimated to cost approximately $20,000.

While an exact date for completion of the work is not known at this time, it is expected to be in operation by mid-August. The operating firm is made up of Frank B. Teegarden of Ashville, Ohio, and Dwight Teegarden, 2382 Club-rd. The men have been connected with the livestock business since 1930.

Work Started On Lights For Magly Field

The first definite signs of lights for Magly Field appeared this week as workmen started digging holes to set the poles.

Rolla Haines, of the Haines Electric Engineering Co., Grove City, said the holes would be dug and footers poured this week but that little more would be done for several days. The arrival of three steel poles that will support lighting fixtures 100 feet above the ground on the east side of the playing field is expected the first week in August and work will probably be resumed about the middle of the month. Wooden poles for the west side of the field are already on the grounds and ready to be set.

Workmen arrived Tuesday and set the poles for the new electric scoreboard being purchased by the West High Boosters Club. Another crew of men is to erect the board and it is expected to be completed by Friday of this week.

The board is electrically operated and will give such information as the score, quarter, time and yards to go for first down. It will be controlled from a press box up on the concrete stadium that will be built by the Boosters next year.

Failure of three of the wooden poles to meet specifications made it necessary to change to steel supports on the east side. The West High School lighting system is expected to be one of the finest in the state when it is completed.

Mr. Haines has just completed installing lighting systems at North and Linden McKinley High Schools.

The Mogly Field lights will make possible night football, track and other outdoor events. Temporary seats are to be installed, making possible the seating of approximately 5000 persons.

Saturday, June 7, was the date of the marriage of Miss Anna Gene Case and Mr. Frederick Donald Schaaf, which took place at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 7:30 in the evening, with Rev. Elmer Klamfoth officiating before an altar decorated with ferns, palms and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason C. Case, 181 N. Harris-av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Sarah Schaaf, 1050 Oak-st.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer marquisette over heavy satin fashioned with a heart-shaped neckline, long sleeves pointing over the hands, and an unusual medieval "puffed" detail at the shoulders, the bustle backed skirt terminated into a wide cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil, which fell from a pearl tiara, and carried a white prayer book topped with white shattered carnations and centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace given her by the bride-groom.

Mrs. Richard Garling, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Case and Mrs. Jason Case, Jr., while little Jane Elizabeth Case was flower girl.

The attendants were gowned alike in taffeta with tight bodices, high round necklines and cap sleeves. The matron of honor wore yellow, while the bridesmaids wore mint green, with the flower girl in peach. They all wore hats to match their gowns and pearl bracelets and earrings, given them by the bride. The matron of honor and bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets while the flower girl carried a basket of daisies.

Mr. Carl Grossman was best man, while the ushers were Mr. Robert Case and Mr. Gean Schaaf. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride. Hostesses at the reception included Miss Julia Cahill, Miss Anita Zimmer, Mrs. Richard West and Mrs. Eugene Reed.

Mrs. Case greeted her guests in an aqua crepe dress with black accessories. Mrs. Schaaf chose a light blue dress with white accessories, and both wore pink shattered carnations.

A half-hour of music, with Miss Ila Moore as vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Thelma Warehime at the organ, preceded the ceremony.

The couple will reside at 181 N. Harris-av. Mr. Schaaf is associated with the Ohio Farm Bureau as building manager and assistant agent.

The boy had gone to the pit to swim against the orders of his parents as he and his five brothers and sisters were on a Fourth of July picnic

Frank Wilkins, 23, of 156 S. Hague-av, a state highway employee, had to have his right leg amputated just above the ankle following an accident in Route 25 near Dayton on Thursday.

According to information here, Wilkins had been picking up highway flares and markers when a vehicle which police said was driven by John L. Creishop of Dayton crashed into the rear of the truck. Wilkins suffered compound fractures of both legs near the thighs. The right foot was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary.

Creishop was charged with drunken driving.

George Hilyard, 19, of 98 N. Central-av, a sailor home on leave, suffered a bruised right leg when the motorcycle he was riding turned over in Groveport-pk Sunday. He was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Plans Completed For Club Picnic

Enthusiasm is running high and many Hilltop families are planning to attend the first annual family picnic of the Hilltop Conservation Club on July 13. Activities are scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p. m. at the grounds at Valley Ranch, located on Big Darby Creek, just north of Broad-st.

Every member of the family will be included in the full afternoon's program planned. A bean jar guessing contest will start things off, to be followed by a fly and bait casting exhibition to be given by Zach Wilson and Myrle Crooke of the Columbus Casting Club. Then in rapid succession will follow a treasure hunt for the kiddies, a bait casting tournament for both men and women, a crow calling demonstration, an archery exhibition by Tom Lewis, and several other events. Many attractive and useful prizes will be awarded.

Following a basket supper with the club furnishing the coffee, the drawing for the grand prizes of a 3½ h.p. Scott-Atwater outboard motor, five-man rubber boat, and the winner's choice of a South Bend fly rod or a True Temper bait casting rod will be held. These prizes are now on display in the window of the Hilltop Sporting Goods Store, 2461 W. Broad-st.

Rats Destroy Half Billion In Property Every Year

The common house rat is America's $500,000,000 menace.

From 1776, when this pesky rodent migrated to this continent from Europe, he has multiplied steadily in number. The amount of damage left in his wake has multiplied accordingly, until now the figure for an average year is the above appalling sum.

That figure is approximately $4 per rat per year. Mr. Rodent and his friends do this amount of damage by chewing insulation off wires (cause of many fires), destroying tons of foodstuffs or rendering them unusable after nibbling on them, killing poultry, stealing eggs and occasionally biting humans.

The dollars and cents for damage done was much lower in 1940. High pressure methods of rat control had been enforced nationally and the rat was pretty well under the thumb of humanity. With the war, however, lack of materials, time and persons to work on such a program, gave him an opportunity to have his way once more and by 1946, he had risen in population to the rate of one rat for every human.

Rat extermination has likewise gone statistical. In a recent mop-up campaign against rats in Baltimore, Md., it was estimated after counting dead rat brothers, that in 89 city blocks, an average of 77 brown rats ran rampant in each and every block.

Fortunately, the rat cannot climb extensively, accounting for his usual presence in basements. He does have a tendency to migrate rapidly, however, from building to building, from farm to farm, in droves or singly.

It has been estimated that many larger cities could easily maintain a municipal university on what rats devour, spoil and set fire to in a year.

Locally, a well-known grocer says that rats damage from $10 to $50 per week in merchandise.

One popular idea has been disproved on extermination of rats. Cats are of little real value in disposing of rodents. Dog terriers will do a more efficient job.

Art Gallery Has Full Program

A pleasing variety of July programs has been scheduled by the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts for the Thursday evening "open houses." Two concerts of recordings by the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra will be presented July 10 and 24 by Robert Buchsbaum, sound engineer with studios at 683 E. Broad-st. Mr. Buchsbaum, who is also first oboist with the orchestra, recorded all subscription and "pops" concerts by the Philharmonic last season. For the July 10 program he has selected some of the finest performances, including the Gershwin Piano Concerto as played by Byron Janis, the ever-popular "Nutcracker Suite" of Tchaikovsky, and works by K. P. E. Bach and William Walton. The program for July 24 will be announced later.

On alternate Thursdays the gallery will present art lectures. Paul Bogatay, noted ceramist and faculty member at OSU, will speak July 17 on the general subject of ceramics. His talk will be in conjunction with an exhibition of ceramic work by local artists, which opened last week at the gallery for an indefinite period of time.

On July 31 Miss Caroline Bradley, who recently returned from a year in Chile as a visiting professor, will tell some of her experiences while in that South American country. She will also discuss some of the water color paintings in the gallery's permanent collection. Miss Bradley is an associate professor in fine arts at Ohio State University.

All the above-mentioned programs are scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in the open-air patio at the art gallery and are free to the public. The gallery is always open through the dinner hour on Thursdays, and until 9:30 p. m.

Hymn Sing Will Be Held At OSU

The campus and the Columbus community have been invited to a picturesque twilight hymn sing at Ohio State University at 8 p. m. Sunday, July 13, in Mirror Lake Hollow. The musical event is open to the public without admission and there will be no offerings taken.

The hymn sing, which will be directed by Leroy Evert Wright, pastor of the First Congregational Church at Aurora, Ill., will be one of the highlights of the 10-day institute on church music and worship, which opened at Ohio State University July 8 and continues through July 17 under the auspices of the school of music.

The public is also invited to attend two other events. A twilight concert by the University Summer Band is scheduled in the Hollow on Wednesday, July 16. In addition, Professor Wilbur Held, nationally known concert artist and now a faculty member at OSU, will give a concert recital Monday, July 14, at 8:30 p. m., at the Columbus First Congregational Church.

Former Policeman Buried Yesterday

Funeral services were conducted in the Spears Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon for Carl A. Denner, retired city patrolman who died in the Dayton Veterans Hospital Monday. The former policeman retired from the force in 1938. He was 61 years of age.

He served with the Police Department from 1924 and had formerly been employed as an interior decorator. He recently had worked some as a house painter and died as a result of injuries suffered two weeks ago when he fell while painting a house on Eldon-av.

Mr. Denner was a veteran of service with the Thirty-seventh (Buckeye) Division in World War I. He was a member of the St. John Lutheran Church, Zanesville, and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Julia Denner; a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Durban, at home; a son, Carl F. Denner, 421 S. Eureka-av; a brother, Frederick Denner, and three sisters, Mrs. Elmer McKenney, Mrs. R. J. Rowett and Mrs. Edith Stephenson, all of Zanesville.

Services Are Held For Mother Of Mr. Craft

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Roma A. Craft, mother of O. H. Craft, 2661 W. Broad-st, local real estate man.

Mrs. Craft died last Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sabrey Clark, of Porter, Ohio. She was 86 years of age. Death resulted from pneumonia.

In addition to the son and daughter, she is survived by eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Her husband, the late William S. Craft, died six years ago.

She was a member of the French City Chapter, Daughters of America, and the Grace Methodist Church at Gallipolis. Burial was in Mound Hill Cemetery at Gallipolis.

Hungry Bunny Need Not Be Exterminated

Hungry bunnies need not be exterminated to prevent damage to garden flowers and vegetables, so says the Wildlife Management Institute. Numerous distasteful repellents can be used to discourage rabbits from eating tender plants and chewing young orchard stock, and they are not expensive. A number of the cheap commercial spraying mixtures and dusting powders will keep cottontails from nibbling on plantings, or any of the following "home remedies" will prove most effective with repeated applications: dust plants liberally with dusting sulphur, or with powdered lime when plantings are damp; sprinkle plants with red or cayenne pepper; or spray plants with a solution of any of these mixtures, three ounces of epsom salts in a gallon of water, one teaspoonful of lysol to a gallon of water, two teaspoonsful of Black Leaf Forty to one gallon of soapy water.

You can best solve your rabbit problem by erecting a two foot chicken wire fence around the garden or orchard, but the bottom should be staked to the ground.

The Ohio Division of Conservation live-trapping program, expected to get under way next January, will to a great extent eliminate rabbit damage to city gardens and orchards, when youth organizations aiding Division field men, will transfer several thousand rabbits from urban and suburban areas to rural sectors. Construction of the 6000 live-trap-carriers to be used in the project is expected to begin next month.

Tarbutton Voices Traffic Needs

Democratic city office candidates opened their campaign with a rally held at the Southern Hotel last night with Herbert Dailey, candidate for mayor, sounding the keynote of the campaign.

George Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, a candidate for city council, was one of the speakers who followed Mr. Dailey. Elaborating on the problem of traffic congestion, Tarbutton made the following statement:

"The studies performed by the Traffic Commission should be implemented by the employment of a qualified traffic engineer who, with the cooperation of City Council, would provide an immediate solution to some of the more urgent traffic problems of the City of Columbus. The traffic engineer should work in close cooperation with the City Planning Commission. Together these officials will be able to eliminate traffic problems and prevent new ones from being created.

"If elected, I pledge my earnest support to the City Planning Commission and as a city councilman will bend all my efforts toward the development of the projects recommended by the City Planning Commission."

Hilltopper Is Booked Locally

Joe Lusk

Joe Lusk, who claims the Hilltop as his home (when he is in town), is currently playing an engagement at the Gloria this week and next. A comedian and xylophone artist, he is billed as "Joe Blow" in the local engagement.

During the winter months he worked with Olsen and Johnson in "Sons of Fun" in the New York Winter Garden and later on a road tour. During the summer season he plays night clubs and summer resort engagements.

Joe started on the stage at the age of 15. He has lived on the Hilltop 27 years. His mother, Mrs. Lloyd Rader, lives at 49 S. Terrace-av.

Smiles

You can't cheat, baking doughnuts. The larger you make the hole, the more dough it takes to go around it.

Two old coon hunters were swapping tall stories about their dogs. "Why," said one of them, "I had a yaller hound oncet and every time just before I went hunting I'd whittle out a board in the shape of a coon hide stretcher, just to show him the size of the one I wanted, then I'd set it outside where he could see it. Well, sir, would you believe it, one day my wife set the ironin' board outside and that critter ain't come back yet!"

And there was the little moron who sprayed his clock with D. D. T. to kill all the ticks.

Contracts Filed For Gas Service In Rea-Bow Area

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association filed contracts with the Gas Company Thursday. The engineers of the Gas Company are checking the footage, to see whether a sufficient number of contracts have been filed to warrant the company laying gas mains in the Rea and Rainbow Additions.

George Wolfe, the chairman of the association, says the association is still getting contracts signed up, and is confident that an ample number of contracts will be obtained. It is hoped that the community will have this much needed improvement before fall.

County commissioners viewed the Rainbow Addition last Wednesday for the proposed storm sewer improvement. The first hearing on this much needed improvement will be held at the court house, before the commissioners, Friday at 10 a. m. More than 50 per cent of the people who live in the affected area have signed petitions requesting this improvement. This is the second time the community has asked for drainage. The first time, Judge Gessaman ruled out the petition, but the association has corrected the petitions to conform with the law.

West Broad Is City's Most Dangerous Street

Watch your step on West Broad Street.

That might be the watchword of every motorist and pedestrian who has occasion to traverse that busy thoroughfare for it has established a reputation for having more traffic deaths per mile than any other street in the city.

A recent survey reviewing the history of traffic fatalities over a 10-year period reveals that nine and three-fifths persons have been killed for each of its five miles of length during that time, a total of 48 persons.

This far outstrips any other street in the city for persons killed per mile. Closest rivals would be South High Street with six and one third persons and Cleveland Avenue with six and two fifths fatalities per mile.

By way of contrast, East Broad Street, four miles in length, had only eight deaths or an average of one and one half persons per mile.

Thirty-six, or 75 percent of the 48 deaths on the local thoroughfare were pedestrians to tie for third place in that category.

Sullivant Avenue ranked highest in the percentage of pedestrian fatalities of the total number killed in traffic. During the 10-year period 16 more persons were killed on the four mile of pavement and 15 of them were pedestrians.

12 Dangerous Streets

The report shows that 53 percent of the traffic deaths in Columbus during this 10-year period took place on 12 of the city's streets.

City officials have long recognized the seriousness of the West Broad Street area. Several reasons have been advanced in explanation of the high traffic toll.

Inadequate lighting, the prevalence of irregular street intersections and heavy flow of traffic all contribute their share of accidents. However, an analysis of the accidents would perhaps show that carelessness on the part of motorists and pedestrians alike is responsible for the biggest share.

Steps have been taken by enforcement and safety officials to try to reduce this trend. Extra police officers have been assigned to the street during the busier portions of the day in an effort to better control the conduct of motorists. A few months ago a large caution sign was erected on the under-pass of the Pennsylvania Railroad at the western city limit in an effort to slow down incoming traffic.

Additional traffic control signals have been installed in several strategic locations to slow down the traffic flow and provide safe crossing for pedestrians. Recently the city completed repainting safety zones and center lines to show clearly the lanes of traffic. As soon as available, permanent colored paving markers will be installed at many crossings to afford year-round cross-walk protection.

Little will be done on the street lighting problem until the municipal light plant is able to furnish additional electrical energy. In the meantime it's still good advice to: "Watch your step on West Broad Street."

Funerals Were Expensive Back In Colonial Times

Elaborate funeral ceremonies with gifts for the "guests," that often gobbled up most of the deceased's estate, were the custom in early New England, according to old diaries and accounts of the time.

Yellowed and year-stained books, many of them valuable first editions, in the library of the National Foundation of Funeral Service in Chicago, recount the gift-giving custom. The accounts bring into sharp focus the fact that modern funerals are much more simple and dignified than those of 200 years ago.

The presentation of solid gold "mourning rings" to relatives and friends of the deceased was a social "must" in the 1600's and again for a short time in the early 1800's, the library books reveal. The custom apparently lost favor during much of the 1700's.

The "mourning rings" cost about one pound each, which was considerable money in those days. They were ornamented with either black or white enamel, or both, on their outer surfaces. Frequently they were "tastefully" decorated with such designs as a skull and cross bones, or an open old-time hexagonal coffin containing a skeleton.

Other fancy designs required strands of the deceased's hair to be worked into them. Some were inscribed, in enamel and extremely small letters, with rhymes lauding the deceased. The name of the deceased was invariably engraved on the inner surface of the ring, together with the date of death and, sometimes, also his birth date.

That the social custom was an expensive burden upon the surviving relatives is indicated in a bill for a funeral in Boston in 1783. It included 200 "mourning rings" at one pound each, which amounted to one-third of the total funeral cost of 600 pounds.

This figure, when compared with today's pound or dollar, is many times the cost of today's average funeral, according to figures computed by morticians' organizations. It equalled one-third of the deceased's estate.

Old diaries reveal that people of those days boasted of "making" rings at funerals they attended. A "mourning ring" was worn until another was acquired and then was placed with one's collections. They were handed down from generation to generation, frequently as a valuable part of the family estate.

Ministers apparently were collectors of the rings. Dr. Samuel Buxton, a minister of Salem, Mass., left "a quart tankard of mourning rings" to his heirs. They were acquired at funerals where he officiated, or which he attended as a guest. Many ministers augmented their meager incomes, according to the accounts, by selling the lugubrious but valuable mementoes. The estate of a minister named Sewell, first name and home town not noted, included 57 "mourning rings" he had acquired at funerals where he had officiated from 1687 to 1725.

Apparently the giving of "mourning rings" resulted in a "keeping up with the Joneses" competition between mourners. This, plus the shortage of ready cash just before and after the Revolutionary War, probably was responsible for the decline and eventual disappearance of the senseless and expensive custom during the 19th Century.

It is reported that a young man from the hinterlands, called before a draft board, was being questioned after the medicos had pronounced him hard as a rock, sound as a dollar, and fit for service.

"Can you write?" queried the chairman.

"Nope."

"Can you read?"

"Wa-al, yes and no. I kin read figgers purty well, but I don't go so good with words."

"How's that?" asked the chairman.

"Wa-al, take these here signs along the road. When I want to go somewhar, I kin read how far, but not whurto!"

"But, my Dear," bleated the poor little henpecked husband, "what have I done now? You've been talking for half an hour, and I haven't said a word."

"No," snapped his wife, "you haven't said anything, but you've been listening in a most aggravating manner, and I'm not going to stand for it."

First Cowboy Coach Recalls Early Days In West Athletics

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of stories dealing with West High School's early athletic teams.

"I never had to teach my boys to fight."

That's the way C. L. Leahy, first athletic coach at West High School, sums up his experience in coaching some of the school's football "greats." Leahy coached football and basketball from the time the first teams were organized until he gave up coaching in 1920. The first football team played for West in 1914. The following year West won the city championship.

Mr. Leahy is now secretary of Office Training School, 48 E. Gay-st, a position he has held since he quit teaching in the public schools in 1939. He taught 30 years in the public schools of Columbus—all except one of them at West High School. He coached dramatics all except one year of that 20 years on the Hilltop.

"No coach ever had finer material to work with," he is convinced. "Any coach in the city would agree with that."

Boys Were Tough

"My boys were big and they were tough. They gave everything they had."

Reflecting back on his coaching experiences of another day Mr. Leahy recalls that he had six of the outstanding quarterbacks ever developed in Columbus schools. Dick Cott and Glen (Gigs) Gray were two of the best of the lot. Gray died a few years after graduating from West.

The former coach played quarterback for Denison University during his college days and gave special emphasis to that position in his coaching. He never sent substitutes on the field without their being requested by his quarterback or captain.

Included in that list of quarterbacks were Emmet Metzger, now a linotype operator for the Columbus Citizen; George Millay; Dick Cott, later a commander in the navy; Vaughn Haines, who drowned while saving the lives of two girls at Ohio State University; Elsworth Charles, owner of a horse-breeding farm in Kentucky; and Gray.

Leahy looks upon Glen (Yip) Owens as one of the best all-round football players he ever coached. He recalls one kick on the old Ohio Field with the ball going over the goal posts, the cinder tracks and even clearing the scoreboard. Sports writers credited the ball with traveling 85 yards in the air.

Good For 70 Yards

"Yip" was consistently good for 70 yards on a punt. He played on Denison University's eleven three years and gained national recognition as a football star.

Among his other outstanding mid stars at West, Leahy places "Battering" Bill Garrett, who later played football with Bo McMillan; Ernest Purdum, now a successful road engineer living at Plum Woods, near West Jefferson; Dr. Lowell (Tiny) Rohr, a prominent West Side physician; and Ab (Dutchy) Swain.

Four out of seven of his basketball teams won city championships and his grid teams took city honors in 1915, 1917 and 1920. His football team earned the reputation of the "traveling team," playing such out-of-town opponents as Van Wert, Toledo, Huntington, W. Va., etc.

The former coach recalls vividly the East-West game in which Allan Miller was fatally injured. Realizing that Miller had been ill, he asked him to remain on the bench that day. But because his aunt was in the bleachers to see him play for the first time, Allan asked that he be permitted to start the game and stay in for a few plays. Young Miller received a crushed vertebra as a result of a "perfect" flying tackle made on an East player.

"The East boys were certainly fine about it," he recalls. Members of the East squad took turn about with West boys sitting at the bedside of young Miller in the hospital during the 10 days that he lived.

Austin Magly, son of former West principal, Otto H. Magly, was one of the finest basketball players ever coached by Leahy. Magly went to Annapolis and made an outstanding name for himself during World War II. A captain in the navy, he won citations for himself and all his men in the battle of Iwo Jima, when his planes made more than 1000 landings.

While on board a "flat top" in the south Pacific, Capt. Magly organized a couple of basketball teams. Despite his forty some years, he played on one of the teams, making 22 baskets and completely outplaying most of the younger men.

Leahy was born and reared in Flemingsburg, Ky. Coming to Columbus he played football at East High School in '98 and '99. His first teaching assignment was at Plain City, where he organized the first football team, much to the horror of the predominantly Amish residents. After two years there he went to Blanchester, Ohio, where he had championship basketball teams each year. There was no football team at that school. Then followed his 30 years in the Columbus school system.

In 1939 he quit public school teaching teaching to devote full time to Office Training School. He had been financially interested in the school for several years. At the head of this concern are R. E. Hoffhines, president, and Col. W. L. Ohmert, vice-president. Both are former public school teachers. Robert E. Hoffhines will join the firm soon in the capacity of assistant secretary.

Mr. Leahy makes his home at 1577 Richmond-av. He has a son, Thomas L. Leahy, now controller of the Columbus Dental Manufacturing Co., and a daughter, Mrs. Margery Leahy Blanton, who lives at 4648 Eastway-dr.

Large Crowd Enjoys Saturday Nite Social

A capacity crowd attended the Saturday night social. Oman Irvin was the M. C., assisted by Woodrow Irvin. One of the features of these Saturday night socials in the children's square dancing. Special sets are held for children, with the rule that if they can walk they can dance.

Music is by the Gallagher Brothers and Mr. Jenkins. The callers are George Wolfe, Norman Brokamp, Pearl Dixon and Oman Irvin. Songs and other entertainment are mixed with the dancing to make them a social. The association sponsors these socials in Rea-Bow Hall, to raise funds to carry on the work of the association, such as playground equipment, etc. Plans are being made to take the children of this area on trips of interest.

The board of trustees at its last regular meeting voted the following honorary members: The Phillip McDonald Lumber Co., Stephens Flowers, and Mrs. Nellie Portis of Hollister, Calif. These firms have given donations to the association and Mrs. Porter sends fancy work for the Saturday night raffle.

Hilltoppers Are Friendly

I have often been impressed with the friendly and helpful attitude of most Hilltoppers. In this crazy business of trying to keep up with what goes on in the community from week to week we frequently have to call total strangers and sometimes ask for information not familiar to the person questioned. With few exceptions our queries are met with wholehearted cooperation and a willingness to help.

In fact many is the time that I have called some total stranger and after only a few comments had been exchanged we were both calling each other by our first names as though we were life-long friends. I deal with dozens of persons that way whom I would not know if I met them on the street.

It is that helpful attitude that makes this job a lot of fun. You can't help but like people like that.

About Picture Frames

Visiting my old home in Monroe County a few days ago I was impressed with the artistic design of the old picture frames that display some of the family ancestors.

Obviously the cost of the frames must have been as much or more than the value of the photograph itself in many instances. Beautifully stained, nicely carved frames in varying sizes were things of beauty in themselves. Gold paint helped to set off the white enameled frames by way of sharp contrast with the dark stained ones.

An uncle of mine has 12 or 15 such pictures hung on the walls of a long hallway. Some of the pictures pre-date the Civil War. I never grow tired of studying these pictures and their ornate frames.

Lightning Bugs

This part of the country offers one of the most colorful sights to be seen anywhere as soon as darkness begins to settle in the early evening. Thousands upon thousands of lightning bugs rise up from the earth to put on one of the most beautiful spectacles I've ever seen. If you haven't been out to see this nightly display you are missing one of the beauties of nature.

Mrs. Ed. Schambs, who came over from her native Scotland not so many months ago, could hardly believe what she saw the first night the bugs put in their appearance.

Aside from being a thing of beauty this time of year, the lightning bug is still one of science's greatest mysteries. Continued study of this small creature still leaves scientists mystified as to how it turns its light on and off. Thus far no one has ever found the switch.

Flying Saucers

Yes, the Hilltop has seen flying saucers too.

Charley Carper reports seeing four of the disc-shaped objects flying in formation over the Hilltop on Monday afternoon. Mrs. George Taylor, 5172 S. Parsons-av, reports she saw one of the "flying saucers" as she was driving along Route 40 near the new Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant Saturday night.

Carper places the time he saw the "saucers" at about the same time four Ohio State University students report having seen three of the strange objects.

Where there's smoking, there's fire—IF people are careless. And Ohio State Safety Council figures show that careless smoking and careless use of matches cause about one-sixth of all fires in the United States. Putting out fires is a hard job, costly in money and lives. Preventing fires caused by careless smoking and careless use of matches is easy. What a difference a little caring makes!

Green Cabs In Playoffs Here Sunday At 2:30

Green Cabs, who have won the championship in the North-West American Legion League, will play at Westgate Park at 2:30 Sunday. They will meet the winner of a game between Westerville, winner of the county league, and Watson Fords, winner of the South-East League.

The three teams are meeting in a round-robin tournament to decide the Franklin County champion, who will go on to district and state playoffs.

Paul Theisen, winner of 10 Legion games in two seasons, will be on the mound for Green Cabs, made up of Hilltop and West High boys. The roster of Green Cabs team is as follows:

Burgess Wins From Hilltonia

Burgess Avenue took a close 6 to 5 decision from Hilltonia Tuesday night in the Evangelical United Brethren Softball League. Como Avenue continues to lead the league with four wins and no defeats although that team is one game behind most of the others in the number of games played.

Burgess and Eighth Avenue are in a two-way tie for second place. In other games played during the past week, Hilltonia downed Miller Avenue in what sounds like a football score—27 to 13—and Eighth Avenue defeated Avondale 13 to 5.

Friday night Avondale will meet North Linden on Franklin No. 2 and Como will meet Eighth Avenue on Tuttle No. 1. Next Tuesday evening Hilltonia will meet South High on Westgate No. 1 while Burgess tangles with Como on Westgate No. 2.

The standings of the league are as follows to date:

	W.	L.
Como	4	0
Burgess	3	1
Eighth Avenue	4	1
North Linden	3	1
Hilltonia	4	2
South High	1	4
Avondale	1	4
Miller	0	5

Girl Scouts Day Camp Opens Here

The six-day period of day camp for Hilltop Girl Scouts and their friends began yesterday at their Clime Farm site, located on Demorest-rd.

This is the camp of the Boy Scouts of Troop 64 of St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church. For the past three years this group has turned its camp over to the girls for this period of outdoor living. The lodge becomes the craft house for the girls, this year to be under the direction of Mrs. Charles Andes, 2929 Fremont-av, program chairman of the Far West District of Girl Scouts.

Arts and craft suggestions include finger painting, blue prints splatter painting, leather craft, belts, weaving, clay modeling and metal craft for the older girls.

Nature study, hikes, folk dancing, singing and out-door cooking are also a part of each day's program.

Miss Davidson of the Humane Society will be on hand July 10, 11 and 14 to tell the girls about the care and training of their pets.

The most important and the busiest person on the site the first day is the camp nurse, Mrs. H. B. Athey, 361 S. Terrace-av, as she checks each of the campers. This is the second year for Mrs. Athey as camp nurse.

Mrs. Albert Weber, 679 S. Burgess-av, who was camp nurse in 1945 is assisting with the first day check-up.

After the physical check-up, the girls go to their unit homes, a shaded spot they have decided upon after looking over the site and start their out-door living.

They are told where and how to build a fireplace by their leaders and begin at once to clear the space and to place stones around what will be the fire bed. Others are digging a drain by the water pail where the girls wash their hands. This is lined with small stones. Sticks are placed in a circle in the ground and small twigs are woven in and out to make a wastebasket for the paper towels. A table is made by lashing two long branches from tree to tree and then they lash uniform branches across. A rod on which their clothing is hung and coat hangers are made by lashing together different sticks. Lunches are tied to a small tree to keep them off the ground and out of reach of hungry ants.

With the house in order the girls settle down to discuss kapers and who will be responsible for each one. Wood gathering, fire building, cooking, the bringing of water and milk from the tent and cleaning of the home are some of the kapers to be performed. They plan a program for the flag raising or the closing circle which is the beginning and the end of a day at camp.

Each unit is made up of girls of the same age and they build their out-door home to the best of their ability and experience.

Many and varied homes are to be found on both sides of the little brook that winds its way through the camp site.

Noon-time finds many units busy with out-door cooking such as one pot meal, tin can, or the old favorite stick cookery.

This year the day camp committee with the aid of outside financial help was able to enlarge the program and to assure the 150 campers a safer and happier day camp experience.

This committee with leaders troop committee members and mothers make up the staff under the direction of Miss Anna McCrohan, day camp director for Columbus and Franklin County Girl Scouts.

An invitation is extended to all interested persons to visit the and 3:30 from July 9th through camp at any time between 9:30 15.

Mrs. Aubrey Geary, Americanism chairman of the auxiliary, gave a history of the flag preceding the presentation. Russel Friend, Jr., received the flag for the troop.

The following members of the Navy and Marine group then spoke: Violet Rieck, president; Etta Jester, junior past president; Gayle Struble, past president; Marie Perone, Mildred Dill, Bea Shepard and Dorothea Back; also Kathleen Lortz from Franklin Unit No. 1.

Vote Of Confidence

The taxpayers of the Columbus school district did much to restore confidence in the minds of several hundred public school teachers when they approved the two-mill school tax levy last week. The four-to-one majority by which the issue was approved was significant and is an indication of the interest the parents of the city have in the welfare of their children.

There was a morale issue involved in the special school levy that was becoming more and more difficult for teachers to cope with. The low wage scale under which they worked had lowered the respect of pupil for his teacher in some instances. It involved more than a mere economic problem—serious as that was in itself.

One teacher related his experience with a particular Hilltop student last year. "Why should I take orders from you when I can go out (without a college education) and make as much or more money than you are being paid?" Those were not necessarily the words used but it illustrates the thinking of that pupil.

The teacher could not expect to command the respect of high school students who knew that their starting salary was $1425 per year.

Now that situation has been at least partially corrected although the new wage schedule is still not up to that paid by industry generally. Certainly it should offer added incentive for high school and college students to again look toward teaching as a profession that offers a reasonable reward for the necessary preparation.

Certainly the teachers of the city are to be commended for their patience during months of rising living costs with very little financial relief in sight. We believe the voters appreciated their attitude of keeping the pay issue on a high level without resorting to "strike" tactics as was the case in some cities.

We know several of the teachers in local schools personally. Some of them were definitely hard hit by the low salary level and only their love for the profession and the service they were able to render kept them on the job. Several of them would have been forced to leave teaching this summer had the pay raises not been made available by the two-mill levy.

The voters of the Hilltop and the city at large now have a right to expect (and we believe they will get) good teaching in their schools. The more than 80 percent majority by which the school levy passed was more than a vote to increase pay levels. It was a vote of confidence for the work of a conscientious group of teachers.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I desire to announce that I intend to continue my campaign to win the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Franklin County, subject to the primaries in 1948, notwithstanding the selection of a "pro tem" sheriff of the county by the county commissioners, since their selection is merely the choice of three persons and the political "bosses."

The people of Franklin County are conscious of the need for a thorough housecleaning and can and will select a sheriff of their own choosing.

I have lived on the Hilltop for the past 12 years, and am familiar with law enforcement problems.

I wish to point out that there is a definite need for a new county jail and county penal farm to carry on rehabilitation work among offenders, particularly first offenders. The present jail is antiquated, a definite fire-trap and a disgrace to criminal justice. The people of Franklin County should be ashamed that they confine human beings in a building of such disgraceful conditions. It might be compared to some of the German concentration camps insofar as conditions are concerned. You might agree by making an inspection.

Sincerely yours,
E. Reiss

Editor, Hilltop Record:
As we end our activities for the year, the time comes to express our appreciation to those who helped us so much during the past year with the Community Junior Theater program.

Every effort which you so generously made to promote the program through your paper added so much to strengthen and increase its scope.

And, personally, it was a pleasure for me to work with you. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Huber Heads Garden Project

L. W. Huber, 1770 Stelzer-rd, principal of Starling Junior High School, is director of the summer school garden project that this year has 4,000 youngsters enrolled.

Interest in gardening has increased each year since it was started during the war as a means of supplementing the regular supply of fresh vegetables. Some of the gardens are in the back yards and some on vacant lots. They are inspected by advisers who helped the children plan their gardens during the school term.

Do not think that nothing is happening because you do not see yourself grow or hear the whirr of the machinery. All great things grow noiselessly.

Back To The Company

The last leg of the trip back to Epinal took us through the tiny hamlets of the Vosges. It was well past midnight. A light snow was falling and the new thin line of tire tracks that stretched behind told us that no other vehicle had traveled that road in the last several hours.

Fuller

Cold and tired, we could hardly wait until we arrived at the company area. The city was silent. The fresh snow lay undisturbed on the streets and rooftops. Here and there a flicker of light blinked from an unblacked out window. This was a welcome sign, indeed, for it signified that the people no longer feared the threat of German planes. A popeyed guard welcomed us to the area. He had been told that we had become prisoners of war or worse in Hagenau. Seeing us and the equipment which they were sure had been abandoned, the company officers hailed us as some kind of heroes.

We were given the next day off and awarded a double ration of PX supplies. For days afterward, we related the happenings in Hagenau to groups of soldiers who were interested in knowing what took place after the hurried evacuation.

We changed sectors and never had a chance to visit the hotly contested Alsatian city again. Many months afterward I talked to the colonel who was responsible for getting us out. He said that the building in which we stayed had been hit and leveled by artillery but he didn't know when that happened. The city was a front line town for many weeks after we left. The hit could have been by our artillery as well as German.

Near Colmar

Epinal was quiet. Relatively few vehicles traveled the snow covered highways. The front was far away. The nearest activity was in the Colmar district where the French, with the support of some American units, were attempting to reduce the pocket to which the Germans were clinging stubbornly in lower Alsace. The pocket had to be eliminated before any major offensive could be launched. We came in contact again with the veteran American Third Division, which had been near us many times in Italy and France. It was operating in the Colmar district and was largely instrumental in eventually reducing the pocket. Some of the Third Division men, and troops from units attached to the French, came to the outfit often. From them we received a good picture of what was happening in lower Alsace.

Front Shifts

The great German offensive in Alsace was launched in late January. The blow fell on veteran American divisions which were securely dug in north of Saverne.

In bitter zero weather, the American boys broke the back of the German drive and crushed forever German ability to take the offensive on that part of the front.

Then the shifting of the front began. This was to get into position to cross the Rhine and move into Germany.

The Colmar Pocket was reduced. American and French forces held a large part of the west bank of the river below Strasbourg.

Our outfit moved to Luneville in an entirely new section of the Seventh Army line. The line was then anchored by Hagenau and moved diagonally northwest to the edge of the Saar basin, where it joined the Third Army. Great activity marked all sectors.

A new and tremendous allied offensive was in the making. This we all knew was the blow intended to crush enemy resistance and end the war. The last big barrier was the Rhine.

SON DAVID

My favored son sauntering down the street
Gravely tosses his special stone up in the air,
While neighbors' children hide behind the shrubs
To mute the sad concern embodied in their stare.

The sling my son conceals behind his bed
Benumbs my waking thought and terrifies night's dream;
What once was big Goliath's bulk outstretched
Is now potentially the Universal Scheme.

Westgate Evangelical Takes Lead In West Church League

Westgate Evangelical UB took over undisputed first place in the second round of the West Church League at Westgate Park Monday night by virtue of a one-run victory over Glenwood Methodist. In a hard-fought game the Evangelicals shut out the Methodists 1 to 0.

Westgate now leads the second round of play with three victories against no defeats and still stands in a good position to figure in the first round title, having five wins against a single defeat.

West Park Methodist took the long end of 16 to 8 count from St. Aloysius Monday night to keep the West Park nine in the running in the second round of play. Hoge Memorial broke into the win column by handing Hilltop Church of God a 14 to 1 lacing.

Burgess Wins Two

Burgess Avenue Evangelical UB took both ends of a double header from Hillcrest Baptist. Burgess won the first game 16 to 9 and then proceeded to shut out the Baptists by a 10 to 0 score in the nightcap. The second contest was a postponed game from the first round.

Next week the bookings are set up as follows:

Burgess vs. Glenwood No. 1
West Park vs. Hilltop C of G, No. 2

Hoge vs. St. Aloysius, No. 3
Westgate vs. Hillcrest, No. 4

One full set of games remains to be played on the first round. That will come as the nightcap portion of double-headers scheduled for July 21. Another game between West Park and St. Aloysius is yet to be played before the first round champion can be determined. At present West Park is undefeated in the first round, having a record of five wins against no defeats. Westgate has five and one, St. Aloysius, four and one, with Glenwood close behind with four and two.

Arlington, St. Charles Head Saturday Loops

Leadership in the two sections of the Saturday Afternoon Amateur Baseball League was in the hands of St. Charles and Upper Arlington, respectively, following Saturday's games.

St. Charles downed the Columbus Indians 15 to 4 while Upper Arlington was scoring an 8 to 2 victory over Dublin.

Other games saw Reynoldsburg soundly trounce Columbus State School 22 to 5; Milo Merchants edged Worthington, 6 to 5; and Sarver Reo ran up a 17 to 2 score on Sheet Metal No. 98.

Lutheran Bowlers Busy Last Week

Members of the mixed Lutheran Bowling Leagues continued to have fun at the Hilltop Recreation alleys last week despite the fact that scores may not run as high as the regular bowling enthusiasts of the winter season.

In the Monday night League Doris Davis of St. John No. 3 turned in high single game of 201, Fred Barthlemus, Jr., Emmanuel No. 1, had a 510 for three-game high.

On Wednesday night Max Evans' 202 was good for high single. He bowls with St. Paul No. 1. Harold Sunker, St. Paul No. 2, had high three-game with 530.

The Thursday nighters fared better with B. Cash of Bethehem No. 5 high with a 214, while Bob Shoemaker, St. Mathews No. 2, toppled 614 pins for the high three-game.

George Phillips, bowling with Andrews Pros, took high single-game honors with a 207 in the Tuesday Hilltop loop. Ed Harold, True-x-Buns, had high three-game with 573.

Patience is not passive; on the contrary it is active; it is concentrated strength.

Purple Cross Puts Up Church Billboards

A Purple Cross billboard urging everyone to "Go To Church" was recently erected on the 3C Highway just north of the Briggsdale Methodist Church. Several of these boards with the identifying purple cross have been put up in Columbus and in its outlying districts.

The Purple Cross is independent of any religious organization, church or company. Its initial purpose is to benefit the church. Anyone wishing to become a member of The Purple Cross or desiring further information is asked to write The Purple Cross, Box 832, Columbus 4, Ohio.

For All Faiths—

Just as all men are brothers in His eyes, all religious faiths can benefit from our funeral service true to the tradition of each . . . part of our complete funeral service.

SUNDAY LESSON

The Book of Job Has Real Message For Modern Age

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 13
Scripture: Genesis 1; Job 38-41; Matthew 6:25-30

IN reading the Book of Job it is important to remember that it is an ancient drama in which various characters are speaking and note in each instance just who the speaker is. Otherwise we may find ourselves taking as "the word of God" statements of Eliphaz, Bildad, or Zophar, all three of whom are specifically represented by God, later in the Book, as not having spoken the "thing that is right" (Job 42:7).

The late Professor Moulton in his "Modern Readers' Bible" sought to guard such misinterpretations of Biblical truth by presenting and arranging the Scriptures in their proper literary form. This is particularly helpful in portions of the Bible like the Book of Job.

The message of the Book is that, in spite of all the doubts, difficulties, and problems, the dramatic portions have presented with all the realism with which they have confronted succeeding generations in their quest of God, and in their questionings concerning His providence.

The Hebrew poets and prophets were realists in facing all the facts. They saw the dark and terrible aspects of some things in the world and in human experience.

But they laid hold of the great, positive, incontrovertible facts of a world that could not be, or be upheld, without a Creator and Ruler. They found evidences of law and order and goodness.

They asserted, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge."

So, here in the Book of Job, as elsewhere, they asserted the fact of God in His world. "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof—the world and they that dwell therein." It was the fool, they said, who had declared in his heart that there was no God. And their wisdom was justified. For without faith, and without God what is there for man?

To thine own self be true. And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou can'st not then be false to any man.

—Shakespeare.

Do You Have Customers?

The following article from "Credit World" was written by Paul T. Babson and is in the nature of a refresher.

What Is a Customer? A customer is the most important person ever in this office—in person or by mail.

"A customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.

"A customer is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him—he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

"A customer is not an outsider to our business—he is part of it.

"A customer is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like your own, and with biases and prejudices.

"A customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever won an agrument with a customer.

"A customer is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves."

Express Plan Being Studied For Broad-st.

Express trolley coach service for W. Broad-st is being discussed by officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., operators of the city's principal transportation system.

Morgan L. Evans, vice-president of the company, said last week that his firm is studying the problem of passing trolley coaches destined for outlying points around local coaches. A tentative plan now under study calls for the installation of extra overhead trolley wires in the center of W. Broad-st from Washington-blvd to Central-av. The same sort of plan is being considered for N. High-st.

Coaches from the Hilltop during the morning rush hours would operate on a local basis until they reached Central-av. They would then switch over to the center trolley line and move as fast as traffic permits without stopping until they reach Washington-blvd.

In the evening, express coaches would operate west, using the same set of trolley lines, discharging passengers only from Central-av west. Local coaches would carry West Side passengers.

It is understood that the electric company is seeking a turnaround in the vicinity of Central-av to implement the plan. The express service plan will not be put into effect until some time after the change-over to trolley coaches in High-st, now scheduled for completion about Sept. 14.

YMCA Offers Full Program of Community Activities In South Columbus Branch Work

By Paul Wichterman

What could a Hilltop branch of the YMCA offer the community?

That's naturally the first question interested persons will be asking. Last week the Hilltop Community Recreation Center Committee, after several weeks of study, suggested that a branch YMCA would render the best possible service to the Hilltop and West Side.

In an effort to discover just what such an organization could do in a community I spent an afternoon with Miles V. (Cap) Hoover, a West Side resident all his life, member of the Columbus School Board, and director of the Boys' Club [redacted] since it was established in 1921.

"Cap" has done an unusual job on the South Side and has evolved what has come to be considered a model for this type of community service. In fact his program has been copied by various social agencies far and wide. Needless to say a new branch at the start could not be expected to include all of the activity his setup now covers but it does offer a pattern for similar work in any community.

Lest the girls and ladies feel that they would be left out of a community YMCA work, let it be said that contrary to the sound of the name, the program includes almost as many activities for the fair sex as for the boys and men.

3 Full-time Workers

The South Side Branch as it is now set-up employes the services of three full-time professionally-trained persons headed up by Mr. Hoover. In addition to this skeleton staff the part time services of many other persons are required either on a paid or volunteer basis at various times of the year.

The program touches all phases of family and community life on the South Side and has even spread out into three townships bordering Columbus on the south. It is tied in with the churches, the schools, the city recreation department, numerous business and civic groups, children, youth and adult groups, and it even works in cooperation with industrial firms.

The most outstanding feature of the program to me was the cooperation that has been worked out with various groups and agencies and the extent to which available recreational facilities in the community are being used. As Mr. Hoover pointed out, this cooperation was not in all cases volunteered and several years were required to get some of the phases of the program in operation.

The physical facilities operated directly by the Y are not in themselves pretentious. They consist of rented quarters in an old residence at 864 S. Third-st; the Community Center in a very old building owned by an industrial firm at 2098 Parsons-av, and the South Side Y Park recently established on Big Walnut Creek at Rohr-rd.

The S. Third-st location houses the headquarters for the Y. It is here that the programs are formulated for much of the community. It provides a meeting place for committees, moving pictures of an educational nature for children and adults, a room where choral, instrumental or dramatic groups can rehearse and a general clearing house for the entire program.

Community Center

The Community Center is used by Negroes of the community. In addition to the building, it offers a play center with swings, slides,

Accident Victim Dies Here Monday

Clyde M. Miller, 43, of Route 1, Galloway, died Monday evening in Mt. Carmel Hospital of burns and injuries suffered in an auto-truck accident one mile east of West Jefferson on June 1.

Miller, accompanied by his son, was driving a truck on Route 40, when it collided with an auto driven by Carl W. McQuirt, 1221 Cleveland-av. The truck overturned and burst into flames, pinning Miller and the son, Robert Clyde Miller, beneath the wreckage.

The boy died before he could be removed. Miller was pulled clear by an unidentified truck driver.

The wife and mother, Mrs. Elnora Miller, was also riding in the truck but suffered only minor injuries.

Surviving Miller, besides his wife, are two brothers, Jesse and Hubert; and a sister, Mrs. Helen Hamilt. Services will be held at 2 p. m. today (Thursday). Interment will be at Sunset Cemetery.

$60 Wrist Watch Is First Prize For Local Queen

Come on, girls. Get in the contest.

A $60 wristwatch will be the grand prize for the girls selected queen of National Boat Races to be held at Griggs Dam Aug. 17. The races are sponsored by the Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion. Proceeds will be used to help build up the Veterans' Memorial Building fund.

The queen and four members of her court, to be determined by a ballot, will reign over the outstanding water sports event. The contest to select the queen is being conducted by The Hilltop Record and Camp Chase Post.

In order to allow more girls to submit their names in nomination for this honor the deadline has been extended one week. Nominations will be accepted through Friday, July 25. The public will vote on the names submitted in nomination by means of a special ballot to appear in the issue of Aug. 7.

Any girl 16 years of age or over, living west of the Scioto River in Franklin County, is eligible for nomination. Each girl wishing to compete for this honor should submit her name, address, age, telephone number and recent photograph if possible. Address all nominations to The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Suitable prizes will also be awarded to the four runners-up who will serve as a court of honor to the queen the afternoon of the races.

Service Dept. To Be Expanded At West Side Motors

A new addition to the service and parts department of the West Side Motors, 1350 W. Broad-st, is being constructed on Broad-st adjoining the sales display room.

Edgar Planck said this week that it would be approximately 90 days before the new addition would be ready for use. It will add 3000 square feet of additional space to the service department.

The firm handles Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge trucks, in addition to offering a complete service for all makes of cars.

Kiwanians To Be Entertained

Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and their wives will be entertained at the C. Carlton Hartley residence, 1370 Wilson-rd, tonight when Charlie Kent and Franklin Sparks play host to the group.

The party is being given in appreciation for the volunteer assistance given the two men when it became necessary to move the Sparks-Kent Market to its present location at 2976 W. Broad-st a few months ago.

Local Kiwanians are looking forward to the big second anniversary party to be held at the Fort Hayes Hotel on the evening of July 24. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Fay Le Meadows, Dayton minister and radio personality. Wives of members will attend the party.

Tickets for the dinner are being sold by Charles Reicheldarfer, John Apel, William Ewald and Russel Henry. Reservations may be made by calling Mr. Apel at RA. 4005.

Dr. Newburger New Director Of Juvenile Research Bureau

The executive director's chair at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, is occupied by a newcomer these days. Dr. M. Newburger, newly-appointed director of the bureau.

A dapper, personable gentleman, Dr. Newburger smokes cigars, and likes nothing better than square dancing and "bait" fishing.

Like many others, members of the Newburger family are victims of the housing shortage. The doctor is living at the bureau week-days and in Bowling Green with his wife, Mona, son and daughter, week-ends.

Dr. Newburger's experience leading up to his most recent employment as executive psychologist of the bureau is varied. Born in Cincinnati, he attended the university in that city where he earned his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees in psychology.

Strangely enough, he was employed as a psychologist at Hillcrest and Glenview Schools in Cincinnati when Dr. C. Calhoun, now director of these institutions, came from Columbus and in behalf of Judge Rose, employed him to come to this city as court psychologist for the Bureau of Domestic Relations. Dr. Calhoon was at that time holding the position which Dr. Newburger now has.

Newburger came to Columbus in 1940 just after the new detention home was opened where he served in the capacity of court psychologist until 1942. He then became head psychologist at one of the Juvenile Bureau's three branches at Bowling Green College. From this position he was appointed his present directorship.

As executive at the bureau,

Dr. Newburger

Dr. Newburger supervises the activities of all bureau employees, including 12 psychologists, two psychiatrists, a physician, dentist, six teachers, three social workers, several research workers, and a number of attendants such as clerks, maintenance men and cooks. He is assisted by Mrs. Persis Simmons, chief psychologist.

The bureau is unique in that there is nothing like it in any other state. Dr. Calhoon, predecessor to Newburger, was outstanding in the field of juvenile research, and Newburger's aims are to improve as well as maintain the present high standards of research in which Calhoon was a pioneer.

Spare moments, he hopes to find a home for his family.

Free Tickets To Westmont Given

What could be finer than to be able to relax in the cool comfort of the Westmont Theatre some evening while you see a good show . . . and especially if it doesn't cost you a cent?

At least 10 Hilltoppers who read the Record will have that opportunity starting this week.

Yes sir, starting today the names of 10 Hilltoppers are listed in the Want Ad columns of The Hilltop Record. These people will get a free pass to a show at the Westmont just by calling at the Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, and properly identifying themselves. It won't cost a cent.

Each week 10 more persons will be listed. Why not start looking for these lucky people right now? Of course if you see the name of a friend you will no doubt give him or her a call right away to see that the person gets the free ticket.

Incidentally, you'll find every week's Record Want Ad section filled to the brim with items and services that will prove of value. Take time to read them carefully!

Playgrounds Have Good Attendance

Hilltop and West Side park and playground supervisors report good attendance in the local play areas despite the recent rainy weather which deters many of the regular customers at the playgrounds. The parks will close Sept. 1. School playgrounds will be closed Aug. 15.

At Westgate Park where Mack Pemberton is the supervisor, a different contest for the children is held each week. Dick Slager supervises the Junior Knothole baseball team. Mrs. Edwards teaches sewing classes in the afternoons. Each day there are badminton and tennis games. Boys outnumber the girls, two to one, at Westgate. In the mornings, when a large number of small children are present, there is story telling.

Miss Rush Is Supervisor

Miss Rush is the supervisor of Glenwood Park. Recently dances for teen-agers have been started. The park has a juke box but hopes to make arrangements with a band to provide the music. Each day there are group games, story telling and craft work. The older boys have organized a baseball team but are not able to play at their home park due to the poor condition of the diamond. New Electric Scoreboard Is Installed At Magly Field

Spectators at the West High School home football games this fall should be the best informed of any scholastic grid audience in central Ohio.

The reason—the new electric scoreboard was installed on Magly Field last week. It's an exact duplicate of the one installed in Yankee Stadium where the pros play their games.

Built of 12-gauge steel, the board is 18 feet long, 12 feet high with an eight-foot clock face. It is nine feet from the ground to the bottom of the board. The numerals are two feet high. The new board stands immediately in front and will replace the old wooden, manually-operated score board on the north end of the field.

The board is being purchased by the West High Boosters' Club and will cost approximately $1300 completely installed and ready to operate. Money was raised from the sale of waste paper collected by the Boosters with the cooperation of students of West High School.

Holes have been dug and footers poured for the six 100-foot poles that will support lights for the playing field. However, work of installing the system will not be resumed until about the middle of August. The complete lighting system will make possible night football at West High School for the first time.

Five Units

Manufactured and installed by the Naden and Son Electric Scoreboard Co., of Webster City, Iowa, the new scoreboard can be operated either from a press box or from down at the edge of the playing field. The five electrically operated units mounted in the board will show the home score, visitors' score, the down, quarter and yards to go for first down. The units are removable and will be mounted on the board only during the playing season.

The installing crew arrived last Tuesday and had the board completely installed by Saturday. They had 10 other boards which they were hauling on two trailers, for installation in other Ohio and Pennsylvania cities. Boards were installed at Troy and Piqua before the crew came to Columbus. Others will be put [redacted] clothe, Athens, Canton, Elyria and Napoleon, Ohio. The firm will make 60 football scoreboard installations this summer.

Two Operators

Two men are required to operate the controls. One man serves as official timekeeper, operating the clock, posting the score and indicating the quarter of play. The other operator keeps track of the down and yards to go. He can follow the play from the sidelines or both men can work from a press box if desired.

The operator of the down and yards to go control box can flash the yardage or loss on each running play before the players have untangled on the field. Thus at a glance any spectator knows the exact playing time remaining, the score and the yards to go for first down almost before the play has ended.

The Boosters' Club already has plans drawn for the erection of a press box, possibly next year. It was originally planned that the scoreboard would be operated from this box mounted on the top of the concrete stadium.

Occidents Still Available At West

The Occident, West High School year book, is still available at the senior high office today and tomorrow, school officials pointed out. Many of the books are yet unclaimed and it is the wish of Harry L. Zulauf, school business manager, to have all of them distributed before school starts in the fall.

Mrs. Perry, the office secretary, will be at the principal's office each Friday from 2 to 3 p. m. to issue the annuals. Books may be had at $1.75 each.

Rat Derby Is Started Here This Week

Members of the Hilltop Rat Derby committee are awaiting reports on the first casualties of the drive and it is hoped that by next week at this time several hundred of the varmints will be listed among the deceased.

Anyone interested in having their rats destroyed may have the services of this drive by calling RA. 1125.

Numerous volunteer workers have been properly instructed in the campaign and are at present awaiting results of their efforts. A select committee of Boy Scouts has been advised of the location of the various feeding stations and will make regular inspections to clean up the dead rats and dispose of them.

With the Hilltop's first Rat Derby in full sway, local residents are again reminded that to pick up one of the dead "critters" with bare hands is a nice step toward disease and illness.

Entangled in Mr. Rat's coarse, brown hair are fleas, thousands of unseen germs, and filth. It stands to reason that during his travels from one garbage pail to the next, hither and yon through alleys and garages, he doesn't stop to scrub with an effective disinfecting soap. The rodent isn't even concerned with a daily shower.

Polio, one of the dread infections still a mystery to medical men, may be some day treated through continued research with the rat, in which the polio virus has been found.

History books relate the dreaded bubonic plague which swept Europe, killing thousands. The plague, which involves the inflammatory swelling of several lymphatic glands, is now known to be carried by rats. Should the rats in this country get out of control, the bubonic plague could rage through the states as it did many years ago in Europe. This would indeed be disastrous.

Many West Side business firms are located in the area that comprised the original Village of Franklinton.

Moler is a member of the city-wide committee appointed by Mayor James A. Rhodes to plan the celebration.

Teen Club Plans Sunday Paper Drives

Heading the committee in charge of the paper drive are Dick Palmer, Jimmie Hill, Janie Prior and "Lucky" Luckshaw.

Dog Warns Of Danger When Flood Puts Out Heater

Louis Klass, owner of the Hilltop Jewelry Store, and his family had a narrow escape from what might easily have been an asphyxiation case early Tuesday morning.

Heavy downpours of rain during the night caused the basement of the residence to flood at 1016 Madison-av. The water extinguished the flame under a hot water heater. The water pouring into the basement caused Queenie, a dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Ben J. Handler, who occupy the first floor of the building, to set up a continual yipping.

The dog's actions caused Mrs. Handler to investigate. Since Mr. Handler was not at home at the time, she called Mr. Klass, who shut off the gas to the heater.

Married In Church Ceremony

Mrs. James Byron Recob

The Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Betty Jane Knight to Mr. James Byron Recob on June 12 at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. C. F. Lutz before an altar banked with white gladioli and greenery. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Simms of 538 Helen-st, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Recob, 295 Nashoba-av.

The bride was attired in an ivory satin gown, accented by a scalloped neckline with scallops at the waist and hip line. The gown terminated into a long cathedral train. The long sleeves came to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion, also carrying out the scalloped motif, was held in place by a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis encircled with sheer lace, and pinned to the bouquet was a traditional Lambda Tau Theta pin. She was assisted down the candlelit aisle by her uncle, Mr. Albert Monett.

Miss Margaret Atkinson assisted the bride as maid of honor. Her gown was of deep pink taffeta and net. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and aqua carnations, with a matching halo for her hair. She wore matching pink lace mitts.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Battrell and Miss Betty Jean Eldredge, wore aqua taffeta and net. Their gowns duplicated the style of the gown worn by the maid of honor, with puffed sleeves, round neckline and bustle-bow sashes with streamers to the floor. In their hair they wore halos matching their colonial bouquets of yellow daisies and pink carnations. Pink lace mitts accented their costumes.

Mr. Recob chose Mr. Charles Meachem as best man. Seating the guests were Mr. George Hopkins, Mr. Erwin Price and Mr. William Hagans.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Virginia Brooks, Miss Lillian Schwartzkopf and Miss Catherine Kruse.

Both the bride and groom attend Otterbein College, where the bride is a member of the Epsilon Kappa Tau Sorority.

St. Charles Downs Green Cabs Sun.

St. Charles (Watson Fords) defeated Green Cabs 10 to 4, for the second victory in the Junior American Legion playoffs at Goodale No. 1 Sunday afternoon. Ronnie Hord collected five of his team's 14 hits to lead the hitting for the afternoon.

Green Cabs was scheduled to play Wilkins Motor Sales of Westerville Wednesday afternoon in the third game of the playoffs.

Green Cabs won the North-West title. The tournament is a double elimination affair.

Injured Sunday

George Long, 50, of 993½ W. Broad-st, was injured Sunday afternoon when his auto was in a collision with a car driven by Millard Jordan, 1216 W. State-st, at Town-st and Dakota-av, police reported.

He was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Rain Causes Postponement Of Softball Tilts This Week

A record-breaking downpour of rain early this week caused postponement of all softball games scheduled on Monday and Tuesday.

In the fast Columbus Independent Softball League undefeated Hilltop Van & Storage was to have tangled with Woods Plumbers in an important game Tuesday night.

Weather permitting, the Hilltoppers will meet St. Leo's on the Aquinas Field tonight at 6 o'clock and then play Lockbourne on the latter's field Sunday at 2 p. m.

Two Hilltoppers are now leading the league in hitting. Dick Smith, Hilltop Van left fielder, tops the list with a hefty .600 with only 10 times at bat while Bob Arnold, catcher for the local team, boasts a .462 for 26 trips to the plate.

In the West Church League double headers will be the order of the day Monday evening. The billings will be as follows:

Westgate vs. St. Aloysius, No. 1
West Park vs. Glenwood, No. 2
Hoge vs. Hillcrest, No. 3
Burgess vs. Hilltop C of G, No. 4

The Hilltop Record was in error last week in reporting a 6 to 5 win for Burgess over Hilltonia in the Evangelical United Brethren League. The game was won by Hilltonia 10 to 8 on July 1.

Friday night Avondale will meet Miller Avenue on Franklin No. 2 while Eighth Avenue tangles with North Linden on Tuttle Field.

Starting Tuesday night the league will be split with the first four teams playing each other and the lower four doing likewise.

Tuesday Burgess will meet Hilltonia on Westgate No. 1 while Avondale tangles with South High on the No. 3 diamond. Next Friday Como will be matched with Eighth Avenue and Miller will meet North Linden.

Watson Adds Ace At Brookside

Jerry Watson qualified for the "hole-in-one club" Sunday afternoon when he aced the No. 16 hole at Brookside Country Club. However, it was not an entirely new experience for the proprietor of Watson's Food Market, 3117 W. Broad-st, for he first accomplished that feat on the old Dublin course several years ago.

The hole-in-one came on the 145-yard 16th. It was the second time it had been aced in a week. On hand to witness the event were Herb Vance, Herb Christopher and Dr. Roy Secrest.

Out at Beacon Light the boys are still talking about that eagle scored by Dick Ryan on the par 5 No. 5 hole that measures 345 yards.

Ryan drove to within 14 yards of the cup, pitched closer to the cup and sunk the putt.

Bowling Highs

The following high single and high three-game scores were turned in from the summer bowling leagues at the Hilltop Recreation last week:

Monday Lutheran League: Doris Davis, St. John No. 3, 144, 387; Howard Davis, St. John No. 3, 236; 521; H. Bruckelmeyer, St. John No. 1, 573; Mildred Pfeiffer, St. Peter No. 2, 387.

Wednesday Lutheran: Harold Sunker, St. Paul No. 2, 526; Mary Osborn, St. Paul No. 1, 202, 500; Harry Osborn, Jr., St. Paul No. 1, 193.

Thursday Lutheran: Olive Matheny, Bethlehem No. 1, 370; Jim Matheny, Bethlehem No. 1, 205; Charles Cash, Bethlehem No. 5, 564; Betty Lawhead, Bethlehem No. 4, 146.

Tuesday Summer League: Ruth Perry, Jolly Folks, 179, 529; Joe Swisher, Friendly Five, 214, 589.

Hilltop Kiwanis To Enter Four In State Golf Tournament

Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club who play golf at Beacon Light are working hard to get their scores down so they can qualify for the Kiwanis State Golf Tournament to be held at Zanesville July 29.

Four low-score men from the local club will be entered along with some of the better golfers from other clubs throughout the state.

Recovers From Operation

J. S. Haas, 1548 Arlington-av, the father of Charles and Paul Haas of the Haas Brothers Market, is recovering in Mt. Carmel Hospital from an operation performed last week.

Like Father, Like Son

George "Slugger" Kurowski, Jr., four-year-old son of the Cardinals' third-sacker, "Whitey" Kurowski, looks like a small edition of his well-known dad as they put in a pre-game workout at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis.

"Lime Treatment" Put Life Into Early West Hi Gridder

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles dealing with some of the incidents in the early history of West High School.

Oliver Matheny may not have appreciated the humor of the following incident at the time it occurred but we're sure he has had many a chuckle from it since.

Making his initial appearance in the Leahy-coached championship grid machine of 1915 in the Canal Winchester-West game, Matheny apparently failed to impress the sports reporter who wrote up the game in the Occident.

Matheny played fullback that day as his team rolled up a decisive 33 to 0 score against Canal Winchester. The account read in part as follows:

"During the first minutes of the game his (Matheny's) play was sluggish, resembling very much the activity of a tombstone, but he unexpectedly swallowed a mouthful of lime from one of the sidelines, which had amazing effect and thereafter he worked like a twin-six, scoring at least that many points." (Paging Mack Pemberton, West 1947 grid coach.)

Whether or not that was the sort of initiation Matheny needed, he went on to hold down that position through the remainder of the season.

A single defeat administered by Chillicothe was the only blemish on the record of the '15 champs—West's first city league grid winners. The score in that contest was 6 to 0. The lone Chillicothe touchdown was one of three scored against West during that entire season. Two scoreless ties were written into the books but the Hilltoppers' decisive 19-0 defeat of North brought the crown to the West Side.

The results of the 1915 season were as follows:

West 33, Canal Winchester 0
West 14, Alumni 0
West 20, Aquinas 0
West 35, Delaware 0
West 19, North 0
West 0, Chillicothe 6
West 0, East 0
West 14, Logan 13
West 0, South 0
West 28, Lima 0

"Yip" Owen's drop kick in the final minutes of the East-West game was just inches short of victory that year. Many persons in the crowd thought the kick had cleared the uprights but the umpire ruled "no goal" and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

Upset Lima 28-0

The Lima game was played on Thanksgiving Day before a large crowd. Lima was champion of western Ohio that year and the results of the West-Lima fracas were termed an "upset."

So powerful was the Leahy machine that season—Delaware, an old football rival, failed to register a single first down.

The Occident sports writer describes the 21-0 victory over Aquinas in the following terms: "replete with wrangling, rough play and ragged football."

West also had a city championship basketball team during that season of 1915-16. West was undefeated in 12 city-league starts, the records show.

Top Film Bills At Westmont

Mickey Rooney returns to the screen in "Love Laughs at Andy Hardy" now playing at the Westmont. Roy Rogers stars in the co-feature, "Apache Rose."

Two great sea stories, "Sea Hawk" and "Sea Wolf," share a return double bill at the Westmont Sunday and Monday.

"Home Stretch," technicolor racing story co-starring handsome Cornel Wilde and the oft-called "Queen of Technicolor," lovely Maureen O'Hara, opens Tuesday for a big five-day engagement. "Jewels of Brandenburg" is the second attraction.

West Side Boy To Appear In Roller Derby At Stadium

Carl Payne

Carl Payne, who used to make his home in Columbus' West Side in his boyhood days, will return home with the Roller Derby now in progress at Red Bird stadium and continuing through Aug. 1. Nightly shows are scheduled Monday through Saturday with a special matinee Sunday.

A new attendance record is expected to be established for the third outdoor showing of the derby in Columbus. The Cleveland team, captained by Ken Monte and Midge Brashun, will face the Columbus aggregation, led by Gerry Murray and Billy Bogash.

Playgrounds

pong is one of the more popular pastimes of the girls.

Holton Park's supervisor is Paul McClain. Holton has equipment for badminton, horseshoes, softball and volley ball. There are also boxing, basketball and organized games. For the girls there is weaving, clay modeling and papiermache work. A special event is held each week, such as circus week, baby show week, etc. There are about one-third more boys than girls at Holton.

The baby show, for babies between six and 18 months of age, will be held Friday at 7 p. m. Next week there will be a city-wide bicycle and tricycle race. The first three winners in each of seven bike events will be determined between July 21-24. These winners will be entered at Westgate Park July 28 at 6 p. m. for the sectional tournament. The winners of each sectional event will compete in the finals at Franklin Park, Aug. 3, at 1:30 p. m.

West Broad Winner

West Broad Playground's baseball team won from John Burroughs, 7-2, last week. Contests and relays are held every day, besides the usual badminton and horseshoe games. A tournament is held each week. This week features the ring toss tournament. R. C. Glass is overseer at the West Broad Playground.

At the John Burroughs playground, O. R. (Red) Lehman and Miss Mary Moler are the supervisors. Theer are teeter-totters, swings, a jungle gym and a basketball court. The school PTA has recently black-topped the surfaces under each set of the play equipment.

Tomorrow is field day at John Burroughs. Boys and girls are invited to bring picnic baskets. There will be a doll show, bicycle decorating, and races and contests. It is estimated that 1000 children patronize the playground each week.

YMCA Offers

ball diamonds, etc. It is in constant use at all seasons of the year.

The development of the South Side Y Park is a story in itself that would take too much space to relate here. The park was started on a leased basis at another location on Big Walnut in 1928. Today the organization owns a 30-acre tract of land in a choice spot. It was officially dedicated last fall although other improvements are being added and will continue to be for some time to come.

It provides four softball diamonds, shuffleboard, badminton, horseshoes, swings, slides, sand box, two shelterhouses accommodating 225 and 60 persons respectively, indoor and outdoor cooking facilities, lodges for overnight camping groups, camp circles and swimming.

Optimists Back Project

The Optimist Club has invested approximately $30,000 in the project, helping to buy the land and erecting a rustic barn for use of its own members. The possibilities for use of this camp are virtually unlimited.

The park offers ideal picnic facilities for families, church groups, etc. It provides an atmosphere suitable for youth retreats and council meetings. As an example of the extent to which it is used, 1500 persons were on the grounds during May, despite almost constant rainy weather. In June 2400 persons took advantage of its facilities and it is booked almost solid for the remainder of the summer.

Through the leadership of the Y, school playgrounds and athletic facilities on the South Side have been opened up for use of junior and intermediate boys and girls. Leagues are organized in football, basketball and baseball with the boys for the most part planning their own schedules and managing their own affairs. Volunteer officials are used so that the overall cost of carrying out such a program is held to a minimum. In most cases some small fee such as a dime is charged each boy to help defray the cost of the program. In the event any boy has difficulty in paying his part, he is given permission to go ahead and play without any embarrassment to himself.

Last year at South High School in basketball alone there were six senior, 10 junior and six sophomore teams. Supervision was supplied by the Y but most of the work was carried out by the young people themselves.

In addition to the high school, similar programs have been set up at Roosevelt Junior, Barret Junior and six of the elementary schools in addition to four township schools.

One of the strong activities on the South Side has been the Teenage Council made up of junior and senior high school pupils. Social activities are only one phase of the work in which they have been engaged.

Cooperates With Churches

In cooperation with the ministers of South Side churches, daily vacation Bible schools have been organized, union services planned and carried out, appreciation dinners for church and Sunday School workers held and teacher-training programs conducted, to mention only a few of the activities. The Y has helped to organize softball, basketball and bowling leagues and supplied motion picture equipment and educational pictures for various events. This part of the program is also used in connection with the schools although many of them have now purchased equipment of their own.

Mr. Hoover points out that where a considerable portion of the responsibility is placed on the young people themselves, leadership is developed and a keener interest in the project is held than where an outside agency attempts to do all the planning.

He points out that it has always been the policy of his organization to assist only so long as assistance is needed. In the case of athletics the Y has willingly turned over responsibility to the city recreation department as soon as the teams were able to solve their own problems.

The advantages of professionally trained leadership are obvious when you look in on a program such as you find in operation on the South Side. Much could be done on the Hilltop to make greater use of already existing recreational facilities.

The YMCA has a program.

It's A Rat -- It's A Squirrel -- It's A Badger -- It's A Black Panther

A black panther and full-grown badger have been added this past week to a growing Hilltop menagerie of biting squirrels, buzzing bees and bothersome rodents.

The panther, which caused a stir in Valleyview where it was reported first seen, is now believed to have been an overgrown black cat. Until the time when this decision was made, however, residents of west Columbus were calling children off the streets and approaching trees cautiously. A prankster in black velvet costume could certainly have frightened the wits out of any Valleyview resident.

An armed posse was detailed to track down the supposed panther Saturday evening. Thirty-five West Side residents led by sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen combed the area, but found nothing.

Theories as to the origin of such an animal were numerous. Some thought he was a remnant of a train wreck 500 miles west of Columbus last week. Others thought he was a roaming inhabitant of the local zoo. A call there soon squelched that explanation when it was discovered the zoo panthers were safely in bed.

A resident of Dibblee-av started the scare when she called police headquarters to say her brother had seen a black, sleek-looking animal in a crouched position in the back yard. "He said it looked like a panther."

Deputies Form Posse

The sheriff's office was notified and the two-hour hunt by the posse resulted.

Dr. Earl M. Simpson, 3129 Valleyview-dr, explained later that an ebony-colored cat, "nearly as big as a full-grown hound dog" escaped from its owner two weeks ago from an automobile in front of the doctor's office. The sheriff's office was satisfied with this explanation.

At Rome Manor, Bill and Ted Boxman, 236 Rome-Hilliards-rd, have a badger corpse as reminder of a short chase ending in a drain pipe where their two dogs tastefully ended the career of the chicken thief.

The badger, full-grown, mistakenly left footprints around Rome Manor chicken coops following several raids in the past two weeks in that vicinity.

The Bowman lads took the dogs, a collie and hound dog owned by Bill Bandy, 4082 Sullivant-av, out for a run during the night Saturday. When the prints were sighted, a short chase ensued. The animal was cornered in a pipe and, after a short tussle, was killed by the canine pair.

I don't believe the half I hear,
Nor the quarters of what I see!
But I have one faith, sublime and true,
That nothing can shake or slay;
Each spring I firmly believe anew
All the seed catalogues say!

ON A HILLTOP

Look at life a new way; lie
Supine between earth and sky;

Perilous to lie like this
On the brink of heaven's abyss,

Tethered only by the straw
Of a universal law.

Lie and dream of crashing through
Nets of trees into the blue,

Through the fragile nets of trees
Into ether's mysteries.

Logan Scene Of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison

Three attendants and two small flower girls preceded Miss Rosemary Brimner to the altar of the First Methodist Church in Logan, Ohio, Saturday, June 28, where she was joined in marriage to Mr. Eugene Wissler Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Garrison, 92 N. Ogden-av. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Brimner of South Logan. Rev. Clinton Swengel officiated at the ceremony, which took place at 8:30 in the evening.

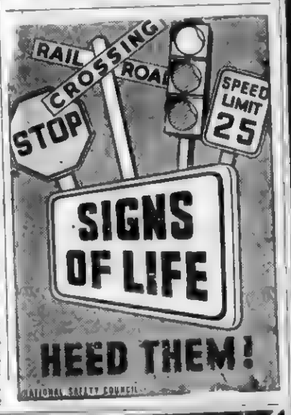
The altar was banked with palms and ferns, interspersed with baskets and urns of white gladioli, carnations and regal lilies, and lighted with seven-branched candelabra.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, attired in a heavy white satin gown made princess style with a sweetheart neckline, inserted panels of lace and long sleeves extending in points over her hands. The full skirt terminated in a circular train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a heart-shaped tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a [illegible] with long white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a gold cross and chain, a gift of the groom.

Miss Elizabeth Speckman of Columbus was maid of honor. She wore an aqua sheer gown with a full skirt and fitted bodice and carried a shower bouquet. The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Pond of Logan and Miss Nora Tighe of Ada, wore pink and aqua gowns with full skirts and fitted bodices and carried colonial bouquets. The flower girls, Sue Ann and Jean Ellen Rudy, nieces of the groom, wore yellow silk dresses covered with white net and carried baskets of colonial bouquets. Miss Marilyn Brimner, sister of the bride, in an aqua sheer gown and corsage of pink rosebuds, lighted the tapers preceding the ceremony.

Mr. Carl Speckman, Columbus, acted as best man for the groom. Mr. Robert Smith, Mr. Ned Brockington and Mr. Roy Link of Columbus and Mr. Tom Campbell and Mr. Harold Brimner of Logan seated the guests.

In a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony, Miss Nancy Shepard, Columbus, sang "At Dawning," "If I Could Tell You" and "Because," with Mrs. Walter Prather at the organ. The "Lord's Prayer" was sung softly during the ceremony.



A reception for 150 guests was held following the ceremony, on the lawn of the Brimner home. Mrs. Brimner received her guests in an aqua sheer print frock wearing a corsage of pink and white shattered carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a pink crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of white shattered carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Logan High School. She received her degree from Ohio University in the college of education, in June. She is a member of Kappa Phi sorority.

The groom is a graduate of West High School, Columbus, and served 39 months in the Marine Corps, 22 months of which were spent in the Pacific theatre. He attended Ohio State University and is now engaged in farming at Taylor Lane, Mt. Sterling, where the couple will make their home.

A note from Thomas Y. Crowell tells us that there are now 47 adult book clubs in operation. Rumor has it that another will soon open up — The No-Book Book Club. It agrees to send you no book whatsoever every single month. Guarantees enormous savings.

Here's How To Put Quietus On Old Man Chigger When Berry Picking

Normally the best thing for itchin' is scratchin' but it's just no relief at all for chiggers.

Fishermen, picnickers and outdoor people in general have never really come to a worthwhile agreement over a sure-shot method of combatting them or for that matter no one has ever figured out what mankind ever did to deserve such torment from such little and unseen creatures.

The best advice offered so far seems to be to feed them sulphur—the one thing they seem to hate most. The old method was to dust powdered sulphur into your socks, shoes and under your belt, but somehow it just won't stay put.

Next time you plan to offer yourself to some hungry chiggers, try this. First of all, find a medium size bottle with a fairly large open neck. Pour into it ordinary rubbing alcohol until it is one, half or three-quarters full. Add to this a good quantity of powdered sulphur; the amount does not really matter so long as the solution when shaken a bit will produce a mixture about like leg make-up the women folks used for stockings back you-know-when.

Now, all you do before using the solution is shake it up, because it settles rapidly, then pour a bit in the palm of your hands and rub a thin layer over your feet, ankles and legs or however much of your person you intend to expose to the chiggers. The alcohol will evaporate and leave a nice thin film of sulphur. It really works!

SURVEY SHOWS BEAVER COLONIES IN 9 COUNTIES

The game management section of the Ohio Division of Conservation, reporting the results of a recent beaver colony survey, indicates that approximately 30 colonies of beavers have been discovered in nine Ohio counties, totaling about 100 animals. Two of the counties are located in northwestern Ohio and the other seven in the northeastern sector.

Bad Health

Man—You're not looking very well. Why, look at those circles under your eyes!

Dick—I don't have circles under my eyes.

Man—Oh, no? From here, your nose looks as if it's riding a bicycle.

Local Church Worker To Be Honored At International S. S. Convention

Mrs. Tyree

Mrs. J. Lawrence Tyree (Esther Walker), 12 S. Wheatlandav, will be honored for her contribution to Christian education at the 21st international Sunday School convention to be held July 23-27 at Des Moines, Iowa, according to James L. Kraft, Chicago, chairman of the committee of one hundred assisting the International Council of Religious Education in preparations for the convention.

Mrs. Tyree will receive an inscribed, morocco-bound copy of the Revised Standard Version of the New Testament, Mr. Kraft stated. She was selected by officials of the National Baptist convention, U. S. A. (Inc.) to represent her denomination.

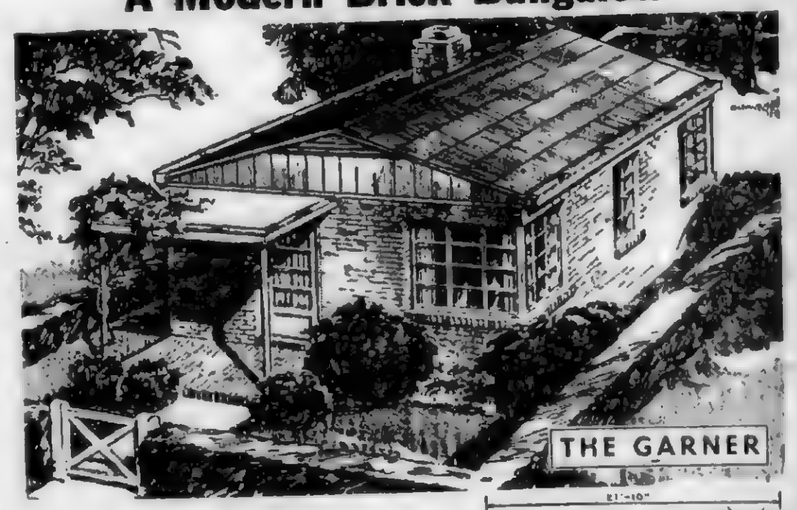
Supervisor of the adult department of Shiloh Baptist Church Sunday School for six years, she has also taught in the intermediate and young people's departments and has been counsellor for the Young Women's Guilds for 14 years. Other positions held include counsellor of the general missionary program, chairman of the homecoming festivities and director of women's activities for the church.

For her denomination, Mrs Tyree has served as general secretary, Ohio Baptist Young Women's Christian Education, secretary of the finance commission and also member of the publishing house committee of the Women's Auxiliary, vice-president of the Eastern Union Women's Auxiliary, director of the Ohio Baptist Youth Camp program, president of the Eastern Union Hattie Jackson Guilds, and supervisor of young women's activities.

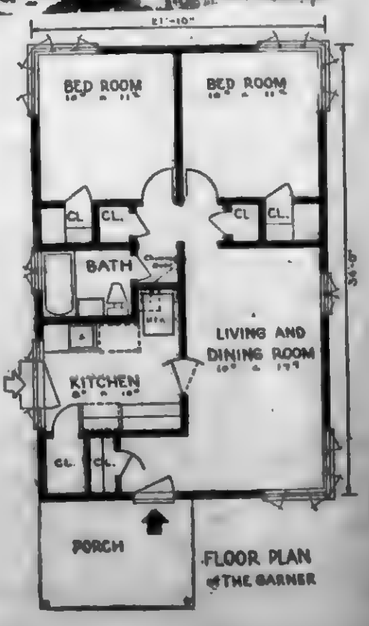
Organizations of which Mrs. Tyree is a member include the Ohio Council of Churches, Women's Council of Columbus, Columbus Council of Social Agencies, Franklin County Welfare Associates, Order of Eastern Stars, National Association for Advancement of Colored People, Vanguard League, Ohio Civil Service Employees Association, Columbus Council for Democracy, Columbus Religion - Labor Council, National Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, Buckeye Republican Club, the YWCA, the Urban League, American Red Cross and the WCTU.

She is treasurer of the Phillis Wheatley Home, past worthy deputy of the Courts of Calanthe, past treasurer of the Iota Phi Lambda Sorority and secretary of the Fair Employment Practice Committee.

Mrs. Tyree is granddaughter of the late Rev. J. Wilson Walker, former moderator of Providence Baptist Association, and great-niece of the late Rev. J. W. Shoecraft (silver-tongue orator) who was pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church in 1884.



In speaking of the importance of the Sunday School, Mrs. Tyree declared:



"The Sunday School as the teaching agency of the church serves to create an interest in the Bible, the study of which brings one into intimate touch with God. The truths found in the Word of God, learned in the formative period of the lives of children and young people, make possible the developing of a character that will overcome the forces of evil.

"For the adult, the Sunday School provides inner strength for meeting personal problems in accordance with the teachings of Christ.

"In a world faced with insecurity, the Sunday School of America has before it the greatest need and the greatest opportunity. The world needs strong Christian characters; the opportunity of the Sunday School is to build them."

A Modern Brick Bungalow

FLOOR PLAN of THE GARNER

THE GARNER—There's sturdy strength in the GARNER. Only 21 by 34 feet, it is ideal for the narrow plot, a prize-winner in the modern, brick-bungalow class that carries the seal of approval of Structural Clay Products Institute. Designed to conform to the property requirements of FHA, its electrical layout is by National Adequate Wiring Bureau to insure maximum electrical efficiency for appliances and for lighting without the glare that induces eye strain. Built of brick with tile or metal roof, it is as near fireproof as a house can be. Simple lines distinguish the GARNER. Its steel-casement corner windows impart a distinction seldom found in small houses. They provide cross ventilation and an unusual amount of wall space for attractive furniture arrangement. It would be difficult to find a more compact, efficient, economical plan. Kitchen and bath are back-to-back to minimize plumbing cost. The bath is a step from each bedroom. Closets are plentiful. The basement offers loads of room for recreational hobbies. Plans cost $7.50 from Housing Plan Service, 140 Nassau St., New York 7, N. Y.

Horseshoe Courts To Be Installed

Two horseshoe courts and a place to play badminton will be provided in the rear of the St. John Lutheran Church Saturday for use by the public.

One of the horseshoe courts will be 30 feet in length and will be for use by women and children. The other will be a regulation 40-foot court for men. It is planned to hold a horseshoe tournament later in the summer.

The recreation facilities are being provided as the first step in making available a place for all persons in the community to play in a supervised area.

Chinese Ancestral Scrolls Adorn Walls of Local Home

By Elizabeth Downing

An old Chinese custom which has been passed from one generation to another down through the ages is to have an ancestral scroll painted of each deceased member of a family. The scroll, which is never painted until after one's death, is both lifelike and picturesque, but for all its beauty is stored in a drawer with countless other ancestors and unveiled only on holidays or other festive occasions.

Four of these living portraits adorn the home of Miss Nelle Orebaugh, 130 Lechner-av. Her scrolls are originals having changed hands only once, (that being from the importer to her).

Her dining room is graced by a small, sedate looking, little Chinese lady. Sitting there with inborn dignity, she looks as if any minute she would rise, step from the parchment and walk from the room. Her vari-colored robe has a dragon design throughout, and her headdress reveals her rank in her dynasty, for she wears a necklace of yellow jade which is peculiar to royalty alone. The tone of her skin and the sharp pentrating quality of her eyes hold one spellbound for seconds. Nothing is left to the imagination.

At the top of the stairway sits an old Chinese gentleman, with sunken eyes and cheeks, his scholarly expression gives one the impression that he could no doubt unveil a wealth of information on almost any subject and a tale of his experiences would probably hold any audience enraptured for hours. There is a fur neckpiece about his neck and his long claw-like hands barely peep from his kimono sleeves.

In the living room hang two other scrolls of Chinese men. On the older man is a dark blue robe fringed in ermine. The younger wears a robe of tiger skin and the entire picture is a mass of vivid colors, but despite the attractive colors and designs throughout, the natural color and expression of the faces, and especially the eyes are the things that will be long remembered.

Everything Symbolic

Everything in China is symbolic and has a definite meaning. For instance, Miss Orebaugh has a pair of butterfly candle sticks on her mantel which can be taken completely apart. While browsing through an antique shop in Massachusetts some time ago she came across them and asked the proprietor where he had gotten them. They had been part of the shop when he bought it, he said.

Miss Orebaugh expressed her belief to the owner that they had been a gift to someone. The story behind the candleholders as told by the antique dealer was that they had been made and given to a missionary who was leaving China. He then asked the local lady to explain how she knew they had been made as a gift. According to Miss Orebaugh a butterfly is a symbol of love and the lotus bud (which supports the candle) is a symbol of purity, because it grows out of the mud undefiled. The metal candle holders are over 100 years old and they are very unusual and beautiful.

There are articles such as plaques, an opium box, a temple jar, and various pieces of cloissone (Chinese enamelware), a jar of pewter-ware with hammered gold, and a figurine of Kuam Yim, the goddess of mercy, in Miss Orebaugh's home, which would delight anyone interested in any way in oriental objects.

Miss Orebaugh has read books and studied Chinese customs and symbols and enjoys telling people what she had learned. She is associated with the Columbus Board of Education.

Her father, W. H. Orebaugh, who came to the Hilltop when it was in infancy, became widely known as a builder. He and his son had offices at Eldon-av and W. Broad-st, where the Hillcrest Baptist Church is now located.

The study of God's word, for the purpose of discovering God's will, is the secret discipline which has formed the greatest characters. —J. W. Alexander.

Columbus Traffic Fatalities Show 31% Decrease In '47

Fatalities resulting from traffic accidents in Columbus for the first six months of 1947 show a 31 per cent reduction, compared with the first six months of 1946, according to figures released today by the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Of the 26 persons killed in traffic accidents during the first half of 1946, 19, or 73 per cent, were pedestrians. Of the current half year's 18 fatalities 13, or 72 per cent, were pedestrians. D. K. Finley, 733 S. Hague-av, manager of the safety council, points out that this involvement of pedestrains in the local traffic accident experience is considerably higher than for the country as a whole and indicates a phase of the problem which needs particular attention.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Finley observes, a reduction in the number of pedestrians who lose their lives in traffic accidents should not be too difficult to accomplish, because the well being of those who "foot' it is largely in their own hands. People, old as well as young, should know by this time that any contest between human flesh and iron and steel is the height of foolishness. The records show that approximately 70 per cent of pedestrian fatalities in Columbus are the result of improper pedestrian action—crossing against the green light, darting out between parked cars, jay walking and under the influence of liquor. It is obvious, Mr. Finley continues, that if the pedestrian is not in the street at the wrong time or place, there is little chance of being hit by an automobile, even if the operator is not as careful as he should be.

Personal Injuries

While fatalities decreased 31 per cent, the number of persons injured non-fatally increased more than 14 per cent during the first half of 1947, compared with 1946. This is a trend that has its serious aspects because every injury is a potential fatality or at least can result in some permanent physical impairment.

Traffic accidents, like accidents of any other kind, do not just happen—they are definitely caused by one of two things, often both — faulty conditions and/or faulty human behavior. As both of these causes can be corrected, there is no excuse for the continued occurrence of this type of mishap.

Thompson Opens Automobile Agency

Howard E. Thompson, 94 N. Westmoor-av, is announcing the opening of Thompson Motor Sales, 912-14 N. High-st, Columbus, distributor for the new Crosley automobile. The opening will be held Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19.

Mr. Thompson, who has been in the automobile business for 12 years, is also operating a modern, up-to-the-minute appliance store featuring Crosley refrigerators, stoves and radios at the above address, as well as a used-car lot. RCA Victor radios are also part of his merchandise.

Thompson and his wife have lived on the Hilltop 11 years. They have a four-year-old son.

"Too Little and Too Late," Floyd F. Green Charges Administration Of Mayor Rhodes

"It's too little and too late."

That's the way Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, Republican candidate for mayor, described the efforts of Mayor James A. Rhodes to cover up for some of the alleged shortcomings of his administration. In a 30-minute address given before a group of friends and backers in the ballroom of the Southern Hotel Tuesday night the former mayor charged Rhodes with a record of at least nine broken campaign promises.

It marked his re-entry into politics after having suffered defeat at the hands of Mayor James A. Rhodes in the 1943 election. Green had served one term in the mayor's office in addition to one term as a city councilman.

Charging a lack of interest in the welfare of city employees, Green said the incumbent mayor nad resorted to the issuance of $336,000 in refunding bonds to make possible salary and wage increases only when the primary election draws near.

Claiming the refunding bonds are a direct violation of his pledge, Green said: "Why didn't he issue the refunding bonds back in 1944 instead of freezing the wages of all city employees at that time? I tell you, it's too little and too late."

Green lashed out at the administration of his opponent with as much fire and enthusiasm as the lightning that accompanied the storm that raged outside even while he spoke.

"My opponent has been the biggest money spender of all time with less service to offer to the people of Columbus."

The $5 garbage tax and the five per cent utilities tax (later ruled unconstitutional) came in for sharp criticism by the Hilltop candidate. He charged politics in the police and recreation departments.

Columbus must have a qualified finance director and a long-range financing program as the basis for good city government, he declared.

"We have suffered enough from hand-to-mouth financing loaded with broken campaign promises, political intrigue and slipshod methods of financing," he said.

Green lunched out at the "do nothing" administration that he charges against Mayor Rhodes. He outlined a 10-point program which he tefmed essential to the welfare of the city.

Highlighting his program are the following commitments:

FINANCE: I am opposed to any form of taxation that is not submitted to the voters for approval. The final decision for financing good government belongs to the citizens of Columbus. I firmly believe the people will approve an intelligent and frankly honest plan of financing.

APPOINTMENTS AND EMPLOYEES: Padding city payrolls with unnecessary political workers will not be tolerated. Salaries and wages of all city employees must be adjusted annually.

HOUSING: I pledge my undivided support to the task of building new homes—for veterans especially.

PARKS AND PLAY GROUNDS: Politics must be removed from the recreation department. I will demand a complete overhauling of the city's recreation program so that it will work for the good of all groups and classes of our citizens. There must be more wading pools and swings—and fewer "springboards" for political careers.

TRAFFIC AND SAFETY: I pledge steady, sensible, fair and impartial traffic law enforcement and the education of our citizens with every means available. I pledge myself to a greater system of street and alley lighting.

METROPOLITAN PLANNING: I pledge to co-operate with city and county planning officials, the citizens of Columbus and suburban communities in a sincere effort to make Metropolitan Columbus an even better place to live.

STREET MAINTENANCE: I guarantee a constructive and continuous program of street repair and maintenance.

LAW ENFORCEMENT: I pledge rigid and continuous enforcement of all laws in an honest, sane and intelligent manner. I guarantee to improve the morale in the Police Department by removing the cause of "politics" within the department and political pressure from outside.

TRANSPORTATION: I pledge development of plans for adequate, rapid transit service to all sections of the city.

LEADERSHIP: Columbus must return to business-like city government.

Spence Seeks Clerk's Office

P. W. Spence

P. W. Spence, 559 Columbian-av, will be a candidate to succeed himself to the office of clerk of municipal court in the Aug. 12 primary election. Mr. Spence succeeded Arthur J. Blosser in that office in November, 1945.

He was chief deputy in that office for many years and since becoming clerk has installed a new and complete filing record system that has added to the efficiency of the office.

Mr. Spence resided in the South Side for many years; served six years as First Ward committeeman; and was secretary of the Franklin County Republican Central and Executive Committee.

Merchants To Battle For Lead Tonight

Hilltop Herchants will be playing one of the most important games of the current season in the Reynoldsburg Softball League tonight when it meets Ann Tons Restaurant under the lights on the Reynoldsburg field.

To date each team has lost only a single game although Ann Tons is in first place by virtue of five games in the win column against four for the Hilltoppers.

The single defeat chalked against the Hilltop team came at the hands of Gahanna by a 6 to 2 score. Thus far the team has piled up 32 runs to 10 for their opposition.

J. Devlin of the Hilltop Merchants is leading the league in hitting with a hefty .437 average for 18 trips to the plate. Lew Smith has pitched his team to three of the four wins without being charged with a loss.

Hurler Smith had a total of 35 strikeouts to date. Also high in the hitting department is Pat Purcell, third baseman, who carried a .400 average for all games played this season.

The game, which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock tonight, gives Al Dildine's Hilltoppers an opportunity to take over undisputed first place in the fast softball loop.

The team and its manager has expressed their appreciation to the local sponsors who have made the entry in the Reynoldsburg loop possible.

Exempted Properties

Many serious-minded citizens have been asking the question: "Why the shortage of tax monies to pay adequate salaries to teachers, elected officials and public employees?"

One indication of what is wrong in Franklin County can be seen by the high percentage of tax exempt property. According to figures released a few months ago by County Auditor Dunn, approximately 17% in value of all real property in Franklin County is exempt from taxation. The total county real estate tax duplicate is $482,000,000. The total of exempt property is $98,264,500.

Of this total, ownership is divided as follows: the state, 40%; the federal government, 24%; schools, 13%; municipalities, 9.5%; churches, 6.8%. The balance of 6.7% includes county, charities, etc.

Of course the fact that Columbus is the state capital throws a heavy portion of state-owned properties on the shoulders of Franklin County tax payers. Services must be maintained for this property the same as taxable real estate. Tax-minded individuals have been giving considerable thought to this dilemma but thus far no very practical remedy has been advanced.

THE HUSBAND HOBBY

In the good old days, girls wanted a man for a hubby. If divorce courts are a criterion, many modern girls want a man only for a hobby.

ECONOMIC DYNAMITE

Invisible taxes and many wage increases are hidden in the present high prices for all merchandise.

SAM BUCHANAN,
Ass't. Sales Mgr.,
devotes all his time to The Hilltop

If you've been eating your green onions by nibbling daintily on the white end, you're all wrong. You should start at the green top end and eat 'em all the way down. Why? Nature put all of the sodium (the de-burping agent) in that end of the onion.

Why does the worm always bore his way in to the core of the apple? That's where the best part of the apple is. He's been doing it for years while we cut out the core and peel off the best part of the fruit. He's smart, that worm.

All this and enough additional information to write a book on nutrition I learned the other night from attending a demonstration dinner put on by a salesman for a manufacturer of cooking utensils. After hearing how the LW (little woman) has been mutilating, drowning and then cremating the potatoes all these years I don't know whether I should apply for a divorce or hide my head in shame for not having provided more suitable cooking utensils.

If you've never had the privilege of attending one of these demonstrations, I will herewith give you the routine in this (uncopyrighted) article.

A friend invited the missus and me in for dinner along with three other couples. The dinner is all on the house—the house that's going to sell us the cookery afterward—that is.

We arrive almost on time and are told that dinner will be delayed a few minutes until one of the other couples shows up. By the time the party is assembled we are all hungry enough to eat the upholstery off the furniture. At this point our host (the cookery salesman) comes into the room and explains that the dinner is almost ready but before we are seated we are to step into the kitchen for just "a minute" to see how the food is prepared.

Here, with tongues hanging out of our mouths, we are asked to admire the beauty of the shiny pots and pans in which our dinner has been cooked. We are invited to sample mashed potatoes and apple sauce that have been cooked the wrong and the right way. Then—the last straw—he lifts the lid and lets us look longingly at a tempting roast.

Later around the table we are served a truly delicious meal consisting of apple sauce, carrots (in their natural color instead of the usual anemic condition in which they are ordinarily served), cabbage (that has retained the natural green color nature put there), riced potatoes (cooked in the jackets and run through a colander to retain all of the minerals with a minimum of loss from the peel, a delicious English roast with plenty of pan gravy, bread, butter and coffee.

After third helpings on most of these dishes we then had a graham cracker pudding topped with caramel sauce, and a second cup of coffee.

Back in the living room our host begins his sales talk with a vengeance and having just consumed a couple of bucks worth of his excellent food (per capita) we are helpless to do anything but listen. For 30 minutes he gives it to us with both barrels.

The LW has been peeling away the best part of the potato and many other vegetables and what she hasn't thrown into the garbage pail she poured down the sink. What she's been feeding me shouldn't be fed to a cat. All those valuable minerals she's been drowning, cremating or devitalizing. (The man said that.)

What's more, if we would all start eating food cooked in these shiny pots and pans we could close up half the drug stores, half of the doctors and dentists would take down their shingles and we'd save so much money we could all retire by the time we reached 30. Goodbye stomach gas, indigestion, heart trouble, cancer, constipation, eye glasses and failing hair. It's as simple as all that.

The climax comes when he dumps a sack of old beaten up cooking ware out on the living room floor to show us what the average housewife has to cook with. What is down in the pores of that old skillet grandma used for 50 years shouldn't be discussed around the dinner table.

I couldn't help thinking how many years grandma and grandpa cut off of their immature lives when they died near the age of 90. With such new methods of cooking they would probably have lived to be at least 125.

While you are trying to decide which of the most dreaded diseases you are apt to succumb to, he very cleverly arranges an appointment to stop in at your home to close the deal. Before he gives up, however, he demonstrates the utility of his cooking gadgets. You can stack them one on top of the other until they reach half way to the kitchen ceiling and thereby cook at least half a dozen different items over the same burner. The degree of interchangeability of pots, pans, lids and collars is nothing short of amazing. Junior's erector set is outdated by comparison.

The evening ends by his insisting on our trying a teaspoonful of baking soda heated in the old-fashioned sauce pan and then another boiled in the new super duper ware. That was to insure against indigestion, I suppose, although he had another explanation for it.

The sales talk he gives would put a conscientious insurance salesman to shame. You're ready to go home and throw out every pot and pan in the place and be prepared to start life all over again. But don't throw 'em too far until he's broken the sad news. You're going to pay, brother. So be prepared to dig and dig deep when he gets out that order pad.

Final Offensive Begins

Luneville was in a dither of activity. The shifting of the front found hundreds of units making their way through the town. Some divisions were on the move to other armies farther north. The allied command was finally getting the line set so they could launch an offensive, the large-scale effort that had been delayed because of the German success in the Ardennes. This enemy move had necessitated a quick change to the defense and a rearrangement of many combat divisions along the entire front. In all, they were successful in delaying the Allies for more than two months and inflicting heavy casualties.

We moved into an old French cavalry school and were quartered in a building located inside a large wall and in rooms that reminded me of a prison. They all had bars on the windows. Probably to keep the French Cadets from going AWOL.

The last week in January was so cold that I slept in all the clothes I had. I also used a sleeping bag and a couple of blankets and almost froze.

Seventh Army headquarters were there and a P-47 fighter field. When the weather cleared in early February, these planes flew endless sorties from dawn to dark. Fields nearby were filled with amphibious vehicles for crossing the Rhine.

Passes were given to visit Nancy, which was only a few miles away. February was a marvelous month. Nearly every day was clear and warm, giving the air force an opportunity to blast the Saar basin. The heavies were over every day, also headed for targets inside Germany.

Many units we hadn't heard of since the early Vosges fighting were in and around Luneville resting for the coming offensive.

The offensive began to grind away in March. Patton's troops literally tore the Saar to pieces. The armies to the far north smashed to the Rhine and the First Army got across at Remagen.

The Seventh and Third Armies closed the gigantic pincers on the Saar and Patton's armor mopped up the demoralized and thoroughly licked Germans.

Our outfit was to move to Saarguemines, a small town on the Franco-German border. On the day we moved, a fine thing happened to me. I was standing in the right place when a Sev-

Our Readers Say

Ed'Rec, Hilltop Record:

Leaving town early on the morning of the school levy voting day and just returning last night to find out the official results, my first duty would naturally be to jot you a note of appreciation and thanks for the very fine publicity and editorials you gave us on behalf of the special election for the school levy. Certainly your help and editorial support meant much to inform the voters about the need for passing the levy. The results on the Hilltop were evident in the favorable vote of 81 per cent.

I am sure I speak for school teachers and employees who live and work on the Hilltop when I say that we deeply appreciate your generous and worthwhile support.

Again thanking you, I am
Sincerely yours,
Irvin F. Young,
Principal, West High School

Editor Hilltop Record:

In connection with the proposal of a poisoning program soon to get under way, it might be well to ask—why all the rats?

It should be a blow to so-called civic pride for a community to confess to the world that the Hilltop is infested with rats. Where you find trash you find rats, and where you find trash and rats you find careless unconcerned people.

Garbage cans come with lids but the owners are too lazy usually to keep them on the cans. This makes a fine snack bar for Mr. Rat.

If the sponsors of this campaign will investigate the conditions on the premises of the people who phone in saying they have rats, they will probably find open garbage cans, (or none at all) piles of trash and old lumber and what have you.

In the block in which I live there are no rats. Also no trash.

A subscriber.

How true. Nevertheless the fact remains that there are rats on the Hilltop and that they need to be eliminated. It must be recognized that the carelessness of a few persons can subject their neighbors to the rat menace through no fault of their own. It's not necessarily a reflection on the resident that he has rats to report if he will take steps to get rid of them.

13 Club Receives Letter Of Thanks

A letter of appreciation was received by members of the 13 Club recently for the gift of an outboard motor to the Columbus Fire Department. In the letter, written by Fire Chief C. W. Ogborn to Ray Burgoon, president of the local club, he said in part:

"It will receive the very best of care and be placed with our other valuable equipment to be used in time of emergency. It will be of great assistance to our boys and will enable them to cover more territory, much more swiftly than they can do now by row boat.

"So, personally, and on behalf of every member of the Division of Fire, I thank your splendid organization for this most useful, humane gift."

SUNDAY LESSON

Attitude of Mind, Heart Is Essence Of Trust in God

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 20
Scripture: Job 1:8; 2:7-10; 19:7-10; 42:1-5; James 5:11

AT the outset of Job's suffering a character appears other than the three principal speakers, Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar. It is Job's wife, and her words are in verses 9 and 10 of the second chapter.

Many wives have been a support to husbands in distress, at least giving helpful sympathy, and many husbands in a similar situation have been of great help to their wives.

But Job's wife was no help—in fact she seems to have added to his troubles by her unsympathetic and nagging attitude.

Apparently without any vital faith herself she virtually taunted Job with his own faith, saying to him, in effect, "Now, where's your God? What's the use of your faith, when you're covered with boils from head to foot? You'd better curse God and die."

What a woman! A man covered with boils could be pardoned for being irritable, but Job surely was doubly justified in losing some of his patience, and telling her that she was speaking like a fool: "Thou speaketh as one of the foolish women speaketh."

There were times when Job's faith and patient endurance were not so strong, when his suffering seemed greater than he could bear, and when he felt as Jesus was to feel on the Cross, as if God had forsaken him.

It is not the mood of the moment, but the attitude of mind and heart—and will—that is the essence of faith, and of trust in God.

The Bible teaches consistently that the good and upright are secure in God's keeping, no matter what may befall them, but it does not teach that they are immune from trouble. The prophets held their faith, and were true to their mission, through deep persecution and suffering.

But when Paul had listed all the troubles that could befall man, and all the forces that could war against him (Romans 8) his conclusion was that nothing could separate him from the love of God. That is the New Testament version of the Book of Job.

West's Yearbook Recalls Memories of Class of '19

By Rhoma Van De Mark

To the class of '19 at West High School — remember that commencement number of the Occident you put out 'way back when? We saw a copy of it this week, and thought maybe if there are any of you left around the Hilltop you might like your memories refreshed with a few gleanings from its now-yellow pages.

Frederick Gauggel was editor-in-chief of the publication, and he and the rest of his male associates, Karl Holycross, Clinton Moorman, Harold Cooley, Halbert Angell, Frank Jones and all the others, were so handsome in those high white stiff collars.

We noticed that, even then, they must have been trying to exclude women from the ranks of the "fourth estate" for only six women were on the Occident staff, Mildred Phalor, Helen Stahl, Gertrude Slater, Helen Fairchild, Marian Ash and Florence White.

Outstanding seniors that year were John Louis Carmichael, Walter Edwards, Ardis Hensel, Marjorie N. Gearhart, Marie Hall, Henry Keller, Helen Mae Kelly, Swayne Lindsey, Amos Luckhapt, Lillian Mack, Leo McComb, D. Myron Miller and N. Irene Preest.

That was the year the graduates put on the stage production, "Arms and the Man," with such notables in its cast as Donald Studer, Marie Held, Fred Gauggel, Louis Hauer and Sam Wolman.

West Five Win Pennant

That was also the year West High won 12 basketball games, lost none, and ended the season in a blaze of glory by winning the city pennant. Magly was their mainstay, officially ending the season with 45 field goals and 35 foul shots to his credit, a total of 125 points. Capt. R. G. Kurtzhaltz and Magly made the all-high first team.

In baseball as well, West High ended the victor after a hard and hot game on June 11 when "Skeeters" Boyd and Earl Brown opened up and won the city championship from East.

As the Occident put it, "in-fluenza and out-flew-football." Most of the out-of-town games that season were cancelled because of the epidemic.

The country was suffering with "high prices" then too. The Bryce Co., opposite the state house, advertised "specially designed suits for young men, new fabrics, latest models, very highest grade" at $25 to $35. Prof. Rader's Dancing Academy on Neil-av offered 10 ladies' lessons for $4, gentlemen's, $5. The Lorraine Restaurant advertised a home-cooked meal, "The Largest Meal on the West Side, 25c."

Bloomers Popular

Smiles cross your countenance at looking at the Bliss College advertisement in the back pages? Those long bloomers the Bliss girls' basketball team were wearing would make the meanest man in the world laugh now.

The usual puns, done up in typical high school annual style, graced those coveted pages, jokes such as "Could you get a shock by holding to a receiver of a telephone?" and its terse answer, "That depends on who is talking," as well as: "James, you must sit still in school," with "I can't, I'm a fidgetarian."

A pump in the school yard was the background for nearly every glamorous snapshot, the girls with their long dresses, long hair and long faces. The Irium smile evidently had not been commercialized as yet.

That annual had pictures of soldiers, too, West alumnae who were garbed in khaki togs and long-nosed gas masks on the battlefields of Europe. The snapshots, sent back to former classmates and families, made good copy for this yearbook. Editorials of the heroism of the ones who did not return, and In Memoriam to Bruck Flemming, who was killed only a month before the Armistice, told the story of West boys who answered the call to the colors.

As yearbooks go, the one from 1919 was one of the best, but we advocate identifying all persons in all pictures and snapshots upon an annual's pages. Even friends sometimes forget who sat next to them 30 years ago in study hall.

Miss Anna Mae Stern of Ostrander, on a business trip to Columbus, stopped off and spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. T. M. Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spindler of Chillicothe have returned home after spending several days with Mrs. Squire Lee, who is a sister of Mr. Spindler. They also visited his niece, Mrs. Ralph Clements.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, who were married last month, are now residing with his parents on Lawrence-av. Mrs. Hamilton formerly lived at Plain City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bales of Cleveland spent several days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fast, Pasadena-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and children spent the week-end of July Fourth with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kessler, in Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. William Butin of Gladys Road announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty Grace, to John Edgar Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Randolph, Maplewood-av. The wedding, a double ring service, took place in the Hilltop Lutheran Church at 3 o'clock Sunday, June 29, with Rev. Olson, pastor, officiating. There was a reception following at the home of the bride, for the immediate relatives and friends. They are now located at 2552 Harrisburg-rd.

Rev. Rose of Columbia Heights Church was in charge of 21 young folks with their bicycles and eats on a trip to Harrisburg, July 8. At Roadside Park they spread their lunch and played games. Only one minor accident was reported and that was when Dan Garnett and Bill Lamp bumped. The fork of Bill's wheel was broken, but he went on with the crowd, the boys taking turns riding him on their handle bars. It was a day worth remembering as the trip was about 30 miles, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Free prize automobiles don't always go to a party who has a garage full, but the automobile you noticed in front of Joe Lamb's Station, which was given away Fourth of July night in West Jefferson, by the West Jefferson American Legion Post, went to young Bill Lisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Lisle, who had no automobile. The Lisles live on Alton Station-rd.

There is plenty of "family stir" at Beacon Light Golf Course these days. Mr. and Mrs. Kidwell are expecting their son, Ray, wife and family from Fort Worth, Tex. While they have several grandchildren, this visit rates high because it brings them their first grandson. Their oldest granddaughter is 17. Ray Kidwell and Melvin Cox are o nthe WBAP station in Fort Worth.

Mrs. John Regan (Betty Kidwell), who has been visiting with her parents while her husband, Col. John M. Regan, is being transferred to Langley Field, Va., is anxious to join him as soon as he finds a location.

Melvin Cox and his family flew in the other day from Fort Worth, Tex. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox, Buena Vista-av. Mr. Cox, who always said that the ground was enough for him to travel on, was more than pleased with his first ride in his sons' plane. They expect to be here about two weeks.

Mrs. Elwood Rose, wife of Rev. Rose, Columbia Heights Church, is in Williamsburg, Va., attending the convention of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. Mrs. Rose has been active in work for the national education sorority and has done graduate work in journalism at Northwestern University. During the Golden Jubilee Convention, she will edit the Angle, daily newspaper published during the meeting. She and her mother, Mrs. Kimball of Fowler, Colo., will visit friends while in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Rose, Piqua, spent Sunday with their son, Rev. Rose, and then the three left for Williamsburg, Va., to bring Mrs. Rose and her mother home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman of Pasadena-av. entertained the Rome Card Club Saturday evening, with the usual good attendance of its regular members.

Earl Lee's "Card for all Occasion" Business has branched out, until now it can be considered "Earl's Gift Shop." The new entrance just completed brings the customer directly into his little shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ferguson and children, Dudley and Sue, with Miss Helen Phipps, were guests for supper Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner. The Fergusons are leaving their home in Columbus for their new location in Cleveland.

Synthetic Yarn Can Be Applied To Many Uses

Chemical research in the field of synthetics has resulted in a new vinyl yarn that shows promise in an unlimited number of textile applications. It will soon be available in semi-commercial quantities.

The new yarn won't shrink in boiling water, and can be readily dyed dark and brilliant shades. It also has high strength and good resistance to chemical attack, is water-resistant and completely unaffected by bacteria or insects. It is basically different from other vinyl materials.

Unlike the majority of synthetics, fabrics based on the new yarn have a "hand" very much like silk and feel warm to the touch. These characteristics, it is believed, will prove advantageous in bathing suits, foundation garments, rain-wear and dress goods.

Speeding, Reckless Driving Challenges Self-discipline

By Julien H. Harvey
Managing Director, National Conservation Bureau

While thousands of persons annually lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways, a curiously apathetic public continues to go its way, probably wondering what is the real cause for our high toll of traffic deaths, but never getting much further than the wondering stage.

If the truth were known, every driver and pedestrian would realize that he or she holds the secret to the cause or prevention of traffic accidents. The secret is the individual attitude of the driver or pedestrian toward accidents and toward general courtesy on the road. If the attitude is bad, then accidental deaths and injuries increase. If the attitude improves and the individual becomes more careful and courteous on the road, then thousands of lives can be saved.

Unfortunately, the problem of poor public attitude toward accidents—which may also be termed carelessness—is a problem that has to be solved by each single individual. It cannot be completely solved by mass hypnotism, regulation or any other general device. All the efforts of today's safety and traffic experts in the three E's of traffic safety—Education, Enforcement, Engineering—are simply means by which poor attitude and carelessness on the part of the individual are minimized. In the final analysis each individual must do his or her part if our national traffic death toll is to be wiped out.

For example, all the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of little avail if the individual driver persists in the attitude that the spectre of accidents will not touch him and he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

Speed Biggest Factor

All safety specialists agree, and the National Conservation Bureau figures bear out their contention, that the greatest single cause for traffic fatalities is speed. We maintain that most speed limits are now too high for safety, but agree that the question of what is sane in speed limits depends somewhat upon street and road conditions. Since these conditions vary with terrain, denseness of traffic and especially with weather, it is up to the man behind the wheel to determine whether or not the existing speed limit prescribed by law is a safe driving speed.

Last year approximately 20 per cent of the drivers in this country involved in fatal automobile accidents were exceeding the speed limit. Another six to eight per cent were exceeding safe speeds although they were traveling under the statutory limit, and still another four per cent were driving too fast for existing conditions where no speed limit was indicated. Fatal accidents where speeding was a cause were almost twice as numerous in cities as they were in rural areas.

Consider the statement: "Exceeding safe speed although travelling under the statutory limit." When a driver, entering a long, straight and broad stretch of smoothly paved highway, sees a marker indicating the speed limit to be, say, 45 miles per hour, he must consider that traffic engineers have set that limit as the correct speed for safest and best driving conditions. If it is raining and the pavement is slippery, certainly the limit of statutory speed is not the safe speed. If it is snowing, or the pavement is coated with ice, the safe speed is far below the statutory allowance. The same is true if the road is crowded with holiday traffic. Hence, a driver can be considered speeding, especially in congested areas, when he is driving under 15 miles an hour. The realization of this leads inevitably to the conclusion that individual attitude is the criterion of traffic safety.

On Wrong Side

Next to speed, 1946 nationwide figures show that driving on the wrong side of the road, including passing, is the most frequent traffic violation. Driving under the influence of alcohol is rated as the next greatest cause for traffic fatalities. Following these come a long list of minor, but obviously careless, violations such as failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic officer's signal or stop signs, improper turning. All are reckless driving. They can be avoided if each individual cooperates.

Frequent and prolonged suspension of driving privileges for traffic violations would, it is agreed, prove a great aid in creating a wholesome respect for safety rules and law enforcement. But self-discipline on the part of the driver is the most important factor to be considered.

No matter how excellent the mechanical condition of an automobile may be, no matter how ideal weather and road conditions may be, there is a point where they lose their effectiveness, because their mastery depends upon the judgment and control of the person behind the wheel. The most reliable safeguard against accidents is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for law enforcement and the rights of others on the highway.

A solemn and religious regard to spiritual and eternal things is an indispensable element of all true greatness.

—Daniel Webster

Nothing can make a man truly great but being truly good, and partaking of God's holiness.

—Matthew Henry.

Preserve Time Is Here Again

It's preserve time again! With sugar back on the grocer's shelf the homemaker will want to stock the cupboard with some homemade jellies and other preserves.

Here are several tempting recipes:

Watermelon Preserves

Prepare fruit and soak 4 hours in lime water, made with ½ cup lime to water enough to cover fruit. Rinse thoroughly. Soak over night in clear water. Boil in clear water in covered vessel until can be pierced with straw. Change water once. Drop in syrup made of 1 pound of sugar to 1 pound of fruit, and enough water to make heavy syrup; also 3 cups Karo corn syrup. Ten minutes before done add 1 lemon cut thin and 1 big grated pineapple and 1 big can of chunk pineapple.

Pear Conserve

One peck pears; 3 small oranges; 2 quarts cranberries. Pare and core the pears and with the oranges put through a coarse vegetable chopper. Boil all together with 1 pint of water 20 minutes; sweeten with 9 pounds of sugar to 10 pounds of fruit. Boil 10 minutes longer, stirring carefully. Put in glasses, sealing as usual.

Strawberry Preserves

Stem and wash strawberries. Measure and take two-thirds as much sugar as berries. Shake sugar over and let stand over night. In the morning set over fire and let come to boil. Boil briskly 20 minutes. Turn off fire and stir often during the day. Bottle when cold.

To Can Pineapples

Peel the apples. Be sure to get dark eyes out. Make a syrup as thick as molasses. Cut the apple into dices, drop in the syrup and cook 20 minutes; can while hot.

Cranberry Jelly

One quart of cranberries; 2 cups of water; 2 cups of sugar; small piece of stick cinnamon. Boil together 20 minutes. Run through colander before boiling, turn in greased molds.

Blackberry Jam

One gallon of berries; 1 dozen soft peaches. Pick and wash the berries, peel and remove pits of peaches, mix with berries and mash thoroughly. Allow ¾ pound of sugar to 1 pound of fruit and cook slowly 30 minutes.

Fig Preserves

Three-fourths pound sugar to 1 pound of figs; enough water to start boiling. Cook until half done; add slices of lemon. When done, take out figs, boil down juice; put in jars and seal.

Cranberry Jelly

Wash 1 quart of cranberries; pour enough hot water over them to cover and boil until soft; stain; add 1 cup sugar to each cup of juice. Cook 15 or 20 minutes. Pour in mold.

Grapefruit Marmalade

Wash well 1 large grapefruit, 2 oranges and 2 lemons. Remove seeds and tough centers from fruit. Slice very thin. Add as much water as fruit (or twice as much water is better) and let it stand over night. Cook 20 minutes. Measure and add equal amount of granulated sugar and boil 20 minutes, or until it jellies. This makes 12 glasses.

Strawberry Preserves

Wash berries and drain before stemming. To 1 quart of berries, after the stems are removed, add 2/3 quart sugar. Let stand an hour or so until sugar and juice of berries form enough juice to cook. Boil steadily for 20 minutes. Set aside and whenever passing kettle stir berries. Can cold next day. Berries will not rise to top of can.

Watermelon Preserves

Six pounds ripe melon, 3 pounds sugar, 2 lemons cut in thin slices. Add a few small pieces of ginger rot. Cook as any other preserves.

Pear Marmalade

One gallon quartered pears; 1 quart cranberries; juice of 2 oranges. Run pears and cranberries through food chopper, then add one-half as much sugar as other fruit mixed together. Cook three-fourths of an hour and can in pint cans as a meat relish.

Perfect Strawberry Preserves

One pound select berries, lightly washed and drained in colander, while capping; 1 pound sugar. Use no water, but put sugar on the berries and set on the rear of stove until heat draws syrup, then boil furiously for 15 minutes. Skim thoroughly, put them in an earthen or china receptacle to cool until next day, with a towel over them, as a heavy cover will cause them to sweat. Put up second day, perfectly cold. Never cook over two or three pounds in same vessel.

Rear-engine Autos Favored By Youth

Youths who like to design and build model automobiles are showing increasing favoritism toward rear-engine cars, it was revealed recently at the regional judging of models entered in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competition.

A survey of entries in the regional judging, covering models from the states of Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Texas, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Minnesota, showed that approximately one out of three of the miniature cars is designed for engines in the rear. Officials of the Guild said that while many of the rear-engine designs would not be practical in actual construction, the designs indicate what youths believe the "car of tomorrow" will look like.

The survey also revealed several ingenious ideas which the youth of today believe may be incorporated into the car of tomorrow. At least three models have windows built solidly into the body, so designed to let air conditioning systems take care of ventilation.

One boy from a northern state attached a note saying his car was designed to be "high enough to clear big snow drifts." Another entry appeared to be an amphibian car, styled on the lines of the Navy "duck."

Improvement Seen In Fish Stringers

Creel census takers busy throughout the state seeking fishing information for the fish management and propagation section of the Ohio Division of Conservation report that the few warm days of late June and early July improved fish catches somewhat but stringers still aren't as heavy as most fishermen think they ought to be.

Lake St. Marys furnished the best crappie fishing of 17 lake waters checked. The report shows that fishermen averaged 1.31 fish per hour, made up of 70 per cent crappies and 20 per cent channel catfish.

Leesville Lake in Carroll County, where census records indicate that unusually good fishing has prevailed throughout the past spring, recently recorded an average of 1.3 fish caught per hour per fisherman. These included 94 per cent bluegills, four per cent bass, one per cent crappies, and one per cent other fish.

Hilltoppers Express Enthusiasm Over Proposed Establishment of Branch YMCA

The Hilltop Record, after setting forth the benefits and possibilities that a branch YMCA would afford for the people of this community, contacted several Hilltoppers this week and found that for the most part they are definitely in favor of such a project. Many of those contacted said they would be interested in seeing the tentative plans become permanent, and would be willing to take an interest in the YMCA after it is set up.

Mrs. Simon E. Norris, 2577 Steele-av, said, "I think it would be a wonderful addition to the Hilltop. I'm for anything that will better the community in any way."

Mrs. Ramey, 5 Belvidere-av, and Mrs. Clarence Kinnen, 176 S. Harris-av, both thought it would improve the Hilltop in several ways, provide boys and girls with a place to go near their homes for recreation, give clubs a meeting place, etc. They know of the work that the "Y" has sponsored before and believe that "it's alright if it's run by the 'Y'."

Jack W. Thomas, 170 N. Huron-av, said, "I'm interested in and would patronize anything that is good for the Hilltop." (The men interviewed seemed to be interested mostly in the athletic facilities which would be provided, but were in favor of the project providing activities for the women as well as themselves.)

Mrs. Leo Uridil, 106 Binns-blvd, is in favor of establishing the branch. Bringing the possibilities close to home, she said that the "Y" would no doubt provide club and community activities for her and her husband, besides the recreation facilities.

Mrs. Charles Fletcher, temporarily at 61 N. Huron-av, said, "I think it would be a splendid idea to have a branch 'Y' on the Hilltop and would be willing to devote some of my time in order to help secure it."

Mrs. Arthur E. Buchanan, 145 N. Chase-av, thought the "Y" would be a nice addition to the community. She said, "I am for anything that will be for everyone in the community."

Mrs. R. E. Hurrell, 209 N. Oakley-av, thinks a branch established on the Hilltop would be a very good idea. "With a family containing a college girl, a boy of five, my husband and me, there would probably be something each of us would enjoy."

Mrs. L. O. VanArsdale, 885 S. Hague-av, has been following the program and is very much in favor of a branch. She states, "I don't have the time to devote, but I think a YMCA would benefit teen-age boys and girls especially."

Mrs. H. W. Ell, 873 S. Richardson-av, said she thought the location of such a project would be very important. In her case, she lives below Sullivant-av, and her children are small, therefore unless the "Y" were located nearby they would be unable to participate in its activities.

Dr. R. J. Miller, 119 Binns-blvd: "I'm for it 100 per cent. It is the most logical thing for the Hilltop. It provides a program and supervision."

Mrs. Virgil Cline, 33 Powhatan-av: "My children have always patronized the 'Y' and I feel that more children should be encouraged to take part in the fine things the 'Y' offers young people."

Mrs. Arthur E. Currier, 591 Crescent-rd: "It is worth a great deal to the Hilltop. When I read about it the first time I wished we had had one here when I was younger. Certainly the West High Girl Reserves and Hi-Y can take advantage of it in a great number of ways."

Rev. Joseph Shellhaas, 64 Highland-av: "I'm certainly in favor of it. I consider the YMCA as one of the great arms of the Christian church. It would be helpful in the spiritualization of our people."

Charles P. Maus, 70 N. Westgate-av: "I think the plan is the smartest yet presented. It deserves the full support of the community."

W. E. Ferguson, 34 N. Brinker-av: "I think that with the new General Motors plant and the increasing industrial trend on the West Side, a branch is definitely needed. It would be a fine addition to the Hilltop."

Rev. Denver H. Smoot, 2394 Pomona-st: "I am very much in favor of a branch establishment, it is much needed and I think it should contain a program for all."

Dan Sheehan, Grand Knight of the K of C: "I think it would be a good thing for the Hilltop. If it will keep the children off the streets, it's a good idea."

People Not Hopped Up About The Primary

Recently, we thought it would be interesting to see if the public is aware there is a municipal political campaign in the offing and if so just how interested they are.

So we sent a young lady from our office out into the community to make a cross section poll. We have reasons to believe her findings should serve as a good indication there will be a light primary vote on Aug. 12.

The prevalence of an apathetic attitude was noted. Out of 114 homes contacted in scattered points over the Hilltop, only 24 had any definite ideas as to whom they would vote for. The other 90 were "undecided," not registered, did not know who the candidates were, or "never did vote in city elections."

Another 24 persons contacted expressed definite ideas of their choice in the campaign, each of the three candidates coming in for a share of the vote.

Unruly Juveniles Must Pay Up

A couple of weeks ago two large boys, both juveniles, partook of a few too many bottles of beer, and in high spirits picked a fight with a couple other young men in a local restaurant. While their energy was so high and their good sense at such a low point they took it upon themselves to attempt beating up an adult.

Result: Cops were called but merely warned the boys. This was not a satisfactory way to treat the situation for the opinion of the battered adult so he presented the case to juvenile authorities.

The boys were placed on probation and ordered to restore all damages to the parties they had accosted. Reports are that this will prove to be a rather costly half hour of fun.

In the meantime a local cafe will be investigated on the charge of selling liquor to minors. This is not the first instance this firm has been charged with such conduct. It is high time they investigate before they sell.

Use Local Names

Each week the Record receives publicity notices from various organizations that fail to mention names of local people or identify them as Hilltoppers.

It has long been a policy of the paper to confine our news columns to strictly local news in so far as possible. Therefore to be sure that such notices are used it is well to be certain that they contain some reference to Hilltop residents and list their addresses.

We welcome news from people of the community at all times. Please feel free to make use of this, your community paper.

1400 GM Workers Are Idle Here

The effects of the General Motors shutdown for one week in the automotive industry was felt on the Hilltop this week.

Approximately 1400 workers at the new Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant on Georgesville-rd were idle this week as a result of an enforced vacation brought on, officials said, by a general shortage of steel.

All hourly employees began the lay-off period at the end of the Friday shifts. Workers are to report back for work July 28.

James F. Conlon, resident manager of the big factory, said that the lay-off affected hourly rated employees only. Salaried personnel were at their jobs this week.

The lay-off here is part of the shutdown ordered in General Motors automobile plants throughout the country.

Teen Agers To Collect Paper

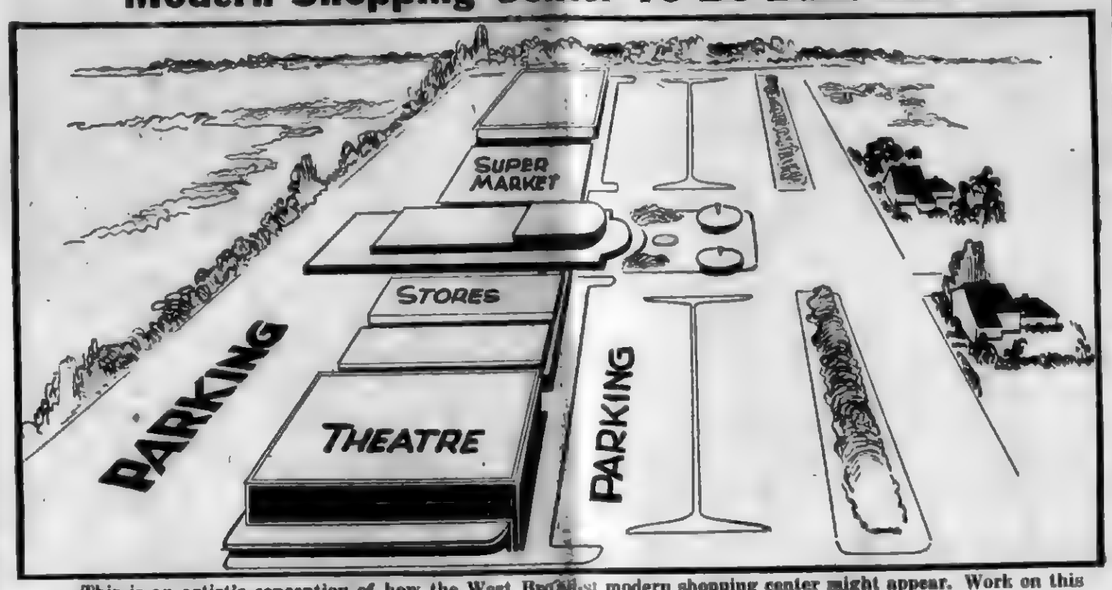
First of a series of paper collection drives will be conducted by the Hilltop Teen Club this coming Sunday. Proceeds will help to finance the group's weekly dance sessions. The first collection will be on Harris and Warren-ays from the north to the south extremes.

Each home in the given area will be visited by some teen-age member who will offer to tie up the papers and magazines and place them on the curb to be picked up later by others of the group in cars and trucks.

The need of additional funds for dances is caused by the small ballroom which, when filled to capacity at the club's low admission prices, does not provide enough revenue to pay the increased costs of band music and admission taxes. It is felt that the proceeds from each paper collection will make up the difference for dances over an eight-week period.

The newly formed photography school is in the third week of operation this week and the students are learning to take indoor pictures with flood and spot lights. Due to a last minute rush of students, many were turned away, and Mel Griggs, club adviser, announced that the same course will again be presented in the fall.

Twenty-five members of the teen-age board of directors met Tuesday night, presided over by Jake Jaques, club president. The main issues of the meeting were the coming paper drive, the party afterward, and the possibilities of a better dues collecting system.



Key's To Open Another Store

Key's 5c and 10c Stores announce the purchase of another store to be opened for business in about two weeks.

The store, formerly operated by Robbins 5c and 10c Stores, is located at Eleventh and Cleveland-avs. It is now being redecorated and new lighting fixtures are being installed.

Numerous items are being offered at greatly reduced prices by the Hilltop Key's store in the last three days of its 9c sale this week-end.

Modern Shopping Center To Be Built Here

This is an artist's conception of how the West Broad-st modern shopping center might appear. Work on this $1,500,000 development is expected to get under way next summer.

The Hilltop is scheduled for a $1,500,000 modern shopping center.

Don M. Casto, real estate operator at 145 N. High-st, told The Hilltop Record this week that a complete shopping center similar to one to be erected this fall on East Broad-st is planned for the Hilltop.

An option is now held on a West Broad-st site and it is expected that work on this project will get underway by next summer. He said he was not in a position to reveal the location at this time.

The East Broad-st center will be used as a pattern for similar projects to be built on the Hilltop and north and south of the city. Approximately 90 percent of the tenants will be the same in all of these centers.

Mr. Casto said that buildings and land will cost approximately one million dollars while an additional $500,000 will be invested in fixtures and equipment.

The outlying shopping centers will provide stores and services of every nature so that a shopper can purchase anything needed in a single trip. Ample parking space will be provided in the area surrounding the stores to accommodate 600 cars.

850-foot Frontage

The building will have a frontage of 850 feet and will provide space for 20 stores, including a department store, grocery, dairy products, women and men's wear, flower shop, drug store, theater, bowling alleys, a farm store with farm implements, a gift shop, delicatessen and others.

The modern shopping center would be another step in the development of the West Broad-st area. Recently the F & Y Construction Co. started work on a modern drive-in theater large enough to handle 750 cars at a showing. It is being built on a 12-acre tract one block west of Wilson-rd. Other improvements will be added to this drive-in theater later on it was said by officials of the firm.

Tax Books To Close Saturday

Franklin County taxpayers were warned by Treasurer C. B. Norris this week that the county's tax books will close Saturday. Checks received in the Monday mail will be credited, however, he said.

A penalty of 2½ per cent for each month delinquent will be assessed those failing to meet the deadline, he warned.

Two Hilltoppers On NYC Train Which Hit Car

Two Hilltoppers were in the cab of the New York Central engine that struck and killed a Plain City woman last Wednesday night.

Joseph Gilliland, 228 N. Warren-av, the engineer, and William Krimmel, 271 S. Ogden-av, the fireman, were bringing the passenger train in from Toledo when it struck an auto driven by Mrs. Flora Lewis of Plain City.

The accident occured at the Kileville crossing in Rt. 161 about four miles east of Plain City. The woman was thrown about 10 feet from the auto when the train struck the rear of the car. The gasoline tank exploded and caught fire, police reported.

Gas Truck Afire At City Limits

A blazing fire atop a gasoline tank truck, ignited when a spark from a static electricity drag-chain ignited gasoline escaping from an overflow vent, was quickly extinguished late Tuesday evening by city firemen and employees of Standard Oil Co., 3545 W. Broad-st.

Battalion Fire Chief Ralph Cassell said the truck, driven by Melvin E. Hockman, 456 S. Powell-av, was just leaving the station when the fire broke out. It was attempting to cross a strip of W. Broad-st, near the station's entrance, which is under repair. Chief Cassell said there was no loss report.

Rat Derby Will Close This Week

Finishing touches to the Hilltop Rat Derby were being taken care of this week as the drive drew to a close.

More than 76 different localities on the Hilltop reported need of rat elimination and in all but a few instances the committee has made assignments of these spots for investigation and proper placing of bait boxes containing A[illegible] rat poison.

Rainy weather during the past week delayed the placing of the bait boxes in many instances and it was thought that the drive was not as successful as it might have been in better weather.

No exact reports will be available as to the number of rats eliminated but it is believed several hundred less of the rodents inhabit the community than was true a week ago.

Several persons continue to call the Record office inquiring as to the campaign and the committee has decided that anyone else desiring to have rats eliminated will be provided the proper instruction and given the free poison by calling in person at the Record office. However, they will have to be responsible for proper placing of the bait traps from here on. This offer of free rat poison will be extended through this week only.

Any workers in the drive who have not yet placed their bait boxes are urged to do so at once and to be sure that the bait placed in the box is in fine enough particles that the male rat can carry it to the den to the female and young ones and that fresh bait is placed in the box nightly for three nights before the Antu is sprinkled in it.

Anyone finding dead rats in his alley or nearby is urged to handle them with gloves because of the germs they carry and to see that they are either burned or disposed of in well covered garbage containers.

Particles of food remaining in the bait boxes should be wrapped in paper and disposed of after it has been exposed for two nights to the rats.

Girls, Boys May Attend Indian Camp

Due to numerous requests from parents, the City Recreation Department has announced that the fourth and final camping trip, beginning Aug. 4, at Indian Village Camp will be open to both boys and girls who are 8-15 inclusive.

It had previously been announced that only boys 12-15 could attend this period. Registration for the final period must be made by July 31. Physical examinations will be given on that date.

The camp is located on the west side of the Scioto River at Griggs Dam.

The City Recreation Department's own radio program, heard at 12:45 each Saturday on WCOL, will be host to all West Side playground leaders this Saturday, in a "Know Your Playground Leader" series. Parents are urged to listen to this interview of local playground supervisors in order to become better acquainted with the playground leaders and their plans for the remainder of the season's activities.

A gala celebration in connection with the dedication of the lights on the West High football field is being planned by West High Boosters Club with the cooperation of other local organizations.

Dick Francis, president of the club, has called a meeting of the organization for this Friday evening at 8 o'clock in room 101 at West High School, at which time there will be a demonstration of the new scoreboard. Anyone on the Hilltop is invited to attend the demonstration.

Plans for the celebration will be discussed at this meeting and a committee appointed to complete the details.

It is hoped the celebration may be held at the first league game with Central.

A committee from the Hilltop Business Association to assist in the celebration has been appointed by Dr. R. J. Miller, president. Clarence Story is chairman, assisted by Marvin and Bill Southworth, Curtis G. Wilcox, Paul Leighninger and Bill Coon.

Work of installing the lights of the field was being continued this week. Practically all the equipment has been received and is on the ground. One hundred reflectors costing $35 each will be used. The plant when completed will provide West with one of the best lighted fields in the state.

It was learned this week that David Randall will assist the football staff this fall.

About 20 pets and their proud young masters were the center of attraction at Glenwood's recent pet show. Judges chosen from the spectators gave ribbons to the winning animals.

Jim Hammond's "Pooch," a huge black and brown dog, took the blue ribbon in the largest class. Jim and "Pooch" live at 150 Belvidere-av. Bonnie Hedges has a first ribbon for her four-week-old kitty, winner in the smallest class. Bonnie's address is 1945 W. Broad-st.

Mary Margaret Nuetzel Becomes Bride Of Mr. Fred Nataly At Ceremony On July 18

Mrs. Fred Nataly

Escorted by her father up the candlelit aisle of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Miss Mary Margaret Nuetzel became the bride of Mr. Fred J. Nataly on Sunday, July 13, at 4:30 p. m. The marriage vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms, cedar and two seven-branched candelabra. Rev. Elmer J. Klamfoth officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Henry Kock of Long Beach, Cal. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Nuetzel, 2930 Clime-rd, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nataly of Lowville, N. Y.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white nylon marquisette over taffeta with short puffed sleeves and a cathedral train. Her long veil of illusion was edged with lace matching that on the sleeves of her gown. She carried a white Bible, upon which was a white orchid. Streamers of white satin ribbon tied with sprigs of stephanotis hung in shower arrangement from the orchid.

Preceding the bride to the altar were bridesmaids Mrs. Harry Sage and Mrs. James Willis, who were attired in identical gowns of ice blue marquisette with hats to match, carrying bouquets of Better Times Gladmellias. Mrs. Jack Alkire as matron of honor wore a gown of Sweet Rose marquisette with hat to match and also carried Better Times Gladmellias. The flower girl, little Cathie Smith, wore a dress and bonnet of white marquisette and carried a basket of red roses.

Miss Jo Ann Helschman, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. E. J. Klamfoth, gave a recital of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and sang the Lord's Prayer immediately following the exchange of vows.

Best man for Mr. Nataly was Mr. Jack Alkire and the ushers were Mr. James Willis and Mr. William John Brown.

Mrs. Nuetzel, mother of the bride, chose a gown of pastel blue with hat to match and wore a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the groom, Mrs. John Nataly, wore navy blue with a corsage of white carnations.

A reception to which 175 guests were invited was held at the Nuetzel home following the ceremony.

The bride and groom will enjoy a brief wedding trip, after which they will go to their home in Albany, N. Y., where Mr. Nataly is attending college.

The new Mrs. Nataly graduated from West High School and attended Ohio State University School of Nursing, nursed at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, before the war and was an evacuation nurse in the European Theatre for 19 months. Since her return to Columbus she has been a nurse at the Battelle Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maus, 76 N. Westgate-av, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geshwilm, 421 S. Terrace-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fletcher, former Hilltoppers, of 1235 E. Rich-st, returned Saturday after spending a two weeks' vacation at Cleveland's Hotel on the Muskoka Lakes in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Everman and children, Marjorie, Tommy and Buddy, 2970 Parkside-rd, returned Friday from a trip to Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Canada.

Wm. K. Miller Attends Lutheran Meet At Chicago

William K. Miller

Representing the Central Ohio Circuit of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, William K. Miller, 2734 Valleyview-dr, a member of Concordia Lutheran Church, is attending the church's centennial convention at the Palmer House, Chicago, July 20 to 29.

The paramount business of the convention will center around the home and foreign missions program of the church.

Request will be made for appropriations amounting to $5,000,000 from 11 theological schools and seminaries and two teachers' seminaries. Lutherans of the Missouri Synod have a nation-wide system of 1310 private Christian day schools with an enrollment of more than 80,000 children. A number of high schools in larger centers are maintained. An association within the synod fosters Valparaiso University. Some 3600 pastors are serving more than 5000 congregations and preaching stations with a membership of a million and one-half.

A program of world relief for the year 1947-48 asking $2,500,000 will be presented at the convention. A total of more than $79,000,000 for the support and expansion of the church's work at home and abroad was given last year by Lutherans of Missouri Synod.

The delegates will consider proposals for furthering unity with other Lutheran bodies in the United States. According to a statement by Dr. J. W. Behnken, president of Synod, special emphasis will be placed on the matter of Lutheran unity rather than on mere Lutheran union.

The Lutheran Laymen's League underwrites the Lutheran Hour program heard every Sunday over the Mutual Broadcasting System. This program, costing more than a million dollars a year, is heard over almost 1000 stations.

Among the many Hilltop residents who are spending vacation time at Buckeye Lake this week are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parr and children, Nancy, and Jean of 64 N. Harris-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hamilton, 2804½ Sullivant-av, whose cottage is located near Cranberry Marsh at the lake.

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

"Look," said an acquaintance of mine the other day, "I'm a firm believer in insurance. I think it's a wonderful idea for people who have their future plans cut and dried and who know just how they are going to be situated this time next year. But how can I choose the type of insurance that I should carry when my plans are all so indefinite? Why should I saddle myself with a policy that may be entirely unsuited to my needs in a year or so?"

"No reason in the world," I retorted, "But how would you feel about a policy which is really four policies in one, with five years allowed for deciding which one suits you best?"

"You can lead me to it," he said, "If there is such a plan I'd like to get in on it while I'm still young and healthy."

The Adjustable Policy IS such a plan. For the first five years the assured is covered for the full face amount of the policy. At the end of this period he can choose a Limited Life Policy, an Endowment Policy, or a Whole Life Policy for a considerably increased amount. He can, if he prefers it, continue the policy on the Whole Life basis for the original face amount but at a much reduced premium. Thus, at no additional cost, and without evidence of health, the assured can limit his period for paying premiums or have the policy mature to his own benefit, increase the amount of insurance or decrease the amount of his premiums.

Could anything be more adaptable? Why not obtain further details of this plan-of-many-purposes? Call me today. You will incur no obligation, and I shall be glad to be of service to you.

Miss Leigh McCloud, sister of Mrs. Burns, Pasadena-av, and Carol Burns have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wacker of Cleveland. The Wackers spent last week-end at the Burns home when they brought Carol home. She is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Dittner, her mother's sister, in Centerburg, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox of Buena Vista-av, Carol and Sue Terry, with Melvin Cox and family, who are visiting her from Texas, visited the zoo last Thursday. Melvin and his "gang" have a regular "spot" on Station WBAP, Fort Worth, Tex. His sponsor is the Burris Milling Co., a large grain corporation of the Southwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox of Buena Vista-av entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carol Hubbard one evening last week on their way to visit her mother in Reynoldsburg and then going on to Denver, Colo., to visit Mrs. Hubbard's sister. Mr. Hubbard is an accomplished violinist. The visiting Cox's are spending their time between Rome and the Datzes of 497 S. Burgess-av, the mother of Mrs. Melvin Cox. Mrs. Hugh Cox took her first ride this week in her son's plane. She was thrilled, since she had said she was never going up with any one. To use her expression, the world below looked like an immense "beautiful quilt."

Mr. and Mrs. Cox of Buena Vista entertained Sunday evening with a family party for Mr. and Mrs. George Clapsaddle of Mansfield. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Venne (Mary Cox), Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cox and son and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Cox and daughter, Judy, of Powell, completed the family.

Grandma Sherer, 77 years old, who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. William Unglaube, Maple-dr, died last Friday. She was born in Germany, but was "Grandma" to all the little children who played around her lawn.

Rev. and Mrs. Elwood Rose of Columbia Heights Church are vacationing in Colorado. They are accompanying Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Rose's mother, to her home in Fowler, Colo. Next Sunday, in the absence of Rev. Rose, Rev. George Evans, who specializes in social work at Goodwill Industries, will speak in the morning at Columbia Heights Church. Rev. Rose will preach at Fowler Baptist Church next Sunday.

When five birthdays and one wedding anniversary happened on three consecutive dates, it called for a small family party, which was held at the home of Mrs. W. G. Lamb, Buena Vista-av. Mrs. Lamb and son, Billjean, was the 21st, David Sheets the 20th, and the birthday of Tim Lamb the 19th, as well as the sixth anniversary of the marriage of David and Edna Miller. Elton Kaderly was the fifth to have a birthday in July.

Back From Hospital

Dan C. Work of Stockport, Ohio, son of Mrs. Anna M. Work, 149 N. Roys-av, has been released from the hospital following five weeks of confinement after a fall at the Freuhauf Trailer Co., where he was working. He suffered broken arms, left foot and ankle.

Parents Assn. Make Fall Plans

The Hilltop Parents Association met at the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church Thursday July 17. The president, Edisor Wood, presided.

Directors Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw and Kenneth Williams reported that a pre-school kindergarten will open when regular school begins in September. Ruth Perkins and Elizabeth Reid will be the teachers.

The Monday 4 p. m. knitting class, Wednesday 7 p. m. knitting and sewing class and 7:30 Thursday leadership training class are progressing. Plans are being formulated, with Mr. Ellis of the YMCA, for boys' activities.

A lending library has been established. Books may be obtained through the librarian, Mrs. Amelia Prillerman.

The association is presenting the Bethany Presbyterian Choir in concert Friday, Aug. 15: director, William Anderson. Each member is asked to secure four patrons. Delbert Prillerman, Sr., chairman of the ways and means committee, is in charge.

Five new members were accepted at the meeting, making a total of 64. All parents and interested persons are invited to become members. Next meeting will be held Aug. 14 at the church.

Hilltoppers Enjoy Month's Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. James Mackey, daughter Irene and E. A. Nunery, Mrs. Mackey's father, have just returned from a month's trip through the West, where they visited many points of interest. Several detours were encountered because of the floods in certain sections of the country.

A spot which proved of much interest was the Will Rogers Shrine and burial place in Claremore, Okla., as well as the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. These caves extend 850 feet into the ground and it takes four and one-half hours to travel through the numerous rooms. There is a huge lunch room at the 750 foot level.

The Mackeys visited the Petrified Forest, Grand Canyon, Painted Desert and Boulder Dam. While crossing the Mojave Desert on their way to Pasadena, Cal., they were in a severe sand storm. In Pasadena they saw the Griffith Observatory and the famous Rose Bowl. In Los Angeles they dined at Clifton's South-Sea Island Restaurant where it is said no one is ever turned away hungry. Many unfortunates are fed there daily. They also had breakfast at the well known Tom Breneman Restaurant.

Mr. Mackey and Mr. Nunery enjoyed some deep sea fishing and caught 11 barracudas and several halibut. While in California they went to Catalina Island and saw the under-sea gardens from the largest glass-bottom boat in the world.

Returning to the East the party stopped at Salt Lake City and saw the Mormon Tabernacle, and also visited Yellowstone National Park. They also went to the summit of Pike's Peak, 14,110 feet above sea level, upon which was still lying six feet of snow.

While enroute the Mackey party visited with Mrs. Mackey's aunt in Pan Handle, Tex., and her uncle in Pasadena, Calif.

Housewife—Isn't that expensive for a little pillow?
Sales Clerk — Well, you see, ma'am, down is up.

Brother, Sister Are Reunited Here

A brother and sister of a family of 10 children were reunited in a Hilltop home last week after a separation of 41 years.

At the age of 26 Edward S. Nichols left home to become an apprentice to a watchmaker in Philadelphia. After the death of the mother, the other nine children drifted apart. "Eddie" traveled all over the United States, learning diamond setting and watchmaking, and members of the family would hear from him occasionally when he would move on to a better job in another city.

Many months ago after Mrs. Lloyd had moved to Florida, she began to search for her brother and, hearing from an Aunt Kitty that he was in Chicago, she wrote and asked if he used to live in Washington. He replied, "Yes, I am your roving brother."

The 66-year-old, gray-haired, prosperous jewelry store owner and his sister promised to keep in close touch with each other. Mr. Nichols declares his roving spirit is over.

Local School Will Teach Drivers

For the teen-ager whose birthday is near, auto driving instructions can be his or her gift.

The Easy Method Driving School, located at 272 N. Guilford-av, offers this educational and lifelong gift by way of suggestion.

The school maintains licensed professional men as instructors, who are patient and courteous. They are capable of teaching anyone the proper methods of driving, not only when cruising safely on a wide highway, but when confronted with a real traffic hazard as well.

Each training car is unique in that it is a standard model, equipped with two steering wheels, two clutches, two brakes and two foot accelerators. Dual controls give the student more confidence, and assure them that in case of an emergency, the instructor can take full control of the car.

The school, established in 1933, has branches in principal cities. Further information may be obtained by contacting Robert Greaves, JO. 2501.

Green Claims City Must Aid Neighbors

Columbus and the other communities in Franklin County must work in close harmony to settle their mutual problems, Floyd F. Green, candidate for mayor, declared last week.

"The official attitude of the city of Columbus now appears to be that Columbus owes nothing to the other communities in our rapidly growing Metropolitan Columbus area," Mr. Green said at a workers' meeting of the Metropolitan "Green-for-Mayor" Committee at the Southern Hotel headquarters.

"We must recognize that Columbus is the mother city of Franklin County. Columbus can and must help suburban communities get better services such as water, sewers and adequate fire protection. The suburban communities likewise can be very helpful to the city of Columbus."

Mr. Green proposed these steps:

1. Frequent conferences with mayors and councilmen of the 21 incorporated cities and villages of Franklin County to discuss their problems.
2. Meeting of dependent heads of both the city of Columbus and Franklin County governments to exchange ideas and work out their mutual problems.
2. Working committees of these officials to work out specific problems such as the extension of water, sewers and fire protection to outlying communities.

"During my previous administration from 1940 to 1943 one of our major problems was organizing the entire metropolitan area for civilian defense and for other contributions to the war effort," Mr. Green recalled. "We met these wartime problems head-on, sat down with officials of the suburban communities in a genuinely cooperative spirit. The result was that Greater Columbus had one of the finest records in the nation for wartime cooperation.

"This same spirit of co-operation is needed again to meet the problems of the post-war years. It is unfortunate that the present mayor (Mayor Rhodes) has taken the attitude, and frequently stated very bluntly, that suburban communities will have to join Columbus officially if they want the services Columbus has to offer.

"It is my opinion that before we can ask anyone to join Columbus we must first put our own house in order. We must have a sound financing program, effective zoning and definite plans for our future development as a great city.

"Above all the city administration must demonstrate that Columbus is a partner of her neighboring communities instead of their lord and master."

Vet Candidate For Clerk's Post

Ted Hysell

Ted Hysell, a World War II veteran, is seeking nomination to the office of clerk of municipal court. It was in this office that he spent seven years, before entering the U. S. Army, as a deputy under the late Arthur J. Blosser. It is his intention to operate the office on a 24-hour basis and in the same manner as it was operated under Blosser.

For many years Hysell has been active in civic and lodge work. He is a member of the American Legion, Amvets, Southgate Lodge, Scottish Rite, Aladdin Shrine, Agonis Club and War Veterans Non-Partisan League.

Hysell has been a lifelong resident of Columbus, is married and has one son, Ted, Jr.

Susan Johnson Lands Eight Week Contract At Radio City Music Hall

Susan Johnson

To sing as soloist eight weeks at one of the most important theaters in America is the honor won by a gifted young Hilltop soprano, Susan Johnson. Her contract calls for a midsummer engagement of that length at Radio City Music Hall in New York City.

Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson, 49 N. Wayne-av, is a pupil in voice of Dorothy Humphreys, well known Columbus soprano, who took her to New York several weeks ago and arranged the auditions that led to this honor.

In May, Susan sang the lead role in "Naughty Marietta" with the Columbus Light Opera Club and in the same month won an all-Ohio audition contest for singers, her entry going in from WBNS. She sang in the 1947 Hilltop minstrel.

Muskingum Lake Popular

Anglers of Ohio and throughout the nation are looking with renewed interest upon Ohio's new lake development increasing the opportunities of bending a rod on a fighting game fish.

The attention of rod and reel experts is especially directed to the chain of 10 lakes in the Muskingum Conservancy District, where free public fishing rights are maintained by the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources. Soil and forest conservation around the 16,000 acres of water, plus wise fish management by the Division of Conservation has brought about fishing of sufficient excellence to win the acclaim of national outdoors magazines.

In an article to appear in the September issue of Outdoors Magazine, the sensational fishing which anglers enjoyed at the lakes this spring will be explained in a brief history of the district's activities.

The article states that the citizens of the Muskingum Valley organized the Muskingum Conservancy District to manage the recreational resources created by the new lakes. They purchased much of the land around the lake and employed the best foresters to manage the hardwoods that remained and to plant new forests of pine trees.

"The best farming practices went into effect to conserve and restore eroded hillsides in the district. What you see now is the result of land saved from eventual complete destruction and restored to a fisherman's and hunter's paradise," the magazine will tell its half-million readers scattered throughout the nation.

The article winds up its historical feature by saying that clear water and plenty of the right kinds of under-water vegetation had caused bass, crappies and bluegills to multiply rapidly.

Grocers Feature Snow Crop Frozen Foods

Hilltop food stores are featuring a new line of frozen foods that is rapidly gaining popular favor with the housewife, the new Snow Crop foods.

Paul E. Miller, 528 Columbian-av, is district sales manager for this branch of the J. Fred Schmidt Packing Co., local distributors.

The line is handled locally by Tiny's Market, Hardy's Market, Columbian Avenue Market, Sullivant Avenue Market, Sparks-Kent Super Market, Broad-Warren Market, Chubby Distelhorst Market, Fox Food Market, Penfield Market, Boetcher & Gochenour, and Rader's Market.

One of the most popular items in the list of frozen foods is the new Snow Crop quick frozen concentrated orange juice. The contents of a six-ounce can make a pint and a half of orange juice. The French fried potatoes are also popular.

Local dealers are carrying numerous items in the line, including asparagus, green beans, lima beans, broccoli, cauliflower, corn, peas, spinach, apricots, blackberries, boysenberries, cantaloupe, scoops, cherries, peaches, strawberries, rhubarb and mixed fruit cocktail.

Marshall Plan Is Discussed By Geo. Tarbutton

George Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, a Democratic candidate for city council, recently addressed the Bexley Lions Club. His talk was on the Marshall Plan.

"The Bexley Lion Tamer," official publication of the club commented on his talk in the following manner:

"George Tarbutton, one of our promising young lawyers, was the speaker and his talk was on the Marshall Plan. Mr. Tarbutton is a member of the Hilltop Kiwanis and is campaigning for city council in Columbus. His talk was very interesting; he knew his subject and was able to explain quite a lot that the average layman fails to see when reading about the plan in the papers, or hearing it discussed on the air."

The Hilltop Continues To Grow

Announcement this week that a $1,500,000 shopping center is being planned for the West Broad-st area helps focus attention on the rapid growth that the Hilltop has and is experiencing. Knowing the community as we do today, it would be difficult for anyone to foresee the growth that will take place in this area in even the next decade.

The Hilltop would have continued to grow at a rapid pace as a result of the natural growth of the city as a whole but the coming of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt factory on Georgesville-rd did much to accelerate that growth.

Already there are indications of several new developments in the West Broad-st area. Just how soon some of them will get under way is anyone's guess but present plans for this complete shopping center call for work to start in at least a year. A modern drive-in theater with other improvements to follow is already well under way. An oil company will erect a building for offices and warehouse as soon as building conditions are more favorable. Other developments are known to be in the planning stage.

Quite naturally all of this industrial development is being accompanied by increased activity in the residential building field. Hundreds of new homes have already been completed and additional hundreds will be built as fast as materials and labor permit. One interesting phase of this residential expansion is the erection of numerous two and four-family apartment buildings. For the first time the Hilltop is getting a sizeable number of apartment houses in comparison to single dwelling units.

So whether or not we are ready for it—the Hilltop is moving ahead.

Our Readers Say

Personally and on behalf of the Girl Scout Day Camp Committee, I wish to thank all who worked to make our session this year such a success in spite of bad weather.

To the John Burroughs PTA we extend thanks for providing funds for our transportation.

We are grateful to the Hilltop Business Association for funds for our nurse and health and safety program.

We wish to thank the Joyce Shoe Co. for leather that added so much to our craft program.

We wish to thank the drivers of the bus, Mr. John Nichols and Mr. Robert Witcher, for their courteous cooperation in taking the girls to and from the site.

Thanks are also extended to Mr. Joe Rinehart for delivering the milk to the site, making it possible for each camper to have ice cold milk with her lunch.

To all mothers and fathers who helped in setting up and running the camp we extend our grateful appreciation.

Last but not least we wish to thank Mr. Ed. Cline for the use of his ground, and the Boy Scouts of Troop 54 for their lodge.

HILL TOPICS —by P.W.—

Television is again "just around the corner" for Columbus. I learned that last Wednesday at a dinner meeting of all RCA dealers and radio men of the Columbus area.

The best estimates given at that meeting indicate that televised programs will be put on the air in Columbus "late in 1946." So don't throw that present radio away yet because you fear it is out of date.

Following the dinner at the Fort Hayes Hotel we were taken by special buses with police escort to Morehouse-Martens to see a television show put on by the RCA-Victor Television Caravan.

Of course television has been "just around" the proverbial corner for several years now. I recall witnessing a similar demonstration at the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. sometime in 1940 or 1941.

Although the sale of television receivers in the east has been pushed since 1933 there are only 19,000 sets in use at present. Compare that to 70,000,000 radios in American homes and you can see that radio is not yet in the horse and buggy stage.

Seated next to Hilltopper Bud Sweeney at the banquet I picked up a few views of radio people concerning it. Bud has been in radio a good many years and he says that radio people are not too alarmed at the encroachment of television as yet.

Said Bud, "You listen to the same voice on your radio day after day and think nothing of it. But suppose you had to look at the same mug every time you turn on your television set. It would get a little tiresome."

That about sums up one of the big problems of television—the tremendous cost of producing shows that would be sufficiently new or interesting to hold the attention of the listener (or should we say looker?) At the present time it is used primarily for special events coverage on such things as world series ball games, big time gridiron classics, boxing matches, etc.

Some day you may be able to witness the Ohio State-Michigan football game from a comfortable chair in your living room without the rain and the sleet in your face.

Don Rice, Westgate Electric manager, was one of those interviewed before the television cameras during the demonstration. Other local people seen at the dinner were John Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Batty George of Kiehl; Ed Witherspoon and Eddie Pharion of the Better Home Center; Russel Seely and his mother, Anna Seely, of Seely Hardware; and Forest Smith of Westgate Electric.

Final Offensive Begins

The great spring offensive which began in April, 1945, was the beginning of the end of the Germans. Their defenses crumbled completely before the tremendous allied machine. The final blow had been long in coming but after it struck, the enemy was so thoroughly crushed that it could no longer offer effective resistance. The Germans were defeated before the Rhine. The crossing of the big river was an anticlimax.

Fuller

While the Seventh and Third Armies were chewing up the Saar, I was fortunate enough to get in on a deal that took me to Marseilles for 3 days and then a two week sojourn through southern France as a train guard. The guard party was five in number and we each had one car to watch. We lived in our cars for the entire trip. The precious commodity that had to be watched so closely was the officers' whisky ration for Seventh Army. If anything happened to as much as one bottle of precious Scotch, we would have been better off in Siberia.

Since our mission was of such great importance, we were treated like kings. After leaving the outfit, we spent the first night in a rest hotel in Nancy. From there an electric train, which was more like a streetcar, whipped us to Dijon, where we boarded a sleeper for the overnight trip to Marseilles. Being accustomed to the more conventional "40 and 8's," the sleeper was an out of this world luxury.

In Marseilles, we were accommodated at another rest hotel and given complete liberty for three days. We had to report at the railyards for the loading operations at the completion of this time.

Axle Trouble

The whisky was counted by a high ranking officer, then boarded up. The guard had a narrow area between the doors in which to set up his cot, and store his rations and water. We were each given a small gasoline stove to cook our meals.

We pulled out of Marseilles in the late evening. The following morning found us halted in a little town called Rognac (I remember it because it rhymes with cognac.). Rognac was eight kilometers north of Marseilles. In 12 hours, we had traveled five miles. A worried GI woke me and said that the car I was in had to come off the train. Smoke was coming from the left rear wheel. Sand in the packing around the axle had caused a bearing to burn out. All five cars of whisky were set off on a siding while the "efficient" French set about to make repairs. It took them another 12 hours before we were set to roll. Ten miles up the track the same thing happened again. It was another day before we were ready to move. Twice after repacking the box, the French repairmen or someone else around the railyards would throw a handful of pebbles into the packing and the resulting friction caused the trouble. When we got wise and checked the packing ourselves, we eliminated the difficulty. It took nearly four days to travel the first 100 miles but after that we moved along without incident until we arrived at Luneville. I never could figure out why an attempt was made to sabotage our cars. Possibly a fifth columnist saw they were heavily guarded and thought the contents to be of vital importance.

Take Train To Germany

In Luneville we had to wait several days on a siding while the rest of Seventh Army whisky was loaded on from the warehouse there. We heard that we had to accompany the train into Germany. The destination was Frankenthal on the west bank of the Rhine. The final phase of the trip was the most breathtaking. The train rushed along through northern Alsace and through the lower Saar over hastily repaired track. We never went faster than 10 miles per hour and on a couple of occasions the train stopped while a car was put back on the rails after it had slid off. We passed through one ruined railyard after another. The last stop in France was at Saar Union, but we might as well have been in Germany. All the signs were in Deutsch and German speaking trainmen operated the switches. The skeleton railyard at Saarguemines was the first stop inside Germany. It was filled with supply trains but most of them were being unloaded there. Ours moved on. As darkness was falling we moved into the forlorn and almost absolutely destroyed destroyed railyard at Kaiserlautern, which had been an important communication hub in the center of the Saar Basin.

Kaiserlautern was sinister appearing. The gaping craters and black formless wrecks of buildings attested to the destructive ability of the Allied air force.

The train went on to Frankenthal that night, the first supply train to be taken over that section of track after dark. They sent it on because it was so well guarded. We were reinforced by several regular guards. I slid my door open a crack. As we rumbled along through rolling forest country, I watched the darkness close in on the tall trees and quaint country dwellings that dotted the landscape. In a few hours we would be at the Rhine.

Sensation at 9!

Pierino Gamba, 9-year-old son of a pastry shopkeeper of Rome, Italy, is the musical sensation of the continent—he received an ovation that even the musicians joined when he conducted the Lamoureux Symphony Orchestra in Paris, where he's shown at his musical chores.

Silence is the safest respondent for all the contradiction that arises from impertinence, vulgarity, or envy.

SUNDAY LESSON

These Who Depart From Life Wisdom Come Into Ruin

The International Sunday School Lesson for July 27
Scripture: Proverbs 1:1-5; 3:13-18; 9:9-10; James 1:5

IT is one thing to praise and commend wisdom, but quite another thing to practice it. And the most unwise thing that can happen is to abandon wisdom once you have found it.

This is forcefully illustrated in the history of King Solomon, reputedly the author of the Book of Proverbs, and reputedly "the wisest man who ever lived."

At least two great and noble incidents are recorded of Solomon, and if all his life and action had been in accordance with these he would surely have deserved the fullest of his reputation for wisdom.

The one incident was the dream recorded in I Kings 3:5-12, in which, asked to choose whatever he desired from the Lord, he spoke in deep humility and asked above all things for an understanding heart to exercise good judgment, and rule his people well.

But the other outstanding incident was his prayer at the dedication of the Temple, recorded in I Kings 8, and among the noblest and most beautiful things in the entire literature of religion.

Perhaps, like some addresses of other kings and rulers, it was written for him by some religious leader of saintly spirit and prophetic insight. But by delivering it Solomon made it his own, and if he had continued in the latter and spirit of that prayer he might have gone down to history as famous for his goodness and wisdom as he is for the outward splendor and magnificence of his reign.

Instead Solomon took to himself many wives. Not content with the building of the Temple he built for himself. In a great palace he surrounded himself with riches and luxury for which the people paid in oppressive taxes.

Solomon in the early part of his career stands as a fine example and an exhortation to wisdom. But in the latter part he stands as a solemn warning of what happens even to a great man when he departs from wisdom.

Miss Wold Soloist

Eleanor Wold will be soloist at the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 10:30. Miss Wold has just returned from New York to spend a month's vacation with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Wold.

Modern Poetry

By Esther Weakley

UNLESS YOUR SOUL IS FIRE
Unless your soul is fire as his is fire
Oh, leave the poet to his high desire.

His midnight rapture, stars within his hands,
He waits . . . and longs for one who understands;

Who loves the mad, sweet way the poet goes
To blossom in his heart art's full-blown rose,

Unless your soul is fire as his is fire
Oh, leave the dreamer to his high desire.
Clyde Protsman, in his book, UNLESS YOUR SOUL IS FIRE.

RED WAGONS
I've taken down my hair,
And I've put on my socks.
And I'm wild as a colt,
Say our neighbors for blocks.

I'm twelve and not twenty
So let them all frown.
Who wants to be grown-up
With the circus in town!
Julia Savarese, in her book, DREAMING SPIRES.

CIRCLE
Bare branch with five buds
Red as warm lips;
Brown branch with five leaves
Five green birds flying;
Gray branch with gold leaves,
Five ancient books
Of brittle yellow paper.
Strong fingers of wind pass by,
I see again
A bare dry branch.
Charlotte Louise Groom, in her book, SUN UP, SUN DOWN.

SUMMER TIME
Time was joy when I awoke
For it was summer by the clock—
The dial mirrored dancing leaves
And sunlight and a hollyhock.

Your Precious Jewels
ARE YOURS ALWAYS — IF PROTECTED

With the same good taste that guides her choice of jewels, the modern woman appropriately protects their concentrated value.

Especially, this day and age, she knows her jewels require protection at all times and in all places . . . at home, on the street, while traveling . . . from burglary, theft, holdup, fire, dropping out of stones, et cetera.

Her jewels are protected therefore by jewelry insurance against loss from practically all hazards.

Reminder Of The Early Days

In my office I have the "stick" used by S. J. Westlake to set up the type for the first issue of The Hilltop Record over 30 years ago. It is a gift from Mr. Westlake and one we will prize.

He used this same stick for a period of 468 consecutive weeks for work on the Record and estimates that he must have set up over 2500 handbills with it too.

To those who aren't acquainted with printers' lingo, a "stick" is an adjustable metal tray that holds the individual metal letters while the printer composes his lines of type.

Lights Preview To Be Sept. 5

A preview of the floodlights being installed at Macky Field will be available to Hilltop gridiron fans, it was learned this week when school officials announced plans for an inter-squad game to be played under the new lights on Sept. 5.

H. L. Zulauf, business manager of the school, made it clear that this is not the formal dedication of the new lights and new electric scoreboard but merely an opportunity for the public to see the new athletic facilities.

Plans for formal dedication of the lights and scoreboard are being worked out by members of the West High Boosters Club in cooperation with a committee from the Hilltop Business Association.

An admission of 25c per person will be charged at the Sept. 5 pre-season contest.

A scant three weeks remain until the start of football practice in city high schools. Aug. 20 is the date when practice can start officially. Last week it was announced that David Randall, well known Hilltop member of the West faculty, had been assigned to assist Coach Mack Pemberton with football this year. Fred Heischman will continue to serve in an assisting capacity also.

Child Killed In Fall From Auto Sunday

The child was sitting on the back seat of the Stravoff automobile and apparently leaned against the door handle as the vehicle neared Cypress-av, falling out the left rear door into the path of two east-bound cars. Both drivers believed their automobiles struck the child. The infant suffered a crushed skull and multiple injuries.

The mother, seeing the child fall, made a vain attempt to save him. As Stravoff attempted to stop she leaped from the car and was dragged about 200 feet by the vehicle. She suffered slight bruises.

Besides his parents, the youngster is survived by two older brothers, Pete and Carl.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Greek Orthodox Church of Annunciation with burial in Union Cemetery by Wylie S. Shroyer.

Meeting Called To Discuss Possibility Of Branch 'Y'

A meeting has been called for Tuesday evening, Aug. 19, at West High School, at which time the Hilltop Community Center Committee will present a report of activities during the past few months and make recommendations. Representatives of practically all civic groups of the Hilltop are being invited.

Meeting last Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Cramer, the committee voted to hold this meeting, at which time it will recommend that the YMCA be petitioned to establish a branch "Y" on the Hilltop.

It is hoped that, following the establishment of a "Y", immediate steps can be taken to set up a regular "Y" program for the community similar in many respects to that of the South Side Branch "Y" and that plans may also be made for a proper campaign for the purpose of raising funds to build a building suitable to house the project.

The committee is made up of Dr. Cramer, Jerry Spears, H. G. Deems, Rev. A. J. Wold and C. C. Hartley.

Kiwanis To Hear Talk By Tax Expert

C. Emory Glander, tax commissioner for the State of Ohio, will be the principal speaker at today's luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. The group will meet at Schmelzer's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st.

Last Thursday evening a dinner meeting at the Fort Hayes Hotel celebrated the second anniversary of the founding of the Hilltop club.

Albert H. Crombie, president of Youth Problems, Inc., a non-profit organization with headquarters in Columbus, will address local Kiwanians. His topic will be "The Plain Truth About Juvenile Delinquency."

Well trained in sociology, psychology and related subjects, Mr. Crombie has toured the United States and Canada for the past 20 years, lecturing to high schools and other groups on the social and emotional control problems of the adolescent. His collection of questions personally submitted to him by teen age young people and survey material is probably unequaled anywhere. He has written many newspaper, magazine and feature articles on the problems of the teen age youth. Material written by him and distributed by the group with which he is associated is used in 42 states, three provinces in Canada and in Hawaii and Alaska in juvenile delinquency control programs.

As a speaker, Mr. Crombie is noted for his exceptionally rapid delivery, his sense of humor and the peculiar mixing of pointed digs and suave persuasion.

Awards To Be Given Ohio Poets

Services were held at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial was in Eastlawn Cemetery.

Services were held at the Jerry Spears Funeral Home at 2:30 p. m. Monday. Burial was in Union Cemetery.

Rhodes Ignores Green Challenge To Open Debate

Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, a candidate for the office of mayor on the Aug. 12 primary ballot, leveled another blast at his opponent, Mayor James A. Rhodes, this week, but failed to draw return fire.

In a letter to the incumbent city official, Green challenged his Republican opponent to a public debate on their records as mayors of the City of Columbus. Green served in that office from 1940 to 1944.

The challenge was sent to Mayor Rhodes Monday, following a statement by Rhodes that the city will end the year 1947 with a $1 balance in the city treasury.

Mr. Green proposed that the debate be held at Memorial Hall at some date prior to the Aug. 12 primary.

Mr. Green told Rhodes that the claim of a $1 balance for 1947 "is typical of the deception, the half-truths and the untruths which have marked your administration for three and a half long years."

He said he predicts the city will have a deficit of approximately $1,000,000, instead of a $1 balance, at the end of the year.

"Both of us have served one term as mayor of Columbus. Both of us have a record on which to stand and face the voters at the coming primary and general election.

"I therefore challenge you to a public debate of our records as mayors of the city of Columbus at Memorial Hall or such other auditorium as may be fitting and appropriate, such debate to be held before the primary Aug. 12.

"I am prepared to defend my four-year term as mayor and to give the public the truthful and honest picture of city finances.

"Are you?"

There will be no debate.

Lorenz Family Is Back From Vacation

Rev. James F. Lorenz and family returned home this week from a trip through New England. They traveled almost 3300 miles in their house trailer. They went through Washington, Atlantic City and New York City to the New England states.

On July 13 Rev. Lorenz preached in his first church, in Newton, N. H. On July 20 he preached in Eastport, Me., the most eastern city in the United States.

They returned through the White Mountains, the Green Mountains of Vermont, and the Adirondacks of New York. They spent last week-end at Niagara Falls.

David Cockfield Promoted To Highest Scouting Rank

The highest honor in scouting was conferred on a Hilltop boy last week when he was given the rank of Eagle Scout in special Eagle Court of Honor ceremonies held at Camp Lazarus Friday evening.

Former Resident Enters School Board Race

A former resident of the Hilltop has announced plans to enter the race for a place on the Columbus School Board in the fall election.

She is Mrs. Mary K. Jugel, now a resident of 271 Brighton-rd, formerly chairman of the ways and means committee of the West Broad Street PTA. While a resident of the Hilltop she was active in many school and community affairs.

Petitions for a place on the November ballot are being circulated on the Hilltop and throughout the city. C. H. (Doc) Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor-av, and Miles (Cap) Hoover, present board member (not a candidate for re-election), are members of her sponsoring committee. Other committee members are Mrs. Walter Ives, Rev. E. Bruce Jacobs and Mrs. Joseph Horchow.

Mrs. Jugel has been a teacher in Ohio schools for a number of years and is the mother of two girls, Marcia, 14, and Mary, 6. She holds a BSE degree from Ohio State University. While a resident of this community she worked on drives for the Red Cross, Community Fund and the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mrs. Jugel is running as a private citizen, having been approached by parents of Columbus children to enter the board race.

MEATS

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Like Churchill told his countrymen, about the best we can offer you is high prices and still higher prices and no end to higher prices on meat. We were honest and sincere in wanting price control and slaughtering regulations on meat lifted as we believed what the American Meat Institute and the big four packers told us about prices leveling off in a few months. That some one erred or maybe we might say some one is cleaning up on this kind of a deal is evident to anyone in the know. However, I want to assure you that it is not your independent meat dealer who is getting rich from these high prices and who resents the trend as well as the customer and most of them are not makng a profit if indeed they are not losing money. I know this is unorthodox yet our solution to high meat prices is not to buy any more meat than you have to and then buy the cheapest cuts you can find and at the same time protest with all your might against such unreasonable prices—but please do not blame your meat dealer for these robber prices. With a 225 lb. hog bringing about $70.00 on hoof and beef higher still, it is evident that nothing you could sell from the products of either could be very cheap.

We have cut our overhead to the core to keep our meat prices down to the lowest possible point and still sell you good meat at less money. By killing our own meat and working at night we have been partly successful, yet we know that the best we can offer you is still too darned high, and it is time something is being done about it. When slaughtering regulations were interfering with our meat supply, a howl went up from coast to coast alike by the public and small retailer and slaughterer. Now let's get together again and help shove these exorbitant prices back where a person with a modest income can once again buy meat, which is necessary to the good health of all.

Candy Made At Home Is Treat

EDITOR'S NOTE: Now that sugar is again off the rationed list, housewives may want to try their hand at making candy again. Here are a few recipes worth trying.

Candied Orange or Grapefruit Peel

Take off thick peel, cut into small strips, soak in cold water an hour to soften; put on fire in cold water; let come to a boil and boil a minute; pour water off through a colander; pour more cold water on, let come to a boil again, not long (will make peel bitter); do this four times or until peel does not taste too bitter. Have ready syrup, sugar and very little water; boil until strings; put in a few pieces at a time, or what the little syrup will hold comfortably; boil until clear (10 or 15 minutes). Then out, lay on sugar on a paper, shake them in it to sugar them all over, take out, lay on a plate. The same until all are sugared.

Peanut Butter Fudge

Two cups sugar; 1 cup of sweet milk; small glass of peanut butter. Boil all this together six minutes. After it starts boiling, stir to keep from sticking. Beat until stiff and spread on buttered plate. Cut in squares.

Karo Divinity

One-half can Karo corn syrup 3 cups sugar; 2/3 cup water. Cook until strings when dropped from spoon; pour into bowl with whites of two eggs well beaten. Beat, and as it thickens, stir in nuts.

Nut Kisses

Two egg whites; 2/3 cup sugar; 1 cup nuts. Beat whites of eggs. When not quite stiff, add a little more than half of the sugar. Beat thoroughly, then fold in the balance and nuts. Drop from tablespoon on oiled paper, cook in very slow oven ¾ of an hour.

French Sugar

First vessel: Five cups sugar; 1 pound of glucose, water to moisten. Second vessel: Two cups sugar, water to moisten. Put first vessel to cook for 20 minutes put second vessel to cook and when it spins a thread, pour over the beaten whites of five eggs. When contents of first vessel will harden, add contents of second vessel. Beat until thick; add 1 quart of nuts; crystalized cherries, crystalized pineapple; vanilla flavoring to taste. Pour into buttered dish to mold.

At Westmont

"Carnival in Costa Rica," technicolor comedy-romance with a delightful Latin setting, opens Sunday at the Westmont for a two-day engagement. The second attraction is "The Brasher Doubloon."

Starting Tuesday, Aug. 5, "Miracle on 34th Street" will open at the Westmont for a big five-day stay.

Hilltoppers See Beauties Of West

For the travel-loving Hilltoppers who expect to "go west" before the snows fall, Mrs. A. Russell Groves, 2900 Crescent-dr, has the ideal suggestion.

Her helpful hint, however, involves 10,000 miles, a real motor trip through the West.

A fraction of the interesting things she saw are related by Mrs. Groves in the following article. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Porter, her daughter and son-in-law, also of the Crescent-dr address.

"Among the most impressive sights throughout the beautiful West were the wonderful lakes, waterfalls, geysers, natural scenery and wild life of Yellowstone Park, Wyoming.

"This is a dying volcanic region, believed to have more geysers than all the rest of the world together. Here there are also large lakes, petrified forests, many large streams and waterfalls. The park has one of the largest wild bird and game reserves in the world. No hunting has been allowed there for more than 50 years and all guns of tourists are sealed by the government upon entrance. Here one finds deer, elk, bears, porcupine and bison roaming unmolested.

"Approximately 3000 geysers and hot springs punctuate Yellowstone. Only a few geysers spout regularly. The most famous one, Old Faithful, erupts every 65 minutes for approximately four minutes. The hot water spouts into the air from 120 to 170 feet. It has erupted more than half a million times since its discovery in 1870.

"There are 36 lakes, 165 streams, and 25 waterfalls. Yellowstone Lake is one and one-half miles above sea level, 300 feet deep, 20 miles long and 15 miles wide.

"Another interesting place is the state of South Dakota, with its endless miles of flat land rising suddenly into the wild, grotesque, stone - sculptured Bad Lands, 390 miles of ancient fossil deposits of fantastic limestone formations.

"Just a short distance away in the southeastern section of the state is the heroic man-made marvel the Mt. Rushmore Memorial in the Black Hills. This was conceived and executed by Gutzon Borglum as the "Shrine of Democracy." Surrounded by untouched granite of rugged mountainside are the sculptured busts of Washington, Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt, and Lincoln, visible for 60 miles.

"The Crater of Moon and Lake Tahoe were seen on our way to Los Angeles, Calif., where we visited for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Lyon (Ruth Elaine Groves).

"Many interesting side trips were made to old California missions and suburbs of Los Angeles. In Hollywood, trips to Chinatown, the Egyptian Theatre and other famous spots were made.

"On the way home, accompanied by Mrs. Lyon, the Will Rogers Shrine and memorial and burial place in Claremore, Okla., as well as Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico were visited. Lunch was served 750 feet underground in these caverns.

"The evening visit to the caverns to see the bats emerge on their forage for food was thrilling! Horned owls swooped down upon them and caught the bats high in air for their food. Tons of insects are eaten by bats each season before they return to the South in October. They are valuable creatures in saving crops.

"The loud screeching of bats upon leaving the caverns is unheard by the spectators because the sound is too highly pitched for human ears. The fluttering of their wings is faintly heard."

Open-House Policy Continues At Cols. Gallery of Fine Arts

The Thursday evening open house policy at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts will continue during the month of August, with music and art scheduled alternately. On Aug. 7 and 21, Robert Buchsbaum of the Philharmonic Recording Studios will present the third and fourth in a series of recorded concerts by the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra and guest artists.

On Aug. 14 and 28, speakers from the Ohio State University Fine Arts Department will be featured. All programs are held in the outdoor patio at 8:15 p. m. and are free to the public.

New 'Shooting Star' Breaks World Speed Record

Pictured above is the new Army Air Forces' Lockheed P-80R jet-propelled "Shooting Star," which broke the world's speed record in four runs with an average of 623.8 miles per hour at Muroc Army Air Base, Calif. Nicknamed "Racey," the craft surpassed the previous mark of 616 miles an hour set in England nine months ago.

Dr. Hill To Serve As Guest Pastor

The Rev. Dr. Charles E. Hill will conduct the service at 10:30 Sunday morning, Aug. 3, at the Third Avenue Methodist Church in the absence of its minister, Rev. Stanley Jeffery, who is vacationing for three weeks at Lakeside, Ohio.

Dr. Hill has always been interested in welfare work, and especially is he interested in the welfare of individuals who, through unfortunate circumstances, cannot care for themselves. Upon retirement it was natural for Dr. Hill to turn to the Columbus State Hospital, feeling there was a great need for religion in the lives of the mentally ill. Dr. Hill is a very busy retired minister for at present he is chaplain of the Columbus State Hospital, ministering to about 2400 patients.

YMCA Boys To Have Carnival

The boys' department of the Central YMCA is staging a summer carnival for members and friends Friday, Aug. 1. The carnival will be held in the boys' lobby and will be open Friday afternoon and evening.

Featured attractions will be side shows, several rides, games of skill and a refreshment stand.

YMCA organizations which will be responsible for one or more concessions are YMCA, Mothers' Council, Swimming Service Club, Junior Leaders' Club, and the Summer Leaders.

The profits derived from the carnival will be given to the YMCA World Youth Fund, which has a goal of $8,650,000 to be raised during 1947-48 to help YMCA's in war-stricken countries rebuild their buildings, replace equipment and restore their staffs.

Square Dance Planned

The 4-H Club of Brown Township School will hold a square dance Aug. 5 for the benefit of the 4-H Foundation Fund. Allen Bettinger's orchestra will play.

Bible School Is Well Attended At Briggsdale

The Briggsdale-Jackson Chapel Daily Vacation Bible School was reported a great [illegible] Eighty-six pupils were enrolled and the average daily attendance was 75. The directors, June Weber and Darlene Holsted, were assisted by the following local Sunday School teachers: Mesdames Dorothy Hampson, Charlotte Bapst, Grace Haughn, Melva Reber, Doris Friend and the Misses Ruth Groves and Gay Ford.

The concluding program was held Sunday morning in the Briggsdale Methodist Church, following the Sunday School hour. Each of the five departments participated in a variety of demonstrations, such as a typical worship service, memory work, action songs and Bible stories in color on the flannel board. A display of the children's handiwork was shown and certificates were awarded 75 pupils who had attended eight or more of the 10 sessions.

A free will offering of $90.45 was received for the Youth Home Mission, an organization of business and professional women of America.

The vacation school expresses its deep appreciation to those who assisted the leaders and to Mrs. Mae Gibbony and Mrs. Grace Evans, who helped in transporting the pupils from Jackson Chapel.

The church is also indebted to the Allen Milk Co. for the gift of chocolate milk for all the children on the two Fridays of the school.

Several of the children have signified their desire to lead Christian lives and will be baptized during the church service next Sunday morning both in Briggsdale and Jackson Chapel.

The teachers, parents and children wish to express their appreciation to Rev. Shirer for his tireless effort in preparation for the opening of the Bible School and also during the two weeks of classes. It was through his helpfulness and cooperation that the teachers were able to bring the school to a successful close.

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

Well, here we are smack in the middle of the atomic age. The world of yesterday is gone—already it is a thousand years behind us. For better or for worse we must go forward into a future that will be dominated by the colossus of atomic energy. It is difficult to foretell the direction—much less the shape—of things to come. Scientific apostles of gloom forecast the instantaneous disintegration of the world under the force of the cleaving atom. Other equally scientific prophets expect an era of plenty with mankind finally freed from drudgery by the harnessing of the mighty mite.

What will it ultimately be—destroyer or creator? We little people can only hope for the best, and perhaps take heart from the fact that the blinding flash that heralded the birth of the new era also presaged the end of a terrible war.

There is little that the average person can do to control the destiny of atomic energy. But there is something all of us can—and should—do for our future security, as well as for our present peace-of-mind. Life insurance is the best protection against the proverbial 'rainy day'. Provide today for tomorrow. I shall be happy to discuss your insurance program with you at no obligation to yourself. Call me—or drop in—today.

Just call me tenderfoot.

Last week I got initiated into scouting and if you don't think chaperoning 22 boys at Camp Lazarus for three days isn't an initiation you just don't know Boy Scouts. Having the second and final week of my vacation at my disposal I agreed to spend the first half of the week at the Boy Scout Camp with the boys from Troop 79 until Scoutmaster Ralph Hart could come up.

Scoutmaster Jack Sensenbrenner, hearing of my predicament, volunteered the use of his army sleeping bag, a gesture I gladly accepted. It certainly came in handy on those chilly nights.

A week at Camp Lazarus is a great experience for any boy and I must admit that I enjoyed it fully as much as any of them. Parents of Boy Scouts or prospective Scouts should drive up the Olentangy River and visit this year-round camp site. Most people have little or no conception of what it offers to the youth of central Ohio.

Last week was the sixth period of the eight-week summer camping season and one of the largest. There were 205 boys there, not to mention the scoutmasters and the camp staff. In addition to Troop 79 there were also boys from Troop 5 (Immanuel Baptist Church), Troop 204 (Bellows-Avenue Nazarene), Troop 49 (Wilson School), Troop 29 (West Park Methodist), and Troop 214 (St. Mary Magdalene).

Camp officials expect the total number of registrations for the summer to run somewhere near 1300. Gil Bolin, scout executive over the Southwest District and program director for the camp, said that there were still openings in the eighth and final camping period that will register this coming Sunday.

Aside from the experience of working with the boys, two things were outstanding about the camp. The first is the excellent program of activity that is set up for the boys and the manner in which it is carried out by those in charge. The second is the total absence of flies, ants or mosquitos. I couldn't understand it so I went to Bolin for an explanation. It seems that an adult scouter from the Linden area had been badly chewed up by the insects on an early visit to the camp. Returning to Columbus he interested a Linden civic group in paying for the spraying of the entire camp with DDT. It really did the trick.

Camp Lazarus, now a tract of some 300 acres, three miles south of Delaware, takes its name from the department store family of the same name here in Columbus by virtue of substantial donations making the original camp possible. Last week 40 acres were formally dedicated. This newest addition was purchased from money donated by Mr. Levy of the Union Store, a competitor in business but now a partner in the great cause of scouting.

The camp is made up of eight villages, all named after Indian tribes or early explorers and hunters. They are Iroquois, Chippewa, Sioux, Kit Carson, Buffalo Bill, Daniel Boone, Lewis and Clark. Each village is built large enough to accommodate approximately 32 boys and their leaders. Some consist of permanent cabins, others are tent villages. Most of them provide hot and cold running water, sanitary latrines and electric lights. In addition to the villages where the scouts are quartered there are 12 other permanent buildings on the grounds. The dining hall is large enough to seat the entire camp at one sitting. It is cleaner than most commercial restaurants and the food is plentiful and well prepared. The dining room loses money consistently. Figure for yourself how you would feed hungry boys three meals per day for a full week on the $8.50 per boy charged.

The camp has a swimming pool that rivals many commercial pools in central Ohio. It was installed several years ago at a cost of $30,000 and is a favorite spot for almost all the boys during the "general swim" held each morning and afternoon.

One thing is sure. I don't envy the camp staff their jobs. Their day starts somewhere around 6 a. m. and for many of them there is still activity up until taps are sounded at 10 p. m. One member told me he had been working on a program up until 3 o'clock that morning in order to have it in shape for the following day. The fact is, however, that they would rather be doing that than anything else because at least part of their compensation is in seeing the boys develop into better equipped citizens. Scouting will do that for any boy who takes it seriously.

Heading the staff this summer under the direction of L. R. Bucher, scout executive of the Central Ohio Area, is Frank Hess, the camp director. In addition to Bolin there are Warren Parkinson, handicraft; Jack Bucher, water front; Grant Drennen, advancement councilor; Sam Nelson, program; Jim West, medical director; Herb Taylor, nature councilor; Charles Van Cleve, bugler; Ike Bartley, camp chef, and his four assistants.

Scouting should be a grand experience for any boy. It was for me.

Newest Auto Body Plant Starts Rolling

The nation's newest post-war auto body plant of Fisher Body Division, at Flint, Mich., gets a close inspection by J. E. Hoehn, plant resident manager, points out welding operation in the wheel housing that give extra strength to the body.

Old Mrs. Miggles managed to get along in the world in spite of her educational deficiencies, says a London paper. One day she was called upon by a lawyer to sign an important document.

"You sign it yourself, sir, an' I'll make me mark," said Mrs. Miggles. "Since me eyes gave out I'm not able to write a wurrd."

"How do you spell it?" asked the lawyer, his pen poised above the document.

"Spell it whativer way ye plaze," said Mrs. Miggles. "Since I lost me teeth there's not a wurrd I can spell."

AMVETS Are Recognized By Congress

World War II's first veterans' organization to be officially recognized by the congress and the president of the United States.

That is the enviable—and responsible—position of AMVETS, the American Veterans of World War II, who last week were presented their national charter in ceremonies at the White House. A bill granting that recognition was passed unanimously by both the House and Senate and signed by Mr. Truman.

The action gives AMVETS legal status equal to that of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans and the United Spanish War Veterans, the only other veterans' groups holding congressional charters.

AMVETS, in its charter, lists three prime objectives: (1) To work for the promotion of world peace (2) to work for the preservation of the American way of life, and (3) to promote legislation and measures designed to help veterans to help themselves.

Ray Sawyer, national commander of AMVETS, recently declared: "America is the last of the great democratic, capitalistic nations left in a world moving toward socialistic or totalitarian government. Thus our greatest job at home and abroad is to make democracy work."

Didn't Want To Miss An Issue So She Used Special Delivery

Mrs. Emmett S. Smith, Saginaw, Mich., really believes in her Hilltop Record. Several days ago a special delivery letter came zooming into the Record office containing a money order from Mrs. Smith to renew her subscription. A notice had reached her only a day or two before, informing her of the subscription's expiration, and she didn't waste any time.

The Record is now $1.50 for one year in Franklin County.

If you are going to move, call in your change of address and continue to get your Hilltop Record. Read about your friends and neighbors while on vacation, by giving the Record's subscription department your temporary address. When you return, your paper will again be sent to your home address.

Mrs. Shrigley Reports "Siamese" Dahlia

Mrs. Earl G. Shrigley, 1077 Thomas-av, reports this week that she has a dark red "Siamese" dahlia blooming in her flower garden.

The unusual flower has two full dahlias on one stem, joined in the center. Each flower is almost perfectly shaped and seems like a single bloom.

Navy Medals Are Being Distributed

Millions of medals are now being sent all over the country for ex-navy men who so gallantly earned them. The U. S. Navy Recruiting Service began distribution of the medals last Friday. Any ex-navy man or woman eligible for the American Defense Medal or the World War II Victory Medal can get them at any U. S. Navy recruiting activity.

At the peak of the navy's manpower there were more than 3,500,000 men and women, almost all of whom earned the Victory Medal now being distributed. Many thousands of ex-navy men also earned the Defense Medal given for being on duty between 1939 and Pearl Harbor Day.

Both medals are bronze. The American Defense has on one side a stylized Grecian female brandishing a sword in one hand and an ancient shield in the other as she stands on a four-leaved oak branch. Around the top are the words "American Defense." On the other side there are the words, "For Service During the Limited Emergency Proclaimed by the President on September 8, 1939, or During the Unlimited Emergency Proclaimed by the President on May 27, 1941."

The Victory Medal also carries on one side the Grecian female but this one is trumphantly holding in one hand the hilt of a broken sword, in the other the blade of the broken sword. Her foot rests on a Grecian helmet. The words "World War II" appear across the medal. On the other side in a circle are the words, "United States of America 1941-1945" and "Freedom From Fear and Want" are separated by a palm leaf from "Freedom of Speech and Religion."

We're mighty glad that this is our home town

When we visit other cities and see how their people live and work, we often think how well off we are in living and working where we do.

Folks here seem real to us—life wholesome, values genuine. We're mighty glad that this is our home town.

And then a thought is likely to come into our heads that is a good deal like the old saying about charity—

"Gratitude begins at home—"

And we ask ourselves what we give back to this community in return for all we receive.

Fortunately, we can mark up some things on our side of the ledger.

We are genuinely interested in the civic welfare and in the activities we share with our neighbors. We try to be good citizens. We contribute what we can to the city's interests, and we like to think that the employment we provide and the taxes we pay are important to the community.

We are not only happy, but proud to have our homes and business here.

Our main concern is with the hope that folks here are also glad to have us as their neighbors.

Railyard Burns

The train crawled through the inky darkness of a moonless night on the last leg of the long trip from Marseilles. The five guards who had accompanied the cars all the way were awake and alert as they neared the Rhine city of Frankenthal, where the contents were to be unloaded. This city was the end of the line for all supply lines as American troops had been across the Rhine only a few days and no railroad bridges had been built across the river to replace those blown by the Germans.

Fuller

We arrived shortly after midnight and were pulled off onto a siding. Several unloaded trains were in the yard and a whole company of guards was on duty to see that no sabotage took place. The guards fired their rifles frequently to warn any intruder of the fate in store for him. The night was so black that it was difficult to distinguish forms a few feet away. I lay on the floor of my car and hoped that no wild shot would find its way in my direction.

Sleep wouldn't come so I remained quietly on the floor and awaited the dawn. Suddenly, in the early hours of morning, pandemonium broke loose. I opened the door of my car and saw that the sky was bright with rising flames. The smell of smoke permeated my entire being. A whole train-load of gasoline had caught fire and was burning rapidly. Exploding cans of gasoline spun into the air, spewing streaks of fire. It seemed that the entire railyard was going to go up in flames, our train included. But some heady GI's hooked an engine to the burning train and pulled it down the track where it burned itself out. They saved the rest of the supplies by their quick action.

Immediately the area was searched for German saboteurs but none was found. The most credible theory advanced was that a stray round of tracer ammunition fired by one of the trigger happy guards had hit the gasoline train and started the fire.

Unload At Warehouse

The following morning we pulled into a siding beside a block-long warehouse. Here the whisky was unloaded after the long trip.

Seventh Army had found the German liquor caches in southern Germany. Truckload after truckload of the most expensive European spirits were being hauled into this one great storeroom. The stuff had been looted originally from France and other countries and hidden in caves in southern Germany. Russian DP's were doing the unloading. The DP's were powerfully muscled women who were doing work that would make an ordinary man grumble.

The excellent cognac and champagne stored there could have stocked every bar in Europe. For delivering the whisky intact, we each were rewarded with a bottle of champagne—vintage of 1928. It was a credit to my ingenuity that I returned to the outfit with three bottles of Three Star cognac, a drink which is one of the finest Europe has to offer. My friends really appreciated the little gift.

Returning to the outfit after the three week interlude on the train, I found morale higher than it had been in a long time. The reason was that the entire company was being given a 10-day rest. We were getting passes to Paris. Half of the outfit was to go at a time. The other half had nothing to do but rest. For me it was an incredible piece of good fortune coming after the three weeks' vacation on the train. The duty in Marseilles and the trip following had been so pleasant that I looked upon it as a vacation from army life. Paris in the spring was almost too much to ask.

(Next week: "Paris.")

Money doesn't always bring happiness. A man with ten million dollars is no happier than a man with nine million dollars.

During the 1944 presidential election campaign, Governor Dewey was scheduled to make a radio speech originating in a small midwestern city. The network with which the local station was affiliated sent the following telegram to the station owner:

"Governor Dewey arrives Monday at 9:22 p. m. Please have on hand at railroad station your general manager, program director, news director, special events director, chief announcer, and chief engineer."

The station owner wired back: "Don't worry, I'll be there."

The Hilltop Record

I have just finished reading about the new "shopping center" to be built in the near future.

I have been wondering what is wrong with the people who live south of Broad-st near Sullivant. All the new projects and improvements seem to center around Broad-st. We could stand a couple of nice markets in this location. We don't all have cars to go to Broad-st and no convenient bus service. I have lived on the Hilltop more than 17 years and am interested. We could even use a playground as small children cannot walk to Westgate Park.

Dear Editor:

We enjoyed a nice week of fishing at Manistique Lake, upper peninsula of Michigan. More fish than we could eat. The weather has been cool enough at night to require five blankets.

We then crossed into Canada at Sault Ste. Marie. The road (Route 17) from S. S. M. to North Bay was very bad but the scenery interesting in its northern splendor. From N. B. to Ottawa the road was much better, in fact excellent in parts. The only rationing in foods here is sugar, which does not seem to be a hardship. Foodstuffs are relatively quite low, we find in Canada, to a surprising degree. The Parliament buildings are exquisite, garnished with red coats.

Our vacation motor trip will include Montreal and Quebec from here before returning home in about 10 days.

Volunteers Of America Feed Many Daily

Cooking some 2500 meals in one month would make the average housewife throw up her hands in horror. But one cook and his two helpers are, preparing, cooking and serving 2500 meals each month at the rate of three per day, at the Volunteers of America headquarters, 379 W. Broad-st, according to Major Susan Thom, director of the local staff.

"In addition to our regular crew in the industrial department, we are feeding an increasing number of transient men twice a day, the local relief group is growing larger, and we've carded for several families through an emergency period," Major Thom reports. "Meal planning and grocery buying are acquiring a new importance to our staff. We are trying to break our monthly food bills down to average about 25 cents per meal."

Meals are served cafeteria style to the men in relays. The working crew at the Volunteers of America Industrial eat first, local homeless men awaiting relief orders are the second group. Transient men in for a night's lodging have the last evening meal, and the last breakfast. Few of them remain in town during the day. Special arrangements must be made to feed a family temporarily under their care.

"Every indication points to an increase, both in meals and lodgings and in the number of people coming to us for aid," Mrs. Thom says.

Safety, Like Charity, Starts In The Home

"It was very appropriate to focus attention on home accidents on National Child Health Day," J. C. Hiestand, general chairman, Green Cross for Safety Campaign, said recently as he revealed that 47 per cent of the accidents to children occur in the home. Thirty-two per cent involve the motor vehicle, 19 per cent occur on playgrounds and other public places. The remaining two per cent are occupational—almost all of these occurring in agriculture.

"Safety, like charity, begins at home" according to Hiestand.

One hundred five children met death from conflagrations, burns or explosives. Thirty-seven were Children who have been taught the safe way of walking from the toddler stage on, seldom are in a pedestrian accident. We had 134 child pedestrians killed by motor vehicle last year. Playing in the street where traffic is frequently heavy is a problem which parents and officials alike can control.

One hundred eight of our children died from mechanical suffocation. Pillows in bed, and the direct result of an adult using flammable liquids to kindle fires in heating stoves or furnaces. Trash fires claimed quite a few also. Adults should be on hand until such fires are burned out—to protect youth.

Teach your child to swim. There was one month last year when no child was drowned in Ohio.

"It's no fun to have an accident. The kid on crutches can't play ball or skate. Teach youth to do things the Green Cross way—safely—and they'll get more fun out of life," is Hiestand's plea to all adults.

Cub Scout Pack 86 of John Burroughs School held a pot-luck dinner at Westgate Park Saturday, July 26, at the regular pack meeting.

This occasion happened to be the birthday of Mrs. Charles Meddles, den mother of Den 2, who presented her with a large decorated birthday cake.

Games and stunts took up the major part of the evening, with prizes won by Billy Fulton, Jimmy Wilson, Dick Fisher, Scott Pence, Bob Lloyd and Clyde Wilson.

At the business meeting it was announced there would be no August meeting because many of the boys will be out of town on vacation.

Westgate EUB Leads West Church Loop In Second Round

Tie Game May Have Bearing On League

Westgate Evangelical United Brethren remained the only undefeated team in the West Church Softball League, leading that loop with five wins.

Win number five was annexed Monday evening by trouncing Hilltop Church of God by a shutout score of 15 to 0. Other games this week saw St. Aloysius defeating Burgess, 4 to 1; West Park Methodist downed Hillcrest Baptist, 12 to 5; while Glenwood Methodist bested Hoge Memorial 9 to 4.

Next week the following schedule of games will be played at Westgate Park:

Hillcrest vs. Glenwood, No. 1
Burgess vs. Hoge, No. 2
West Park vs. Westgate, No. 3
Hilltop Church of God vs. St. Aloysius, No. 4

The outcome of the first round of play will probably not be known until after the close of the second round of play. Glenwood and West Park have a tie game to play off and West Park also has a game to play with St. Aloysius that could have an important bearing on the final standings.

Westgate EUB has a record of six won and one lost in that round and promises to make a strong bid for the title of that round also.

The standings are as follows:

FIRST ROUND

	W	L	Tie
West Park	5	0	1
Westgate	6	1
Glenwood	4	2	1
St. Aloysius	4	2

Derby Winner by a Fin

Little Robert Roberts of Greenville, Maine, stands beside a 17-pound togue which is almost as big as he is. The fish, just short of 35 inches long, was the prize winner of the Moosehead Lake's three-day fishing derby.

The Lowly Worm Still Most Popular Bait Among Ohio Fishermen

Creel census reports of the Ohio Division of Conservation have given the lowly fish worm the first place honor of being the most popular bait used by Ohio anglers.

Fishing worms, it is thought, retain this distinction due to the fact that they are easy to procure, are readily available almost everywhere and mostly because all species of fish seem to "go for them."

Digging worms needs very little practice or instruction. Worms are found in moist soil that is not packed too much, especially in shady areas or under logs and rocks if the season is dry. Although worms usually stay in the moist soil as near the surface as possible, they have been known to bore to a depth of eight feet.

Several liquid preparations have reached the market during the past year which take the back ache out of worm digging by forcing the worms out of the ground onto the surface, where they may be picked up with ease and placed in some old tomato can. Most of these mixtures are inexpensive and really do the job. They simply promote a chemical action in the soil that quickly uses up the oxygen and since the worm depends on oxygen to live, he makes a quick exit out onto the ground. In a few minutes conditions are back to normal and unless he finds himself is the tomato can, he comes back home again.

For those fishermen who usually decide to wet a line on the spur of the moment, a miniature worm farm around the garage or in a corner of the garden will provide a ready supply of bait at all times. To attract the worms and hold them in this area, all that is needed is a supply of food that worms like. The used coffee grounds from the kitchen coffee pot sprinkled over the proposed "farm" with an occasional addition of a little corn meal will do the trick.

A good method of keeping worms after they have been dug is to secure a supply of moss from a tree nursery or florist and wash and wring out excess water. Place this in stoneware jar or tightly-made wooden box. Place worms in the moss and once a week pour on a small quantity of sweet milk. Worms will keep indefinitely. There is one good thing to remember, however, when keeping worms in this manner, and that is that the worms must be whole and alive. Dead worms in such a container will ruin the whole supply.

Motorcycle Races Set For Sunday

Some of the top notch motorcycle riders in the country will be in Columbus to compete in the American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned race meet Sunday at the Columbus Motor Speedway, located just off the Groveport Pike on Williams-rd. (There will be arrows on Parsons-av and S. High-st (Rt. 23) directing fans to the track.)

Rumors are current to the effect that Columbus' own Bobby Hill has a new Indian that is really "hot," and that Bob Shaw has "souped up" his Norton to make up for his surprise defeat by Russ Heyboer at Plain City last year.

English motorcycles will be well represented with Tex Phelps of Dayton and Watt Edwards of Grove City on Matchless makes, Bob Hall of Westerville on a BSA and Curley Dinges of Mansfield and Jerry Wilson of Bellville on Triumphs.

The first race of the nine event card starts at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Fishermen Are Warned About No-motor Areas

E. L. Wickliff, chief of the division of conservation's fish management section, today cautioned fishermen against disregarding the well-marked "no-motor" areas in Ohio's lakes. Although several of our lakes are open to liberalized fishing where closed seasons, bag limits and legal lengths for experimental purposes do not apply, there are certain other regulations that will naturally be enforced, such as areas where motors must be shut off and certain other sanctuary areas where all fishing and hunting have been prohibited for a number of years.

As an example of this sort of regulation, trolling with motors is prohibited in Buckeye Lake east of a line connecting the outlet of Maple Swamp and Sandusky's Point. No-motor areas in Buckeye are located south and east of Cranberry Islands and in Maple Swamp. Fishermen may drift or row into the areas but motors must be shut off where signs indicate. For convenience channels where motors may be operated have been marked off in Maple Swamp and around Cranberry Islands. Hunting and fishing both are out in the area known as the south side of Little Buckeye.

At Lake St. Mary's both fishing and hunting are prohibited in the fish and game refuge at the southwest end of the lake.

Lutherans Are Behind Schedule In Second Round

The Lutheran Softball League will be playing throughout the month of August in order to get in all games to finish the second round of play as a result of frequent "rain outs" during the summer.

Last Friday night a full schedule of games was played, the first of the second round. In those games St. John defeated St. Paul, 13 to 8; Grove City took a close one from Emmanuel, 6 to 5; Martin Lutheran trounced Hilltop, 14 to 6; while Rome bested Bethlehem, 3 to 1.

Last Wednesday Hilltop Lutheran defeated St. John in a second-round contest, 11 to 8.

Friday night the following games have been scheduled, to be played at Westgate Park:

Rome vs. Martin Luther, No. 1.
Emmanuel vs. Bethlehem, No. 2.
St. John vs. Grove City, No. 3.
Hilltop vs. St. Paul, No. 4.

St. Paul has an undefeated record for the first round of play although one game remains to be played. In second place is Rome, with six wins and one defeat.

The first round standing is as follows, with two games yet to be played to make it final:

	W	L
St. Paul	6	0
Rome	6	1
Emmanuel	5	2
Hilltop	3	4
Bethlehem	2	4
Grove City	2	5
St. John	1	5

This Big One Stayed Hooked

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Cooley and family, 43 Highland-av, recently returned from a visit with former Hilltop residents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Millar of Deland, Fla.

From Daytona Beach, Mr. Cooley and Mr. Millar went on a deep sea fishing excursion. They were aboard the "Gay Wind." Ronald Millar, 13, one of the party, landed a 26-pound jack fish. He is a former pupil of Highland Avenue Elementary School. At present he is in the running for a $50 prize, providing his catch outweighs those following it. The contest closes in December.

No Changes To Be Made In Hilliards Postal Routes

There will be no change in the Hilliards rural postal routes.

This assurance was given members of the Hilliards Chamber of Commerce after letters protesting a proposed change in the route setup had been sent to the first assistant postmaster general in Washington, D. C. Petitions were circulated among the people who would be affected and forwarded along with the letters.

Clark Van Scholk, president of the Chamber, appointed C. W. Latham, V. F. Patterson, Dr. S. D. Graumlich, John Russell, Arch Alder and George Holiday to meet with Columbus postal inspectors relative to retaining 124 families on Hilliards routes. These families in question reside on Trabue, Dublin, Wilson, Roberts, Hilliards-Rome and Spindler roads.

RESTORE CONFIDENCE IN CITY GOVERNMENT

ELECT FLOYD F. GREEN MAYOR

Experienced Dependable Efficient

A STATE EXAMINER, State Auditor's Office, writes—"In my position as State Examiner of Municipal accounts during the four years (1940-43) of Floyd Green's administration as Mayor of Columbus, I wish to say, Mr. Green proved himself a very capable administrative public official and conducted the affairs and duties of the Mayor's office in a manner worthy of the HIGHEST COMMENDATION. He demonstrated exceptional ability in Municipal Financing and possesses a keen knowledge of budgeting problems. He has shown that he is properly qualified in ability and experience to solve such financial problems that may arise in connection with city government.

"Floyd Green conducted the affairs of the Mayor's office in a very satisfactory manner, reflecting great credit upon himself and upon his office, and I do not hesitate to recommend him as a man of proven ability in the field of municipal government."

A VETERAN OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT SAYS: "Speaking for the Columbus Fire Department, under Floyd Green's administration, 1940-43, we enjoyed the most prosperous four years we have had since I became a member of the department 33 years ago." "I would dare say he was one of the most conscientious, loyal, patriotic and progressive Mayors Columbus ever had."

A VETERAN CITY EMPLOYEE: "I have been in the City Hall during the terms of the last five mayors and was there during the four years Mr. Green served as a member of the City Council. When Mr. Green assumed the office of Mayor, I was really surprised at the grasp he had of the situation and his real understanding of municipal affairs, especially with city finances. He conducted a real business administration. Mr. Green proved himself to be conscientious, aggressive and an untiring worker in making Columbus an outstanding city in every respect."

LIGHT VOTE PREDICTED IN ELECTION TUES.

Theatre, Recreation, Shopping Center Being Built

One unit of the modern shopping center now under construction on W. Broad-st, one-half mile west of the city limits, is shown in the upper artist's sketch.
Below is a sketch of the layout of the National Auto Theatre, a part of the development, to be to be opened Friday.

National Auto Theatre To Open Here Friday Night

Plans are being completed for the grand opening tomorrow night of the National Auto Theatre, 3750 W Broad-st, one-half mile west of the city limits. The picture program starts at 7 p. m.

Described as one of the most modern and scientifically designed outdoor theaters in the Middle West, it will offer late pictures plus the convenience of a completely equipped concession counter.

The theater brings a bit of old Shanghai to the community with its oriental architecture. A huge Chinese dragon is dramatically featured on a brilliant red background at the facade. Two massive pylons more than 30 feet in height on either side of the sweeping entrance will be topped with conventionalized Chinese butterflies executed in colored neon and metal.

In front of these pylons will be two smaller masonry piers surmounted by Chinese pagoda shaped lanterns. The entrance pylons and piers will be in gleaming white with jade green and Chinese red accents.

In the center of the parking area is a special building housing the concession counter and restrooms. This is surrounded by a Chinese garden wall.

Individual in-a-car speakers are provided to assure good reception to each patron. The screen itself measures 30 by 40 feet

The opening picture attraction features "A Night In Casablanca" with the Marx Brothers, plus the comedy, "Up in Mable's Room."

Plans for a large modern shopping center to be built in connection with the National Auto Theatre at 3750 W Broad-st were revealed by Leo Yassenoff, head of the L and Y Construction Co., this week. When completed the center will include a 1500-seat year-round theater, large bowling center, super market food center, farm implement store, furniture store, drug store and store rooms suitable for three other businesses.

The auto theater will be completed and opened to the public tomorrow, Mr. Yassenoff said. Work has already started on the store rooms. The indoor theater and the bowling alleys will be built as soon as present government restrictions are lifted.

The shopping center is located on a 39-acre tract of land on the north side of W. Broad-st, one-half mile west of the city limits. The property has 1100 feet of frontage on W. Broad-st and will provide parking space for 1000 cars.

The first unit, making up the store rooms pictured above, will be fronted with cherry red brick base and painted white canopy, California style. The store rooms shown above will be 75 feet deep with a 125-foot front across that unit.

The furniture store and implement store will be approximately 100 by 200 feet with the building to be designed to suit the tenant as will the 120 by 200-foot super market. Negotiations are now under way with firms in these particular businesses.

Mr. Yassenoff is owner of the Academy chain of theaters in Columbus. The Westmont is a unit of that chain.

Kiwanis Free Movie Is Sat.

The second in a series of four free movies put on by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club for the children of the Hilltop will be held at the Rivoli Theater Saturday afternoon starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Children may still obtain their free tickets by contacting one of the Hilltop park supervisors. Last week a near capacity house saw the movie at the Ritz Theater.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is made up of Mack Pemberton, Charles Reichelderter and Joe Goodwin.

Rome Sewer Hearing Set For Sept. 2

A public hearing on the proposed Rome sewer project has been set by the Franklin County Commissioners for Sept. 2.

This $650,000 sanitary sewer as drawn by county planning engineers would provide five trunks and sufficient lateral sewers to service the area west of Georgesville-rd between Sullivant-av on the south and the Pennsylvania Railroad on the north. The project was drawn following a petition of citizens of the Rome area. It would service residents of the Garden Heights, Mix Addition and Rome areas.

The sewers would be installed at the cost of abutting property owners and would be paid for in assessments over a 10-year period of time.

They would connect on to the county sewer which already extends as far west as Georgesville-rd on Sullivant-av.

Green Seeks Nomination For Mayor; 3 Others Here In Race

Four Hilltoppers and one future resident of the community have a stake in the non-partisan municipal primary election to be held next Tuesday.

Local men whose names will appear on the ballot are Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, a candidate for mayor; P. W Spence, 559 Columbian-av, seeking election to the office of clerk of municipal court; and George Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, and Thomas N. Wintle, 52 N. Westgate-av, candidates for city council.

W Herbert Dailey, Democratic candidate for mayor, will be a Hilltopper as soon as his new home is completed on Belvidere-av.

Light Vote Expected

Election officials expect a light vote in keeping with most primary elections. A spot check of 114 homes in the 10th and 11th Wards by The Hilltop Record two weeks ago revealed that only 24 out of that number had any definite ideas as to how or whether they would vote. The other 90 persons contacted were "undecided," not registered, did not know who the candidates were, or "never did vote" in city primary elections.

Voting places will open at 6:30 a. m. and remain open until 6:30 p. m. The Hilltop Record will carry an unofficial tabulation of the results of the election in the 10th and 11th Wards in next week's paper.

The race for mayor involves three candidates — two Republicans and a Democrat. Two will be nominated to face each other in the November general election. Hilltopper Floyd Green has challenged the so-called "balanced budget" claimed by incumbent Mayor James A. Rhodes. Green held the office from 1940 to 1944 and is out to defend his record during that administration. Dailey has a record of 13 years in city council and is expected to get the backing of Democrats throughout the city.

Spence, who is now filling the unexpired term of the late Arthur Blosser in the office of clerk of municipal court, faces another Republican, Ted Rysell, a former deputy in that office, and Harold E. Smith, a Democrat.

10 Council Candidates

Ten candidates are seeking the four seats to be filled in city council. Tarbutton, an attorney and a Democrat, is making his first bid for public office. He is a veteran of World War II. Wintle, a Republican, is head of the Wintle Delivery Service. He, too, is making his initial try at running for public office.

Three incumbent Republicans are candidates. They are Robert T. Oestreicher, Walter R. Snider and Daniel J. Whitacre. A fourth Republican, James Hale, is not a candidate. Two other Republicans are Frank H. Kearns, a former councilman, and Tom Miller. Three Democrats, in addition to Tarbutton, are Morton C. Anderson, Evan P. Ford and William P. Hoermle.

Robert L. Drury is unopposed as a candidate for judge of the municipal court.

Lightning Strikes Three Buildings Here

A severe electrical storm about 10 p m Monday kept fire engines on the run but brought little relief to sweltering Hilltoppers.

Lightning struck at least three buildings on the Hilltop and destroyed a barn on the S. J. Horch farm on Sawmill-rd. A bolt of lightning struck the home of Edward W Young, 184 N Guilford-av, and Mrs Charlotte Johnson, 538 S Wheatland-av. Firemen were also called to extinguish a blaze caused when lightning struck the Eureka Ice Plant at Eureka av and Valleyview dr.

No estimate of the damage was given.

Rea-Bow Queen

Miss Baker

Mary Laker, 15, was elected Miss Rea-Bow of 1947 at a recent picnic sponsored by the Rea-Bow Improvement Association. The affair was held at Clifton Gorge and was attended by 45 persons.

Judges of the affair were Robert Warner, Eva Seeley and Mrs. Joseph Thomas.

Miss Baker lives at 941 Whitethorne-av.

Crombia To Address Kiwanis Club

Albert H Crombia, president of Youth Problems, Inc a non-profit organization with headquarters in Columbus, will address the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at today's luncheon meeting.

He will speak on the subject, "The Plain Truth About Juvenile Delinquency." Mr. Crombia is well trained in sociology, psychology and related subjects and has written many newspaper and magazine articles on the problems of teen agers.

C P. (Chuck) Lauderbaugh, a Franklin County commissioner, is scheduled to be the speaker at next week's Kiwanis meeting.

C. Emory Glander, state tax commissioner, told local Kiwanians last week that the State of Ohio is in an enviable position among the other 48 states in not calling for additional tax revenues this year.

Touching on the inflationary trends today, he said "We have put the cart before the horse since the war. Production is needed first. The bulge in inflation is getting bigger daily because production was halted by pressure groups when it was needed most. Responsibility needs to be put before freedom."

Boat Race Queen Will Be Selected From These Girls

Voting will get under way today in the selection of a queen for the National Outboard Boat Races to be held at Griggs Dam, Aug. 17.

Only votes cast on the official coupon appearing below will be counted by the judges. Pictures of the 11 girls nominated appeared in last week's Hilltop Record.

Underman Hurt In Auto Crash

Jack Underman, 21, of 212 S. Burgess-av, well-known basketball star and Ohio State University dental student, is recovering from compound fractures of both legs suffered in an accident Monday evening.

He was pinned between two automobiles on Route 33, a half mile south of Dublin, in a freak accident. According to State Highway Patrolman James Mansperger, Underman was pushing a car that had stalled because of a weak battery in an effort to start the motor when a car driven by Albert H. Crombie, 2982 Neil-av, crashed into him and pinned him between the vehicles.

Joan Uncle, 19, of 107 Dakota-av, was steering the car when the accident happened. He was taken to University Hospital.

Had Been Swimming

The couple had been swimming at the Hilltop Swimming Pool and had later driven to Zoo Park and were returning when the crash occurred. Crombie told police he did not see the stalled car.

Underman starred in basketball and baseball at West High School and played at Capital University before going to OSU. Last winter he made an enviable record for scoring in several tournament games throughout Ohio. He served 18 months in the ASTP at Ohio State, and entered the college of dentistry there when the army student program was abandoned.

Safety Zones To Be Marked

E. O. Melvin, 107 S. Warren-av, a member of the Columbus Traffic Commission, said this week that work will be started soon on the installation of permanent safety markers for cross walks at intersections along W. Broad-st.

It is understood that most of the materials are now on hand and work of laying the white slabs will start within two weeks, barring any unforeseen delays.

These markers will be made by embedding four by six-inch white slabs in the asphalt pavement to mark out the safety cross-walk. This makes a permanent safety marker that does not need to be painted year after year.

Republicans Are Streamlining Politics

The new hush-hush policy of the County Republican organization in not sponsoring meetings where all the candidates for office may speak from the same platform is one that certainly can be frowned upon by the public.

Any meetings the organization has sponsored have been worth absolutely nothing in the way of informing the public. To inform should be the reason for such a meeting. Those few people who care to go out to hear the candidates and then make up their minds how they care to vote are now forced to hear only one side of the story.

Getting the best men nominated as candidates for the general election in the fall is a difficult matter under the party system of endorsing candidates in the primaries. This is the same as hand picking the candidates rather than allowing the public to take their choice at the primaries. Any worthwhile prospective candidate for county or municipal office is discouraged from the beginning because of the likelihood that he will have to buck his own party against a party endorsed candidate in the primaries.

We are sincerely not in accord with the county Republican method of streamlining politics to the advantage of the county chairman by saying in effect who shall and who shall not run in a primary election and then clamping a hand across their mouths during the campaign.

Hitler once handled his stooges that way!

Amvet Post Plans 'Heavy' Grid Team

Preliminary workouts were started this week for the organization of a heavyweight football team to be made up of former West High School grid stars. Val Boehm, Aquinas High and Xavier University football player, will coach the team while Ray Stinson, former Cowboy star, will handle the managerial duties.

The team is being sponsored by Hilltop Amvet Post No. 55, as a part of its expanded athletic program. Commander Dana Deshler, former West star athlete, said that plans are also being made for another grid team in the 120-pound class to play in the Saturday Morning League. The heavyweight team would play an independent schedule.

The team will open the season against Marion at Galion on Sept. 7, Deshler said. Other games are now in the process of being booked pending a definite playing field for home games. Benefits will be used to create an endowment fund for athletic and civic work of the local Amvet post.

Twenty-three men reported Monday night for the first practice session at Westgate Park. Several more former high school and college athletes are expected to join the squad. Practices are being held Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 o'clock. Candidates for the team are welcome, Deshler said.

Deshler also announced this week that a permanent meeting place for the local post has just been found. Club rooms are to be set up in the basement of the new Tonti Building, 2364 W. Broad-st.

Green Compares Records

Floyd F. Green, candidate for mayor, laid new charges at the doorstep of Mayor Rhodes this week after Rhodes failed to accept Green's challenge to a public debate.

"Jim Rhodes has bragged that he was running on his record," Green said today. "But now Rhodes refuses to defend his record on the public platform. I can't help asking myself, 'Why is Jim Rhodes afraid?'."

From the beginning of the campaign Green has stated that he is proud of his record as mayor of Columbus from 1940 to 1944 and would welcome any opportunity to discuss that record publicly with Rhodes.

Records of the two administrations are summarized by Green like this:

CITY FINANCE

Green's record—Green operated the city within its income despite wartime conditions. Green levied and collected NO NEW TAXES OF ANY KIND.

Rhodes' record — Rhodes has had more than $5,000,000 MORE money to spend than Green had. This included $2,123,000 collected from the Utility Use Tax which was declared unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court. The money was not returned to the citizens of Columbus. Rhodes also has had $320,000 from the public in the form of a garbage tax. Another huge amount, $1,300,000, was obtained from a "so-called license fee" imposed upon Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. "This was NOT actually a tax on the rail-light company but rather a TAX ON THE PUBLIC. Part of the same deal was continuation of the rail-light company's HIGH ELECTRIC RATE, IN EXCHANGE FOR THE LICENSE FEE," Green said.

"I charge that Jim Rhodes was desperate for money in 1944 and was determined to get money any way possible," Green declared. "He even went so far as to make a deal which would keep our electric rates high but give him more money in the city treasury."

GOVERNMENT OPERATION

Green's record — All departments of city government operated efficiently and within their income, with the assistance of Green's two outstanding aides, Service Director Grover F. Clements and Safety Director Roy B. Weed.

Rhodes' record—There are now more than 250 surplus workers in the sewer and water department alone—men kept on the city payroll for strictly political purposes. City employees throughout the government have been coerced and forced under Rhodes to make regular payments in his "flower fund" or political campaign kitty. This has led to a breakdown of morale among city employees and as a natural result, to less efficiency.

RECREATION

Green's record — The ground work for a modern, long-range playground and recreation program was laid in 1943 when Mayor Green sponsored an amendment to the city charter designed to take recreation out of politics. He left office before the Charter Amendment became effective.

Rhodes' record — Parks and playgrounds have degenerated into junkyards. The recreation department is full of policies, inefficiency and total disregard for the welfare of the youngsters of Columbus.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Green's record—In 1942, after two years of building up the police department and educating the public, the Green administration achieved the finest traffic safety record in the city's history. Columbus won national recognition as the "safest city" in America. To make this record possible, Mayor Green thoroughly organized city government's activities and wholeheartedly cooperated with civic leaders.

Rhodes' record—Since Rhodes took over in 1944, Columbus has been rated one of the MOST DANGEROUS cities in the U. S., instead of the "safest city." This breakdown in traffic safety resulted from complete lack of cooperation between the Rhodes' administration, the police department and civic groups.

TRAFFIC CONTROL

Green's record—Despite wartime conditions, Mayor Green supported and cooperated with expert traffic engineers. He recognized that proper control of traffic not only relieved traffic jams but aided his traffic safety program.

Rhodes' record — There has been no cooperation between the Rhodes administration and the splendid civic groups who spend so much time and effort on the city's traffic problems. Rhodes has appointed many "advisory" committees—and then consistently ignored their advice.

Green said this week: "I am opposed to the parking ban in the downtown district which was passed recently with the approval of the Rhodes administration and which becomes effective Aug. 28. It is a poor and wholly unsatisfactory substitute for proper street planning and traffic engineering."

"I am unalterably opposed to any new tax that is not submitted to the voters of Columbus and approved by them," he states.

EUB Champ Still Wide Open Race

The championship of the Evangelical United Brethren Softball League is still a wide open affair. With two and three games yet to be played in the first round of play, there is a possibility that the second round may be completed next week.

The second round is a divided affair with the top four playing each other and the lower division likewise. One more game is needed to complete this short round.

Tuesday night Avondale swamped North Linden by a 13 to 1 score while Eighth Avenue took a 7 to 0 forfeit from Burgess Avenue.

Local Players On Winning 9

Hilltop and West Side boys played important roles in the two defeats Columbus Knot-Hole teams administered to Louisville Monday and Tuesday.

Bill Buckingham, playing a relief role, got credit for the Monday win while Tommy Crossley was the winning pitcher for the second contest. The scores were 4 to 3 (Monday) and 7 to 3.

Jack Thrush came through with a timely hit in the Monday affair while pitcher, Paul Theisen, scored one of the runs in the Tuesday game after he drew a walk.

Tom Jones of Central did a turn at relief pitching in the first game and then played in center field in the second game.

Melvins Return From Western Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Melvin, 107 S. Warren-av, returned recently from a motor trip through the Northwest and down the California coast. They left Columbus June 3, and returned last week. They traveled 8500 miles in all.

On their way west they drove for five days through rain. At one point they crossed a bridge only two hours before it was washed out. In Plattsmouth, Neb., the rain flooded the town and the water in the main street was "deep enough to swim a horse down." An auto was washed away and a fireman was washed down a manhole. After waiting in one spot for two hours for the water to recede they drove on and across a bridge where a short time before a large truck had washed off the highway and into the river.

Said Mr. Melvin, "You will note that on this trip Mrs. Melvin and I avoided all large cities. After all, what is a large city except more brick and stone. And then, besides, there is only one large city that interests us and that is Columbus, Ohio."

From the Hilltop the Melvins went directly to Portland, Ore., to be there for the Rose Festival. They enjoyed themselves there during their 15-day stay and took colored movies of the rose parade.

They then visited in Washington, returning to Oregon for a visit to Mt. Hood, where, "Believe it or not, there were people skiing down the side of the mountain." From Mt. Hood they visited Crater Lake and after a short stay, started down the California coast for San Francisco, stopping on the way for a visit at Richardson's Grove. Yosemite National Park was the next stop, followed by the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees and Glacier Point. While at Mariposa they staged a moving picture show for visitors at the campfire. They then moved on to Sequoia National Park.

At Sequoia they turned south and skirted around Los Angeles and came to Zion National Park and Bryce Canyon. Going south from Bryce, they visited the north rim of Grand Canyon. To leave the north rim it is necessary to back-track north for 42 miles to a crossroads known as Jacobs Lake. "This 42-mile drive is lined with beautiful quivering aspen trees which resemble our birch trees and the white of their bark mingled with the evergreens, makes a beautiful sight," said Mr. Melvin.

Coming down Marble Canyon from Jacobs Lake they encountered temperatures ranging from 95 to 118 degrees. They were in very hot weather until they arrived in the Arkansas Mountains, where they spent a few days and then started for home.

Coyle Will Play For Teen Dance

Ziggy Coyle

William (Ziggy) Coyle, 251 Nashoba-av, his trumpet and his orchestra will play for the Hilltop Teen Club's first Friday night dance on Aug. 15.

Coyle, a popular West High and Ohio State University student, has played for many teenage groups in the city during the last couple of years. His last visit to the Hilltop Teen Club attracted more than 200 dancers.

"A dance every Friday night and good music at every dance" is the policy decided upon by the Teen Club board of directors recently. The admission prices are: members, 30c; non-members, 60c, tax included.

Charlene Rehl Struck By Ball Bat

Charlene Rehl, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rehl, 479 N. Eureka-av, is improving satisfactorily in Grant Hospital following an unusual accident Sunday.

A ball bat slipped from the hands of a batter at a family picnic outing and struck the girl on the forehead causing deep lacerations and a skull fracture. The accident happened at Hempy's Grove, near Brice.

Zoo Trip Set For Children At West Broad

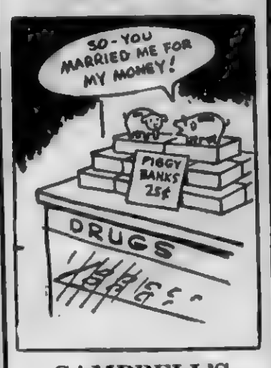
Boys and girls at the West Broad School Playgrounds have an opportunity to visit the Columbus Zoo on Friday of this week. R. C. Glass, playground supervisor, said that it was necessary to get the signature of the parents on a printed slip before a child could make the trip. The slips are now available at the school ground.

The group will go by bus, leaving at 12:30 and returning at 5 o'clock. A charge of 20c per child is made.

Two West Broad boys are still in the city playoffs in playground competition. They are Jim Hughes, junior checkers, and Bob Smith, junior badminton. They will go into the city finals on Aug. 12.

Hilltoppers Hurt

Four Hilltoppers were injured July 14 when their car was hit head-on while rounding a curve at Parry Sound, Georgian Bay, Canada.



Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Cooke, 458 Nashoba-av, Mrs. Cooke's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Falkner, and Mr. Cooke's father, William E. Cooke, received severe bruises and other injuries and their car was badly damaged. They returned to Columbus this week.

Judge Randall Denounces "Cheap" Drinking Places

A Hilltop judge lashed out with a scathing denunciation of "cheap drinking places" as a breeding place for crime and a Hilltop man was fined $100 for allegedly operating a race horse book last week.

Cecil J. Randall, 1989 W. Broad-st, voiced his opinion on drinking places just before pronouncing a sentence on a man and a woman accused of "rolling" a 70-year-old man of $2.60 in change and a pocket knife.

John Hill, 23, of 325 N. 18th-st, and Viola Skillman, 25, of 289 N. 17th-st, were each sentenced to a state reformatory for robbing John Williams, 70, of 357 N. Monroe-av. The plot was allegedly hatched in an East Side beer place.

Meanwhile newly-appointed Sheriff Ralph J. Paul showed that he meant what he said about gambling when three of his deputies raided a race horse book at 4480 W. Broad-st, two miles west of the city limits.

Deputy Frank Burgstaller arrested Charles E. Heaney, 56, of 123 S. Brinker-av, and confiscated a large number of form sheets and betting slips. A dozen or more persons were routed from the place.

Heaney pleaded guilty to a charge of promoting a scheme of chance and was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Jacob Becker of Marion Township.

Rea-Bow

Saturday night, Aug. 2, the association held its Saturday night community social. It was "Back the Storm Sewer Night," and was attended by the largest crowd ever assembled in Rea-Bow Hall. There was singing and dancing. Music was by the Gallagher Brothers. The callers were Orman Irvin, Pearl Dixon and George Wolfe, who also served as master of ceremonies, with Ernest B. Kidd assisting. Everett and Howard Gallagher were made honorary members of the association. Everett Gallagher sang the "Rea-Bow News," taking the weekly bulletin that this association puts out to its members, and putting it in song, accompaniment by his brother, Howard. The people liked this so well that it will be repeated each Saturday night with the new bulletin making new songs. One of the verses goes:

"They have no liquor at these affairs
Of that I've been thinking
A man can bring a wife and kids
For they don't allow any drinking.
And that's as it should be
For you'd feel pretty punk
If you got someone for a partner
And they were about half drunk."

Mary Baker, "Miss Rea-Bow of 1947," was given a birthday cake in celebration of her 15th birthday. Otto Dvorak, material manager of Curtiss-Wright, gave a brief talk. Visitors from Columbus were impressed by the square dancing of the children—some of them eight years old—and their know-how to "balance and swing."

Fifty-one prizes were given away, all donated by members and merchants. Drawings were held at 10:30, 11:30, 12:30. Ice cream, candy and pop were on sale. The Kool-Aide Bottling Co. donated 10 cases of pop. Little Frances Tanner of Columbus delighted the crowd with her tap dancing. Another community social will be held next Saturday night in Rea-Bow Hall. Leroy Greene and Mrs. Robert Cartwright wil be master of ceremonies.

Girl Scout News

Girls Scout Troop 103, with its leader, Mrs. C. F. Deitchle, and troop committee member, Mrs. W. Reed, attended day camp for Girl Scouts at Clime Farm. The girls named their camp site "Turtle Run Camp." While looking for the site they came upon a large land turtle and immediately adopted it as their mascot.

They painted G. S. Troop 103 on its back and hope to find it again some time. They made a lean-to shelter, made leather hand tooled purses, nylon belts, blue prints of ferns and wild flowers, identification pins from plaster paris, and did tin can craft work. They lashed together branches to form a frame to which they placed the white leather camp sign with lettering of red.

Girl Scout Troop 103, Mrs. Deitchle, leader, will have exhibits at the Girl Scout booth, Ohio State Junior Fair. They will exhibit camp craft, needlework and a display of their troop activities. The girls are meeting Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays to work on these projects at 1 o'clock, at Mrs. Deitchle's, 2816 Eakin-rd.

Two members of Girl Scout Troop 103, Eleanor Cosad and Shirley Deitchle have just returned from a two-week vacation spent at Camp Ken-Jockety, a Girl Scout Camp near West Jefferson.

The association will present the Mummer Theatrical Co. in "The Whole Town's Laughing," at Rea-Bow Hall Friday, Aug. 22. It will feature Sally Welker and Bernard Burkard.

As for improvements, the association is awaiting word from the Gas Co., as to whether this area has a sufficient number of signers for gas.

The county engineers are due to file their report with the county commissioners as to the cost of the proposed storm sewers.

Former Hilltopper Visits Washington

Robert Crego, son of Mrs. Lillie Easthom of Bremen, Ohio, (formerly of the Hilltop) returned last week-end from a four-day trip to Washington, D. C., and Mt. Vernon as a guest of the Zanesville Publishing Co.

While in Washington the group of boys making the trip made the Plaza Hotel their headquarters and visited all points of interest in and around Washington, including Arlington National Cemetery, the FBI offices and the Smithsonian Institute.

Robert attended John Burroughs School until two years ago when the family moved to Bremen. The family formerly lived on Racine-av. Robert is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crego, 241 Midland-av.

Owen Harrison Back In Columbus

Owen Harrison, former manager of the Citizens' Trust Bank (forerunner of the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank) is back in Columbus as a vice-president of the Banc Ohio Corp., 51 N. High-st.

After leaving the Hilltop in 1930, he spent five years in Washington with the First National Bank and later became vice-president and cashier of the First National Bank of Springfield. He held this position until June 15 of this year when he was promoted to the vice-presidency of the Banc Ohio Corp. in charge of personnel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are at present making their home at the Seneca Hotel. Their twin sons, Robert and Richard, 19, are serving in the United States Army.

Hilltop Residents Uneasy Over Reports Of Prowlers

Residents of the Hilltop were becoming uneasy again this week as reports of three burglaries or attempted house breakings were reported. Numerous other reports of prowlers in the neighborhood of Whitethorne, Belvidere, S. Eureka and S. Wayne-avs were heard.

Elizabeth Hamilton, 471 Whitethorne-av, was struck on the head by a man who entered her home early Friday morning, police said. Her assailant was described as 28 to 35 years old and fairly well dressed.

The house, the home of a sister, Mrs. Geraldine O'Brien, was ransacked after a screen was cut to gain entrance. More than $100 in jewelry and $36 were taken.

The residence of Mrs. [illegible] Finch, 615 S. Eureka-av, was completely ransacked but nothing stolen, police were told. While at the Carl Whissen residence, 584 S. Wayne-av, a burglar entered through a rear window but escaped without loot. Whissen told police he found some jewelry in his back yard, apparently dropped by the thief.

All three homes, located within three blocks' distance of each other, were entered between 4 and 6 a. m., police said.

Hilltoppers Will Compete With National Twins

Dozens of Hilltop twins are ing their "twins up" as preparations are completed for the 13th annual convention of the International Twins Asscciation to be held in Columbus next week-end.

Outstanding competitors for the honors at the big affair will be George and John Sesler, 53 S. Oakley-av, albino twins, a phenomenon which occurs only once in three million births.

The two are presidents of the Buckeye Twins Club, a local group of 25 sets of twins meeting monthly. They have previously taken the honors for being the most identical twins in their age groups, and hope to make this year's convention a repeat performance.

Quick Thinking Saves Girl's Life

A West Side girl owes her life to the quick action of a companion.

Walking home on the railroad ties of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, Evelyn Marie Orr, 16, was pulled from the path of an approaching train by her companion, Danny Wright, 17, Monday afternoon.

The couple apparently did not hear the approaching train until it was almost upon them at Central-av. As it was, the train struck and broke Evelyn's arm.

The two had been swimming at a quarry just west of Grandview-av.

T. N. Wintle Is Candidate For City Council

Making his first bid for a public office in the Aug. 12 primary election is Hilltopper T. N. Wintle, 52 N. Westgate-av.

Operator of a successful delivery service that extends to all parts of the state, his primary interest in city affairs is to improve the working conditions and pay of city policemen and firemen and to give labor a voice in city council.

T. N. Wintle

Wintle is head of the Wintle Delivery Service with offices at 52 E. Brickle-st, operating 16 trucks, with 18 employees in addition to himself and a son, John T. Wintle. He has been a resident of the Hilltop since 1934, residing on Fairmont and Burgess-avs before moving to his present address. He and his wife, Catherine, have seven children.

This council candidate left school after completing the fifth grade because he wanted to work and be self supporting. He started out by selling papers, worked for a milk firm, drove cab for several different companies, later operating a cab of his own in 1928 and 1929. In 1931 he went into the towel supply business and a year later founded his delivery service.

He is president of the Fraternal Order of Police, and a member of all Masonic groups, including York Rite, Scottish Rite and Shrine, Odd Fellows and Eagles.

Wintle believes improvements can be worked out for the increased safety to the lives and property of the citizens. He favors the eight-hour working day for firemen.

War Veterans Endorse Hysell

Endorsement of Ted Hysell for the job of Clerk of Municipal Courts was announced this week by George Karvasales, 1238 W. Broad-st, chairman of the War Veterans Non-Partisan Voters League.

The organization is made up of ex-service men who are working for good government. Also listed on the committee are Ray Wills, 220 S. Terrace-av; Gale Witting, 777 W. Broad-st; William Snyder, Jr., 140 S. Princeton-av; Jay Miller, 733 Chestershire-rd; Pete G. Zaglanis, 235 Letchworth-av.

Hysell stated this week that he intends to keep the office open on a 24-hour basis if he is elected.

Mayor Rhodes Stands On Record

"When a man is in office," said Mayor James A. Rhodes, who is a candidate for re-election, "he makes his own record. That record speaks louder than all the shouting, ballyhoo or drum beating that he can resort to."

Pointing to the progress that Columbus has made in sanitation, public health, recreation, police and fire protection during the past three and one-half years, Mayor Rhodes emphasized that his record is made and he stands squarely on that record.

"It has been the united cooperation of many people who have helped in making this good record possible, yet it was necessary to have an administration that was willing and ready to provide the leadership to bring this about. I am convinced that the overwhelming majority of our citizens want a good, clean, honest city administration that follows the spirit as well as the letter of the law. In asking the voters of Columbus to vote for me, I can and do promise them a continuance of the same clean and efficient public service during my next term as has characterized my first term as mayor."

Mildred Sanders To Operate Business From Her Home

Mildred Sanders, engaged in the real estate business for 15 years, announced this week that she is maintaining a brokerage office in her home at 96 S. Hague-av.

She has been connected with a couple of other realty firms in recent years. She has lived on the Hilltop 23 years.

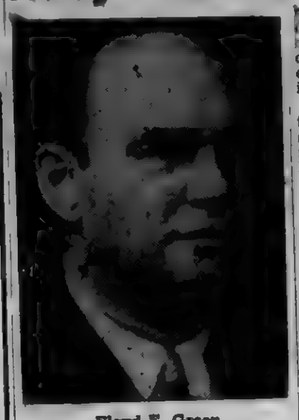
Injured In Fall

Miss Geraldine Balling, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Balling, 126 S. Cypress-av, suffered back injuries last week when she fell from a fence at the rear of her home. She was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

Everyone knows that the difference between future security and insecurity depends not on what is earned but on what is [illegible].

Think what you will do when old age deprives you of the means of earning your own livelihood. Think what your family will do if by your untimely death they are left to carry on alone, without your income to feed, clothe, shelter and educate them.



Ordinarily it is difficult to save money but now, in keeping with the times, a new and easy way of saving has been arranged. Just as the Government has made it easier to pay our income tax at regular intervals from the salary cheque, so independence for old age and protection for wife and children can now be conveniently provided by small salary deductions.

What could be more sound than, with the co-operation of your employer, saving a small part of your salary to assure an income for yourself or your family when your paydays are over. The programme is permanent and uninterrupted because the deposits are automatic. The savings dollar properly becomes the first item in the budget rather than the last. The plan to which I refer, the Sun Life Salary Savings Plan, is so flexible that a programme of saving can be adapted to fit the needs of each wage-earner, single or married, man or woman, according to individual problems and ability to save. Such policies are the property of the assured and in the event of entering the service of another employer it is a simple matter to continue the savings arrangement intact.

Let me tell you more about this savings plan and show you how easily it can be adapted to meet your own requirements. Just call or write

Success Hasn't Lured Green Away From The Hilltop

Floyd F. Green

A term in the mayor's office and success in the business world have never lured Floyd F. Green from the Hilltop. Unlike many others who have reached varying degrees of success he has remained a staunch supporter and a resident of the community.

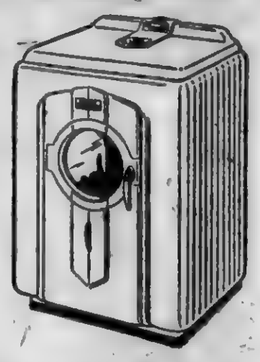
His frequent appearances as interlocutor of Hilltop Minstrel shows, from year to year have made him a popular figure among his neighbors and friends.

Green is seeking nomination in the office of mayor again in the Aug. 12 primary election. He served in that office from 1940 and was defeated for re-election by the incumbent, Mayor James A. Rhodes.

With Green this campaign is a personal affair. He is seeking to vindicate himself of charges hurled during the bitter election of 1943. He has challenged his Republican opponent, Mayor Rhodes, to a public debate to air the financial condition of the city but his challenge has been ignored. Charges and counter charges will probably continue to fly thick and fast between now and election day.

Worked His Way Up

Green's rise to the city's highest office reads something like an Horatio Alger story. As a resident of the East Side, he started to work in a department store at the age of nine years. Later he sold papers, swept floors and became a messenger in the Pennsylvania railroad shops. For a while he worked as a billing clerk and later headed the service department for a manufacturing concern. Eventually he turned to selling and his success in that field was outstanding. In a few years he was made district sales manager for a cement company.



It was during his selling career that he developed the "double-barreled" handshake, a personality trait that stood him in good stead when he turned to politics in 1928. He was elected to city council that year and served as chairman of the airport commission responsible for planning and building Port Columbus.

He served a single term in council and was elected mayor of the city in 1939. He takes credit for having played an important role in bringing the Curtiss-Wright factory to Columbus. As far as city financing is concerned, he claims to have inherited an indebtedness of $1,000,000 and left the office with the same $1,000,000 deficit. Poor relief during his administration cost the city more than four and one-half million dollars. This load was lifted from the city's shoulders in 1944, dropping down to little more than $5,000 that year and then becoming practically non-existent as this burden was assumed by the county.

Green is what you might term a "joiner." He belongs to and has held office in more than a dozen different fraternal or civic groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, have one daughter, Irene, who served with the Waves during World War II.

Miller Is Candidate For City Council

Running as a citizens' candidate for the office of city council in the Aug. 12 primary election is Tom Miller, 45 E. Duncan-st, a Republican.

Miller is a bus operator and has never previously sought public office. He contends that Mr. Ordinary Citizen has been ignored in the planning of city affairs and promises "to re-assert in the Columbus City Council his place in our democratic scheme of things."

The Columbus Red Birds will furnish entertainment through next Friday on their current long home stand at Red Bird Stadium.

Tonight is ladies' night with a single game slated with St. Paul starting at 8:30 p. m. Milwaukee will open here Saturday night with a single game that will also be Knot Hole night.

All Star awards will be made to Don Lang, third baseman, and Charlie Stanceu, pitcher, by the American Association Chapter of Baseball Writers on Monday night.

On Tuesday night the league-leading Kansas City Blues will come to town for a three game series.

The Cardinal tryout camp is being held here at 10 a. m. each day Monday through Thursday with scores of sandlot ball players showing their wares before the big league scouts.

Worth Waiting For

This may be the "bathing suit of the future." Made of quick-drying transparent plastic, the strapless number is not practical yet for actual wear, but is a real possibility, designers say.

St. Charles Takes Two From State School

Columbus State School dropped a double header to St. Charles in the Saturday Amateur Baseball League last week. The scores were 4 to 2 and 6 to 5.

The victories gave St. Charles a season record of nine wins and one loss. St. Charles and Green Cabs will play a two-out-of-three-game series for the league championship.

Seven Home Games Are Scheduled At Magly Field This Fall; Lights Going Up

The biggest home schedule of games in the history of football at West High School will be played at Magly Field this fall with seven contests billed out of a 10-game season.

Installation of playing lights occasioned the preponderance of home games. Some of the seven would ordinarily have been played on foreign soil, but in at least one case the opponents' home field will not be in shape for night football this year.

Six of the seven regular home games will be played under the lights now being installed at the local gridiron plus one inter-squad contest that precedes the regular season. A single daylight affair is scheduled for Nov. 14 when Jackson plays an afternoon game as the homecoming attraction.

Aug. 29 — Practice game at Newark.
Sept. 5—Inter-squad game here.
Sept. 12—at Springfield.
Sept. 18—at Arlington.
Sept. 26—Central here.
Oct. 3 — Cincinnati Hughes here.
Oct. 10—Aquinas here.
Oct. 17—at North.
Oct. 24—McKinley here.
Oct. 31—East here.
Nov. 7—South here.
Nov. 14—Jackson here.*

*Homecoming game. Only day games scheduled.

Coach Issues Call

Coach Mack Pemberton this week issued a call for all football candidates to report at the stadium Aug. 19 at 8 p. m., for a short meeting. Practice is scheduled to begin the following day with conditioning work the order of the day. About 125 boys are expected to report, including six lettermen and 20 reserve lettermen, many of whom lacked only a little playing time to have earned their varsity letter.

The team this year will probably be built around a nucleus of Jerry Chinn, Jack Thrush, Jim Slager, Bill Buckingham, Walter Hicks and Curt Westermen, all varsity letter winners last year.

Many positions will probably be "wide open" until near the start of the season, Coach Pemberton said.

Graduation last year took the following 11 boys, several of them regulars.

Carl Horler, Bruno Stecher, Don Anderson, Ralph Watts, Don Borror, Bob Schlegel, John Cleveland, Paul Hegenberger, Dolph Smith, Ed Sparks, Ted Biggerr, Sonny Sahrd, Louis Capretta and Ed Van Allen.

The three wooden poles supporting the lights on the west side of the field were installed Monday of this week and all wiring completed by the Haines Electric Engineering Co., 1031 Frank-rd.

Three steel poles to support the lights on the east side of the field are expected from the factory next week and will be installed in short order. Wiring for the east side of the field has been taken underground.

The new electric scoreboard purchased by the West High Boosters Club has been installed and is now ready for operation. It should keep the fans right up to the minute on every detail of play.

Westgate Defeats West Park In Monday Play

Westgate Evangelical United Brethren continued undefeated in the second round in the West Church League by defeating West Park Methodist, 6 to 1, Monday night.

It was the sixth straight win for the Evangelicals in the second round. A single defeat marred an otherwise perfect record in the first round.

In other games Monday night Hoge Memorial downed Burgess, 8 to 3; St. Aloysius trounced Hilltop Church of God, 13 to 2; and Glenwood whitewashed Hillcrest by a 19 to 0 shutout.

The final round of games will be played at Westgate Park Monday night. West Park and Glenwood will then have to play off a tie game from the first round. West Park also has a postponed game to make up with St. Aloysius before the first round title can be determined.

The schedule for next week is as follows:

Burgess vs. Glenwood, No. 1
West Park vs. Hilltop Church of God, No. 2
Hoge vs., St. Aloysius, No. 3
Westgate vs. Hillcrest, No. 4

Standings in the second round are as follows:

	W	L
Westgate	6	0
Glenwood	5	1
Burgess	3	3
West Park	3	3
St. Aloysius	3	3
Hoge	3	3
Hillcrest	1	5
Church of God	0	6

St. Paul Is Undefeated

St. Paul continued to dominate play in the Lutheran Softball League this week with a 12 to 5 victory over Hilltop Lutheran to protect an undefeated record of eight straight wins.

Rome continues to hold the No. 2 position in the loop although it dropped a 6 to 3 decision to Martin Luther. In other games played Friday night Bethlehem trounced Emmanuel, 11 to 2, while Grove City won a forfeit game from St. John, 7 to 0.

The Lutherans still have about four more games to play so that it is possible that a winner for the West league may not be known with certainty for another couple of weeks. However, there seems to be little likelihood that any team can stop St. Paul enough times to knock them out of the running.

Floods Cause Delay

The East league has been delayed even more than the western loop as a result of high waters that covered playing fields on a couple of weeks. All games played this season are being figured into one total rather than dividing into two rounds this year since there is a possibility that all games will not be played.

The standings in the West League are as follows:

	W	L
St. Paul	8	0
Rome	7	2
Emmanuel	5	4
Grove City	4	5
Hilltop	4	6
Martin Luther	3	5
Bethlehem	3	5
St. John	1	8

Bowling Highs

Monday Lutheran League: Karl Sehrade, St. John No. 3, 235; Doris Davis, St. John No. 3, 247; Bob Leslie, St. Peter No. 2, 510; Milly Sebring, Emmanuel, 403.

Wednesday Lutheran League: Mary Osborn, St. Paul No. 1, 215, 554; Bob Blesch, Sr., Hilltop No. 5, 192, 529.

Thursday Lutheran League: Winnie Grennell, Hilltop No. 3, 141, 359; Walt Grenell, Hilltop No. 3, 194, 510.

Charles Snedeker, bowling with Bethlehem No. 1 in the Thursday League, made the 2-7-10 split.

The Church's Loss

The death of T. C. Weir last week was a distinct loss to his many friends and particularly to the church he served faithfully for almost a half century. Mr. Weir had been an elder in the Presbyterian Church for 44 years and had served in many other official capacities. He had been an active member of Hoge Memorial Church for about 35 years.

If the church can be looked upon as a strong institution today, it is the result of efforts of such men as Mr. Weir. Many people come and go in the life of every church. Many of them expect much while making very little in the way of personal sacrifice to warrant anything in return. Churches like business firms reflect to a high degree the character of those who constitute their membership or personnel.

T. C. Weir gave unstintingly of his time as well as worldly goods for the advancement of the church he loved and served so faithfully. It is a better church today as a result of his contributions.

Paris Is A Great Soldiers' City

Paris in the Spring! The gay old French capital is quite a gal any time but during the last week in April, 1945, her quick pulse was even faster. The end of the war was expected momentarily. Allied armies were streaming through Germany as fast as the mechanized columns could move and the Russians were almost in Berlin. Paris was readying herself for one big celebration. It was into this carnival spirit that our weary unit was plunged. We were on our first real leave in nearly two years of overseas duty.

Fuller

The trip to Paris from the Rhine River town of Frankenthal was long and tiring. We rode all day in a truck and sat up all night in a French chair car. It was a worn out crew that checked in at the marvelous Pavillon Club, one of the fine hotels used to house men on leave. The weariness dropped immediately when we saw the comfortable rooms and bath that we were to have. Without exception, the first act by every man was to soak in the bath-tub, the first time in many months we had experienced such a treat.

Meals were served in the hotel dining room by French waitresses. A three-piece ensemble flavored the setting by playing well known European music. The most popular number was the touching German war song, "Lili Marlene," which we loved.

Ideal For Man On Leave

Paris is the greatest place in the world for a soldier on leave. Men in every war fought on the continent have found it so. This war was no exception. Three days passed like three hours. Within the first few minutes after arriving a battle-worn soldier felt the strain and fatigue lifting. He was immediately whisked into the swift current of Paris life and for three days was carried along, having the best time of his life and being completely oblivious to everything in the world except his immediate surroundings, the likes of which he never saw before and in all probability will never see again. Paris kind of embraced a fellow and gave him a big hug.

She had shed much of her wartime weariness in the year since her liberation. Despite an acute scarcity of nearly everything, the people were cheerful and optimistic. The shortage of gasoline, food and cigarettes precipitated the large-scale black market activities that drove authorities to distraction. The French had plenty of francs and the Americans had plenty of things to sell. The operations were entered into almost unanimously and transactions took place at nearly every back corner. Most of the deals were small—a soldier selling a few cartons of cigarettes to finance his leave in Paris. The money received was almost immediately spent. The largest share of black market money was put back into circulation within a few hours. The French economy wasn't seriously deflated by all this heavy outlay of francs for comparatively few goods.

See Many Attractions

The Red Cross arranged tours which took in nearly every attraction in Paris. We went by bus to the Louvre, Les Invalides, where the bodies of Napoleon and Marshal Foch are interred, the Eifel Tower, the Cathedral of Notre Dame, the Sorbonne University, the Latin Quarter, and the Place de Concorde, where the government buildings are located. These historic chambers bear the marks of the liberation. Small arms fire had chipped and scarred the walls as the citizens inside the city battled the Germans before the first allied troops entered. The last stop was at the famed Arc de Triomphe, the tomb of the French unknown soldier, and the site of the ever burning flame of freedom, the symbol of the indomitable spirit of the French. From the Arc de Triomphe it is possible to see for miles in either direction along the straight, broad expanse of the Champs Elyses, Paris' most celebrated boulevard, and surrounding gardens sparkled in the spring sunshine.

Many took the trip to Versailles, a few kilometers outside Paris. They visited the halls where the peace treaty after the first World War was signed. They saw the rooms where Woodrow Wilson tried to secure a fair treaty and where argued for a world organization to insure lasting peace.

There were other attractions. The numerous bridges across the Seine reminded me of Rome, where the Tiber bisects the city. The Rue de la Paix, the street with all the dress shops, the Madalaine Cathedral, one of the finest in the city, the subway, the magnificent Place de Opera, a marvelous structure, surely the finest opera house in all of Europe, and the unforgettable Pigaille are among the wonders that can be found in Paris.

False Peace

The last night we were there, a rumor swept the city like wildfire. The cry "Fini La Guerre" was on everyone's lips. Screaming Frenchmen shouted that the war was over. Hundreds of GI's flooded from hotels and made their way to the central Red Cross club, "Rainbow Corners," in the heart of Paris. No one made an effort to find out whether the rumor was true. We just blew the lid off until morning. At breakfast we read the official denial in "Stars and Stripes" but they couldn't retract all the fun we had the night before.

Under Ohio Skies

AS TOLD BY The CONSERVATION DIVISION

HARVEST TIME on the farm always brings personal recollections of days spent in sweltering hay and grain fields down in Monroe County. If you haven't at one time or another had a little hay seed in your hair you probably won't be interested in these glimpses into the past.

My fondest memories of harvest time strangely enough center around the afternoons when a sudden thunder shower put an end to the hay making activities for that day. If the interruption happened to come in the later part of the afternoon little effort was made to turn to another job that day but we would relax in the partly filled hay mow and listen to the rain beat down on the tin barn roof. The scent of the freshly cured hay is something I won't forget as long as I live.

This hour or two of luxurious rest was usually accompanied by tales of adventure, some true, others perhaps figments of the imagination (some people call 'em lies). The best story teller of them all in our hay mow was a "harvest hand" who had spent a number of years as a rig builder in the Oklahoma oil boom days. He could talk by the hour of his experiences and particularly the "big money" they made during those days in the old West.

For real downright relaxation you can't beat a siesta in a barn filled with fresh hay when every drop of rain adds assurance that there will be no more work in the fields that day.

PINE TREES add enchantment to the peace and quiet of a farm home.

I've often wondered why so many of the older farm homes throughout the country had one or more stately pine trees in the front yard. Many of them stand today after almost a century of buffeting by the wind and rain.

The custom of having the evergreens in front of or surrounding the house seems to have come over from the "old country" with many of the old residents. I have questioned a number of the "old timers" on this subject but as yet I have never had a satisfactory explanation. Families of Swiss and German descent particularly seemed to have followed the precedent after coming to America. You see the same practice in Pennsylvania and parts of West Virginia where I have been.

Switzer Township down in my native Monroe County followed the practice almost to every home. That part of the state, incidentally, has acquired the unofficial title of the "Switzerland of America" and not without reason. The steep wooded hillsides reminded many of the early Swiss and German settlers of their native country and they settled there in preference to going on a few miles further to reach the "flat lands." The countryside there still retains and reflects some of the customs of the "old country" although in a much modified form today.

Do you realize that a lifetime can be SPENT in crossing a street? Each year some nine or ten thousand pedestrians literally walk themselves to death in traffic, says the Ohio State Safety Council. Take time to take care. You'll live longer.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

The many school friends of Frances Lehnert Wilson, of this community, were grieved last week to learn of her death. Frances was born on Norton-rd, where she lived until her marriage to Frank E. Wilson. She went to Dayton to make her new home. She attended Galloway School as a little girl, and later graduated from West High School in the class of '28. She was always active in Grange work and at one time was lecturer for the organization. Besides her husband, parents and brother, she leaves a little daughter, Virginia. Sincerest sympathy is extended to her family on Norton-rd and Dayton.

The closing of camp life for the Boy Scouts who went to Camp Lazarus from Rome was climaxed with a big picnic Saturday night, when the parents went after their sons. Those who made this affair a success were Mr. and Mrs. Lamb and sons, Tom, Bill, Tim, Rex and Tad; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt and son, Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Seibert and Mr. and Mrs. Vencill.

Rev. T. M. Patterson, Maple-dr, had charge of the funeral services in Lithopolis Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Adams, whose home was at the storage dam.

Mrs. W. G. Lamb, Buena Vista-av, entertained the Ladies' Sunday School Class of Columbia Heights Church Thursday evening. Quite a number answered to roll-call. After the regular business meeting, Mr. Lamb proved his prowess as a cook in serving hot-dogs fresh from the open furnace. The watermelon was doubly enjoyed due to the fact that the seeds could drop where they would with approval of the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Squire Lee.

Mrs. W. K. Richey has been home several days now from White Cross Hospital, with her baby son. He has been named William Kent, Jr.

The annual Eastman family reunion was held this year at Ankneytown, Ohio. Approximately 125 persons attended. Those from this community who attended were Mrs. Grace Lamb and sons, Don and Joe; the W. G. Lamb family, Buena Vista; and the Loel Lamb family, 181 S. Sylvan-av.

Mrs. Mel Howell, Pasadena-av, entertained at dinner Thursday for Mrs. Paul Morley of Riverside and daughter, Mrs. Roger Fahrbach, and two little children, Carolyn and Jimmy.

Carol Burns is entertaining her cousin, Marylin Dittmer, of Centerburg.

Mrs. George Terry and family of Maple-dr have returned from a visit with Mrs. Terry's sister, Mrs. Raymond Swaney, Pontiac, Mich.

Paul Armstrong, Lennox-av, is visiting in Cleveland with his cousin at the home of Jack Johnson, formerly of Rome.

The Roe Moore family, 4049 W. Broad-st, has returned from a three-weeks' vacation, fishing, as Mr. Moore says, way up in the "sticks" of Canada. They were at Flaven.

Don't forget the 4-H lawn fete Friday night to be held in the Rome School yard. All the eats will be home made.

Elma Lou Riebel has been visiting in Kentucky. While there she was organist at St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Chatham. This is the first charge of Rev. Otto Emmelhainz, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Emmelhainz, who was ordained in the St Paul Lutheran Church of Rome.

Friends—What are you going to raise your youngest son, George, to be?

George's Father—Well, I made a lawyer of Jim, a doctor of John, a minister of Charles, Tom turned out to be a writer and Bill became an artist. So I guess I'll bring George up to be a laboring man—I want one of the boys to have a little money of his own.

Local Boy Is Deluged With Mail Following Radio Story

A deluge of mail spelled happiness to Bobby Joe Dalgarn, 1287 Sullivant-av, a bed-ridden 12-year-old who came into the national spotlight last week.

Bobby, who was stricken when four years old with the baffling Still's disease, a form of painful rheumatoid arthritis, was first noticed by Chet Long, WBNS news commentator. Long, wrote to Bob Trout, CBS commentator in New York who used a story about Bobby on a national broadcast.

The broadcast had far-reaching and completely successful results. From 33 states came more than 100 letters to the round-faced lad. Some were from children his own age, some from business men, a few from old ladies. All were cheerful and hopeful.

All the gay communiques were informative, relating oftentimes of the particular locale surrounding the writer's home. A family in Bauxite, Ark., told of a nearby bauxite plant and a lady in Bremerton, Wash., described a fascinating navy yard nearby.

Bobby was "adopted" by a chatty 18-year-old girl living in Trenton, N. J., who has a current "crush" on a handsome Yale student, and given a free art lesson by a Los Angeles artist. A blind lawyer from Manchester, Iowa, described in detail scenes of his native state, remembered from the time he lost his sight. Several persons wrote who had once been seriously ill themselves, extending courageous messages and wishing him good health soon.

Unable To Attend School

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dalgarn, Bobby has had schooling only when he was well enough to have a teacher come to the home. His recent geography lesson via the mails will not only fortify his spirit, but should serve as a form of instruction.

To Bobby's existence, which had previously consisted of doctors, his devoted parents, and endless treatment, have been added hundreds of new friends and a new outlook on life in general. From now on, there will be answers to the letters which he must send, and the entire picture is new and full of faces which Bobby can only imagine, but which add color to his days in bed.

Ten free passes to the Westmont Theater are given weekly. Watch for names appearing in the Record Want Ads.

A dedication service will be held next Sunday, Aug. 10, at the morning church service at Glenwood Methodist Church for the chimes which were recently presented to the church by Dr. Howard Whitehead in memory of his father and mother.

Dr. Whitehead is one of the charter members of the church and this is just one of the many gifts he has made to Glenwood Church. At this time, the pastor, Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas, will preach on the topic, "The Roots of Freedom."

Former Pastor To Speak Here

Rev. Hawk

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hawk and family will be the guests of the young people of Hillcrest Baptist Church Sunday morning, Aug. 10.

Rev. Hawk served as minister of the local church from 1941 to 1944. A former president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association, he resigned the Hillcrest pastorate to become director of public relations at Sioux Falls College, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Rev. Hawk will fill the pulpit for the morning worship and communion service.

Need Homes For Handicapped

Because of specialized facilities available in Columbus many children come from other parts of the state to attend school here. Children with hearing difficulties attend classes for the hard-of-hearing, children with poor vision attend sight saving classes. For children with crippled conditions which can be helped by physiotherapy there is the open air school. Other children with physical handicaps are placed here to be accessible to treatment facilities at the various hospitals and at the Cerebral Palsy Center. The University Speech Clinic provides speech training. There are opportunity classes for children who have difficulty learning.

In order that children needing the various types of special training may take advantage of the opportunities here, homes must be found where they may board throughout the school year. Most of these children return to their own homes for vacations, and some of them for week-ends. Only a few who have no family ties require year-round care.

Families who take such children are guaranteed board payments and the supervision of an agency which helps with problems that may arise.

If interested, write Miss Mary S. King, Division of Social Administration, State Department of Public Welfare, Oak at Ninth-st, Columbus, Ohio, or telephone MA. 4591.

Doran Heads Naval Recruiting

New officer in charge of navy recruiting for the Columbus area is Lt. Comdr. E. M. Doran, who is making his home at 162 S. Powell-av.

A veteran of 20 years' naval service, the commander was serving as a warrant carpenter on the old Battleship West Virginia when the Japs hit Pearl Harbor. In December, 1946, Comdr. Doran was with the Admiral Byrd Antarctic party.

Living here also are his wife and son, Edward C., 10.

This group of tiny tots copped honors in the Holton Park baby judging contest held last week. Record Photographer Ray Gaugler had thought to photograph them in a single group but apparently they had heard of such a thing as professional jealousy. At least the second place winners wanted to "mix it up" with their blue ribbon contemporaries. The outcome was a compromise in which two separate photos were snapped with accompanying results.

In the top picture (reading left to right) are Judith Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, 243 N. Eureka-av, voted the best personality of the lot; Barbara Sue Denbow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Denbow, 238 N. Terrace-av, prettiest girl; and Jackie Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Brady, 334 S. Warren-av, cutest boy.

In the lower photo are Jeffrey Hughes (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hughes, 1004 Franklin-av, second place winner in the cutest boy contest, and Suzane Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones, 243 N. Warren-av, second prettiest of the group in the opinion of the judges.

Rea-Bow Has New Youth Group

Something new has been organized for the youth of the Rea-Bow community.

It is the Rea-Bow Rangers, an organization made up of boys 9 to 16 years of age. The motto of the group will be "A good deed whenever possible."

The program will include teaching first aid, drill, lectures on safety precautions on the highway and the home and fire drills. The first meeting was held Friday night.

Boys will receive about 30 hours of training and then they will be examined and graded. A grade of 85 will be required to qualify.

Those who qualify will be assigned a number of children in the community. Other duties will include keeping playground free of glass, tin cans, etc., and conducting sightseeing trips.

The object of the work is to teach a boy cooperation, responsibility, courtesy and honesty.

Boys selected will be given uniforms. They will be blue trousers with white piping, white shirts, black tie, blue overseas cap with white piping, black belt and shoes.

A girls' class is being planned for the near future. Those in charge of the boys' program are Mr. Walters, Omar Irvin and George Wolfe.

The Record Want Ads are filled with bargains of every description every week.

Thrift Finance Opens Office Here This Week

Thrift Finance Company, 7 S. Wayne-av, has opened its office especially to provide the Hilltop with a convenient personalized loan service, according to a statement made today by Sam N. Alford, the president.

Mr. Alford is a Hilltopper and is well known for his interest and participation in the betterment of this community. Mr. Alford is a local young man and was born on the West Side. His opening of the Thrift Finance Co., Hilltop office, is a fulfillment of a long standing ambition to give the Hilltop the benefits of his many years' experience in solving family and individual money problems. He was formerly connected with Household Finance Corporation, Money Corporation, and until recently was manager of Seaboard Finance Co.

Myron T. Rodabaugh is to head the discount department, which will engage in all types of sales financing, including automobiles, appliances, etc. Mr. Rodabaugh, also, has had many successful years in both the personal finance field and discount business.

One of the features Mr. Alford announced the company has inaugurated is to have flexible office hours in order that loans may be available to workers without any loss of time from the job. Another feature is the availability of a medical plan to finance surgeon's fees, hospital expense, course of treatment and dental work.

An undertaker found a dead donkey in front of his place of business and informed the police:

Undertaker—What am I to do with it?

Officer (having sense of humor)—Bury it, of course. You're an undertaker, aren't you?

Undertaker—That's true, but I thot it only right to come around and inform the relatives first.

Restore Confidence In City Government

With This Progressive Program For A Growing City

I pledge myself to PLANNED city government in which goals will be set and definite procedures established to attain them. This is the policy of every successful business man and it is the only way confidence in City Government can be restored. In line with this policy, I propose this program:

FINANCE—I am opposed to any form of taxation that is not submitted to the voters for approval.

Columbus must have a qualified and efficient DIRECTOR OF FINANCE to eliminate political maneuvering with our tax dollars.

Honest spending of City Funds, plus a sincere effort at economy will give our government new life and strength.

The final decision for financing Good Government belongs to the citizens of Columbus. I firmly believe the people will approve an intelligent and frankly honest plan of financing.

APPOINTMENTS—Padding city payrolls with unnecessary political workers will not be tolerated.

I will select men and women who in my best judgment are qualified to fill and efficiently discharge the duties of their positions. I respect and will observe the Civil Service laws of the city.

Salaries and wages of all city employees must be adjusted annually.

I pledge to dedicate myself wholeheartedly to the service of the people of Columbus and every employee will do likewise.

HOUSING—I pledge my undivided support to the task of building new homes—for veterans especially.

TRANSPORTATION—I pledge immediate development of plans for adequate, rapid transit service to all sections of the city.

LEADERSHIP—Columbus must return to business-like City Government. I pledge strong, aggressive leadership of the type needed to make City Government truly serve all the citizens of Columbus.

I believe the Mayor of Columbus must assume leadership to carry out progressive policies, rather than "Passing-the-buck" to so-called "advisory" committees. When qualified groups of citizens are asked to submit recommendations for a governmental problem, their advice should be given honest and sincere consideration.

I guarantee there will be no alibis or excuses for failure of the city administration to carry out its program.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS — Politics must be removed from the Recreation Department. I will demand a complete overhauling of the city's Recreational program so that it will work for the good of all groups and classes of our citizens.

Our children must have real playground facilities and a program to provide a variety of activities for all age groups with the highest type of supervision and protection.

There must be more wading pools and swings—and fewer "springboards" for political careers.

TRAFFIC AND SAFETY—I propose to re-establish the successful traffic safety program which brought Columbus, in 1942, National and State honors as the "Safest City."

I pledge steady, sensible, fair and impartial traffic law enforcement and the education of our citizens with every means available.

I pledge myself to a greater system of street and alley lighting.

There must be closer co-operation between the board of education and our police department for the protection of our children, going to and from our schools.

METROPOLITAN PLANNING — I pledge to co-operate with City and County planning officials, the citizens of Columbus and suburban communities in a sincere effort to make Metropolitan Columbus an even better place to live.

STREET MAINTENANCE — I guarantee a constructive and continuous program of street repair and maintenance.

Gasoline and auto tag money will not be used for any other purpose.

LAW ENFORCEMENT—I pledge rigid and continuous enforcement of all laws in an honest, sane and intelligent manner.

A sincere and constructive plan must be established to curb juvenile delinquency.

I guarantee to improve morale in the Police Department by removing the cause of "Politics" within the department and political pressure from outside.

Floyd Green's Debate Challenge To Mayor Rhodes

July 28, 1947

Hon. James A. Rhodes
Mayor of the City of Columbus
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Fellow-Candidate:

I am amazed at the phoney and misleading statement you have just made to the effect that the City of Columbus will end the year 1947 not with a deficit, but rather with a balance of $1.00.

This statement, as reported in the newspapers yesterday, is typical of the deception, the half-truths and the untruths which have marked your administration for three and one-half long years.

I predict that at the end of this year the city will not have a $1 balance as claimed by you, but instead will have a deficit of approximately $1,000,000.00.

Any effort you and City Council and the City Auditor's office may make to distort this deficit into a balance will result purely and simply in juggling the city's accounts. Nothing can possibly be gained by such a campaign move to improve the financial condition of the city. All that can be accomplished is simply to add to the false picture you are giving the public by undercover methods, by unmitigated untruths and by juggling the funds of the City of Columbus.

Both of us have served one term as Mayor of Columbus. Both of us have a record on which to stand and face the voters at the coming primary and general election.

I therefore challenge you to a public debate of our records as Mayors of Columbus at Memorial Hall or such other auditorium as may be fitting and appropriate, said debate to be held before the primary August 12.

In a Democracy such as ours it is vitally important that all public issues be honestly and thoroughly aired before the voters, that whispered lies, arrogant and unkept campaign promises be replaced with facts and a sound, constructive program for good government.

I am prepared to defend my four-year term as Mayor and to give the public the true and honest picture of city finances.

Are you?

Sincerely yours,
Floyd F. Green

Why has Mr. Rhodes refused to accept this challenge? Why is he afraid? Is it because he is trying to make you believe that he has balanced the city budget when he has not? Is he afraid that I will mention the names of some of his close associates and their shady records? Or is he afraid because he has collected more taxes than any mayor in the history of Columbus and has nothing to show for it?

Floyd Green is proud of his record as mayor for the term 1940-44 and is willing to defend it publicly . . . why is Mr. Rhodes not willing to do the same?

This Message Endorsed And Paid For By a Group of 66 Hilltop Business Firms Who Believe Floyd Green Should Be Returned To The Mayor's Office.

Dog Killers At It

Three or more dogs have been poisoned in the past week down in the Mound-st vicinity near Wayne-av. One was a mother of three young puppies.

Persons having dogs that are a nuisance in a community should take steps to do something to keep them from annoying neighbors. But such complaints from said neighbors should be properly registered to first determine if an amicable settlement can be made rather than to take a sneaking approach by way of a dose of poison.

Predictions Of Things To Come

Back several years ago we made the acquaintance of Jim Rhodes before he held his first public office. He was then interested in a campaign of Paul Herbert for lieutenant governor. But he then revealed that the time would come when he would be governor of Ohio.

His stepping stones of the city auditors office, the mayor's office and now his renomination for the job bring us to believe he will toss his hat into the ring for state auditor at the election coming up two years from now. A term or so of this job should acquaint him well enough with the state Republican circle that he might be able to realize his ambition of getting his name on the ballot for governor.

Of course a lot of things can heppen in politics in the meantime, but his course will be interesting to watch.

Tenants' Demands

Jack Shank in his real estate business collects rents from many tenants but none is quite so demanding as one group he received a letter from this week. It seems that some Hilltoppers have recently had the free use of Jacks Buckeye Lake cottage but this week they expressed their unwillingness to take further advantage of his generosity unless, among other things, he puts in a new blacktop drive, pays for their newspaper in advance, establishes credit for them at the nearest grocery, furnishes gasoline for the outboard motor, has a goodly supply of cold drinks on hand and plenty of new hooks, lines and fishing equipment. Such are the demands made by tenants.

Hilltop Of Tomorrow Should Be Visualized Today

If you haven't recently taken time to drive around this Hilltop community to take note of the rapid growth here you should do so. One must certainly be lacking in imagination to be unable to see a future Hilltop that extends far beyond the present city limits.

To the south, to the west and to the north new homes are springing up and new business houses are following to be able to serve these sections.

This is indeed a challenge to the Hilltop Business Association. The organization as it is at present operated has served well, but this group now has an opportunity unlike that of any time in the past to be of service. Instead of this group being a volunteer organization of the type it has been in the past, plans should be in the making to set it up along lines of a Chamber of Commerce with a full time paid secretary and a far reaching program of the type that any city of 60,000 or more would carry on.

The Hilltop has grown up. Our problems of future years are going to be different from those of the past. A big task lies ahead for the organization that takes the leadership in business and civic affairs of this community.

"Where there is no vision the people perish."

Seniors To Play Sophs, Jrs. In Pre-season Grid Game

Members of the 1947 West High School football squad will be introduced to the public on the evening of Sept. 5 when the seniors play the juniors and sophomores in a pre-season game under the new playing lights at Magly Field.

Head football coach Mack Pemberton will introduce his boys and the game will follow at 8 p. m. It will be the first public showing of the lights and the new electric scoreboard. An admission of 25c to all comers will be charged, thus making it possible for the entire family to enjoy an evening of football and entertainment.

The evening will be complete with the crack West High band under the direction of Charles Bennett and a complete staff of baton twirlers and cheerleaders. The senior class will have a dance in the gymnasium immediately following the game.

Between halves both the junior and senior high bands will parade down the field and do some formations.

Tuesday Meeting To Discuss "Y"

Representatives of Hilltop civic and religious groups have been invited to attend a meeting at West High School Tuesday, Aug. 19, at 7:30 p. m., to discuss the possibility of getting a branch "Y" in the community. The meeting will be held in Room 101.

The meeting is being called by the Hilltop Community Center Committee made up of Dr. C. O. Cramer, Jerry Spears, Sr., H. G. Deems, Rev. A. J. Wold and C. C. Hartley. This group will recommend to the larger meeting of community representatives that the YMCA be petitioned to make a survey with the idea of establishing a branch "Y" on the Hilltop.

The South Side has had a branch "Y" since 1921. A recent check by telephone of families of the Hilltop showed that most persons were interested in what the YMCA had to offer in the way of a community social and recreational center.

Can You Help?

If a child, whose faith has been in the good nature of "grown-ups" for long bedridden years, asked you a favor, what would YOU do?

Would you refuse him? Could you look him in the eye and say, "Well, no, I can't help you." You'd squirm a minute and your conscience would hurt for longer than that.

Printed in last week's Record was the tragic story of 8-year-old Bobby Joe Dalgarn, 1287 Sullivant-av, stricken with an incurable form of painful rheumatoid arthritis when four years old. Bobby has been in bed since, and on these hot days his bedroom temperature has been hovering in the 90's. Efforts have been made to cool his room but to no avail.

Bobby and his parents desperately need a cooler apartment, and with the current housing shortage, anything resembling an apartment is nearly extinct.

From last week's story Bobby received many cards and telephone calls, and to his narrow existence came new friends and new hope. Perhaps, from this appeal, someone can help this brave youngster, by finding or offering for rent a single, double or apartment to Bobby and his family.

This is the golden opportunity for some Hilltopper to do a real "good deed." WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Band Practices Called By Bennett

Charles Bennett, director of the West High School bands, announced that pre-school rehearsals will be held for both the junior and senior bands, week after next.

Members of the West Junior High Band are asked to report for a one-hour rehearsal at the north side of the school building at 7 p. m., Aug. 25.

The senior band will meet at the same spot at 7:15 p. m. on Aug. 27.

Playground Festival To Be Aug. 22

Every boy and girl on the Hilltop is invited to take part in the gala Hilltop Record Playground Festival and Parade planned for Aug. 22. Prizes totaling $100 will be given the winners of the various contests, including a wristwatch, pair of skates, pocket knife, costume jewelry, softball and many, many others.

The festival, sponsored by the Record in cooperation with the Recreation Dept. and school playgrounds, will begin with a parade which will form at Wheatland-av and W. Broad-st at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Each boy and girl participating in the parade will be presented a free ticket to the Westmont Theatre, besides the prizes for the nicest appearing playground group; best decorated girl's bike, boy's bike, scooter or tricycle, wagon and doll buggy.

The bean guessing contest which began at Westgate Park earlier in the week will be held at West Broad Street Playground today, at John Burroughs tomorrow, at Glenwood Monday and Tuesday, and at Holton Wednesday and Thursday.

There will be approximately 20 prizes given for the various playground races and contests alone.

Although the West Broad and John Burroughs Playgrounds will officially close tomorrow, the children from them are still eligible for the parade and contests.

Playground supervisors who will conduct contests are Mack Pemberton, Dick Slager, and Miss Edwards, Westgate; Betty Rush and Paul Midlam of Glenwood; Paul McClain, Holton.

Safety Markers Are Installed Here

Permanent safety markers were being installed at four W. Broad-st intersections this week by city workmen and will continue until six such cross-walks are installed, Howard Edwards of the city engineer's office said.

The cross-walk markers are white in color and are imbedded into the asphalt pavement in such a way that the safety area is clearly outlined at all times. Painting will not be required.

Edwards said that at this time the plan is to install them at Hague, Oakley, Eureka and Midland-avs on W. Broad-st and at Richardson and Burgess-avs on Sullivant-av. It is felt that the markers will be particularly effective where groups of children cross the streets every day.

The city official also stated that they are expecting to receive several thousand signs for installation throughout the city at an early date. New "stop" signs and other street markers will be erected at almost every intersection where signs are required.

Two Vacancies To Be Filled At West High

Two members of last year's faculty will not return to West High School this fall, Irvin F. Young, principal of the school, announced this week.

Teachers to take their place have not been announced as yet.

Meet Queen Connie

Connie Niebel Casey

This petite blonde, five foot three inches and weighing 105 pounds, will reign as Queen of the National Outboard Boat Races this coming Sunday afternoon at Griggs Dam along the Scioto.

Connie Niebel Casey, 16, one of the drum majorettes this fall at West High School where she is a student, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Casey, 281 S. Warren-av, tallied the most votes in the contest for queen sponsored by The Hilltop Record and Camp Chase Post of the American Legion. She will be presented a $60 wristwatch at the crowning ceremonies Sunday and members of her court will be introduced to the crowd of more than 20,000 expected to attend the races.

The four young ladies receiving the next highest number of votes and thus being declared members of the queens court are Virginia Jones, 152 Guernsey-av; Evelyn Braithwaite, 160 S. Richardson-av; Barbara Jane McCracken, 145 Columbian-av; and Pat Moore, 98 S. Burgess-av.

Queen Connie, by the way, has ambitions of becoming a model. She attends Hoge Memorial Sunday School, takes singing and dancing lessons. She has a sister, Virginia Ann, 17½ years old. Her father is a photographer with the city fire department.

Top Boat Race Drivers Will Enter Sunday Outboard Classic

Nearly all the top boat race drivers in the nation will be in Columbus Sunday to participate in the National Outboard and Speedboat Races along the Scioto River at Griggs Dam.

Latest well known entries are Tommy DeWitt of Phoenix, Ariz., and Frank Vincent, Tulsa, Okla., according to Chairman Robert E. Cooke, 458 Nashoba-av.

Vincent notified Cooke that he is enroute to Marietta where he will attempt to make the $1000 Dawes trophy a permanent part of his collection. Vincent has won it twice and a third win will give it to him permanently.

Approximately 150 drivers, including several from Columbus, are expected to take part in the event, which gets under way at 2 p. m. The course to be used is considered the world's best.

Many Events Planned

In addition to the races a number of special events have been planned for the day. Police supervised parking will be provided at the course.

The races are sponsored by Camp Chase Post, No. 98, American Legion, and the proceeds will be used to help construct a Veterans' Memorial Building on the West Side, Cooke stated.

Mayor James A. Rhodes has announced that the facilities along the river, such as picnic tables and fireplaces, will be available for spectators who plan to make it a family outing as well as seeing the races.

Board Candidate Is Disqualified Here

A Hilltop candidate for member of the Columbus Board of Education in the November election was disqualified this week by Franklin Co. Board of Elections when it was discovered that there were insufficient signatures on his nominating petition.

Local Youth Involved In Auto Theft

A 16-year-old Hilltop boy is being held by juvenile officers pending a hearing on charges of stealing an automobile here last Thursday night. His hearing will be held in juvenile court Friday morning.

The youth is said by police to have stolen a 1947 Plymouth convertible from the garage of Donald F. Smith, local attorney, who lives at 2977 W. Broad-st. He was arrested in Springfield early Friday morning following a minor traffic violation.

The youth admitted to police officers that he set an alarm clock to waken him at 12 o'clock and then rode his bicycle to a spot near the Smith residence. He used a wire to unlatch the garage door and then drove away with the convertible after "wiring around" the ignition switch.

Two Hilltoppers Offered Pro Ball Contracts Here

Two Hilltop boys were offered contracts by the St. Louis Cardinals this week but it is believed that neither will accept at this time.

Donn (Sug) Haines, 2539 Sutton-av, and Bob Cline, 257 Nashoba-av, were given an opportunity to sign up with the parent organization of the Columbus Red Birds last week following the tryout camp held at Red Bird Stadium.

Haines, a graduate of West High School in '45, said that he would not accept the Cardinal offer at this time and admitted that he had also been approached by the Boston Braves. A short stop, he played three years at West in addition to winning two letters in football and three in basketball. Last year he played football on the junior varsity at Ohio University. During the summer he has been playing with Model Dairy.

Cline could not be reached for a statement as the Record went to press but it is understood that he will not accept the Cardinal offer to join one of the farm teams in Tennessee for the remainder of the season. He is a first baseman and a graduate of Aquinas. He has been attending Ohio State University.

Green Is Defeated At Polls

Floyd F. Green, 3046 Crescent-dr, one of the two Republican candidates for election to the office of mayor in the Tuesday nonpartisan election, lost to incumbent Republican Mayor James Rhodes and Democrat W. Herbert Dailey.

Two Hilltoppers survived the primary runoff and their names will appear on the November ballot. They are P. W. Sponce, 858 Columbian-av, a Republican candidate to the office of clerk of the municipal court, and George Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, Democratic council candidate, making his first bid for public office.

Green failed to carry his own, the 11th Ward, losing to the incumbent mayor 1411 to 979 while Dailey picked up 878 votes. In the 10th Ward the voting went Dailey 570, Green 543, and Rhodes 1072. Green's defeat in the 10th and 11th Wards was very similar to the primary election of 1943 when he also lost out to Rhodes. In that election Rhodes led Green in the two Hilltop wards by 1005 votes. In Tuesday's election he led by 961 ballots.

In the citywide voting the results for the three mayoralty candidates were as follows: Rhodes 22,395, Dailey 12,391, and Green 10,553.

Thomas N. Wintle, 52 N. Westgate-av, a Republican, trailed the council ticket tallying 6,353 votes in the city. He received only 406 votes in the 10th Ward and 628 in his own 11th Ward.

Tarbutton ran eighth on the ticket, thus assuring him of a place in the November election. He tallied 1196 votes in his 11th Ward and 638 in the neighboring 10th Ward.

Spence tallied 829 votes in his own ward (the 10th) and 1160 in the larger 11th Ward.

The total vote cast in the city was only 45,876, approximately 10,000 below the estimates forecast by political observers. Extremely hot weather undoubtedly kept many from going to the polls.

Hollander Tells Of Tomatoes And World Relationships

Your summer's salad bowl of fresh, ripe tomatoes from the garden was once a handful of seeds which in Holland today are as valuable as gold.

This information was gleaned from a well-written letter to Miss Avale McKinley, 253 N. Harris-av, from the hand of W. H. P. Feenstra, a peace-loving Hollander who resides in the Hague.

Feenstra writes and speaks English well and from what information Miss McKinley has gathered, is some sort of newspaper employee in addition to working for the Shell Oil Co.

The educational correspondence between the democratic Dutchmen and the fourth grade teacher at Southwood School results from a similar letter-writing experience. Miss McKinley some time ago sent a note in a Red Cross package to Holland. Recipient of the box was a teen-age lad whose uncle, Feenstra, translated the paper. Later Feenstra wrote Miss McKinley and the two have been corresponding since.

His latest letter, a typewritten masterpiece of opinions on "the Hitler myth," the German people and the present dreary situation in the land of windmills, attempts to express the ideas of his fellow countrymen as well as his own.

Excerpts from it are reprinted here in an effort to give readers some conception of what goes on in the minds of Hollanders today.

Miss McKinley sent Feenstra tomato seeds. His answer to this unique gift follows a dissertation on statesmen as well as tomatoes.

Tomatoes Doing Fine

"The tomatoes are doing fine. The American seeds do agree very well with the Dutch soil and thereby follow the human example. Both of our countrymen can live very well in the other country. Take for instance, the Ambassador of the USA in Holland. He is an elderly, very kind gentleman, is Mr. Baruch, and very popular. Saw a picture in one of the magazines in which Mr. B. was seen amidst a large crowd of slum children. He had just opened a recreation ground for them. Strange contrast — a gentleman with white long hair, in frock coat and top hat, and rather shabby kids around him, all eager to shake hands. Saw him when he came to present his credentials to H. M. the Queen. Guard of Honor, flags flying, 'O say can you see . . .' played by the military band and all civilians who happened to be spectators jumping to attention and baring their heads. Good thing that.

"But I was talking about tomato seeds and not international relations. The plans are healthy and I guess I shall have a nice crop. That is a jolly good thing, too, as vegetables and fruits fetch ridiculous prices here. Funny, we used to export these things in enormous quantities before the war and although the crops have suffered from the consequences of the war, the yearly yield is still very big. Home grown tomatoes are very welcome."

No Sympathy For Germans

Feenstra has no sympathy for the Germans. He writes:

"Now we come to the German puzzle. Let me say first and for everything that I hate the Germans and I think they got what they bargained for. My blood goes up when I hear people pity them. They are . . . well, as I am writing to a lady, I will just say 'bad people.' Another thing is when people say—you cannot have a dung heap in the center of your town—OK, something must be done to clear up the mess. And the spiritual mess is worse than the material one. So once again, I have no sympathy with the Jerries but I will try to see them as a pathologist looks at moths or caterpillars. You cannot blame a moth when it feeds on your fur coat and if you attack it with flyspray or DDT, it will call you a busybody, ousting an honest God-fearing moth out of its promised land. There are always two sides and we seldom realize that the other fellow may be right after all. Of course, when the other one turns to gas chambers and that sort of things—that is for the psychologist to puzzle about."

He goes on in a decidedly saddened state concerning the present-day German youth. "The German problem is such a gloomy thing that it fills one with dismay and dark forebodings. The past has done terrible harm. The young people have been kept in the dark upon many points. A young man of 18, a pupil at high school, confessed that he had never heard of Prof. Einstein. Lots of them did not know anything about the Christian doctrines or of the fundamentals of the creed. Church means nothing to them. I will not recall the blasphemous things which were being taught about the person of Christ. What is to be done with people taught to hate other races and regard them as unclean beasts, who have been told to follow their animal desires, and learn that children born out of wedlock are a real asset to the state? What is Europe going to do with them?"

He closed his lengthy epistle with thanks to the Americans, "for doing what you did and are still doing."

To be intimate with a foolish friend is like going to bed with a razor.

—Benjamin Franklin.

Beauty Shop Operator Is Promoter Of Coondog Field Trials Here

Operator of a beauty salon by day — coon dog enthusiast by night. That's the story of Helen Planck, who has been in the beauty shop business for 17 years and a follower of the hounds for even a longer time.

For the past two years owner of Fern's Beauty Shop, 9 S. Wayne-av, Helen and her husband, Stuart Planck, have been entering their string of coon dogs in field trials all over the country for a number of years. They have won prize money and more than 30 trophies all over the country.

On Aug. 29 and 30 the couple, together with H. F. (Bud) Poston, will hold the annual Planck-Poston Coon Dog Field Trials on Koebel-rd, three miles east of West Jefferson. A thousand dollars in prize money has been posted for the event, expected to attract upwards of 250 dogs from all over the country. It will be the sixth such event held by the two families in recent years.

Prize money includes first tree, $400; second tree, $150; first line, $300; second line, $150. An entry fee of $8 is being charged. The first heat will be run Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be served on the grounds.

Have Six Dogs

The Plancks and Postons together run a string of six Black and Tan and Redbone hounds. Top winners in the kennel are Singer Boy, Dixie Dash and Jiggs. Events won in recent years include the Tennessee National at Henderson, Tenn.; Buckeye National at Dayton; Dalton Sweepstakes, Dalton, Mass.; Grandview National, Apple Creek, Ohio; Easter Parade, Solon, Ohio; and field trials at Syracuse, N. Y., and in Indiana.

Helen McCoy Planck was raised in the vicinity of Rome and was a coon dog fancier even before she married Stuart Planck, a PBX installer for Ohio Bell Telephone Co. They live at 184 Lenox-av.

Drunken Driver Is Still Leading Traffic Problem

By W. Earl Hall
Chairman, National Committee for Traffic Safety

Drinking by drivers and pedestrians is a growing traffic safety problem. The most recent records of state authorities show that in one out of every four fatal traffic accidents a driver or a pedestrian was reported as having been drinking.

Special studies bear out the belief of many authorities that the information on official accident reports understates the true picture. Surveys involving chemical tests of blood or other body materials of drivers tested who had been injured or killed in traffic accidents showed that half of the drivers had alcohol in their systems. About one-third of all the drivers tested had sufficient alcohol to be under its influence.

Results show that the greater the concentration of alcohol in a person's system, the greater the danger. A person with a blood alcohol concentration of more than .15 per cent has a relatively poor chance of staying out of an accident. The average driver in this range is FIFTY-FIVE TIMES MORE LIKELY to be involved in an accident than drivers with no alcohol!

The public is well aware of the dangers of driving after drinking. In a public opinion poll for the National Committee for Traffic Safety, each person interviewed was asked which of 10 listed factors caused the greatest number accidents, in his opinion. Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor ranked number one.

Perhaps the main stumbling block in getting better enforcement of drunken driving laws in most places has been the difficulty in determining whether drivers actually were under the influence. So much difficulty has been experienced in some places in convicting drivers who were under the influence but not "staggering drunk" that enforcement has been directed at only the most obvious cases.

Many progressive enforcement agencies, however, have turned to the use of chemical tests to provide the needed additional evidence. Such tests show definitely whether there is sufficient alcohol in the blood stream and brain to cause intoxication. Their use eliminates guesswork by showing whether a drinking driver has enough alcohol in his system to be legally under its influence.

Test results do not measure how much a person has been drinking—they show instead how much has been ABSORBED in the blood stream, and how much gets to the brain. It is the concentration of alcohol in the blood stream and brain, and not the amount in the stomach, which bears a definite relationship to degree of intoxication.

The use of such scientific tests was recommended by the President's Highway Safety Conference of 1946. National organizations which have long advocated use of chemical tests for alcoholic influence include the American Bar Association, American Medical Association, Federal Bureau of Investigation, International Association of Chiefs of Police, National Safety Council and the National Conservation Bureau.

Despite the technical and promotional work of these groups, there are still jurisdictions which regard chemical test evidence in somewhat the same light as the lie detector—a "new-fangled gadget." Many cities, however, notably Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Detroit, Washington and Indianapolis, use chemical tests as routine practice. A recent tabulation showed 62 cities over 10,000 population reporting use of such tests for enforcement purposes, with 20 state enforcement agencies likewise reporting their use.

Use of evidence obtained through chemical tests is now officially recognized in state laws in Maine, New York, Indiana and Oregon. Model legislation on interpretation of chemical test results, as recommended in Act V of the Uniform Vehicle Code, has been introduced in legislatures of several states this year.

A chemical testing program has many advantages. There are more pleas of guilty, and fewer cases necessitating jury trial, with the attendant expense. There is less chance of a miscarriage of justice—the non-drinker and the mild drinker are spared the embarrassment of unjust arrest. These tests actually "free the innocent and convict the guilty."

The organizations making up the National Committee for Traffic Safety look upon drinking and driving as a safety problem. The committee is concerned in seeking to develop greater public acceptance of the responsibility for avoiding the social tragedy and economic waste caused by traffic accidents. As far as liquor is concerned, we urge only: "When you have been drinking, don't drive." Even two or three drinks may affect judgment in driving and contribute to an accident.

Local Fisherman And 25-pounder

W. M. Miller and Catch

The Muskies come big in the Canadian French River.

Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley Miller, 2905 W. Broad-st, can vouch for that for they caught them in sizes ranging from 12 to 25 pounds (the one shown above).

The Millers just returned a few days ago from two months spent up in the wilds, 30 miles from North Bay, Canada, at the Roy Wolfe cottage. Mrs. Miller, a nurse, had spent 15 seasons in that section of the country. She had cared for the late Mrs. Wolfe. Mr. Miller, a retired city fireman, was there for the second time.

"You really had to work for what you caught up there this year," Mrs. Miller explained.

Two West Teachers Go To Altar Saturday

Thousands of high school romances flourish and eventually lead to the altar but less frequently does cupid work on members of the faculty. This, however, was the case at West High School last semester.

Miss De Lane Schindler, instructor in English in senior high, and Adolph Kittle, junior high English teacher, were married Saturday in a ceremony performed in the Broad Street Presbyterian Church.

Both teachers will be back in their class rooms when school opens Sept. 2.

SENIORS TO PLAY

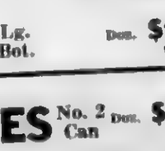
be available by the opening game with Central High School but will not be installed by the time of the pre-season showing of the stadium.

The coaching staff will be augmented this year by the services of Dave Randall, a teacher at West and former tackle on the Cowboy team. Fred Heischman will again assist with the grid activities.

Also working with Coach Pemberton on the reserve team will be Floyd Reis and Jody Gram, two OSU seniors who will be getting credit on practice teaching. Gram has been serving as a lifeguard at the Hilltop Swimming Pool.

The Cowboys will play a 10-game schedule this fall, not including the inter-squad game and a practice game with Newark on Aug. 29. Seven of these games will be on home soil.

Practice will get under way on Wednesday of next week with a preliminary meeting on Tuesday evening. Gone will be six members of last year's senior class who were regulars most of the season but a likely crop of reserve letter winners will be fighting it out for these berths.



Ten free passes to the Westmont Theater are given weekly. Watch for names appearing in the Record Want Ads.

From the Groom's Side

Most wedding announcements play up the bride. A recent wedding found the groom given better treatment in the discription given the wedding in "Pennsylvania Leaguer," as follows:

"The groom wore a stiff collar, size 15¼, to keep his head up. It was a detachable collar. Just to make sure the collar would stay in place he put it on a shirt with a sleeve of 33 inches and anchored it with a bow tie of white cloth. He was very weak, having had nothing to eat that evening because gravy stains were not permitted on the white vest. In order that no one would see his knees shake he wore the "beetle-bug" coat which incidentally kept in harmony with the rest of his attire. The trousers were 30 inches in length and measured 34 inches at the waist, including bay window. Being so big at the waist the knee measurement had to be 23 inches, with a cuff of 19 inches. Initialed cuff and collar buttons of matched design completed that part of the groom's ensemble. His shoes were black, so he said, purchased at the usual price. The groom wore suspenders and carried a new white linen handkerchief, unused until the time of the nuptials. His nervousness made him go to the barber for a shave. And as a wedding gift he received a hair-cut.

"A reception followed the ceremonies after which he left on his honeymoon.

"(Ed. Note: The bride wore a white wedding gown and also took part in the ceremony.)"

OSU Students From 49 Different Religious Groups

Reach down into the "melting pot" of Ohio State University's record summer quarter student body any day and you can come up with 49 different religions and religious denominations.

Representatives of every religious faith from Mohammedan to Russian Orthodox are found among the 9,918 Ohio State students who declared their religious affiliation during their enrollment this quarter. During the past academic year of three quarters from September to June, there were 57 different faiths represented on the campus.

Largest student group on the campus during this summer are the Methodist church goers, who total 2,664. During the academic year just ended, they also were the largest denomination, totaling 5,818. Next largest student religious group enrolled this summer is the Catholic with 1,375 and the third largest is Presbyterian with 1,276. Jewish students total 708 at Ohio State this summer.

Other substantial enrollments are among Lutheran students, who total 729; Brethren, 541; Episcopal, 414, and Congregational Christian, 409.

Ohio State's fairly large foreign student population is reflected in the listings of such faiths as Mohammedan, Syrian Orthodox, Hindu, Buddhist and Moslem.

Also represented are African Methodist, Church of God, Community Church, Evangelical, Friends, Unitarian, United Brethren and United Presbyterian groups.

Lockheed pilots and engineers built the plane in their spare time as a hobby.

Local Man Has Interest In Premier Showing Of "God Is My Landlord"

Several motion picture scenes taken by a local business and church men were used in the premier showing of the motion picture on tithing, "God Is My Landlord." The picture was viewed for the first time by a large group who attended the program held in Adrian, Mich., Aug. 2, marking the end of the "Sabbatical Year of Rest" following Perry Hayden's world-famous six-year Biblical Wheat Demonstration.

Harold Fox, owner of the Fox Food Shop and a prominent member of the Highland Avenue Friends Church, photographed a number of the scenes used in the color movie when the experiment was started and during the harvesting later on. Business matters prevented his attending the premier showing but plans are already under way for a showing of the picture in Columbus and possibly on the Hilltop at a later date.

Dr. Don Falkenberg, head of the Bible Meditation League here in Columbus, is another local man vitally interested in this experiment in Christian stewardship. The picture will be used by the Dynamic Kernels Foundation in stewardship work throughout the world. It is being produced in several foreign languages for use in other countries.

Started In 1940

From 1940 to 1946, Hayden, the Tecumseh, Mich., miller, encouraged and assisted by the late Henry Ford and hundreds of neighboring farmers, conducted one of the most interesting tithing demonstrations in history. The seventh year, as enjoined by the word of God, he "rested the land."

The second six-year program will carry the inspiration and lesson of the demonstration around the world. A book by the same name, dedicated to the "Memory of Henry Ford" and written by Raymond Jeffreys of Columbus, was released at the Adrian celebration.

It was in September of 1940 that Perry Hayden heard a sermon in his local Quaker Church, preached by Clifton J. Robinson of Newport News, Va., then a student at Cleveland Bible College. Robinson's text was John 12:24—"Verily, verily, I say unto you, except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone, but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit." It was wheat planting time in Michigan. Hayden decided to plan a cubic inch of wheat, pay a tithe of the harvest to his church, replant the nine-tenths, and continue this for six years. He wanted to demonstrate in a visible way the principles of rebirth, tithing and of the sabbath.

As directed in Liviticus 25:3, 4, he planned to "rest the land" the seventh year.

Harvests Abundant

As promised in Malachi 3:10, Hayden's harvests were abundant. He had a "fifty-fold" increase the first year, and "fifty-five" fold increase the second. The third harvest reached 16 bushels, the fourth jumped to 380 bushels, the fifth in 1945 amazed the world by reaching 5,555 bushels. The sixth and final spectacular harvest was 72,150 bushels—all from a cubic inch of wheat planted six years earlier, and faithfully tithed each year. If the project were continued for four more years it would require all the land in the United States. In seven more years, or a total of 13 years, it would cover the entire globe with wheat!

Henry Ford, who believed that "tithing would ease many of the world's problems," furnished land, labor and equipment for the first five years. The sixth year was so large that it required 2,666 acres. This was furnished by 276 farmers from five states, and representing 30 different faiths and creeds. The total value of the 1946 crop was nearly $150,000. A large portion of the tithe was sent overseas and distributed for famine relief by the American Friends Service Committee.

"God Is My Landlord," shown on the anniversary of the closing of the first six-year phase of the project, portrays all the colorful harvest, events and pageants, as well as some of the tribulations of the famous six-year demonstration. Ralph Comfort of Tecumseh, assisted by seven photographers, took the pictures throughout the past seven years. They were compiled, edited and built into the movie by McHenry Films of Chicago.

Ford In Picture

In addition to Henry Ford, others who appear in the picture and by word or presence advocate tithing are Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, ace of World War I; Rev. Walter A. Maier and William H. Danforth of St. Louis, Mo.; James D. Kraft of Chicago; R. G. LeTourneau of Longview, Tex.; Kenneth Keys of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Charles Cowman of Los Angeles, Calif; David Petty of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Emma Clarissa Clement of Louisville, Ky.; Millard Pryor of Mansfield, Ohio; Rev. Clifton Robinson of Bundlekhand, Central India; Governor Kim Sigler of Lansing, Mich.; Mayor Jeffries of Detroit, Mich.; Gil Dodds, Wheaton, Ill.; Charles Figy, Morenci, Mich.; C. D. Finkbeiner of Saline, Mich.; Floyd Jacob of Manchester, Mich., and many other celebrities.

Perry Hayden says that instead of planting the wheat the next six years he intends to sow the seed of tithing in the hearts and minds of people of all creeds and beliefs throughout the world. This will be stimulated, he says, by the showing of the film and distribution of the book, "God Is My Landlord." He has already told the story of his "Dynamic Kernels" Tithing Wheat to hundreds of gatherings throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. The enthusiastic response by the peoples of these three countries has encouraged Hayden president of a milling firm, Tecumseh, Mich., to devote the major part of his time in the coming year to traveling and speaking on tithing.

Game Prospects Show Encouragement

Although the wildlife nesting season kill in many sections of the state has been reported as extremely heavy this year because of the unusually cold, wet spring season, some counties where lowland flooding is uncommon are reporting substantial increases in young pheasants and rabbits over the spring of 1946.

Wildlife Conservation Extension Agent Elwood Stroup of Greene County reports that he has personally checked with many farmers in various parts of Greene, Montgomery and Warren Counties regarding game prospects for 1947 and in almost every case indications point to an increase in rabbits, squirrel and raccoon. Favorable reports on the pheasant hatch were received although in this particular area pheasants are placed in the scarce-to-common section of the state where present management measures should yield good results in increased population.

Fishing Contest Is Feature Of Fair

There'll be fun aplenty for both the anglers and the kititzers at the Ohio Division of Conservation Twin Lakes exhibit when 60 youngsters under 18 in hour-long shifts fish for fun and for fish at the big 1947 Ohio State Fair at Columbus, Aug. 23 through the 29th.

The 22-foot angler's pool will be stocked with several thousand channel cats and bullheads measuring anywhere from 10 inches to whoppers. Youngsters will fish 45 minutes out of each hour under the supervision of the fish management section of the division of conservation attended by uniformed field men of the division who will keep the youngsters supplied with bait, fishing poles, lines, sinkers, and will help string the fish or come running with the smelling salts when young Ike Walton smacks a spectator in the face with a two-pound channel cat.

Fishing will be free and the contestants will be able to take their catches home. Game protectors will see that the fish are wrapped, labeled and stored on ice while the youngsters visit the rest of the big fair. The schedule calls for fishing in the afternoon only of the first two days of the fair but the rest of the week it will be an all-day affair. Fishing will begin on the hour and registrations may be made at the kiddies' fishing contest headquarters at Twin Lakes in the southeast corner of the fairgrounds.

The work of the various sections of the division of conservation will be on display around the lakes and within the huge display arena of the big top, where fair visitors may get a better understanding of the broad program of wildlife conservation now in progress here in Ohio.

"Profit Motive" One Reason For Delinquency Today

We can't expect to curb juvenile delinquency when we're only willing to spend "peanut money" for social reforms, Albert H. Crombia, president of Youth Problems, Inc., told members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at last week's luncheon meeting.

Lashing out at what he termed the "profit motive" of adults in conducting the type of business that leads to the downfall of the youth today, he pointed out that more money was spent for liquor in the State of Ohio last year than was spent on all of the schools, churches, libraries and the Red Cross put together.

"We spend millions of dollars every year to make them delinquent and then nickels and dimes to prevent delinquency," the youth worker told his audience.

He said that for every boy who gets in trouble with the law there are 30 others who are doing the same thing but are not caught.

"I'm concerned with the boy or girl who is not yet in trouble," Mr. Crombia said.

Five Things That Can Be Done

He listed these five things that individuals can do to help keep boys and girls from becoming delinquents:

1. Stop talking about yesterday and face facts as they are today.
2. Develop a sympathetic art of understanding the problems of the youth of today.
3. Face facts as they are and put the responsibility where it belongs.
4. Learn to spend our money intelligently.
5. Do something of a positive nature. Talk to boys or girls who are known to be on the verge of getting into trouble and talk to their parents.

Churches should lead the way in character building, cresting in the minds of each young person a moral sense of right and wrong.

Schools should place greater emphasis on character building and an understanding of personal relationships between boys and girls of teen age.

Crombia criticized severely the lack of "Hell fire and damnation" preaching in the pulpits today.

"One of the troubles today is that youth has no respect for himself, God, man or the Devil. We need more fire in the pulpit," the Kiwanis speaker shouted.

He praised the work of the public school teachers who he believes are "doing a wonderful job."

"The hope of America today lies in the public schools," Mr. Crombia said.

He closed his spirited discussion with this impassioned plea:

"You do the thing that you can do. I will do what I can do and Eternal God will do what neither of us is able to do."

Army Ground Forces Band To Play Here

The celebrated Army Ground Forces Band of 100 pieces, from Washington, D. C., will again appear in Columbus Saturday evening, Aug. 16. The concert is scheduled for 8 p. m. and will be played in front of the state capitol building facing High-st.

This public concert presented for the people of Columbus and central Ohio marks the fourth appearance of the band in this area within a year. Last November the band and glee club played and sang before a capacity crowd in Memorial Hall. Last June 29, Captain Chester E. Whiting, conductor, brought the band to Columbus to commemorate the closing of historical Fort Hayes. On the following Monday evening the band presented another concert as a part of the regularly scheduled twilight concerts on the campus of Ohio State University.

No Band Concert For The Hilltop

Westgate Park will not have its annual free band concert this year. Instead, the Federation of Musicians Band will play a special concert in Sunshine Park on Saturday, Aug. 23, as a part of the Franklinton Sesquicentennial celebration.

The band will play under the direction of Herb Germaine, music teacher at Barrett Junior High School, once a teacher of music at West.

Russ Butler, baritone with the First Community Church and singer for Frank LaRue's orchestra, will be the featured vocalist. The program will feature local composers.

Fidelis Class To Have Lawn Fete Next Sat.

The Fidelis Class of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will sponsor a lawn festival to be held at the church Saturday evening, Aug. 23. All proceeds will go into the building fund for the new church. There will be refreshments, a fish pond, entertainment and free movies for young and old.

Line, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Barr, Mr. and Mrs. George Bornheim, Mr. and Mrs. Edgel Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Don Dewhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hulls, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mason, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Marble Return From 12,011-mile Western Trip

A rolling stone gathers no [illegible] and neither did the Hilltop's rolling Marbles! Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Marble, 26 Southampton-av, returned Aug. 1 from a vacation trip which covered more than 12,000 miles and lasted three months. Highlights of their house-trailer trip were a visit with their daughter, Pauline, a nurse at the University of California in San Francisco, and the reunion in Seattle of Mr. Marble and his brother whom he had not seen for 38 years.

On May 1 the Marbles crossed the Mississippi River, which was "on the rampage" at the time; then by May 3 they had reached the Ozark Mountains, where the natives peddled their rugs, baskets, etc., along the way. Claremore, Okla., was the next stop, where they visited the Will Rogers Memorial. They saw the first high mountains of their travels just before reaching Albuquerque, N. M. The mountains in that district are high and rocky. They left Albuquerque after spending three days there, going through the curio shops and looking at the Indian jewelry. The Mission of Isleta, which is in the Indian district, is over 300 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Marble are members of a photo club here in town and are interested in moving pictures. They took 5000 feet of 16 mm. colored movie film on their trip and made 300 slides.

May 8 found them in the old city of Santa Fe. They spent some time further north in the Toas Indian country, taking moving pictures all of the time. In Gallup, N. M., the Indian capital, are the two biggest tribes the Navajos and the Zuni, who are the chief jewelry makers. The Indians refer to their homes as hogans. Some of the native fellows who were in the service and who acquired new learnings wear sun glasses to be in style, however, not knowing that they are for bright, sunshiny days, the Indians wear them after sundown and even in darkness.

See Boulder Dam

The Painted Desert, Petrified Forest and Boulder Dam followed in quick succession. They skipped visiting the Grand Canyon at that time in order to be in Las Vegas for the Heldorado. This affair consists of rodeos, beard contests and reviving of the old western customs. In Las Vegas they visited the Flamingo Club, and Roy Rogers ranch (where Mr. Marble swam in the private swimming pool). On May 23 they retraced their trip to visit the Grand Canyon.

Next came Blythe, Calif., a station where they and their belongings were searched, then Coachella Valley, noted for its date gardens, and finally Palm Springs. May 29 found them at Riverside, Calif., just at the right time to hear the chimes at the old Mission Inn. They also visited the San Juan Capistrano Mission in southern California, followed by a side trip to Mexico. In Los Angeles they visited for two weeks. Hollywood followed, where they visited the ABC and NBC radio stations and Grauman's Chinese Theater.

They spent one week in San Francisco, saw Telegraph Hill, an Italian Swiss winery and, going north, crossed the Golden Gate. The Redwood tree section, called the "Avenue of the Giants," afforded the couple much pleasure with its photographic scenery.

"Crater Lake in Oregon was the most beautiful spot of the whole trip," said Mrs. Marble. "Oregon with its brooks, peaks and falls was really the most scenic state of all."

Spent 4th At Portland

On the Fourth of July they arrived at Portland, Ore. They traveled down the Columbia River as far as Hood River, and visited Bonneville Dam, where there is a fish hatchery and where "the salmon jump the falls." Then they arrived at Mt. Hood and Mt. Hood Lodge, where they ate dinner. They visited Paradise Valley before leaving for Tacoma, Wash., where they went to Mt. Ranier.

Next they visited the Washington Concrete Floating Bridge, Dry Falls, Couer d'Alene Lake, crossed Idaho and in Montana stopped at Butte, the great mining town. July 15 had arrived when they reached Yellowstone National Park. They stayed there a week, photographing the geysers and falls. In Custer, S. D., they witnessed the Gold Rush Jubilee. Mt. Rushmore, where the faces of four presidents are carved in the granite, was their next important stop, located in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

By the time they reached the section called the Bad Lands the thermometer had reached 107 degrees and "we were ready for Ohio again," said Mrs. Marble. They stopped in Sioux City, Ia., and Chicago, Ill., then arrived home on Aug. 1, and unless appearances are very deceiving, are sort of glad to be back.

ATTORNEY TO TEACH CLASS

Fred Rosemond, attorney and well-known speaker, will talk to the combined adult Sunday School classes of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church on Aug. 17.

"Flying Reavers" Operate Airport

The "Flying Reavers" (not an acrobatic team) now operate what formerly was known as Howard's Flying Service on the 3-C Highway just northeast of Grove City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reaver and sons, Bob and Don, of 1604 Reaver-ln, recently purchased the field and are now operating it. All are flying enthusiasts.

Mr. Reaver has had a private pilot's license for 12 years and also holds an instructor's license in addition to being a Civil Aeronautics flight examiner. He has operated his own flying service at the Clickenger Airport for several years.

Boo, age 20, is a sophomore at Ohio State University, majoring in electrical engineering. He served in the Navy's radar division for a year and a half and has a private pilot's license.

His brother, Don, soloed on his sixteenth birthday and received his pilot's license on his seventeenth birthday, the earliest date allowed by law.

Brothers of Charles Reaver operate an airport in Panama City, Fla.; another at Mariana, Fla.; a third is associated with the Paul Mantz Flying Service of Los Angeles, Calif., caterer to Hollywood's film folk; and a fourth who was a major in the AAF during the war, now with the Wilson Auto Service here in Columbus.

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

"And just why," said Bill with a touch of irony, "Should a healthy young ruffian like Bill Jr. require assurance at the age of ten?"

"For a variety of reasons," I replied, "Most of which are conclusive in themselves. For one thing, life assurance premiums on children are very small, but what is more important is that they remain at the same low rate all through life. Even if, in the future, he becomes uninsurable through ill health, the protection which you secure for him will continue as long as the original low regular premiums are paid. Also, it encourages the habit of thrift and impresses a boy with a true sense of the value of money. Think of it this way too — in the future, when he begins life in earnest, it may be the means of establishing business credit and financial backing."

"I could certainly have done with something like that fifteen years ago when I started out, couldn't I, my dear?" said Bill, turning to his wife.

So Bill Jr. starts life with the great advantage of a Sun Life policy. It will stand him in good stead. If there is a Bill Jr. or a young Mary in your family, won't you give them this great helping hand? Call me about the Sun Life Junior Adjustable plan today.

We're proud of our people

PEOPLE MAKE A CITY

The present population of the Columbus metropolitan area is estimated to be 410,000, of whom 96% are American-born, 46% of the families own homes.

Statistics indicate that 185,000 people are employed in this area; savings deposits are estimated at $188,000,000.

The interest of Columbus in cultural matters is indicated by the Museum of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, the Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra, the Columbus Boychoir, and libraries housing more than 1,500,000 volumes.

Church-going Columbus supports 328 churches.

PEOPLE MAKE A BUSINESS

Fisher Body-Ternstedt employes in Columbus number more than 1800.

While relatively new, having been completed in 1946, the plant has 16 employes with from five to 10 years' service with General Motors, 83 with ten years' service or more.

The present employment includes 612 veterans, of whom 589 are men and 23 women.

448 of our employes own their homes; there is wide participation in government-bond buying and insurance programs conducted by the company.

We think the men and women with whom we work are good examples of the kind of people who have made this city what it is.

The kind of folks we mean—the only kind that could have built such a flourishing, prosperous, law-abiding, well-housed and well-run community—are self-respecting men and women of initiative, ability and energy—people "with their feet on the ground," people who believe that whatever's worth doing is worth doing well.

That is the kind of people, mainly, who are your neighbors and ours—and the kind we are so fortunate to have as fellow workers here in our local plant of General Motors.

We are proud of our products. And we are well aware that no product is better than the workmanship that goes into it. And so—for this reason, as well as for their basic characteristics so typical of this community—we are proud of our employes.

The course of true progress, like "the course of true love," never runs smoothly. Where there is freedom of thought with fundamental intelligence, differences of opinion are bound to arise.

But in a community like this—and a "family" like ours—the basic character of the people who form it is a strong guarantee that our future will be worthy of our past.

Punish the Drunk Driver

The public is well aware of the dangers of drunk driving.

In a recent public opinion poll conducted by the National Committee for Traffic Safety, each person was asked which of ten listed factors caused the greatest number of accidents. Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor ranked number one.

Yet special studies show that one half of the drivers who were killed or injured in traffic accidents during the last year had been drinking! One third of all the drivers tested had consumed sufficient alcohol to be under its influence!

How can a man justify manslaughter or bodily injury when he is fully aware of its cause, yet ignores his responsibility to stop it! The answer is he can't justify it and is deserving of full punishment under the law of his inexcusable act.

The drinking driver who is killed in an accident of his own making pays for his error tragically, and often with the horror of a painfully mutilated and lingering death. Often, too, his family is left with a financial burden caused by his act.

On the other hand, the drinking driver lucky enough to escape death, even though he may be permanently injured, still has no justificaton in expecting anything but the severest penalty the law can apply to him.

It is the duty of all of us, both drivers and pedestrians, to curtail drinking while we are driving or walking on our streets and highways. Then it is our duty to see that those who do violate the rules of safety and decency are severely punished.

Modern Poetry

By Esther Weakley

TOLERANCE

I think no thrush has ever changed its song
Because a sinner passed beneath its bough.
It sang for saints but yesterday, and now
It sings for one whose heart is stained with wrong.
Dear Lord, I ask, Do nature's gifts belong
Alone to those who chant some pious vow,
Or do You, in Your providence, endow
All men with love, the weak ones and the strong?

Can he be wholly evil's partisan
Who, on his way to some base rendezvous,
Pauses to hear the lark, or give a hand
To help a little child? Is such a man
Really corrupt and bad? Or is it true
That God will see, and seeing, understand.

RECOLLECTION

I wasn't any higher than the Queen Ann's lace,
And the sun was a penny, and the breeze ran free.
There was gold on my lashes, and June in my face
And silver on the clover where dew ought to be.

I wasn't any wider than the new bleeding heart,
With gauze for its collar and a ruffled green sleeve.
For a spell on the garden in a witch-made art
Left the world in my keeping for a Make Believe.

The phlox was an echo of the white birch tree;
There was mirth and illusion over all this place.
(So here am I remembering for all the time to be . . .
And I wasn't any higher than the Queen Ann's lace.)

BE NICE

If people treat you quite unkind,
There's something you can do;
For how they act when you're around
Is mostly up to you.

If you get lots of icy stares,
Then here is my advice:
Be what you want your friends to be—
Put the letter N on ICE.

Ireland In 15 Hours

Dublin, July 3, 1947

Probably nowhere else in the world but in an airplane on a West-to-East crossing of the Atlantic is it possible to see both sunset and sunrise within the space of a single hour.

We had taken off from New York's LaGuardia Field at 2:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time, Tuesday, July 1, and within less than six hours the big Constellation sat gracefully down on the huge runways of the international airport at Gander, Newfoundland. At 15,000 feet we had been able to see the shores of Massachusetts, 20 miles south of Boston, and later the barren coast of Nova Scotia at Yarmouth.

But now, the sun was still high enough in the sky to take a color photograph at Gander, the clock standing at 8:30 p. m. Newfoundland time. There were pineapple juice, sandwiches and coffee "for free" in the airlines terminal (although we had just been served a delicious squab dinner aloft only half an hour before), and then we were off again in another 45 minutes.

The sun seemed to go down fast as we flew east, and shortly there was only a glow on the western horizon. Then it was dark, and within another 40 minutes the dawn began to show in the east. We had breakfast on board at about 1:00 a. m. New York time, and before 3:00 a. m. we were dropping down from 19,000 feet through the clouds to watch the greenest land in the world push up through the mist.

Ireland — or more properly, Eire, as the Irish say—is a magnificent picture from the air. The land stretches out in gorgeous shades of green as far as one can see, the landscape below an interesting pattern of many odd shaped fields—each separated from the next by a hedgerow in darker green, the fields themselves not all rectangular, as ours are, for some are pie-shaped, and rounded at the corners of the square plots; here and there a white stone, thatched roofed cottage, each with its chimney pots.

Shannon airport itself is a cosmopolitan airport, for planes come in all day from New York, London, Dublin, Paris, Frankfurt —all the American overseas lines, most of the European. Many of the wartime buildings are now a part of the offices, lobby and dining rooms.

A few miles away lies Limerick—a "small town," the Irish say, of about 10,000 population. There is time to catch a bus and go over for a look-see before your plane departs for Dublin. It is a quaint community — there are many automobiles, but also many horse-drawn wagons and carts. The store fronts present an interesting combination of the ancient and the modern—those of years ago, others interspersed between are designed almost exactly like our most modern American shops.

Thence back to Shannon and on to Dublin via Aer Lingus Teoranta, the Irish air line.

Dublin is a great sprawling city of many parks, with a handsome airport, and you make the trip in about an hour. The city at this time of year is crowded with thousands of visitors from all parts of America and Europe. There are English and French and Americans in almost every hotel, and you're lucky if you get a hotel room. I didn't.

Somewhere along the line, my reservations had fouled up, but in time the travel agent found me a "guest house," with a big room on the third floor (the bathroom two floors below). But it was clean and comfortable, with piping hot water in the tub, and a splendid breakfast of grapefruit, sausage, bacon and eggs, and the Irish kind of coffee (of which the less said the better) the next morning.

Among the visitors, one hears some interesting conversations—such as that of the visiting New Yorker who remarked to his wife that "having spoken once to a Fifth Avenue cop, anybody would be at home in Ireland. Everybody's an Irishman and they all speak with that Irish brogue."

If that sounds a bit strange, it is literally true, for the fact is that few other nationalities are to be seen or heard here. They are ALL Irishmen, and they have the same hard, common sense, and the same magnificent sense of humor Americans have always associated with them. Possibly because there are so many Irishmen in the States, the native character evidently likes the "Yanks." He saw them often during the war, and he sees a few now. You are spotted the minute you speak —for there's only one American accent.

Conversations, in fact, make the trip.

The only vacant seat on the plane as I stepped up the ramp in New York was an outside one, next to an elderly British lady, returning home after three months with her daughter in Jacksonville, Fla. Three of her daughters had married in eight months, two to Americans whom they had met overseas during the war, the other to a South African, so all were away from home—and the youngest, in Florida, had been ill.

A delightful conversationalist, my seat companion was frank in her dislike for the British Labor Party. "Humph," she declared emphatically, "I heard that Strachey — he's practically a Communist, though he doesn't say so —declare over the radio that the Labor Party had raised the working man's standard of living far beyond his wildest dreams. So the next morning when my Bridget (the maid) came in I asked her 'You must be quite giddy this morning. I understand from Mr. Strachey that your standard of living has gone up by leaps and bounds.'

"'Ah, yes,' said Bridget, 'an with it we cawn't even make ends meet as well as we did under Churchill'." She decried England's present experiment with socialism and is sure that the working man as well as wealthier people will eventually toss it out.

The farmer on the bus from

Limerick to Shannon looked for all the world like a red-faced American agriculturist who spends days in the sun. The cattle in the fields, he said, with a grin which showed odd teeth missing, were a special breed: Irish shorthorn. Ireland raises all its own beef, but the breed is "assorted," with no state-wide attempt to develop purebred strains. The small herds in the fields—most farms are about 50 acres, the remains of many great estates broken up and distributed to the people who work them—consist principally of red cattle spotted with white, the head much like a Hereford. The rest are a variety of colors — some showing apparent Holstein or Ayrshire ancestry.

Beef, sugar (beets) and potatoes are the principal crops, although Frank Gallagher, government public information officer and former secretary to Prime Minister DeValera, told me later in Dublin that Ireland is, despite the necessity for substitutions, self sufficient in agriculture, raising all her own meat, milk, grain and sugar.

The Limerick farmer didn't like bankers. "They're too tight," he declared. "Now if they'd only be after going into the vault wance ivery month or so with a spade and turning over the money and spreading it owt a bit, I'm sure we'd all be happier. But all they do is go in there wans in a long

The War Ends

Our passes to Paris terminated on May 1. We walked to the Gare de Est, the railway station where we were to board the train to go back into Germany, through streets jammed with gay Frenchmen celebrating May day.

The station was only a few blocks from the hotel. We all wished that we could stay for the May Day festivities. A couple of the French girls who were Red Cross hostesses at the hotel came to the station carrying a basket of carnations. They pinned one to the uniform of every man they recognized. The carnation is the traditional May Day symbol of good luck in France.

Fuller

As the train chugged out of the city, the main topic of conversation was what happened in Paris. Every man had his own unique experiences and the bull sessions went on for hours.

We arrived in Saarburg that night. Trucks wouldn't pick us up until morning so we slept in a civilian bakery on the floor at the base of the large "peel" ovens. We were so worn out that we didn't even stir when the bakers removed the bread.

Bavaria Is Attractive

The outfit finally was reunited at Ulm, on the Danube River, in the foothills of the Bavarian Alps. The Danube is beautiful but not blue. At Ulm, at least, it is a light green. Bavaria, in Southern Germany, is as striking a sector as can be seen anywhere. Its cities were rubble, when I was there, but the magnificence of its rivers and mountains make it an ideal paradise for tourists and vacationists.

Tyrol, where the Alps rise to their highest level, is even more awe-inspiring. The Tyrolean Alps are south of Bavaria and extend into Austria. I regret very much that I didn't have the opportunity to go into this sector. Ulm is where we stopped in Germany.

When we arrived in Ulm, the first week in May, 1945, the roads were clogged with hundreds of thousands of German prisoners. They had thrown down their arms and were surrendering as fast as they could. They knew they were finished. Most of the Germans were old men or very young children, 13-16 years of age, the bottom of the manpower barrel. The once snappy wehrmacht was a pretty sad looking outfit during those final days. The great bulk of prisoners overtaxed our means to feed them. Many of the young children, other than the arrogant Hitler Youth, were given a spanking and sent home. They had been in the army less than a month, and in some instances only a few days. The Hitler Youth were segregated and detained longer. They will have to be entirely reindoctrinated or they will pose a threat to world security as long as they live. Older men and men in essential occupations were demobilized almost immediately, so they could aid in reconstruction.

VE Day

After we had been in Ulm a couple of days, we were told that we were to stay there and move no further into Germany. Our equipment was stored in a warehouse in Mannheim. Then, on the night of May 5, word was received that the Nazi army groups in southern Germany had surrendered unconditionally to the Allies. The war was over for us. VE day, which came three days later and set off celebrations all over the world, was an anticlimax. We celebrated by firing every round of ammunition we had into the air. When all those Seventh Army men around Ulm started shooting, it sounded like an invasion.

The night the war ended we slept with lights on and shades up. This was the first time since we left Africa that we hadn't observed blackout restrictions. The lights came on all over Europe at about the same time.

Music resembles poetry: in each are nameless graces which no methods teach. And where a master-hand alone can reach.

—Pope.

The direct relation of music is not to ideas, but to emotions—in the works of its greatest masters, it is more marvelous, more mysterious than poetry.

—Henry Giles.

Westgate Has Hard-hitting Ball Team

Manager Ed Howard has two doctors, two ministerial students and six players who have hit over the .300 mark for the season on his Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church team in the West Church League.

Ed, who has been managing ball teams in the church loop for a good many years, admits that it constitutes something of a record. His team has won 13 while losing a single game to West Park Methodist by a 9 to 7 count. The team won the second round of play and still has a good chance of winning or tieing for the first round championship. The first round has not been settled yet pending the playoff of some postponed games.

The two doctors on the team are Dr. Virgil Cross and Dr. Eldred Heisel. Jim McElwee and Bob Howard are the ministerial students, while Cross, Glass, Johnson, Hysell, McElwee and Watts hit over the .300 mark for the season.

Dr. Cross carried the pitching duties almost single handed, getting credit for 12 of the 13 wins while leading the team in hitting with a cool .400 (up until Monday night's game). He pitched two double headers without assistance, winning all four games. Bob Howard pitched and won one game and then left the team to attend school at Asbury College.

Wendell Glass carries a .360 average, followed by Johnson with .349, Heysell .330, McElwee .315, and Watts with a .305.

Bantam-weight Team Is Forming

Any boy interested in playing bantam-weight football this fall is invited to report to Westgate Park Friday evening where a team is in the process of organizing.

To be eligible, a player must not exceed 140 pounds or have passed his 18th birthday.

The team will be basically the same as the one that represented Acme Laundry last fall. It had four victories and one defeat and held Mellman Corner to a 7-7 tie.

At present the group of boys is seeking the backing of 25 Hilltop merchants as sponsors.

West Church League 2nd Round Champs

Westgate Is Winner Of 2nd Round In West Church Loop

Westgate Evangelical won the second round of the West Church League Monday night by winning its seventh game in a row in defeating Hillcrest by a score of 21 to 4.

Championship of the first round is still not decided. St. Aloysius downed West Park Methodist by a 6 to 5 score Monday night in a postponed game of the first round. The Methodists will meet Glenwood Monday night to play off a first round game which ended in a 1 to 1 tie. Should West Park win the game it would require a playoff with Westgate Evangelical to decide the championship since both teams would have records of six wins and one defeat.

In other second round games played Monday night Glenwood downed Burgess 8 to 4 and Hoge Memorial defeated Hilltop Church of God 13 to 4.

The win placed Glenwood in undisputed second place with Hoge finishing third. The West Park-Hilltop C of G game, scheduled for this week, will not be played since it would have no bearing on the winner of the second round.

Final standings for the second round are as follows:

	W	L
Westgate	7	0
Glenwood	6	1
Hoge	4	3
West Park	3	3
St. Aloysius	3	3
Burgess	3	4

Alleys Get Refinish; Leagues Meet

The bowling alleys at the Hilltop Recreation received their annual face lifting last week in preparation for the opening of the season later this month.

Organization meetings of the leagues are being held and some of them will open officially the last week in August. For instance the fast Commercial League is scheduled to start toppling the pins on the night of Aug. 25.

A meeting of officers and team captains of the Suburban League has been called for Wednesday, Aug. 20. Plans for the coming season will be discussed.

The Friendship and Suburban loops will roll on Aug. 27 while the Hilltop Ladies and the Hilltop Business Men open the season on Aug. 28. The early starts are scheduled so that Christmas and New Year's holidays will not throw them behind and in the case of the Commercial boys, they like to get on the softball diamonds early in the spring before some of the league complete play.

The Monday Lutheran League was the only group that got on the alleys last week due to the reconditioning work. Fred Barthlemas, Jr., with Emmanuel, took high single honors for the men with 168, while Fred Barthlemas, Sr., on the same team, took high three-game with a 452.

Doris Davis, bowling with St. John's No. 3, took honors for the ladies with 162 and 451.

Former Grid Stars To Compose New Heavyweight 11

Approximately 25 former West High School and Aquinas grid stars have been practicing three nights per week at Westgate Park in preparation for launching a new heavyweight team.

Val Boehm, former Aquinas and Xavier University football player is coaching the new team being sponsored by the Hilltop Amvet Post 55. The team will play an independent schedule now being booked with several Ohio teams.

Candidates are still welcome at the practice sessions held at 6 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Among those working for positions on the new eleven are the following: Don Baker, '37; Moe Embelton, '43; Charles Hall, '43; Virgil Crawford, '45; Neil Mowery, '43 (also played at Muskingum College); Tom Scoles, '39; Harry Hopwood, '43; Ray Stinson, 38; Chuck McGee, '45; Hank Crawford, 45; and Joe McDonough, Aquinas '41. (All except McDonough are West graduates.)

A fund is now being accumulated to purchase equipment to outfit the team.

Jim Darby Pitches No-hitter Here

Jim Darby pitched a no-hit, no-run game for Ray's Market in the Junior Knothole League at Sunshine Park last week, striking out 12 and walking three of the batters to face him. While his teammates gave him good support, they also secured a good lead for him in the opening innings of the game. They won by the score of 12-0. Batting honors went to Jean Sapp, who got two hits at three times at bat.

Westgate Juniors Have Good Record

With five members back from last season, the Westgate Juniors, coached by Dick Slager, have won five and lost one in the Junior Knothole League. In 1946 the team played under the banner of Hilltop Community Counsellors and won the city junior knothole title.

Russ Heckling has won three and lost one while Jerry Jones has a 2-0 record. Jones leads in batting with a .450 mark, followed by Jim Vincent .400; Reckling .365; Bob Thornton .333, and Ron McElwee .300.

Other members of the team are: Ron Eifert, Dick DeShelter, Edward Lantz, Roy Wakeman, Ken Garber, John Schultz, John Bolg, Danney Bunner, Don DeShelter, Dick Jones, Jim Fielding, Bob Stout and Jim Alkire.

Second Baseman Lantz is out of action with a broken leg, suffered in a football scrimmage last week.

Lutheran AA Will Picnic On Saturday

The South Side "Y" Park will be the scene of the first annual picnic of the Lutheran Athletic Association, Saturday, Aug. 16, starting at 1:00 p. m. and closing with a devotional service at 8 p. m.

Although it is but one year old the Lutheran Athletic Association is one of the largest athletic bodies in Franklin County. The association is comprised of congregations from 27 Lutheran churches, and points with pride to its achievements during the first year.

Last winter there were 34 Lutheran basketball teams in regular play with six teams entered in the Knothole Tournament and five teams in the district AAU tournament.

Also during the last bowling season there was a Lutheran Ladies' Bowling League of 12 teams bowling Tuesday afternoons at the Gettrost Alleys, and at the present time there are three- eight-teams mixed leagues bowling three nights each week at the Hilltop alleys.

The softball season opened with 36 boys' teams and six girls' teams ready to play, but a lack of ball diamonds reduced this number to 30 teams.

The Lutheran Men's Dart Ball League comprising over 500 Lutheran men is the largest dart ball league in Ohio. Although it was organized before the Lutheran Athletic Association was formed, it is hoped to join the association soon.

Although the first picnic of the Lutheran Athletic Association is primarily for the youth of the church an interesting play program has been planned for all ages.

There will be swimming with four life guards on the alert, shuffleboard, horseshoes, tennis, volleyball, dart ball, a ball game between two top notch intermediate teams and a regular league game between Peace Lutheran Church of Gahanna and Zion Lutheran Church of Obetz.

A first aid station with four Lutheran nurses in attendance, assisted by Lutheran Boy Scout first aiders, will take care of any injuries.

Each family will bring a well-filled basket of picnic food and coffee and lemonade will be served free at meal time.

A hymn sing will be conducted and followed by a closing devotional service led by Rev. C. A. Holmquist, Rev. Werner Stuck and Rev. Earl Papke.

Following is a list of Lutheran men named to handle picnic arrangements; general chairman, Henry E. Geshwiln, Hilltop; refreshments — Howard Bruckelmeyer, Jerry Davis and Wilbur Minnamier, St. John; first aid—Bernhardt Swisher, Hilltop, and Bobby Bland, Trinity; horseshoes—Robert Blandm, Sr., Trinity; games — Rev. Earl Papke, Christ, Fred Bernlohr and Fred Heishman, Hope; tickets—Harry Osborne, St. Paul, Hugh McCreight, Hilltop, Vance Adams, St. Peters and Dan Boyd, Hope; transportation, Dan M. Sheatsley, St. Luke; life guards, Paul Davidson, Christ; devotional, Rev. C. A. Holmquist.

Rome Defeats Hilltop Lutheran

Rome annexed its eighth victory in 10 starts in the Lutheran League Friday night by defeating Hilltop by a close score of 9 to 8.

In other games played, Martin Luther defeated Grove City, 8 to 3, while St. John took the long end of a 12 to 6 score from Bethlehem Lutheran.

St. Paul remains undefeated in the loop after winning eight straight. St. Paul was idle last week.

The standings to date are as follows:

	W	L
St. Paul	8	0
Rome	8	2
Emmanuel	5	4
Martin Luther	4	5
Grove City	4	6
Hilltop	4	7
Bethlehem	2	6
St. John	2	6

Baptist Youth Plan For Retreat

The Christian Fellowship Youth Group of Immanuel Baptist is planning a three-day retreat at Indian Camp for Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. Young people from Memorial and Central Baptist Churches will join with them.

A full program of recreation including swimming, baseball volleyball, hikes and many other sports is being arranged, making full use of all that Indian Camp provides. The meals will be served by the regular staff of workers at Indian Camp, which is operated by the City of Columbus.

The spiritual side of the retreat will not be neglected, with services planned for each morning and evening and all day on Sunday. The speakers have not yet been fully arranged for, but they are expected to include several local ministers and Christian workers. The Sunday afternoon service will feature the communion service and the Saturday and Sunday evening services will be held around the camp fire. The entire program is being planned by the young people themselves. This has been an annual affair with Immanuel Baptist young people for several years.

A bus will leave the church at 3 p. m. for all who will not have a way to reach the picnic grounds. Members will provide a basket lunch, their own table service, and drinks and other refreshments will be furnished by the church. Games will be under the direction of Paul McClain, superintendent of the Sunday School. Horseback riding will be a leading feature for the young people. Dr. Harold A. Harris, pastor, will conduct a brief service before the quarterly conference, which will be held at the picnic grounds.

A FASHION "Must"
This year — last year — and next year — the first requisite of a smart, fashionable appearance is DAINTINESS. Whites must be frosty and sparkling —pastels must be clear and fresh — and black must be black. Insist on the superior methods we use.

CLEAN YOUR WINDSHIELD if you're planning to go to the new National Auto Theater out at 3750 W. Broad st. That is, it should be clean if you don't want your favorite cinema star to have that five o'clock shadow while you watch the movie from the comfort of your own car.

There was a good turnout of Hilltoppers on hand when the theater had its official opening Friday night. Like myself, many others took the ad literally and arrived on or shortly after 7 o'clock, the time designated for the opening, only to wait until 8:15, when the first picture started. You can't show them flickers on a screen in broad daylight you know. (I learned after waiting around for an hour.)

Among the Hilltoppers seen (also early) were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gildersleeve in their new Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gaugler (the photog man), the Clarence Deans, the Jean Worrels and many more.

Manager Bob Little had his hands full directing the opening showing and trying to make the popcorn popper keep up with hungry appetites around the concession stand.

Another bit of advice (for free), don't drive away without removing the in-a-car speaker from your car door. Says Manager Little: "We lose more speakers that way."

PINK MARKET. Youngsters of the Hilltop have their own version of the "black market." It's known as the "pink market" and has to do with the traffic in bubble gum. Recent shortages in that commodity prompted alert gum chompers to buy every stick in sight and then resell at inflationary prices. The regular one-centers are said to resell for as much as five cents per to the bubble-hungry younger set.

BLACKBERRY time is here. L. O. Cozad, Harry Hunter and I picked up above Dublin one night last week. Harry showed us both up by bringing in at least a third more than we less experienced pickers.

You don't have to worry about the chiggers any more now. There are several solutions on the market that will keep the chiggers away and still not be scented by next door neighbors. Now all we need is something to keep the briars from tearing out hunks of epidermis and it would provide a pleasant pastime as well as make possible those delicious blackberry cobblers.

WEST HIGH SPORTS FANS can't understand why workmen sawed 20 feet off the end of those new light poles at Magly Field. After tieing up traffic all the way from the railroad yard to the field they whack one-fifth of the total length from the poles before they are raised . . . Incidentally, those new light reflectors cost $35 each, without the bulbs, I'm told.

BASEBALL FANS are a strange bunch of creatures. The principal delight of some of the diamond fans at Red Bird Stadium seems to be their assumed privilege of hurling epitaphs at players, managers and officials at will. Heckling of the players of the opposing team in an unoffensive manner has always been an accepted part of the game but "scorching" the boys on the home team seems the height of unsportsmanship.

I've seen some of the hard-working Red Birds this year take unwarranted abuse from some persons who probably consider themselves loyal fans. Their absence from the stadium would be a welcome change to other fans.

while and shift the coins just to hear 'em jangle.

"And as for you," he said, "you Americans, if you'd just ship us over a few of your dollars, we'd all be happier still. Aye, sure and we've got the money to buy, but we don't have the dollars. And dollars it takes."

On the Shannon Dublin plane (a DC-3) my seat companion was a gentleman farmer from Limerick, a former British army officer assigned to Eisenhower's staff. "Agriculture here," he said, "is 20 years behind the times. On my farm I've been working as far as possible with machinery—of course, you can't get much these days, anywhere—but believe me, my neighbors all think I'm positively mad."

Ireland's present problems are similar in many ways to ours. There are scarcities in many lines—and, as in America, newspapers and public officials lament the "drift," as it is called over here, from the farms to the city. Right now, Eire is seeking means of developing new industry to use new agricultural products, to keep the farmers on the farm.

"How about farm wages?" I asked Mr. Gallagher. Well, farm labor on the average, receives approximately 55 shillings a week (about $12). This varies from section to section, from a high of 60 shillings in the area near Dublin, to a low of 50 in some of the other areas.

But there are compensations. Rent, for instance. The farm laborer's cottage rents for one shilling a week—about 25 cents. And this is not increased if the man prospers.

How about factory and other wages? Skilled craftsmen receive for a 44-hour week (the 40, 44 or 48-hour week being set by industry and unions together for each industry), 7 pounds, 5 shillings per week, about $29.25 in American money.

Ticklers By George

"How can we win a ball game with a good-looking base umpire? Every time one of you girls gets a hit you slow down passing him!"

But if they live in some of the government housing, their rent averages about 12 shillings a week. Elsewhere rent is comparable to small towns in America. Prices of food and other necessary commodities are government controlled by restricting the wholesaler to a profit of 14 per cent, and the retailer to 22 per cent. Rationing still exists. For example, hotels are not permitted to serve bread at luncheon, dinner or supper. And the newspapers complain of the stale bread sold in the stores. Shortages of fuel restrict rail transportation.

"People who have visited us during the war and after," an old Irish revolutionary told me (he had fought with the Irish Revolutionary Army for years against the British and had served 12 jail terms for it; he is now a member of the Irish government) "have expressed surprise that we didn't 'come to the aid of the Empire during the war.' We didn't simply because, in the first place it would have been foolhardy for us—we had nothing to fight with. And secondly, we had been trying to get out of the Empire for nearly 40 years. We are not a part of the Empire."

But the chances are that Eire will stand by Britain and America in their efforts toward world peace.

The Irish homeland is not "a proper place for the seeds of Communism to be sown."

First, "because she is a nation of 384,000 farms, owned by the people who till them."

And secondly, because she is a "highly Christian country." I started to interpolate that Eire is 95 per cent Catholic and that the church opposes Communism.

"Let's just say she's a Christian nation," the old revolutionary waved it aside. "The Christian doctrine upholds the man—the individual. Thus anyone who attempts to restrict men's rights is a heretic. So as Christians we are against totalitarianism and dictatorship of any kind.

"So Eire is on Britain's side in international policy — although the Irish feel that if England can set India free, and make all these other magnanimous gestures, she could, at will, abolish the partition of Ireland (to make Eire and northern Ireland "one nation) as by all right they should be."

PARADE, CONTESTS SET FOR TOMORROW

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

Greetings To Our Franklinton Neighbors

We of The Hilltop Record are proud to present our special Franklinton Sesquicentennial supplement today in our regular paper on the occasion of the celebration of the founding of that community, the birthplace of Columbus, 150 years ago.

While the Hilltop cannot claim any such distinction of nearly so many years of existence we are indeed proud of the fact that the pioneers of this community were, for the most part former West Side residents. This and the fact that the people of this community from the Scioto west have always been such fine neighbors have provided much in the way of cooperation on many fine projects in the past.

Today we look back with pride on the handiwork of the men and women who pioneered this area and can be thankful that they had foresight and vision, and we sincerely trust we may be endowed with an equal foresight and vision in the future growth of our community.

Livestock Market Opens Labor Day

Labor Day has been set as opening day for the Teegardin Stockyards Company's new livestock market just completed on Fisher-rd, just off McKinley-av.

A daily market for all kinds of livestock and feeder stock will be operated. Officials of the firm said that it will not be an auction market.

The property consists of an improved tract of land on the New York Central Railroad with two large buildings for housing stock. There are approximately 10,000 square feet of space under roof with an equal amount of outside pens.

The firm is operated by Dwight E. Teegardin, 2382 Club-rd, and Frank B. Teegardin, Ashville. They have been in the livestock business 30 years. Offices of the firm will continue to be located at 660 W. Broad-st.

Balzer was committed to that institution last winter following a series of Hilltop burglaries in which he and two other boys were implicated.

Boosters To Pay Insurance Premiums On Grid Players

60 Football Players To Be Insured Now

1000 New Members Is Goal Of Group

The entire football squad at West High School will be insured against personal injury by the time the season opens at Springfield on Sept. 12, it was learned this week.

It will be the first time in the history of athletics at the local school that athletes have been afforded this consideration. The insurance premiums are to be paid this year by the West High Boosters Club. The decision was reached at a meeting of West Boosters Friday night.

Insurance that will cover the costs of injuries suffered by players either in practice or during regular contests is carried by the Ohio Athletic Injury Mutual Association, a new organization created this year by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Richard (Dick) Francis, 370 S. Richardson-av, Booster president and former West grid star, said that the entire squad of approximately 60 boys would benefit from the new protection. Insurance premiums for the first year will amount to $2.25 per player. It is understood that the school itself plans to carry the insurance after this year but the cost of installing new lights at Mosiy Field this summer has left the athletic treasury somewhat depleted.

At the Friday night meeting Lee Weigant was appointed chairman of a committee to make arrangements for dedication of the new lights and the new electric scoreboard on the night of the Central-West game on Sept. 26. Also named to serve on that committee are M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, George Hardy, Robert Case and Robert Chrisman.

Heads Membership Drive

Sensenbrenner was also named chairman of the membership drive to open next month. A goal of 1000 members has been set.

For the first time since organization of the club, women will be admitted as members on an equal status with men. The constitution of the club was amended to that effect at the meeting.

Arrangements have been made to admit all Booster members holding 1948 membership cards free to the homecoming game on Nov. 14 when Jackson will come to Magly Field for the only afternoon game on the schedule. A motion was adopted for members to avail themselves of 10-gallon hats to be worn at football games this fall to carry out the Cowboy motif. It is believed that arrangements can be made to obtain them for members at cost.

The Boosters will also have motion pictures taken of the opening game with Central for use by the coach and players and for showing to groups about the Hilltop.

Jack LaValle Is Under Contract To N. Y. Yankees

Jack LaValle, 187 Midland-av, was to have reported to a 10-day training school in Kansas City yesterday where he has signed a contract to play professional ball for the New York Yankees.

Jack, who was discharged from the Army in San Antonio Tuesday, is a graduate of St. Aloysius School and pitched three years for St. Charles School prior to entering the Air Forces a little more than one year ago. He graduated from St. Charles in the class of '46.

He was first spotted by a Yankee scout in a tryout camp held at Findlay more than a year ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. LaValle.

Hilltoppers Meet In Smoky Mts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kellar and daughter, Mary of 569 Chestershire-rd, with Sister Edna Bradley of Philadelphia, Pa., have recently returned home from a two week's motor trip along the eastern coast and southeastern states.

Coming down from Clingman's Dome in the Smoky Mountains Thursday noon, Mr. Kellar was surprised to hear the word "Hilltop" and at inquiring found that two Hilltop families, Mr. and Mrs. French, Larcomb-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Manly, N. Brinker-av, had accidentally met at that point. A fourth Hilltop couple, the Boggs' of Binns-blvd, were also nearby. None of the Hilltoppers had met previously on the Hilltop.

50th Reunion To Be Sunday

The 50th annual reunion of the Dougherty, Clover and Kellar families will be held at the Alton Township Hall, on Sunday, Aug. 24. A basket luncheon will be held at noon.

Rat Menace Cited On W. Mound St.

Residents of the 1800 and 1900 blocks of W. Mound-st were complaining about the increasing number of rats in that area which they say are coming from a city dump at the intersection of Rea and Columbian-avs.

Frequent appearances of rats around residences in broad daylight have been reported. Some mothers have been keeping small children in the houses because of the danger of being bitten by the rodents.

John Marsh, 1899 W. Mound-st, a spokesman for some of the families, said that a petition would be circulated to have the Franklin County Board of Health investigate the situation.

Marsh said that the city started dumping ashes and refuse of various kinds into the area more than two years ago. Henry Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, Hilltop councilman, said that he presumed that the city had an understanding with the property owner for use of the land as a dump.

Marsh pointed out that several times the "dump" has caught fire and filled the neighborhood with objectionable smoke and that recently it has been a stopping place for transients.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Clenzo Fox, 19, of 432 S. Oakley-av, suffered chest injuries Tuesday when he was struck by an auto as he was walking in the 400 block of Chapel-st, police reported. He was taken to White Cross Hospital by the driver of the auto, George Bowman, 790 Pennsylvania-av.

Hilltop Naval Recruiting Officer

Relates Hazards Of Antarctic Expedition

By Rhoma Van De Mark

White-vested penguins, endless daylight and near-impenetrable ice—these are a few of the noteworthys of the South Pole regions, as Lt. Commander E. M. Doran, 162 S. Powell-av, recalls it.

Comm. Doran, a member of the latest Admiral Byrd expedition to the southern extremities of the globe, is now sweltering in the heat of downtown Columbus at his desk in the Post Office Building where he has recently assumed duties of Officer-in-charge of Navy recruiting for Central Ohio.

When the thermometer hovers in the late eighties it is only slight comfort for Doran to remember warding off icy temperatures of a South Pole summer in late 1946 and early 1947.

South Pole summers do not boast of flowers and sunny hours. Nature's only contribution to a general atmosphere of summer as we know it, is an uninterrupted daylight. Never seeing the beauty of a sunset or sunrise can be saddening, Lt. Doran found.

Doran, a veteran of 20 years' Navy service, was executive officer on the McIntyre late last year when he was assigned to Task Force 68, Operation High Jump (name given Byrd's latest venture.) An existing vacancy on the U. S. S. Merrick, one of the ships in the operation, led to his appointment as first lieutenant on the vessel.

Carried Extra Provisions

The Merrick was designated to carry all extra provisions for the operation which had as its prime task the building of an air strip on Little America under Byrd's supervision. Cargo included 60

Local Committee Explains Plans For Branch "Y" Here

Members of the Hilltop Recreation Center Committee and representatives of organizations of this community were present Tuesday night at West High School for a meeting to hear a report on the proposal that a Branch YMCA be established here.

Members present were told by Dr. C. O. Cramer, chairman of the Hilltop Recreation Center Committee, that after thorough investigation his group had decided that any future recreation center and program for such a center could best be developed through the establishment of the YMCA here.

Harry Spiker of the Central YMCA was present and answered numerous questions from the group representatives.

Following the discussion the group present voted its confidence in the work that has been done by the committee and asked that they continue their activities, with specific instructions that all representatives present be asked to submit the plan to their respective groups and report back in writing before Sept. 20 signifying if their membership is in accord with the establishment of a branch "Y" here.

If local residents express sufficient interest in the plan the committee will petition the Metropolitan YMCA to establish a branch here. Following an affirmative response from the YMCA a board of directors for the new Hilltop "Y" would be elected and plans for the establishment of a "Y" program set in motion at that time. Further details will be contained in future issues of The Record.

32-page Tabloid Tells Franklinton Story

Attention is called to the 32-page tabloid supplement in today's Hilltop Record on the celebration of the Franklinton Sesquicentennial scheduled to get underway tomorrow. Today's issue contains 48 pages in all.

Much of the editorial material used in this supplement is from the personal files of Myron Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, journalism instructor at West High School.

Rodenfels Have New Building In Construction

Visitors to the Franklinton Sesquincentennial Celebration this week will see many signs of things to come in that area, along with the many interesting remnants of the past.

Among the new buildings being erected on the original Franklinton site, is the Rodenfels Chevrolet Building now under construction at 555 W. Broad-st, at Gift-st. The building now one-third complete will house a complete modern Chevrolet service center, parts and accessories department and auto sales room. It will augment the facilities now operated by the company at 1160 W. Broad-st.

John Keefer, 358 Guernsey-av, manager of the firm, said that the new building would not be ready for use before the first of the year. It is being built of buff-colored brick on a one-floor plan and will provide 22,000 square feet of floor space.

Propose Inc. Of GM Plant West Of City

The new City Planning Commission this week recommended that an area immediately west of the city, including the Fisher-Ternstedt plant on Georgesville-rd, be incorporated into the city along with two other industrial areas adjacent to the city.

While it could not be learned just what the boundaries would be of the propsed area, it was believed that they would in the main cover the same area that has been asking to incorporate into a Village of Camp Chase. At the present time a case is pending in the Common Pleas Court to force the Franklin Township Trustees to submit the issue of village incorporation to the voters. A similar case went all the way to the Ohio Supreme Court last year where it was ruled that the township officials were without jurisdiction in the matter.

Ed Tharp, Planning Commission chairman, in making the recommendation said:

"We must transfer this tax duplicate to the city to justify the city's servicing them."

City Attorney Richard Gordon has been instructed to draw up suitable legislation to submit the matter to city council in September.

Junior Fair Entries For Drafting Open

C. S. Kennedy, 411 Garden-rd, teacher of drafting at West High School, announced this week that he has a limited number of entry tickets to the Junior Fair available for boys who have made entries in drafting.

Kennedy has entered around 150 drawings in Junior Fair competition for his boys this week.

Those who have an entry and who desire to have a ticket, should contact Kennedy immediately.

Juvenile Council Gets Its First Case

By Paul Wichterman

The Hilltop Juvenile Council has its first case of rehabilitating local teenagers who have gotten off to a bad start in life.

Two 15-year-old Hilltop boys who admitted to police officers that they had stolen eight automobiles since they started on their "career" last April have been put on probation by juvenile court authorities with the understanding that the newly created Juvenile Council would be responsible for working with the parents of the youths in planning a re-adjustment of their lives.

The council was created early in the summer by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club as a means of combatting juvenile delinquency. Donald F. Smith is in charge of the project that comes under the supervision of the underprivileged children's committee. Responsibility of reporting to the court at stated intervals was placed in the hands of Fred Pollock, court official and a member of the local agency.

A touching chapter in human drama was enacted in the court room of Referee Genevieve Taylor Friday morning as the two clean-cut youngsters faced the consequences of their brief adventure in crime. One boy with a shock of curly blond hair that kept falling down over his forehead looked like the type of youth who enjoys life and who might laugh easily and be a favorite with his associates. There was no smile on his face as he walked into the small crowded court room. His companion, a little taller in stature, was dark complexioned with a crew haircut and a countenance that reflected his troubled mind.

Present also were the parents and sister of the blond youth, the father of the dark-haired boy, a delegation of local Kiwanians, a class from Ohio State University, and six or eight schoolmates of the two boys who as members of the Hilltop Juvenile Council will have an important part in helping the two get "straightened out."

The blond youth had been picked up in Springfield early Friday morning in a car stolen from the garage of Kiwanian Smith. Interrogation by police finally implicated the dark-haired boy in six of the other car-stealing escapades.

Thefts Totaled $15,000

Probation Officer Richard Minor read a lengthy statement enumerating the car thefts totaling approximately $15,000 in value and something of the family life of each boy. Their first crime had been the theft of a Buick coupe belonging to Dr. R. J. Miller. This took place on an April night while Dr. Miller, Smith and fellow Kiwanians were gathered for a dinner meeting at Schmelzer's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, where plans for the formation of the Juvenile Council were being made. Several of the thefts were never known by the owners of the cars since they were returned to where they were taken without ever being missed.

The first boy apprehended comes from a respected local family. The father and mother were divorced several years ago but the father had remarried two or three years ago and home life was described as "good." The boy had carried papers, mowed lawns and other odd jobs to earn his own spending money. He is a normal student at school, took a minor part in athletics, enjoys swimming, roller skating, etc. In fact one of the car thefts had provided transportation to a school skating party last spring.

The second boy is the son of naturalized citizens. The family is industrious—the father operating a business of his own in another part of town where his son was employed to do the work of a regular employe, at an adult's wage. There are two other children and the probation of-

Books To Be Issued In Class This Year

Unlike other years there will be no pre-school issuing of books at West High School this year, Irvin F. Young, principal of the school, announced this week.

Text books will be issued in the class rooms on the opening day of school, Tuesday, Sept. 2, Mr. Young said. This will eliminate standing in line during a part of one day preceding the start of school.

101 Report At Initial Grid Meet

One hundred one football candidates reported to Coach Mack Pemberton at West High School Tuesday evening for a preliminary talk prior to the start of actual practice yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Uniforms were issued to 12 lettermen with as many more boys to be outfitted at yesterday's practice session. Coach Pemberton said he would lose no time getting down to work since a practice game with Newark High School has been set up for next Friday afternon at Newark.

Some contact work will get under way before the end of the week. By Monday evening assistants Fred Heischman and Dave Randall are expected to be on hand to assist in whipping the team into shape for the inter-squad game on Sept. 8. That will be the first opportunity the public has to see the 1947 Cowboy eleven in action.

Several of the expected regulars, including Jack Thrush, were playing ball Tuesday night and were excused from the meeting. Pemberton expected the total number of candidates to run well over the 100 mark.

The executive committee of the Hilltop Business Association in a meeting Tuesday afternoon approved the purchase of equipment needed to place the school public address system in condition for satisfactory use at all home games.

A new power unit and an additional speaker have been ordered and will be installed prior to the Sept. 5 inter-squad football game and preliminary public showing of the lights and other field facilities. Approximately $250 to $275 will be the cost of the equipment.

Work of installing the lights for Magly Field is expected to be completed by the end of the week. The three wooden poles supporting the lights on the west side of the field were placed in position several days ago.

The steel poles that go up on the Powell-av side of the field were being readied for raising on Tuesday of this week. The top sections were equipped with the cross arms and lighting fixtures while the lower sections were being unloaded preparatory to installation.

The Haines Electric Engineering Co., 1031 Frank-rd, is the contractor on the job.

A band stand is being erected on the north end of the field adjacent to the flag pole. It is being put up by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

A new electric scoreboard was installed earlier this summer by the West High Boosters Club. It will replace the old manually-operated board used for several years.

Key's Store Observes 1st Anniversary

The first anniversary of the opening of Key's 5 and 10c Store, 2368 W. Broad-st, will be observed by a store-wide merchandise sale all this week. Free gifts are to be given during this first anniversary observance.

The firm also operates a store at 1268 W. Broad-st and is opened a third at 1472 Cleveland-av (corner of 11th-av) this week.

Band Rehearsals Called Next Week

Pre-school rehearsals for members of the junior and senior high bands at West High School will be held next week in preparation for the first appearance of the season on Sept. 5.

Charles Bennett, director of both bands, has asked that junior high students report to the north side of the school building at 7 p. m. on Aug. 25 for a one-hour outdoor practice session.

Senior band members are asked to report to the same spot at 7:15 p. m. on Aug. 27.

Group To Form At No. 17 Engine House For Parade

Tomorrow's the day.

Yes, tomorrow is the day hundreds of boys and girls in the community have been looking forward to for several weeks. It's the Hilltop Record Playground Festival and Parade scheduled to get under way at 1:30 p. m. when a mammouth parade moves from Wheatland-av and W. Broad-st. (In the event of rain at that time the entire program will be held on Monday starting at 1:30 p. m.)

All the boys and girls in the community are invited to get in on the fun. There will be more than $100 worth of prizes given for judging in the parade and for contests to follow at Westgate Park. Every boy and girl in the parade will receive a free ticket to the Westmont Theater good for admission to a special show on Saturday morning starting at 9:30 o'clock.

Heading the parade will be a sound car to provide music for the marchers closely followed by 10 horses and riders from the Hilltop Riding Academy. John Davis, owner of the riding stable, has gone to considerable expense to enter a large horse-drawn wagon, specially decorated for the occasion.

Then there will be boys and girls from the various parks and playgrounds on decorated bicycles, tricycles, scooters and wagons. The parade will move out W. Broad-st to Westgate-av, hence south to Westgate Park where the games and contests will be held. Because of the distance to be walked, it is recommended that children under eight years of age be accompanied by their parents. Those who feel they cannot walk that far may drop out after the parade starts to move and join the group at the park.

Police Escort

A special police escort will be on hand to insure protection from traffic hazards.

Judging for the various parade events will be done by Mrs. Joseph Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, Sam Alford, 238 W. Terrace-av, and Charles P. Mayo, 70 N. Westgate-av.

The event is being put on by The Hilltop Record in cooperation with the City Recreation Department and public school playgrounds on the Hilltop. Playground supervisors who will conduct the contests are Mack Pemberton, Dick Slager and Mrs. Edwards, Westgate Park; Betty Rush and Paul Midlam of Glenwood; and Paul McClain of Holton Park. Orrie (Red) Lehman and R. C. (Rufe) Glass, supervisors of John Burroughs and W. Broad Street playgrounds respectively, have assisted in the promotion of the event but will

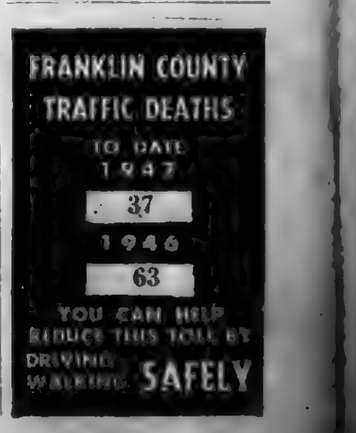
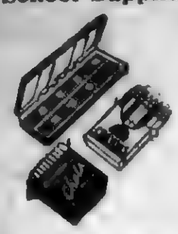
Field Day Set For Youthful Gum Chompers

If you see strange phenomena in the skies over the Hilltop along about dusk this evening, don't worry about flying saucers.



It will more than likely be some of the various and sundry sizes and colors of bubbles escaping from the bubble gum contests being held simultaneously at 7 p. m. at Glenwood, Holton and Westgate Parks.

So step right up boys and girls—ages 9 to 14 years—and get in the bubble blowing contest. All gum is "for free" with no return guarantee required. Winners will be selected at each park to enter the city finals to be held at Norwood Amusement Center, 2025 E. Main-st, at 3 p. m. Sunday.



Mack Pemberton, supervisor at Westgate Park, is puzzled over how you go about measuring a freshly inflated bubble. Paul McClain at Holton Park believes a set of calipers would be the scientific way to do the judging. What would happen if the calipers were adjusted a little too tightly?

"I'll stand way back," Paul explains cautiously.

The champion bubble blower on the Hilltop will be determined at the Hilltop Record Playground Festival at Westgate Park tomorrow afternoon.

3 Boys Held For Robbery

Three West Side youths ranging from 13 to 17 years of age were being held this week by juvenile authorities following the theft of close to $1000 worth of merchandise.

The three were apprehended Friday morning when a newspaper carrier bag left in Doider's Market, 217 N. Central-av, was identified as belonging to one of the three boys. A surprise visit to the residence resulted in the capture of the three as they were attempting to escape by way of a rear window.

Several drawers full of loot were found in the home. Much of it consisted of candy bars, bubble gum, bobby pins, socks, lard, soap, nylon hose, overall trousers, hams and other grocery items.

Queen Esther Takes Ribbons In Horse Show

A Hilltop horse fancier is now the proud possessor of three more prize ribbons won for him by his six-year-old mare at the Franklin County Fair Western Horse Show held at Hilliard last week.

Noble L. Allen, 3456 W. Broad-st, local funeral director, maintains stables for his seven horses at 2961 Valleyview-dr on a small farm called Allens Acres. His show horse, Queen Esther, has won 11 ribbons already this year and will be entered in the Ohio State Fair next week where the Allens hope she will walk off with more honors. Also entered in the fair will be G. I. Jim, a two year old colt, the winner of four ribbons this season.

Queen Esther, a 'native' of Tennessee, took two third ribbons and a third in the stake at the Hilliard Fair. A short time before she won the grand trophy at a Sidney, O., show for the "best mare of the show."

Noble Allen, Jr., does the show riding.

Improvement Of Park Is Planned

Last week Charles B. Cranston, in a letter to the editor of The Hilltop Record, pointed out some of the development possibilities for the wooded, weed-ridden tract on the south side of W. Broad-st, just at the foot of Hospital Hill.

This week the office is in receipt of a reply from Ray S. Dietz, park superintendent for the city. In part his letter reads as follows:

"Plans for the improvement of the park have been under discussion for some time and are not complete. It is expected that within a very short time the underbrush will be cleared away and after that it is planned to do some leveling of the area, sow grass seed, possibly install some picnic tables and fire places and make an area suitable for picnic sports such as croquet and badminton. A screen would be maintained along Broad-st to eliminate noises and views and certain plantings, not definitely decided upon at this time, will be made.

"I would most certainly agree with you that the area is physically suited for the installation of an amphitheatre, but the limited parking facilities available to the area eliminates any practical use for a structure such as you suggest."

A tennis tournament for boys under 14 years of age is expected to be finished at Westgate Park by the end of the week under the direction of Jim Slager. Approximately 27 boys will be taking part.

Sports Quiz On Program For Kiwanis

Today's meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will feature a sports quiz conducted by three coaching members of the local club.

Coaches Dale Rose, Capital University football mentor, Mack Pemberton, in charge of football at West High School, and George Williams, basketball mentor at West, will be in charge of the program.

"A community with the population of that of Franklin County, now nearing the 500,000 mark, cannot continue to carry on its mode of living without a proper planning program," Al Harness, president of the Jennings Lawrence Engineering Co., told Kiwanians at last week's meeting.

A member of the Franklin County Planning Commission, Harness pointed out some of the major problems facing county planners.

Featured as the speaker at the Aug. 28 meeting of Kiwanis is William Taylor, executive secretary of the Columbus Industrial Association.

Director of the manufacturer's group here for six years, Taylor formerly served as acturial and labor relations work for the Gates-McDonald Co., and prior to that was general manager of the Miller Foundry Company.

His subject will be "Present Day Labor Relations." He is expected to discuss briefly the Taft-Hartley Bill and the vetoed Van Acken Bill that caused such a stir in labor ranks here last spring.

Juvenile Council

licer's report pointed out that the parents seemed to be good disciplinarians. Like the first youth, the dark-haired boy took part in athletics, had a season ticket to the Hilltop Swimming Pool and was above average in his scholastic work at school.

The normal homelife of the two had Referee Taylor puzzled.

"I don't understand either of you," she remonstrated the boys as the hearing neared its end. "You seem to be normal in every way and yet you insist on stealing automobiles for no apparent reason other than that you like to drive them."

Kiwanian Smith made an impassioned plea that the boys be placed on probation and that his Juvenile Council be given responsibility for their rehabilitation.

The parents of both boys were given an opportunity to speak. Both seemed to be understanding and appreciative of the help that was offered. The father of the first boy admitted that "perhaps he had made mistakes" in bringing up his boy but that he was sure that he could be corrected. In a voice that broke with emotion, the father of the second youth said he wanted his boy "to do right."

Miss Taylor asked the boys if they had anything to say for themselves. Neither had.

"You boys are very lucky," the court official told the pair. "Here are people from your own school and community who are willing to help you if you will only give them a chance but there must be a change inside of you. You must learn to respect law and order."

Miss Taylor referred to another recent probation case involving a Hilltop youth that is working out "very satisfactorily."

The case was closed.

Relates Hazards

tons of fresh and frozen fruits vegetables and meats as well as considerable construction equipment and a group of Seabees.

Leaving a west coast port 80 miles north of Los Angeles on December 5, the ship and its crew crossed the Equator six days later and continued its way to the snowy polar regions.

Chief pastime was lengthy reading on species of penguins, icebergs, glaciers, floes and ice packs. Doran found this "book learnin'" most valuable later, especially when he formed an acquaintance with several penguins.

Penguins oftentimes live to the ripe old age of 34 and are of two species, the Emperor and Adelie. The Emperor, as his name implies, is larger. Both can dive head first into the sea from heights of 12 or 13 feet and are capable of leaping from the sea to an ice-foot, five feet above the water. Try that someday when you're swimming.

The Antarctic continent surprisingly has the combined area of the United States and Europe and is the world's highest continent. Its average elevation is 7000 feet with the shore reaching the sea in high ice cliffs rising steeply at a short distance inland. The pole is a vast expanse of snow and ice about 10,000 feet high. Lt. Doran wrote at finding this. "What a place for snow sports!"

Radar Lessens Danger

The serious danger in icebergs, "floating hazards" that they are, has been lessened somewhat with the advent of radar. As the ship continued its southward course the time came when anxious moments were spent zig-zagging between large pieces of floating ice.

Rendezvous was held December 30 at Scott Island, a dot in the Pacific a half mile long and a quarter mile wide. At this tiny landmark, the Merrick was joined by additional members of Task Force 68, the Yancey and Mt. Olympus, a Coast Guard icebreaker named the Northwind and a submarine, the Sennett.

Roughly, the course was planned southward from Scott Island through the ice pack to Ross sea where entrance to the Bay of Whales could be made. Byrd's Little America was situated upon the banks of the Bay of Whales, and unloading operations were to be made upon these icy shores.

During the first week of January, the ice, resembling a lake completely frozen over, became increasingly difficult to break. It looked as if the Merrick and her fellow ships would return north to Scott Island and give up the expedition temporarily. The Northwind, icebreaker, was called upon to break ice for the submarine so that it might return to Scott, and while gone, the Yancey and Merrick found themselves in a ticklish situation. A heavy wind tossed two icebergs into position and as they moved closer in a giant, pincer movement, the two ships were frozen solid helplessly between.

Radioing the Northwind to come to their aid, preparations were made to abandon ship in event the moving icebergs squeezed either vessel between their massive sides. Fortunately, the Yancey was passed by one of the snowy-monsters, leaving the Merrick to the mercy of the two Desperately the ship's two anchors were raised and dropped two to four feet ahead of the ship in an effort to break the ice then frozen eight feet thick.

Constant hammering on the ice in this elementary fashion cleared the Merrick of danger just in time, as the Northwind, showing the effects of a rough trip from Scott Island, came to her aid.

At long last Spring began to arrive and the ice became more easily broken up. At midnight the sun still shone, brightly, as it did all day. Open water became a less-surprising spectacle, and for several days it looked as if the expedition would arrive as its destination soon.

At the group's well-earned arrival in Ross Sea, the water was like a pond with few ripples and no ice. At long last the Bay of Whales was sited and its entrance measured to find that the opening had closed from 3000 yards to 40 since the last visit by Americans at the spot. One ship was allowed to enter at a time to unload materials and men for building the air strip.

Byrd's Plane First to Land

Several weeks passed during which progress was made on the ice landing field. Admiral Byrd's plane was the first to land upon it, complete with skis.

Later Doran met Byrd at Little America, where the original Byrd camp is now buried beneath the ice 20 feet. The new settlement is made of quonset hut above ground.

On February 5 unloading operations were complete with a little over 1000 tons, approximately one third of all cargo aboard the Merrick, now part of Little America.

The long trek home, much anticipated by the men, was eventful in itself. A bad wind storm badly damaged the ships. When the Merrick's rudder would no answer to the wheel, it was discovered the rudder stock was snapped in two, as the Merrick rode in the thick of the ice pack.

Towed by the battered Northwind, the damaged ship was buffeted by waves 25 and 30 feet high, until finally, the inevitable worst occurred. Leaving the Merrick entirely at the mercy of the rolling sea, the towline between the vessels snapped and the ship was left rocking, pitching and tossing helplessly between wind and wave, many 60 feet tall.

After several days of roaming the seas "A ship without a rudder," the tow line was fastened to the Northwind once more, and the tired crew and beaten ship began again the trip to New Zealand, where they landed February 22, their mission to the South Pole completed.

To the lad contemplating a Navy career, present Naval plans are to equip four submarines and three ships for further polar operations. This will make the Antartic trip less a rarity to Naval personnel.

Lt. Commander Doran and wife, Lois, recently moved to the Hilltop with their 10-year-old son, Edward.

Burned When Curtains Ignite

Mrs. Alice Cutlip, 157 N. Wheatland-av, suffered burns about her hands Tuesday as she attempted to extinguish a fire in window curtains in her home. The fire was started when her son, David, 4, and his cousin, Rose Ann Gartin, 4, were playing with matches and accidentally ignited them.

THE HADLEY—The trim center hall home has long been a popular favorite. Its logical room arrangement cannot be surpassed for either convenience or graciousness. The HADLEY offers something new in center halls, a house that starts off conservatively as a small side hall home, then later expands with a minimum of interference to the original space into the more formal plan. In its wide painted shingles accented by flush siding, in the dignity of its pilasters and entrance columns, the peace of a by-gone, more leisurely era is reflected. Study the expandable floor plans. The Hadley really consists of two different houses, both architecturally perfect. It may be built originally for permanent occupancy in either size. Or, the larger house may be built in two stages. The working drawings and specifications are complete for use either Plan Service, 140 Nassau St., New York 7, N. Y., for $7.50 per set.

Divinity Candy

First part: Three cups sugar; 1 cup of Karo corn syrup; 3 tablespoons of boiling water. Second part: Put on in separate boiler 1 cup of sugar; moisten and cook sufficiently; beat into the whites of well beaten eggs; beat this into the first part until of the right consistency and then add 2 cups of pecans or walnuts; spread on marble slab and cut into squares.

Date Loaf

Two cups of sugar; 1 cup milk; lump of butter size of small egg; cook until it will form a small soft ball when dropped in water; add ½ package dates that have been seeded, and cut into small pieces. Cook until dates are dissolved; stir all the time after dates are added; then add 1 cup nuts, beat until it creams; pour in a greased dish; when cool, cut in squares.

Traffic Fatalities Are Down 41.3% In Co.

D. K. Finley, 783 S. Hague-av, manager of the Columbus Safety Council, calls attention to the fact that traffic accident deaths in Franklin County are down 41.3 percent over the same period a year ago.

The standing box in the lower right-hand corner of page one today shows 37 traffic deaths against 63 for the same period last year. It is carried weekly in the interest of public safety through the cooperation of Mr. Finley, an authority on the subject of accident prevention.

May Succeed Ike

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Veterans' administrator, has been rumored the most likely to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Army chief of staff when the latter leaves his post to become president of Columbia University in New York City.

No Place Like Home For An Accident

There's no place like home for an accident! That statement was made by J. C. Hiestand, President of the Ohio State Safety Council. He further states that every day in Ohio homes accidents are caused by plain little thoughtless acts, or by neglect of hazards around the place. Every day people FALL because of skiddy rugs or because of objects left on the stairs. Floors needing repair also cause falls. Ohio home falls total 513 deaths for the first 5 months of 1947. The same period in 1946 was only 370.

Many Ohio homes are BURNED DOWN because flammable liquids are improperly used. And yet the proper use of such liquids is widely publicized—all containers being plainly marked. Then, lack of safety mindedness is causing the death toll to mount rapidly. Faulty wiring when neglected is another cause for home burning accidents.

Every day people are BURNED because they reach for a hot pan without a pot-holder or remove the lid of a kettle so the steam rises in their faces. Many children are burned by playing with matches, or suffer scalds and death from pulling pans of hot liquids from the stove. Ohio's total deaths from home burns, conflagrations and explosions for the first five months of 1947 total 182, as compared to the 1948 total of 149.

Many other accident deaths occur at home by poisons, mechanical suffocation and fire arms. These accidents frequently result from lack of knowledge, but they are always the result of a lack of safety mindedness.

"Homemakers", pleads Mr. Hiestand, "your vigilance is vital. Remember your safety consciousness may save your child from death or permanent injury and MAYBE the life you save will be your own!"

29 Hunting Areas Will Be Open To Squirrel Hunters

The game management section of the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources has announced that 29 areas in the state hunting preserve system will be open to squirrel hunting this year, Sept. 13 through the 27.

In addition to the 14 Muskingum Conservancy areas and seven state forests open in previous years, there will be two additional state forests, the Findlay Forest in Lorain County and Waterloo Forest in Athens County. Six large tracts owned by the division of conservation will also be open to squirrel hunters. These are Roosevelt Preserve in Scioto County, Jefferson and Brush Creek Preserves in Jefferson County, Trimble and Waterloo Preserves in Athens County, and the Woodbury Preserve in Coshocton County.

Officials of the division said that it will not be necessary for the hunters to obtain special permits this year, as in the past, but hunters will be expected to conform to the regulations governing each area. These regulations are conspicuously posted on all roads entering the preserves. Those who hunt in the public hunting preserves are urged to be especially careful with fire, for some of the largest timber tracts in the state are located in these hunting areas.

10,000 Attend Boat Races On River Sunday

Nearly 10,000 people lined the banks of the Scioto River at Griggs Dam Sunday to witness the National Outboard and Speedboat Races and to see a West Side girl named "Miss Boat Race Queen."

Individual honors went to Milford Harrison of Vermillion, who took two first places and was second in two others. He won two of the Class A events and was runner-up in two Class B hydroplane races.

Charles Kessling, of Marion, Ohio, won the Class B hydroplane event. Tom DeWitt, world record holder in the Class A hydroplane, won two first places. The Class C runabout was won by Jim Wescenbach.

Named queen at the races was Connie Casey, of Warren-av, who was chosen during a West Side popular vote. Miss Casey and her court were presented to the crowd.

Racing authorities who attended the events said it was one of the best timed races they had seen. There was no loss between races and each event was fast from start to finish.

Despite the large number of automobiles there were no parking problems and police cleared all cars from the grounds 20 minutes after the races ended.

A complete description of the races was given spectators on both sides of the river by Chet Long, WBNS newscaster.

All those who helped make the race a success were complimented by Camp Chase Post, No. 98, American Legion, which sponsored the races. Proceeds from the event are to be used to construct a Veterans' Memorial Building.

Home Freezer Show Now On At Kirk's

A home freezer show is being presented all this week at Kirk's, 2345 W. Broad-st. The display includes York, Coolerator, Deep Freeze, Hotpoint, Crosley, Orley and Gibson in sizes ranging from 4 to 33 cubic feet of space.

The show will demonstrate the many uses of the freezer for the average home in the city or the more spacious needs of the country home where many foods are to be processed.

Harry Barton Named To Sheriff's Office

Dead Wrong

Individual Responsibility Can Reduce Accident Rate

By Thomas H. MacDonald
Commissioner, Public Roads Administration

For the first time in its history, this country is mobilized to put an end to the national tragedy of inexcusably excessive traffic accidents.

It is too much to expect that we shall ever completely eliminate accidents from our busy streets and highways. But the record of last year—approximately 33,500 killed, 1,150,000 injured, and an economic loss of some $2,000,000,000—leaves no room for argument against the cold fact that we must accomplish a very substantial reduction.

With this in mind, President Truman invited to Washington in June, men and women from every part of the nation—public officials having fixed responsibilities, representatives of non-official organizations and public spirited citizens alike—to attend the second President's Highway Safety Conference.

The President gave them a common goal and a common responsibility. Their goal was to save at least 10,000 lives on the nation's streets and highways through the reduction of traffic accidents this year; with a comparable reduction in injuries and economic losses. Their responsibility was to pool their experience and perfect a program of action—at the community, state and national levels—which would assure the accomplishment of their goal.

The men and women who attended that conference did their job well. They reiterated the action program of the first President's Highway Safety Conference, in 1946; implemented it where necessary, and made a complete inventory of highway safety activities in the United States. Out o ftheir inventory came irrefutable evidence that in the field of highway safety, local, state and national governments are working together in an efficient and co-ordinated arrangement. The inventory further proved that wherever the recommendations of the original program had been put into effect, even partially, there had been a reduction in highway accidents

But there is one other fact that the inventory brought into inescapable focus, which perhaps is the most important development of all. It is that highway safety is everybody's job. No matter how sincerely and efficiently they may try, public officials and safety specialists alone cannot prevent traffic accidents. They must have the intelligent and willing co-operation of the people, whether they walk or whether they drive. That is the message I would like to bring home to every man, woman and child in our country..

The goal we seek will be won or lost by the way you—the individual citizen—walk or drive. Every day last year an average of 91 persons were killed and 3,150 injured on our streets and highways—four deaths, 131 injuries, every hour. Of the dead at the year's end, 12,200 were pedestrians, an increase of 1,340 over the previous year. Speed caused a fourth of all fatal accidents, while another sixth was chargeable to mixing alcohol with driving. Jaywalking alone brought death to more than 4,000 persons.

These are unpleasant statistics, but if we are to have the kind of co-operation we need from all of our citizens, they must be told the plain truth. As a great public service, in co-operation with the President's Highway Safety Conference, the press of the nation is now engaged in that most important task. Through news articles, editorials, pictures and advertising, your newspaper—and other newspapers throughout the country—are offering you a liberal education in the costs, causes and cures of most traffic accidents. Read every word of it. It may help you not only to save some other person's life, but perhaps to save your own.

A dentist had gone out to collect a bill and returned home in anger.

Wife — What's the matter? Didn't you get your money?

Dentist (fuming)— No, I didn't. And on top of that, he had the nerve to gnash my own teeth at me!

Your Policy . . .
A Lasting Provision For the Future!

No man has ever been able to state positively what the future holdes for him . . .

But many have found a great sense of safety in insurance.

When unfortunate events occur, then they fully appreciate and understand the tremendous benefits of a complete insurance program.

One thing to keep in your mind at all times is that your policy is an investment . . . a lasting provision for the future.

Local Pastor Has Copies Of Colonial Newspapers As Gift

Three old newspapers dating back as far as 1797 were brought into The Hilltop Record office this week by Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the Warren Avenue Nazarene Church. The papers were given him on his recent vacation trip into New England and Novia Scotia.

In the Jan. 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette is carried an obituary of Gen. George Washington, first president of the United States and "father of his country." The paper was published at Kingston, Ulster County, (presumably Massachusetts) by Samuel Freer and Son. The paper was then in its 11th volume and was No. 88.

The item captioned "Washington Entombed" was datelined George Town, Dec. 20. It read in part:

"On Wednesday last, the mortal part of WASHINGTON the Great—the Father of his Country and the Friend of man, was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

"A multitude of persons assembled, from many miles round, at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves—the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion—but, alas! That great soul was gone. His mortal part was there indeed; but ah! how affecting! how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus, to mortal eyes, fallen!—Yes! fallen! fallen!

"In the long and lofty Portico, where oft the Hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance still composed and serene, seemed to depress the dignity of the spirit, which lately dwelt in that lifeless form. There those who paid the last sad honours to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive —a farewell view."

The article continues with a detailed description of how the body lay in state and other incidents relative to the death of the nation's first president.

Bordered In Black

The inside two pages of the paper are bordered in black, presumably out of respect for the president.

Another paper, dated Feb. 2, 1797, was the Independent Chronicle and the Universal Advertizer. It was published in Boston, Mass. The condition of this paper discouraged examination of the inside pages because of the danger of doing further damage to its already frayed condition.

The third paper was captioned Public Ledger, Vol. 1, No. 1, and datelined Philadelphia, Friday Morning, March 25, 1836.

Some question arises as to the authenticity of these papers, particularly the one telling of Washington's death, since it is known that the country was flooded with allegedly original copies of papers dealing with the deaths of the first president and the assasination of President Lincoln The copies turned out to be reproductions rather than originals

Rev. Anthony was taking the papers to the Ohio State Museum this week to have them checked by experts on the subject. If they are originals they would be worth hundreds of dollars from the standpoint of historic interest.

Ray Brooks To Play For Dance

Ray Brooks will bring his popular musical organization to the Teen Club for the second in a series of Friday night dances this Friday night. Brooks will be the first to play in the newly redecorated ballroom of the club. The redecoration of the much used ballroom was accomplished this week by Roger Geist, Sidney Major, Larry Oliver, Larry Betsch, Ronnie Booth and a host of other members of the club.

The murals on the wall are to be painted by Hal Betsch, a local newspaper cartoonist. The prices of admission this week are the same as last, 30c for members and 60c for guests, tax included. Doors open at 8:00.

A stamp collectors' club is being organized by Harry Crawford who conceived the idea while supervising the Club during Mr. Grigg's vacation. The stamp club will meet on Wednesday night at 7:30. All teen aged stamp enthusiests are urged to come.

The Camera Club and Photography School meeting night has been moved to Thursday night at 7:30. There is now room for four more members in the camera club. The only requirement is that you own a camera.

The second monthly collection of newspaper and magazines will be conducted by the members of the Hilltop Teen Club this Sunday starting at 1:00 p. m. The route for this month's collection will be South Warren-av, North and South Ogden and North and South Burgess-avs.

The Club members inaugurated the paper collection system to help to finance the Friday night dances. One paper collection's drive will be held each month.

Two Hilltop Women Are Killed In Traffic, Vacation Mishaps This Week

Two Hilltop women met violent deaths during the past week, one a Columbus traffic victim while the other drowned in a Michigan lake while on a vacation trip.

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Jean Sterling, 40, of 462 S. Hague-av, who died early Saturday in St. Francis Hospital of internal injuries suffered two hours earlier in an auto accident at Miller-av and Mound-st, were held at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home. Burial was in Pickerington.

Mrs. Sterling was fatally injured when the automobile she was driving south in Miller-av collided with a car driven west in Mound-st by Fred G. Patton, 22, of 1065 Shady Lane-dr. Police said Mrs. Sterling apparently failed to stop for the intersection.

Two passengers in her car, Mrs. Grace Danford, 25, of 2023 Sullivant-av, and Frances Hayes, 25, of 40 W. Long-st, suffered monor injuries. Mrs. Danford was reported in fair condition yesterday in St. Francis Hospital, where she was treated for back injuries. Mr. Hayes was treated there for lacerations and Patton, driver of the other car, was treated for a bruised left knee.

Mrs. Betty Mae Loel, 23, of 1574 Thomas-av, riding with Patton, suffered a broken right arm and a left knee injury and was reported in fair condition at St. Francis.

Mrs. Sterling, whose death was the 23rd in Columbus traffic this year, was a life-long resident here and was an assistant buyer of uniforms and house dresses at the F. & R. Lazarus & Co., where she had been employed 15 years.

She was a member of St. John Lutheran Church.

Surviving is a son, William G. Sterling, 16, Columbus; her mother, Mrs. Eva Ebright, Columbus; and two sisters, Mrs. Thelma Smart of Defiance and Mrs. Opal Racer of Marysville.

Miss Alice Lucille Pindell, 37, of 84 Eldon-av, lost her life in Lake Superior at Isle Royale National Park, Mich., Thursday when a boat in which she and three other vacationers were riding overturned.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home with interment in Eastlawn Cemetery. The body was flown by the National Park Service to Houghton, Mich., where it was sent by train to Columbus.

The bodies of a man, his wife and son, companions in the boat when it overturned, had not been recovered by early this week.

The local woman left Columbus about two weeks ago for her eighth annual vacation at Isle Royale. She was employed by the Columbus Southern Ohio Electric Co.

She is survived by her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas, of the Eldon-av address, and three brothers, Albert, Eugene and Oliver, all of Columbus.

Explorer Post 1 Back From Camp

Members of Explorer Post 1, sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood of Hilltop Lutheran Church, have just completed a week's camping trip in Hocking Valley near Old Man's Cave. The object of the trip was to lay a foundation for a cabin and to pass requirements. The cabin foundation is near completion and would be finished were it not for the lack of concrete. Senior Scout requirements were passed by all members participating in the trip.

Aside from the work and requirement hikes the group made three trips to Lake Hope for swimming; two evening trips to Logan for amusements and a 100 mile scenic motor tour.

The members attending this adventure were: Don Watkins, Jim Cockfield, Leo Peoples, Dick Lannigan, Willie Evans, Dick Wolfe and George Cline. Wolfe and Cline are new members and were voted into the unit after the return to Columbus

The adult leader of Explorer Post 1 is Mel Griggs and the meetings are held at the Hilltop Teen Club on Wednesday nights.

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

It is not easy for anyone to make a fortune, and even if it were, as an inheritance it might prove disastrous. But an income is another matter. Paid regularly month after month without variation, it is a fortune which can never be dissipated, never lost in hazardous ventures.

These plain facts cannot be overlooked by the man who wants security for his family in the event of his death. He knows he must leave a minimum income for his wife until the children are self-supporting, there must be provision for rent, food, clothes and schooling, and there must be freedom from anxiety for the mother, especially when her care and influence are so necessary in the formative years of childhood.

Fortunately, all these benefits are possible through the Sun Life Family Income Plan, an economical scheme of protection that all may enjoy. This comprehensive Plan leaves no doubts in the mind, no fears as to loss of capital, no administration cares and no delays.

Let me show you how easily the Sun Life Family Income Plan can be adapted to meet your requirements. Just call or write:

Allen Milk Co. Serves Hilltop And City

Public Fails To Appreciate Cost of Milk

Little does the milk-consuming public realize the investment in equipment and personnel required to deliver a 17c bottle of milk to your doorstep.

A visit to the Allen Milk Co., 1709 Frank-rd, would be a revelation to the person unfamiliar with the operations required in processing milk. Considered one of the smaller plants in the Columbus area, the company lacks for nothing when it comes to having the latest equipment in use today. The initial cost of processing units would help explain why a bottle of milk costs what it does on your table.

W. A. Roffey, 52 N. Westmoreav, manager of the company, explained that his firm had always prided itself in having the best plant equipment available. The plant is visited frequently by groups from the college of agriculture at Ohio State University as something of a model setup.

From the time the fluid milk is delivered to the receiving room until it is bottled and placed in refrigeration it is conducted through stainless steel tubing from one unit to another. Each piece of tubing and every processing unit is thoroughly cleaned daily both inside and out. Motor driven brushes scour the inside of every section of stainless steel tubing until it shines like the inside of a new rifle barrel.

Milk is delivered to the plant from a radius of 20 miles in specially insulated trucks designed for that purpose. It is weighed and run through a recently installed clarifier into storage tanks where it is cooled before going to the pasteurizers. The clarifier works on the principle of metal discs similar to those used in a cream separator. It is said to be more thorough in its operation than anything hitherto designed for that purpose.

4 Pasteurizers

After cooling it is run into one of the four pasteuring units where it is processed for 30 minutes. After cooling it is then ready for the bottling machine where bottles are filled without being touched by human hands. After being bottled and capped it goes into the cold storage room where it awaits delivery to your door step the next morning.

Returned bottles are placed in a special bottle washing machine where they are under sterilization for 18 minutes. The bottles must be brought up to maximum heat slowly and in turn cooled slowly to prevent breakage. Bottles travel directly from the sterilizer to the bottling machine.

The Allen Milk Co., started 35 years ago by C. W. (Dud) Allen, who lives in a house adjoining the plant, employes 18 persons and supplies milk for 16 large routes. Many of the schools in the city and adjoining rural areas are supplied milk for children's daily lunches. Its 14 routes cover the entire city and much surrounding territory. It also supplies milk for two privately operated routes. It operates seven trucks daily.

Allen continues to work right along with his men, suppling relays loads of milk to his route men or doing whatever needs to be done.

E. R. Jahn, 875 Brown-rd, and Thomas Dill, 666 Racine-av, serve as route supervisors. J. B. Leach, 2040 Fairmont-av, is plant superintendent.

Church Softball Teams Near Close Of Current Season

With the city playoffs already underway, action in Hilltop church softball leagues neared its end this week.

In the church eliminations, Rome, of the West Lutheran League, defeated St. Christopher, 4 to 1, Monday night. The same night St. Paul, undefeated in the same Lutheran loop, bowed to St. John Evangelical by a 7 to 2 count.

Westgate Evangelical United Brethren, winner of the second round of the West Church League and loser of but a single game all season, had little trouble in administering an 18 to 1 trouncing to Hilltonia EUB, winner of the second round of the new EUB League. The game was also played on Monday.

In what was scheduled as playoff of a tie game in the first round of the West Church League, West Park Methodist won a 7 to 0 forfeit from Glenwood Methodist Monday night. The forfeit makes it necessary for Westgate Evangelical to meet West Park Methodist in a playoff game to decide the championship of that round. Walter Gerber of the City Recreation Department said that the game will be scheduled Monday night.

Friday night will see the finish of the West Lutheran League, already won by St. Paul. The final set of games will be played at Westgate Park as follows:

St. John vs Martin Luther, No. 1

St. Paul vs Bethlehem, No. 2

Hilltop vs Emmanuel, No. 3

Rome vs Grove City, No. 4

Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value only to its scarcity. It becomes cheap as it becomes vulgar, and will no longer raise expectation or animate enterprise.

—Samuel Johnson.

Westgate Nine To Enter Playoff

The Westgate Knothole junior baseball team, coached by Dick Slager, at the start of the week had won six while losing a single game for the season. A two-out-of-three series of games is to be played with Columbus Air Conditioning this week. The winner will enter the city finals.

The same team, backed last year by the Hilltop Community Council, went through the season undefeated.

On the starting roster recently have been the following boys: Ray Waltman, c; Russel Reckling, p; Bill Montiney, 1b; Ronald Elfert, 2b; Bob Thornton, ss; Jerry Jones, 3b; Dick DeShetler, lf; Ken Garvet, cf; and Sonny Hoelcher, rf.

Reckling has received credit for four wins without suffering a defeat. Jerry Jones has a record of two and one. One member of the team, Ed Lantz, the second baseman, suffered a broken leg a few days ago in a football scrimmage.

Other members of the team are Jack Harris, Jim Vincent, Ron McElwee, John Schultz, Dick Jones, Ronnie DeShetler, Charles Lantz and Jim Fielding.

Insurance For Athletes

Formation this year of the Ohio Athletic Injury Mutual Association to provide insurance for athletes in approved high school sports is a long overdue step in the right direction. We have always been of the opinion that too little concern has been shown to the boys who suffer personal injuries (occasionally of a serious nature) for the glory of Whoozit High.

Organized under the direction of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, the plan is to operate on a mutual non-profit basis providing medical and hospital service free of charge for injuries sustained in practice or in a game. The boys at West High School are fortunate in having the West High Boosters Club volunteer to pay the premiums for insurance of the football squad this year. The treasury of the athletic fund is slightly depleted right at this time what with paying for the installation of lights for Magly Field. It is understood that the athletic departmen will pay for the coverage after this year.

There is no reason why a player or his parents should be required to stand the cost of personal injuries received in bringing glory to the team and school. Doctor and hospital bills can become serious financial burdens to the family pocketbook already stretched to near breaking point by inflated prices today.

Players bring in the customers who are willing to lay money on the line to see the games. There is no reason why they shouldn't profit from this money-making venture at least to the point of being taken care of in case of injury.

With a large number of high schools throughout the state paying into this fund it should be possible for premium rates to be adjusted downward to where every school should eventually be able to afford this protection for athletes in all approved sports. Quite logically there is greater danger of injury in football and basketball because of body contact but injury is also possible in baseball, track, golf, swimming and other sports.

Many of the spectators who attend the games are protected against accidential injury themselves? Why shouldn't the boys who are taking the bumps be protected as well?

One Doesn't Take Chances

By Mason Rossiter Smith

This is the second in a series of copyrighted articles written by an American weekly newspaper editor especially for the weekly press on conditions as he finds them in Europe today.

Belfast, July 5

"That large mountain over there," he was saying, as he pointed a knobby finger toward the train compartment window, "is Slieve Gullion, the most famous mountain in all Ireland." He paused briefly, this chap from the rural areas, who got on at Drogheda. "It's haunted," he said.

I was a little astonished, but decided not to press for further information, when he began again. "Ah, yiss, there's a lake on the top. 'Tis said that the water gets up there somehow from the sea, though I don't quite understand it. . . . And do you see the small castle at the foot of it? Well, this place was occupied recently by a man with a mechanical turn of mind, and he planned to tap the lake for a water system. You see, there would be quite a fall, and perhaps he could develop an electric power system with a turbine.

"The plan was to dig a trench from the lake to the side of the mountain, where the water could fall over the edge. So he went up there with his men and they started to dig. Now there's only so much a mon can dig in wan day, but ivvery morning when they returned to their work, the trench was all filled in. They finally had to give it up."

"Do you mean that the earth had caved in on the sides, or that someone had filled it in?"

"This nobody knows. But as I said, this country all around here is haunted.

"As a matter of fact, this I have seen myself: You know in the old days, the land agents were not very popular. They were always evicting people. Now this wan land agent—he was a Presbyterian, and I think Presbyterians are very prosiac—evicted an old lady, and she put a curse on him. For my part, it wouldn't be such a bad wan, at that, for the curse was that a blade of grass would never grow on his grave. . . . If you have seen Irish cemeteries, you know how badly kept they are—scythed only once or twice a year, and full of weeds and nettles, all growing rank. In this cemetery, the grave of the land agent is covered with weeds and nettles, but, I sweear to you, for I have seen it, there is not a single blade of grass."

"What do you mean when you say the country is panuted?"

"Fairies," he said in a hushed voice. I was wondering if he was pulling my leg a bit, for only a few moments ago this rural Irishman had been talking fluently of railroads, power plants, economics, mechanics, and foreign affairs, obviously a man well informed. That as modern a mind as this could also believe in fairies seemed impossible. So I let the matter drop for awhile, and

Postwar Interlude

We greeted the end of the war with quiet thanksgiving rather than great elation. We had expected to be overcome with some violent form of happiness when the announcement came, but apparently the rumors of false peace and anti climatic nature of the truce dissipated somewhat the feeling of joy that would normally accompany such an important happening. We had been thrilled time and again by the events leading up to the German surrender so that when it actually took place we felt little more than relief. We didn't expect to come home for several months. Occupation duty was expected to fill in the remaining time until we had enough points to go home. It was utterly unthinkable that a unit which had seen two years overseas service and five campaigns would be sent to the Pacific. Our point totals averaged around 70 per man and at the time it took 85 for discharge. We had suffered casualties and had a malarial rate of nearly 75%.

Fuller

The place we had in Ulm was luxurious in comparison to the goat fields, olive groves, hay fields, and stables we had lived in during the campaigns from Oran, Algeria through Italy, France, and into Germany. We commandeered a large apartment building, with showers and modern facilities for our living quarters. Germans did the work. We supervised. Even the tedious KP was done away with. Polish girls served our meals and did all the kitchen work. They were glad to give their services in return for good food and shelter. We were served our meals sitting at tables and ate out of regular plates not the familiar messkit. We were beginning to feel human again.

Ulm was only partially destroyed. Nestled there in the Bavarian Alps, the city represented a rather pleasant place for us to stay until time to go home. The sun shone every day. Because of the altitude the weather was comfortably cool. At night it was necessary to sleep under three blankets. The climate at all times was cool and invigorating. The scenery was beautiful, and the Green Danube offered swimming facilities that were put to good use.

Civilians Pass In Street

The non fraternization policy was in effect. It was an offense, punishable by a fine of $85, to even talk to a German civilian. The policy couldn't be enforced due to the fact it was violated most flagrantly by those who were supposed to administer it. Aside from some fist shaking on the part of German women, little malice was shown by the civilian population toward the occupying armies and vice versa. It was evident almost immediately that the ban on fraternization wouldn't work. It was revoked a few weeks after we left Germany. Our recreation was limited to picture shows, swimming, and baseball. In the evenings after duty hours we sat along the curb in front of the dwelling and watched the wholesome looking girls pedal by on their bicycles. It was rather a significant fact that when we first occupied our street hardly any civilians passed. After a few days of residence, the street became the most traveled thoroughfare in that section of town. And the majority of the curious passersby were the bicycle riding girls. That was another reason why it was difficult to enforce the ban on fraternization.

No More Censorship

When the war ended mail was no longer censored. Censorship would return only in the event that we were alerted for redeployment to the Pacific. It was a great joy to be able to send a letter saying in it anything you darn well pleased. The army took quite a pasting as pent up GI's let their hair down and told all. Our first sergeant, bless his benevolent soul, was probably the most written about man in the European theater once the censorship bars were let down.

We got our chance to come home much sooner than expected. After being in Ulm less than three weeks, the CO told a shocked formation one day that we were to be redeployed to the Pacific, the last thing any of us expected. First we would receive a 30-day furlough at home. Coming under these circumstances, the furlough wasn't such a welcome bit of news. We would all have preferred many more months of occupation duty than transfer to the Pacific. Orders were to proceed at once to the staging area at Le Havre.

Next week: A Defeated Nation.

Our Readers Say

Editor Hilltop Record:

Many times that I have walked past that dank growth of weeds and undergrowth in Glenwood Park as you go from the entrance east down the hill, and have visioned an amphitheater there instead of the sad disorderly mess that usually takes the place.

Just notice how seats may be arranged in tiers up the slope in a curving line from Broad-st south and east to the grounds of the Institute for Feeble Minded, and also fro mthe entrance to the park east along the slope against W. Broad-st.

Then remove the trees in the center of the plat and provide drainage, so that horseshoe pitching, tennis and badminton could be played during the late spring and summer. Now in the cooler weather it would be an ideal spot for concerts, singspirations, various kinds of athletic events.

The Hilltop will be vastly benefitted by some such improvement and the city would be the gainer, but if the matter of the expense is to be the subject of controversy, it coudld be made self-liquidating, and I am very sure no one would complain if asked to contribute toward this much needed improvement for the eastern section of the Hilltop.

I have talked with a number of residents the past week and find none but what are in favor of it, so give it your support in the Record and before the Planning Commission.

Very truly yours

Editor, Hilltop Record:

Two sides to a story. Dogs?

I am a subscriber to your paper, last week's paper carried an item, that needs both sides told. I like dogs okay.

But people who want, their dogs, why don't they have yards for them? Would they be pestered as we are?

Our flowers and garden torn up, we put our clothes on the line or grass to dry, dogs swing and pull at them, dirty foot tracks on them and sometimes clothes carried away.

Besides they run around our doors, leaving their filth and stench as "fly hatcheries," and keep up a yelp and bark when we need rest and sleep.

People who have valuable dogs, pen them, bathe and disinfect and take care of them.

How many read Dr. Van Delen's article in Friday's Ohio State Journal, stating that flies carry infantile paralysis (polio) virus. Maybe it would be best to keep dog filth down, and not have flies as I have seen them.
